Information to Distributors (as defined below)

Solely for the purposes of the product governance requirements contained within: (a) EU Directive 2014/65/EU on markets in financial instruments, as amended (“MiFID II”); (b) Articles 9 and 10 of Commission Delegated Directive (EU) 2017/593 supplementing MiFID II; and (c) local implementing measures (together, the “MiFID II Product Governance Requirements”), and disclaiming all and any liability, whether arising in tort, contract or otherwise, which any “manufacturer” (for the purposes of the MiFID II Product Governance Requirements) may otherwise have with respect thereto, the Equity Shares have been subject to a product approval process, which has determined that such Equity Shares are: (i) compatible with an end target market of retail investors and investors who meet the criteria of professional clients and eligible counterparties, each as defined in MiFID II; and (ii) eligible for distribution through all distribution channels as are permitted by MiFID II (the “Target Market Assessment”). Notwithstanding the Target Market Assessment, “distributors” (for the purposes of the MiFID II Product Governance Requirements) (“Distributors”) should note that: the price of the Equity Shares may decline and investors could lose all or part of their investment; the Equity Shares offer no guaranteed income and no capital protection; and an investment in the Equity Shares is compatible only with investors who do not need a guaranteed income or capital protection, who (either alone or in conjunction with an appropriate financial or other adviser) are capable of evaluating the merits and risks of such an investment and who have sufficient resources to be able to bear any losses that may result therefrom. The Target Market Assessment is without prejudice to the requirements of any contractual, legal or regulatory selling restrictions in relation to the Offer.

For the avoidance of doubt, the Target Market Assessment does not constitute: (a) an assessment of suitability or appropriateness for the purposes of MiFID II; or (b) a recommendation to any investor or group of investors to invest in, or purchase, or take any other action whatsoever with respect to the Equity Shares. Each Distributor is responsible for undertaking its own target market assessment in respect of the Equity Shares and determining appropriate distribution channels.

Accordingly, prospective Canadian investors should consult with their own legal, financial and tax advisers concerning the information contained within this Offering Memorandum and as to the suitability of an investment in the Equity Shares in their particular circumstances. For more information, see the section entitled “Distribution and Solicitation Restrictions – Canada” at Wrap-19.

ENFORCEMENT OF CIVIL LIABILITIES

The Company is a public limited company under the laws of India. The enforcement by investors of civil liabilities outside India, including the ability to effect service of process and to enforce judgments of courts outside India may be affected adversely by the fact that the Company is incorporated under the laws of India, a majority of the Company's key management personnel and directors named in the attached Prospectus are residents of India and a substantial portion of the Company's assets as well as the assets of its key management personnel and directors are also located in India. As a result, it may not be possible or may be difficult for investors to effect service of process upon the Company and these other persons or entities in jurisdictions outside India or to enforce against them in courts in India, judgments obtained in courts outside India, including judgments predicated upon the civil liability provisions of the securities laws of jurisdictions outside India.

India is not a party to any international treaty in relation to the automatic recognition or enforcement of foreign judgments. However, recognition and enforcement of foreign judgments is provided for under Sections 13, 14 and 44A of the Code of Civil Procedure, 1908 (the "CPC").

Section 13 of the CPC, which is the statutory basis for the recognition of foreign judgments (other than arbitration awards), states that a foreign judgment shall be conclusive as to any matter directly adjudicated upon between the same parties or between parties under whom they or any of them claim litigating under the same title except where:

- the judgment has not been pronounced by a court of competent jurisdiction;
- the judgment has not been given on the merits of the case;
- the judgment appears on the face of the proceedings to be founded on an incorrect view of international law or a refusal to recognize the law of India in cases where such law is applicable;
- the proceedings in which the judgment was obtained were opposed to natural justice;
- the judgment has been obtained by fraud; or
- the judgment sustains a claim founded on a breach of any law in force in India.

Under Section 14 of the CPC, an Indian court shall, on production of any document purporting to be a certified copy of a foreign judgment, presume that the judgment was pronounced by a court of competent jurisdiction unless the contrary appears on the record; such presumption may be displaced by proving want of jurisdiction.

Section 44A of the CPC provides that where a certified copy of a decree of any superior court (within the meaning of that section) in any country or territory outside India which the Government of India has by notification declared to be a reciprocating territory, is filed before a district court in India, such decree may be executed in India as if the decree has been rendered by a district court in India. Section 44A of the CPC is applicable only to monetary decrees or judgments not being in the nature of amounts payable in respect of taxes or other charges of a similar nature or in respect of fines or other penalties. Section 44A of the CPC does not apply to arbitration awards.

Among others, the United Kingdom, Singapore and Hong Kong have been declared by the Government of India to be reciprocating territories within the meaning of Section 44A of the CPC. The United States has not been declared by the Government of India to be a reciprocating territory for the purposes of Section 44A of the CPC.

A judgment of a court in any non-reciprocating territory, such as the United States, may be enforced in India only by a suit upon the judgment, and not by proceedings in execution. Section 13 of the Civil Procedure Code, which is the statutory basis for the recognition of foreign judgments (other than arbitration awards), provides that a foreign judgment shall be conclusive as to any matter thereby directly adjudicated upon between the same parties or parties litigating under the same title except: (i) where it has not been pronounced by a court of competent jurisdiction, (ii) where it has not been given on the merits of the case, (iii) where it appears on the face of the proceedings to be founded on an incorrect view of international law or a refusal to recognise the law of India in cases where such law is applicable, (iv) where the proceedings in which the judgment was obtained were opposed to natural justice, (v) where the judgement has been obtained by fraud, or (vi) where the judgement sustains a claim founded on a breach of any law in force in India.

A suit to enforce a foreign judgment must be brought in India within three years from the date of the judgment in the same manner as any other suit filed to enforce a civil liability in India. A party seeking to enforce a foreign judgment in India is required to obtain prior approval from the RBI under FEMA to repatriate any amount recovered pursuant to execution of such judgment and such amount may be subject to income tax in accordance with applicable law. Further, there are considerable delays in the disposal of suits by Indian courts. It is unlikely that a court in India would award damages on the same basis as a foreign court if an action is brought in India. Furthermore, it is unlikely that an Indian court would enforce foreign judgments if it viewed the amount of damages awarded as excessive or inconsistent with public policy. Any judgment in a foreign currency would be converted into Rupees on the date of judgment and not on the date of payment which could also increase risks relating to foreign exchange, and any such amount may be subject to income tax in accordance with applicable laws. The Company cannot predict whether a suit brought in an Indian court will be disposed of in a timely manner or be subject to considerable delays.

AVAILABLE INFORMATION

The Company is not currently required to file periodic reports under Section 13 or 15 of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended (the “U.S. Exchange Act”). The Company agrees to comply with any undertakings given by it from time to time in connection with the Equity Shares to the National Stock Exchange of India Limited and the BSE Limited (together the “Stock Exchanges” and, without prejudice to the generality of the foregoing, shall furnish to each such exchange all such information as the rules of the Stock Exchange may require in connection with the listing of the Equity Shares on the Stock Exchanges.

Any information about the Company available on any website of SEBI, any Promoter Selling Shareholder, the Stock Exchanges, the Company or the members of the Syndicate shall not constitute a part of this Offering Memorandum.

ADDITIONAL RISK FACTORS FOR INTERNATIONAL INVESTORS

In addition to the factors set forth under “Risk Factors” on page 28 of the attached Prospectus, prospective investors are urged to consider the following additional risk factors prior to purchasing any of the Equity Shares. If any of the following risks actually occur, the Company’s business, results of operations, financial condition and prospects could suffer, the price of its Equity Shares could decline, and you may lose all or part of your investment. Please note that the risk factors described below do not represent an exhaustive list of all the risks that may be associated with investments in an Indian company and are merely meant to give an indication of the risks that may arise in relation to an investment by a foreign investor in the equity shares of an Indian company. Additional risks not presently known to us, or which we may now consider as being immaterial in nature, may also cause the Company’s business, results of operations and financial condition to suffer.

We may be classified as a passive foreign investment company for U.S. federal income tax purposes, which could result in adverse U.S. federal income tax consequences to U.S. holders of Equity Shares.

A non-U.S. corporation will be classified as a passive foreign investment company (a “PFIC”) for any taxable year if either: (a) at least 75% of its gross income is “passive income” for purposes of the PFIC rules or (b) at least 50% of the value of its assets (determined on the basis of a quarterly average) is attributable to assets that produce or are held for the production of passive income. Based on the composition of our income, assets (including their expected value) and operations, although not free from doubt, we expect that we will not be a PFIC for the current taxable year or in the foreseeable future. Whether we are treated as a PFIC is a factual determination that is made on an annual basis after the close of each taxable year. This determination will depend on, among other things, the composition of our income and assets, as well as the value of our assets (which may fluctuate with our market capitalization), from time to time. Therefore, there can be no assurance that the Company will not be classified as a PFIC for the current taxable year or for any future taxable year. If we are treated as a PFIC for any taxable year during which a U.S. investor held Equity Shares, such U.S. investor could be subject to adverse U.S. federal income tax consequences. See “Taxation—U.S. Federal Income Taxation—Passive Foreign Investment Company Considerations.

If a U.S. person is treated as owning at least 10% of the Equity Shares, such holder may be subject to adverse US federal income tax consequences.

If a U.S. person is treated as owning (directly, indirectly, or constructively) at least 10% of the value or voting power of the Equity Shares, such person may be treated as a “United States shareholder” within the meaning of Section 951 of the Code (as define below) with respect to each “controlled foreign corporation” in the Group (if any). Since the Group includes one or more U.S. subsidiaries, certain of the Company’s non-U.S. subsidiaries could be treated as controlled foreign corporations in the future (regardless of whether or not the Company is treated as a controlled foreign corporation). A U.S. shareholder of a controlled foreign corporation may be required to report annually and include in its U.S. taxable income its pro rata share of “Subpart F income,” “global intangible low-taxed income,” and investments in U.S. property by controlled foreign corporations, regardless of whether the Company makes any distributions. An individual that is a U.S. shareholder with respect to a controlled foreign corporation generally would not be allowed certain tax deductions or foreign tax credits that would be allowed to a U.S. shareholder that is a U.S. corporation. Failure to comply with these reporting obligations may subject a U.S. shareholder to significant monetary penalties and may prevent the statute of limitations with respect to such U.S. shareholder’s U.S. federal income tax return for the year for which reporting was due from starting. The Company cannot provide any assurances that it will assist holders of Equity Shares in determining whether any of the Company’s non-U.S. subsidiaries is treated as a controlled foreign corporation or whether any holder of Equity Shares is treated as a U.S. shareholder with respect to any such controlled foreign corporation or furnish to any U.S. shareholders information that may be necessary to comply with the aforementioned reporting and tax paying obligations. A U.S. Holder should consult its tax advisors regarding the potential application of these rules to an investment in the Equity Shares.

Risks Related to Investments in Indian Issuers

An investment in the Equity Shares is subject to general risks related to investments in Indian companies.

The Company is incorporated in India and a significant portion of its assets and employees are located in India. Consequently, its business, results of operations, financial condition and the market price of the Equity Shares will be affected by changes in interest rates in India, policies of the Government of India, including taxation policies along with policies relating to industry, political, social and economic developments affecting India.

Currency exchange rate fluctuations may affect the value of the Equity Shares.

The exchange rate between the Rupee and other foreign currencies, including the U.S. Dollar, the British pound sterling, the Euro, the Hong Kong Dollar, the Singapore Dollar and the Japanese Yen, has changed substantially in recent years and may fluctuate substantially in the future. Fluctuations in the exchange rate between the foreign currencies with which an investor may have purchased Rupees may affect the value of the investment in our Equity Shares. Specifically, if there is a change in relative value of the Rupee to a foreign currency, each of the following values will also be affected:

- the foreign currency equivalent of the Rupee trading price of our Equity Shares in India;
- the foreign currency equivalent of the proceeds that you would receive upon the sale in India of any of our Equity Shares; and
- the foreign currency equivalent of cash dividends, if any, on our Equity Shares, which will be paid only in Rupees.

You may be unable to convert Rupee proceeds into a foreign currency of your choice, or the rate at which any such conversion could occur could fluctuate. In addition, our market valuation could be seriously harmed by a devaluation of the Rupee if investors in jurisdictions outside India analyze its value based on the relevant foreign currency equivalent of our financial condition and results of operations.

There may be less information available about companies listed on the Indian securities markets compared to information that would be available if we were listed on securities markets in certain other countries.

Our Equity Shares will be listed on the Stock Exchanges in India and will not be listed on any stock exchange in any other country outside India. SEBI is responsible for setting standards for disclosure and other regulatory standards for the Indian securities markets. While SEBI has issued regulations on disclosure requirements, insider trading and other matters, there may be less publicly available information about companies listed on an Indian stock exchange compared to information that would be available if that company was listed on a securities market in certain other jurisdictions. There may also be differences between the level of regulation and monitoring of the Indian securities markets and the activities of investors, brokers and other participants and that of the markets in the United States and certain other countries, such as stock markets in the United States. As a result, you may have access to less information about our business, result of operations and financial condition, and those of our competitors that are listed on Indian stock exchanges, on an ongoing basis, than you may in the case of companies subject to the reporting requirements of other countries. For example, the ongoing quarterly financial reporting requirements for publicly listed companies in India do not require us to make detailed disclosures of our results of operations and financial condition on a consolidated basis.

Risks Relating to the Equity Shares and the Trading Market

Your right to participate in any future rights offerings could be limited, which would cause dilution to your holdings.

If we offer to our shareholders rights to subscribe for additional Equity Shares or any right of any other nature, we will have discretion as to the procedure to be followed in making the rights available to our shareholders or in disposing of the rights for the benefit of our shareholders and making the net proceeds available to our shareholders. We may choose not to offer the rights to our shareholders outside India. For example, we will not offer such rights to our shareholders in the United States unless:

- a registration statement is in effect, if a registration statement under the Securities Act is required in order for us to offer such rights to holders and sell the securities represented by such rights; or
- the offering and sale of such rights or the underlying securities to such holders are exempt from registration under the provisions of the Securities Act.

Whenever we make a rights or similar offering of our Equity Shares, we will evaluate the costs and potential liabilities associated with, and our ability to comply with U.S. regulations, for any such registration statement and any other factors we consider appropriate. We have no obligation to prepare or file any registration statement under the Securities Act. If we do not file a registration statement and no exemption from registration under the Securities Act is available, then U.S. holders of our Equity Shares would be unable to participate in rights or similar offerings and would suffer dilution of their shareholdings. Consequently, we cannot assure you that you will be able to maintain your proportional interests in the Equity Shares.

Your ability to acquire and sell your Equity Shares may be restricted under Indian law.

Under Indian regulations and practices, transferring shares between non-residents and residents are permitted, subject to certain exceptions, if they comply with, amongst other things, the pricing guidelines and reporting requirements specified by RBI. For further details, please see the sections of the attached Prospectus entitled “Other Regulatory and Statutory Disclosures– Eligibility and Transfer Restrictions” on page 432. No actions have been taken to permit a public offering of the Equity Shares in any jurisdiction except India. As such, the Equity Shares have not and will not be registered under the Securities Act, any state securities laws or the law of any jurisdiction other than India. You are required to inform yourself about and observe these restrictions. The information in this Offering Memorandum has been provided for the benefit of investors. However, this information does not purport to be a complete analysis of the restrictions under Indian laws in relation to the acquisition and/or transfer of securities in an Indian company by a person resident outside India. The Company, the Promoter Selling Shareholders, the members of the Syndicate and their respective officers, directors, representatives, agents, affiliates and associates accept no responsibility or liability for advising any investor on whether such investor is eligible to acquire the Equity Shares. Under the Takeover Regulations, an acquirer has been defined as any person who, directly or indirectly acquires or agrees to acquire shares or voting rights in, or control over a company, whether individually or acting in concert with others.

A third party could be prevented from acquiring control of the Company because of the anti-takeover provisions under Indian law.

There are provisions in Indian law that may discourage a third party from attempting to take control of the Company, even if a change in control would result in the purchase of the Equity Shares at a premium to the market price or would otherwise be beneficial to investors. The Securities and Exchange Board of India (Substantial Acquisitions of Shares and Takeovers) Regulations, 2011, as amended (the “Takeover Regulations”) requires that if an acquirer (together with any persons acting in concert with him): (a) acquires shares, directly or indirectly, or voting rights entitling them to exercise 25% or more of the voting rights in a listed company; or (b) already holds shares or voting rights entitling them to exercise 25% or more of the voting rights in a listed company, and acquires, directly or indirectly, additional shares or voting rights entitling them to exercise more than 5% of the voting rights in the listed company during any financial year; or (c) acquires control directly or indirectly over a listed company, such acquirer will have to make an open offer for at least 26% of the total shares of the listed company. These provisions may discourage or prevent certain types of transactions involving an actual or threatened change in control of the Company even if a change in control would result in the purchase of the Equity Shares at a premium to the trading price or would otherwise be beneficial to the holders of the Equity Shares.

Conditions in the Indian securities market may affect the price or liquidity of the Equity Shares.

The Indian securities markets are less developed and more volatile than securities markets in certain other economies, especially countries which are members of the Organization for Economic Cooperation and Development. Indian stock exchanges have in the past experienced substantial fluctuations in the prices of listed securities. Indian stock exchanges have also experienced problems such as temporary exchange closures, broker defaults, settlement delays and strikes by brokers. The regulation and monitoring of Indian securities markets and the activities of investors, brokers and other participants differ, in some cases significantly, from those in Europe and the United States. In addition, the governing bodies of the Indian stock exchanges have from time to time restricted securities from trading, limited price movements and restricted margin requirements. Further, disputes have occurred on occasions between listed companies and the Indian stock exchanges, and other regulatory bodies that, in some cases, have had a negative effect on market sentiment. If similar problems occur in the future, the market price and liquidity of the Equity Shares could be adversely affected.

The Indian stock markets are influenced by economic developments and volatility in securities markets in other countries. Investors’ reactions to developments in one country may have adverse effects on the market price of securities of companies located in other countries, including India. Negative economic developments in other emerging market countries, such as rising fiscal or trade deficits, or a default on national debt, may negatively affect investors’ confidence in India, cause increased volatility in Indian stock markets and cause the price of the Equity Shares to decline.

TAXATION

U.S. Federal Income Taxation

The following discussion describes certain U.S. federal income tax consequences to U.S. Holders (as defined below) of an investment in the Equity Shares. This summary applies only to U.S. Holders that acquire Equity Shares in exchange for cash in the Offer, hold Equity Shares as capital assets within the meaning of Section 1221 of the Code (as defined below) and have the U.S. dollar as their functional currency.

This discussion is based on the tax laws of the United States as in effect on the date of this Offering Memorandum, including the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended (the “Code”), and U.S. Treasury regulations in effect or, in some cases, proposed, as of the date of this Offering Memorandum, as well as judicial and administrative interpretations thereof available on or before such date. All of the foregoing authorities are subject to change, and any such change could apply retroactively and could affect the U.S. federal income tax consequences described below. The statements in this Offering Memorandum are not binding on the U.S. Internal Revenue Service (the “IRS”) or any court, and thus we can provide no assurance that the U.S. federal income tax consequences discussed below will not be challenged by the IRS or will be sustained by a court if challenged by the IRS. Furthermore, this summary does not address any estate or gift tax consequences, any state, local or non-U.S. tax consequences or any other tax consequences other than U.S. federal income tax consequences.

The following discussion does not describe all the tax consequences that may be relevant to any particular investor or to persons in special tax situations such as:

- banks and certain other financial institutions;
- regulated investment companies;
- real estate investment trusts;
- insurance companies;
- broker-dealers;
- traders that elect to mark to market;
- tax-exempt entities;
- persons liable for alternative minimum tax or the Medicare contribution tax on net investment income;
- U.S. expatriates;
- persons holding Equity Shares as part of a straddle, hedging, constructive sale, conversion or integrated transaction;
- persons that actually or constructively own 10% or more of the Company’s stock by vote or value;
- persons that are resident or ordinarily resident in or have a permanent establishment in a jurisdiction outside the United States;
- persons who acquired Equity Shares pursuant to the exercise of any employee share option or otherwise as compensation;
- persons subject to special tax accounting rules as a result of any item of gross income with respect to the Equity Shares being taken into account in an applicable financial statement; or
- persons holding Equity Shares through partnerships or other pass-through entities.

PROSPECTIVE PURCHASERS ARE URGED TO CONSULT THEIR TAX ADVISORS ABOUT THE APPLICATION OF THE U.S. FEDERAL TAX RULES TO THEIR PARTICULAR CIRCUMSTANCES AS WELL AS THE STATE, LOCAL AND NON-U.S. TAX CONSEQUENCES TO THEM OF THE PURCHASE, OWNERSHIP AND DISPOSITION OF EQUITY SHARES.

As used herein, the term “U.S. Holder” means a beneficial owner of Equity Shares that, for U.S. federal income tax purposes, is or is treated as:

- an individual who is a citizen or resident of the United States;
- a corporation created or organized in or under the laws of the United States, any state thereof or the District of Columbia;
- an estate whose income is subject to U.S. federal income taxation regardless of its source; or
- a trust that (1) is subject to the supervision of a court within the United States and the control of one or more U.S. persons or (2) has a valid election in effect under applicable U.S. Treasury regulations to be treated as a U.S. person.

The tax treatment of a partner in an entity or arrangement treated as a partnership for U.S. federal income tax purposes that holds Equity Shares generally will depend on such partner’s status and the activities of the partnership. A U.S. Holder that is a partner in such partnership should consult its tax advisor.

Dividends and Other Distributions on Equity Shares

Subject to the passive foreign investment company considerations discussed below, the gross amount of distributions made by the Company with respect to Equity Shares (including the amount of any non-U.S. taxes withheld therefrom, if any) generally will be includible as dividend income in a U.S. Holder's gross income, to the extent such distributions are paid out of the Company's current or accumulated earnings and profits, as determined under U.S. federal income tax principles. Because the Company does not maintain calculations of its earnings and profits under U.S. federal income tax principles, a U.S. Holder should expect all cash distributions will be reported as dividends for U.S. federal income tax purposes. Such dividends will not be eligible for the dividends-received deduction allowed to U.S. corporations with respect to dividends received from other U.S. corporations. Dividends received by non-corporate U.S. Holders may be "qualified dividend income," which is taxed at the lower applicable capital gains rate, provided that (1) the Company is eligible for the benefits of the tax treaty between the United States and India (the "Treaty"), (2) the Company is not a passive foreign investment company (as discussed below) for either the taxable year in which the dividend was paid or the preceding taxable year, (3) the U.S. Holder satisfies certain holding period requirements and (4) the U.S. Holder is not under an obligation to make related payments with respect to positions in substantially similar or related property. U.S. Holders should consult their tax advisors regarding the availability of the lower rate for dividends paid with respect to Equity Shares.

The amount of any distribution paid in foreign currency will be equal to the U.S. dollar value of such currency, translated at the spot rate of exchange on the date such distribution is received, regardless of whether the payment is in fact converted into U.S. dollars at that time.

Dividends on the Equity Shares generally will constitute foreign source income for foreign tax credit limitation purposes. Subject to certain complex conditions and limitations, Indian taxes withheld on any distributions on the Equity Shares may be eligible for credit against a U.S. Holder's federal income tax liability. If a refund of the tax withheld is available under the laws of India or under the Treaty, the amount of tax withheld that is refundable will not be eligible for such credit against a U.S. Holder's U.S. federal income tax liability (and will not be eligible for the deduction against U.S. federal taxable income). If the dividends constitute qualified dividend income as discussed above, the amount of the dividend taken into account for purposes of calculating the foreign tax credit limitation will generally be limited to the gross amount of the dividend, multiplied by the reduced rate applicable to the qualified dividend income, divided by the highest rate of tax normally applicable to dividends. The limitation on foreign taxes eligible for credit is calculated separately with respect to specific classes of income. For this purpose, dividends distributed by the Company with respect to Equity Shares will generally constitute "passive category income." A U.S. Holder may not be able to claim a U.S. foreign tax credit for any dividend distribution tax payable by the Company. The rules relating to the determination of the U.S. foreign tax credit are complex, and U.S. Holders should consult their tax advisors regarding the availability of a foreign tax credit in their particular circumstances and the possibility of claiming an itemized deduction (in lieu of the foreign tax credit) for any foreign taxes paid or withheld.

Sale or Other Taxable Disposition of Equity Shares

Subject to the passive foreign investment company considerations discussed below, upon a sale or other taxable disposition of Equity Shares, a U.S. Holder will recognize capital gain or loss in an amount equal to the difference between the amount realized and the U.S. Holder's adjusted tax basis in such Equity Shares. Any such gain or loss generally will be treated as long-term capital gain or loss if the U.S. Holder's holding period in the Equity Shares exceeds one year. Non-corporate U.S. Holders (including individuals) generally will be subject to U.S. federal income tax on long-term capital gain at preferential rates. The deductibility of capital losses is subject to significant limitations.

Gain or loss, if any, realized by a U.S. Holder on the sale or other disposition of Equity Shares generally will be treated as U.S. source gain or loss for U.S. foreign tax credit limitation purposes. As a result, the use of U.S. foreign tax credits relating to any Indian income tax imposed upon gains in respect of Equity Shares may be limited. U.S. Holders should consult their tax advisors regarding the tax consequences if Indian taxes are imposed on a taxable disposition of Equity Shares and their ability to credit any Indian tax against their U.S. federal income tax liability.

If the consideration received upon the sale or other disposition of Equity Shares is paid in foreign currency, the amount realized will be the U.S. dollar value of the payment received, translated at the spot rate of exchange on the date of taxable disposition. The Company intends to list the Equity Shares on the National Stock Exchange of India Limited and BSE Limited. If the Equity Shares are treated as traded on an established securities market for U.S. federal income tax purposes and the relevant U.S. Holder is either a cash basis taxpayer or an accrual basis taxpayer who has made a special election (which must be applied consistently from year to year and cannot be changed without the consent of the IRS), such holder will determine the U.S. dollar value of the amount realized in foreign currency by translating the amount received at the spot rate of exchange on the settlement date of the sale. An accrual basis taxpayer that does not make the special election will recognize exchange gain or loss to the extent attributable to the difference between the exchange rates on the sale date and the settlement date, and such exchange gain or loss generally will constitute U.S.-source ordinary income or loss.

A U.S. Holder's initial tax basis in Equity Shares generally will equal the cost of such Equity Shares. If a U.S. Holder used foreign currency to purchase the Equity Shares, the cost of the Equity Shares will be the U.S. dollar value of the foreign currency purchase price on the date of purchase, translated at the spot rate of exchange on that date. If the Equity Shares are treated as traded on an established securities market for U.S. federal income tax purposes and the relevant U.S. Holder is either a cash basis taxpayer or an accrual basis taxpayer who has made the special election described above, the U.S. Holder will determine the U.S. dollar value of the cost of such Equity Shares by translating the amount paid at the spot rate of exchange on the settlement date of the purchase.

Passive Foreign Investment Company Considerations

The Company will be classified as a passive foreign investment company (a "PFIC") for any taxable year if either: (a) at least 75% of its gross income is "passive income" for purposes of the PFIC rules or (b) at least 50% of the value of its assets (determined on the basis of a quarterly average) is attributable to assets that produce or are held for the production of passive income. For this purpose, the Company will be treated as owning its proportionate share of the assets and earning its proportionate share of the income of any other corporation in which it owns, directly or indirectly, 25% or more (by value) of the stock.

Under the PFIC rules, if the Company were considered a PFIC at any time that a U.S. Holder holds the Equity Shares, the Company would continue to be treated as a PFIC with respect to such investment unless (i) the Company ceased to be a PFIC and (ii) the U.S. Holder made a "deemed sale" election under the PFIC rules.

Based on the composition of the income, assets (including their expected value) and operations of the Company, although not free from doubt, the Company does not expect to be treated as a PFIC for the current taxable year or in the foreseeable future. Whether the Company is treated as a PFIC is a factual determination that is made on an annual basis after the close of each taxable year. This determination will depend on, among other things, the composition of the income and assets, as well as the value of the assets (which may fluctuate with our market capitalization), of the Company and any subsidiaries from time to time. Therefore there can be no assurance that the Company will not be classified as a PFIC for the current taxable year or for any future taxable year.

If the Company is considered a PFIC at any time that a U.S. Holder holds Equity Shares, any gain recognized by the U.S. Holder on a sale or other disposition of the Equity Shares, as well as the amount of any "excess distribution" (defined below) received by the U.S. Holder, would be allocated ratably over the U.S. Holder's holding period for the Equity Shares. The amounts allocated to the taxable year of the sale or other disposition (or the taxable year of receipt, in the case of an excess distribution) and to any year before the Company became a PFIC would be taxed as ordinary income. The amount allocated to each other taxable year would be subject to tax at the highest rate in effect for individuals or corporations, as appropriate, for that taxable year, and an interest charge would be imposed. For the purposes of these rules, an excess distribution is the amount by which any distribution received by a U.S. Holder on Equity Shares exceeds 125% of the average of the annual distributions on the Equity Shares received during the preceding three years or the U.S. Holder's holding period, whichever is shorter. In addition, if the Company is a PFIC and any of its subsidiaries is also a PFIC, a U.S. Holder may also be subject to the adverse tax consequences described above with respect to any gain or "excess distribution" realized or deemed realized in respect of such subsidiary PFIC. Certain elections may be available that would result in alternative treatments (such as mark-to-market treatment) of the Equity Shares if the Company is considered a PFIC.

If the Company is considered a PFIC, a U.S. Holder will also be subject to annual information reporting requirements. U.S. Holders should consult their tax advisors about the potential application of the PFIC rules to an investment in Equity Shares.

Information Reporting and Backup Withholding

Dividend payments with respect to Equity Shares and proceeds from the sale, exchange or redemption of Equity Shares may be subject to information reporting to the IRS and U.S. backup withholding. A U.S. Holder may be eligible for an exemption from backup withholding if the U.S. Holder furnishes a correct taxpayer identification number and makes any other required certification or is otherwise exempt from backup withholding. U.S. Holders who are required to establish their exempt status may be required to provide such certification on IRS Form W-9. U.S. Holders should consult their tax advisors regarding the application of the U.S. information reporting and backup withholding rules.

Backup withholding is not an additional tax. Amounts withheld as backup withholding may be credited against a U.S. Holder's U.S. federal income tax liability, and such U.S. Holder may obtain a refund of any excess amounts withheld under the backup withholding rules by timely filing an appropriate claim for refund with the IRS and furnishing any required information.

Additional Information Reporting Requirements

Certain U.S. Holders who are individuals (and certain entities) that hold an interest in “specified foreign financial assets” (which may include the Equity Shares) are required to report information relating to such assets, subject to certain exceptions (including an exception for Equity Shares held in accounts maintained by certain financial institutions). Penalties can apply if U.S. Holders fail to satisfy such reporting requirements. U.S. Holders should consult their tax advisors regarding the applicability of these requirements to their acquisition and ownership of Equity Shares.

THE DISCUSSION ABOVE IS A GENERAL SUMMARY. IT DOES NOT COVER ALL TAX MATTERS THAT MAY BE IMPORTANT TO YOU. EACH PROSPECTIVE PURCHASER SHOULD CONSULT ITS OWN TAX ADVISOR ABOUT THE TAX CONSEQUENCES OF AN INVESTMENT IN EQUITY SHARES UNDER THE INVESTOR’S OWN CIRCUMSTANCES.

TRANSFER RESTRICTIONS

The Equity Shares have not been and will not be registered, listed or otherwise qualified in any other jurisdiction outside India and may not be offered or sold, and Bids may not be made by persons in any such jurisdiction, except in compliance with the applicable laws of such jurisdiction. SECURITIES MARKET OF INDIA

The information in this section has been extracted from publicly available documents from various sources, including officially prepared materials from SEBI, the BSE and the NSE, and has not been independently verified by the Company, the Promoter Selling Shareholders, the members of the Syndicate or any of their affiliates or advisors.

The Indian Securities Market

India has a long history of organized securities trading. The first stock exchange was established in Mumbai in 1875.

Stock Exchange Regulation

India's stock exchanges are regulated primarily by SEBI, as well as by the Government of India ("GoI") acting through the Ministry of Finance, Capital Markets Division, under the Securities Contracts (Regulation) Act, 1956, as amended (the "SCRA"), the Securities Contracts (Regulation) Rules, 1957, as amended (the "SCRR"), and various rules and regulations framed thereunder. The SCRA, the SCRR, the Securities Contracts (Regulation) (Stock Exchanges and Clearing Corporations) Regulations, 2012, as amended, along with the rules, by-laws and regulations of the respective stock exchanges, each as amended, regulate the recognition of stock exchanges, the qualifications for membership thereof and the manner in which contracts are entered into and enforced between members of the stock exchanges.

SEBI is empowered to regulate the Indian securities markets, including stock exchanges and other intermediaries, promote and monitor self-regulatory organizations and prohibit fraudulent and unfair trade practices pursuant to the Securities and Exchange Board of India Act, 1992, as amended (the "SEBI Act"). Regulations concerning minimum disclosure requirements by public companies, rules and regulations concerning investor protection, insider trading, substantial acquisitions of shares and takeovers of companies, buybacks of securities, employee stock option schemes, stockbrokers, merchant bankers, mutual funds, foreign portfolio investors, credit rating agencies and other capital market participants which have been notified by the relevant regulatory authority.

Listing

The listing of securities on recognized stock exchanges in India is regulated by applicable Indian laws including the Companies Act, 2013, as amended ("Companies Act") SCRA, SCRR, the SEBI Act, various regulations issued by SEBI including the Securities and Exchange Board of India (Listing Obligations and Disclosure Requirements) Regulations, 2015, as amended (the "Listing Regulations") and the listing agreements executed between listed companies and stock exchanges. A listed entity or any other person who contravenes the Listing Regulations shall, in addition to liability in terms of securities laws, be liable for action by the stock exchanges, including imposition of fines, suspension of trading, etc. A recognized stock exchange is empowered to suspend trading of or dealing in a listed security for breach of certain of the company's obligations under such Listing Regulations subject to the company receiving prior notice of such intent of the stock exchange. The Securities Appellate Tribunal, after giving the stock exchange an opportunity to be heard, has the power to vary or set aside the decision of the stock exchange in this regard.

A listed company, other than a public sector company, shall maintain public shareholding of at least 25.0%. In case the public shareholding in a listed company falls below 25.0% at any time, such company shall bring the public shareholding to 25.0% within a maximum period of twelve months from the date of such fall in the manner specified by the SEBI.

Delisting of equity shares, whether by way of a compulsory or a voluntary delisting, is governed by the provisions of the Securities and Exchange Board of India (Delisting of Equity Shares) Regulations, 2009, as amended (the "Delisting Regulations").

Insider Trading Regulations

The Securities and Exchange Board of India (Prohibition of Insider Trading) Regulations, 2015, as amended (the "Insider Trading Regulations") were notified on January 15, 2015 and came into effect on May 15, 2015. Subsequently, significant amendments have been made to the Insider Trading Regulations by SEBI pursuant to amendments notified on December 31, 2018 and January 21, 2019. The Insider Trading Regulations, amongst other things, prohibit and penalize insider trading in India and prohibit dealing in the securities of a listed company when in possession of unpublished price sensitive information ("UPSI").

The Insider Trading Regulations also impose certain restrictions on the communication of UPSI relating to a company or securities listed or proposed to be listed. In terms of the Insider Trading Regulations, (i) no insider shall communicate, provide or allow access to any UPSI relating to such companies and securities to any person including other insiders; and (ii) no person shall procure or cause the communication by any insider of UPSI relating to such companies and securities, except in furtherance of legitimate purposes, performance of duties or discharge of legal obligations.

The Insider Trading Regulations define the term “unpublished price sensitive information” to mean any information, relating to a company or its securities, directly or indirectly, that is not generally available which upon becoming generally available, is likely to materially affect the price of its securities and ordinarily includes but not restricted to information relating to the following: (a) financial results; (b) dividends; (c) change in capital structure; (d) mergers, de-mergers, acquisitions, de-listings, disposals and expansion of business and such other transactions; and (e) changes in key managerial personnel. Further, in terms of the Insider Trading Regulations, “generally available information” is defined as information that is accessible to the public on a non-discriminatory basis. An “insider” means any person who is i) a connected person; or ii) in possession of or having access to unpublished price sensitive information.

The Insider Trading Regulations make it compulsory for listed companies and certain other entities (including fiduciaries and intermediaries) that are required to handle UPSI in the course of business operations to establish (i) an internal code of practices and procedures for fair disclosure of UPSI; (ii) an internal code to regulate, monitor and report trading by insiders and (iii) a policy for procedures to be adopted by a company in case of leak of UPSI. There are also initial and continuing shareholding disclosure obligations under the Insider Trading Regulations.

Index-Based Market-Wide Circuit Breaker System

In order to restrict abnormal price volatility in any particular stock, SEBI has instructed stock exchanges to apply daily circuit breakers which do not allow transactions beyond a certain level of price volatility. The index-based market-wide circuit breaker system (equity and equity derivatives) applies at three stages of the index movement, at 10%, 15% and 20%. These circuit breakers, when triggered, bring about a coordinated trading halt in all equity and equity derivative markets nationwide. The market-wide circuit breakers are triggered by movement of either the SENSEX of BSE or the NIFTY 50 of NSE, whichever is breached earlier.

In addition to the market-wide index-based circuit breakers, there are currently in place individual scrip-wise price bands of 20% movements either up or down. However, no price bands are applicable on scrips on which derivative products are available or scrips included in indices on which derivative products are available.

The stock exchanges in India can also exercise the power to suspend trading during periods of market volatility. Margin requirements are imposed by stock exchanges that are required to be paid by the stockbrokers.

Settlement

The stock exchanges in India operate on a trading day plus two, or T+2 rolling settlement system. At the end of the T+2 period, obligations are settled with buyers of securities paying for and receiving securities, while sellers transfer and receive payment for securities. For example, trades executed on a Monday would typically be settled on a Wednesday.

National Stock Exchange of India Limited

NSE provides nationwide on-line satellite-linked, screen-based trading facilities to market makers, to provide electronic clearing and settlement for securities including government securities, debentures, public sector bonds and units. Deliveries for trades executed “on-market” are exchanged through the National Securities Clearing Corporation Limited. NSE commenced operations in the wholesale debt market segment in June 1994 and operations in the derivatives segment in June 2000.

NSE operates on a fully automated screen based trading system called National Exchange for Automated Trading (“NEAT”), which adopts the principle of an order driven market.

BSE Limited

BSE was established in 1875 and is the oldest stock exchange in India. In 1957, it became the first stock exchange in India to obtain permanent recognition from the Government of India in 1956 under the SCRA. Only a member of the BSE has the right to trade in the stocks listed on the BSE. Equity derivatives trading commenced on the BSE in 2000. The BSE has also wholesale and retail debt trading categories. Retail trading in Government securities commenced in January 2003.

Trading Hours

Trading on both BSE and NSE normally occurs from Monday through Friday between 9:15 a.m. IST and 3:30 p.m. IST (excluding the 15 minutes pre-open session from 9.00 a.m. IST to 9.15 a.m. IST that has been introduced). BSE and NSE are closed on public holidays. The recognised stock exchanges have been permitted to set their own trading hours (in cash and derivatives segments) subject to the condition that (i) the trading hours are between 9.00 a.m. and 5.00 p.m., and (ii) the stock exchange has in place a risk management system and infrastructure commensurate to the trading hours.

Internet-Based Securities Trading and Services

Internet trading takes place through order routing systems, which route client orders to exchange trading systems for execution. This permits clients throughout the country to trade using brokers' internet trading systems. Stock brokers interested in providing this service are required to apply for permission to the relevant stock exchange and also have to comply with certain minimum conditions stipulated under applicable law. NSE became the first exchange to grant approval to its members for providing internet-based trading services. Internet trading is possible on both the "equities" as well as the "derivatives" segments of NSE.

Trading Procedure

In order to facilitate smooth transactions, BSE replaced its open outcry system with BSE online trading facility in 1995. This 100% automated screen based trading in securities was put into practice nationwide. This has enhanced transparency in dealings and has assisted considerably in smoothening settlement cycles and improving efficiency in back-office work. NSE has a fully automated trading system called NEAT, which operates on strict time/price priority besides enabling efficient trade.

Depositories

The Depositories Act provides a legal framework for the establishment of depositories to record ownership details and effect transfers in electronic book-entry form. Further, SEBI has framed the Securities and Exchange Board of India (Depositories and Participants) Regulations, 2018 in relation to, among other things, the formation and registration of such depositories, the registration of participants as well as the rights and obligations of the depositories, participants, companies and beneficial owners.

Takeover Regulations

Disclosure and mandatory bid obligations for listed Indian companies under Indian law are governed by the specific regulations in relation to substantial acquisition of shares and takeover. After listing on the stock exchanges, the provisions of the Securities and Exchange Board of India (Substantial Acquisition of Shares and Takeovers) Regulations, 2011 (the "Takeover Regulations") will apply to our Company, which provide specific regulations in relation to substantial acquisition of shares and takeovers. Once the equity shares of a company are listed on a stock exchange in India, the provisions of the Takeover Regulations will apply to any acquisition of the company's shares/voting rights/control. The Takeover Regulations prescribes certain thresholds or trigger points in the shareholding that a person or entity (along with persons acting in concert with such person or entity) has in the listed Indian company, which give rise to certain obligations on the part of the acquirer. Acquisitions up to a certain threshold mandate specific disclosure requirements, while acquisitions (direct or indirect, along with persons acting in concert with such acquirer) crossing particular thresholds may result in the acquirer having to make an open offer for the shares of the target company.

STERLING AND WILSON SOLAR LIMITED

Subsequently, our Company was converted into a public limited company pursuant to the approval of our Shareholders at an extra-ordinary general meeting held on January 11, 2019. Consequently, the name of our Company was changed to Sterling and Wilson Solar Limited and a fresh certificate of incorporation consequent upon conversion from private company to a public company was issued by the RoC on January 25, 2019. NOTICE TO PROSPECTIVE INVESTORS IN THE EUROPEAN ECONOMIC AREA

This Prospectus has been prepared on the basis that all offers of Equity Shares will be made pursuant to an exemption under the Prospectus Directive, as implemented in Member States of the European Economic Area (“EEA”), from the requirement to produce a prospectus for offers of Equity Shares. The expression “Prospectus Directive” means Directive 2003/71/EC of the European Parliament and Council EC (and amendments thereto, including the 2010 PD Amending Directive and Prospectus Regulations (EU) 2017/1129, to the extent applicable and to the extent implemented in the Relevant Member State (as defined below)) and includes any relevant implementing measure in each Member State that has implemented the Prospectus Directive (each a “Relevant Member State”). Accordingly, any person making or intending to make an offer within the EEA of Equity Shares which are the subject of the placement contemplated in this Prospectus should only do so in circumstances in which no obligation arises for our Company, the Promoter Selling Shareholders or any of the GCBRLMs and BRLMs to produce a prospectus for such offer. None of our Company, the promoter Selling Shareholders and the GCBRLMs and BRLMs have authorized, nor do they authorize, the making of any offer of Equity Shares through any financial intermediary, other than the offers made by the GCBRLMs and BRLMs which constitute the final placement of Equity Shares contemplated in this Prospectus.

Notwithstanding the Target Market Assessment, “distributors” (for the purposes of the MiFID II Product Governance Requirements) (“Distributors”) should note that: the price of the Equity Shares may decline and investors could lose all or part of their investment; the Equity Shares offer no guaranteed income and no capital protection; and an investment in the Equity Shares is compatible only with investors who do not need a guaranteed income or capital protection, who (either alone or in conjunction with an appropriate financial or other adviser) are capable of evaluating the merits and risks of such an investment and who have sufficient resources to be able to bear any losses that may result therefrom. The Target Market Assessment is without prejudice to the requirements of any contractual, legal or regulatory selling restrictions in relation to the Offer.

For the avoidance of doubt, the Target Market Assessment does not constitute: (a) an assessment of suitability or appropriateness for the purposes of MiFID II; or (b) a recommendation to any investor or group of investors to invest in, or purchase, or take any other action whatsoever with respect to the Equity Shares. Each Distributor is responsible for undertaking its own target market assessment in respect of the Equity Shares and determining appropriate distribution channels.

All forward-looking statements are subject to risks, uncertainties and assumptions about us that could cause actual results to differ materially from those contemplated by the relevant forward-looking statement.

Actual results may differ materially from those suggested by forward-looking statements due to risks or uncertainties associated with expectations relating to, inter alia, regulatory changes pertaining to the industries in India in which we operate and our ability to respond to them, our ability to successfully implement our strategy, our growth and expansion, technological changes, our exposure to market risks, general economic and political conditions in India which have an impact on its business activities or investments, the monetary and fiscal policies of India, inflation, deflation, unanticipated turbulence in interest rates, foreign exchange rates, equity prices or other rates or prices, the performance of the financial markets in India and globally, changes in domestic laws, regulations and taxes and changes in competition in the industries in which we operate.

These statements are based on our management’s beliefs and assumptions, which in turn are based on currently available information. Although we believe the assumptions upon which these forward-looking statements are based are reasonable, any of these assumptions could prove to be inaccurate, and the forward-looking statements based on these assumptions could be incorrect. Neither our Company, our Directors, the Promoter Selling Shareholders, the GCBRLMs and BRLMs nor any of their respective affiliates have any obligation to update or otherwise revise any statements reflecting circumstances arising after the date hereof or to reflect the occurrence of underlying events, even if the underlying assumptions do not come to fruition. SUMMARY OF THE OFFER DOCUMENT

This summary should be read in conjunction with, and is qualified in its entirety by, the more detailed information appearing elsewhere in this Prospectus, including the sections titled “Risk Factors”, “Our Business”, “Industry Overview”, “Capital Structure”, “The Offer” and “Outstanding Litigation and Material Developments” beginning on pages 28, 115, 98, 75, 63 and 421 respectively of this Prospectus. Primary business of our Company

We are a global pure-play, end-to-end solar EPC solutions provider. We provide EPC services primarily for utility-scale solar power projects with a focus on project design and engineering and manage all aspects of project execution from conceptualizing to commissioning. We also provide O&M services, including for projects constructed by third-parties. We currently have a presence across 26 countries and as of March 31, 2019, we had 205 commissioned and contracted solar power projects with an aggregate capacity of 6,870.43 MWp.

Primary business of the industry in which our Company operates

The use of solar energy has become increasingly competitive over the years due to the declining costs associated with its use, making this a key factor driving the global growth of the solar industry. The solar EPC industry is highly fragmented but has been tending towards increased consolidation in recent years. Successful solar EPC solutions providers have not only offered the most competitive prices but have also demonstrated a track-record of strong design and engineering capabilities, on-time project completion and as expected or higher plant performance. Key market barriers to entering the solar EPC industry include financial capability, track-record and experience, and local licenses.

SECTION II: RISK FACTORS

An investment in Equity Shares involves a high degree of risk. You should carefully consider all of the information in this Prospectus, including the risks and uncertainties described below, before making an investment in the Equity Shares. The risks and uncertainties described in this section are not the only risks that we currently face. Additional risks and uncertainties not presently known to us or that we currently believe to be immaterial may also have an adverse impact on our business, results of operations, cash flows and financial condition. If any or a combination of the following risks, or other risks that are not currently known or are currently deemed immaterial, actually occur, our business, results of operations, cash flows and financial condition may be adversely affected, the price of the Equity Shares could decline, and you may lose all or part of your investment.

In making an investment decision, as prospective investors, you must rely on your own examination of us and the terms of the Offer, including the merits and the risks involved. You should consult your tax, financial, legal advisors about the particular consequences of investing in the Offer. To obtain a complete understanding of our business, you should read this section in conjunction with the sections titled “Industry Overview”, “Our Business”, “Financial Information” and “Management’s Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations” beginning on pages 98, 115, 191 and 398, respectively, of this Prospectus, as well as the other financial and statistical information contained in this Prospectus.

This Prospectus also contains forward-looking statements that involve risks, assumptions, estimates and uncertainties. Our actual results could differ materially from those anticipated in these forward-looking statements as a result of various factors, including the considerations described in this section and elsewhere in this Prospectus. See “Forward Looking Statements” on page 20 of this Prospectus. Unless otherwise expressly stated or the context otherwise requires, the financial information used in this section is derived from the Restated Consolidated Summary Financial Information or the Carved Out Combined Financial Statements, as the case may be.

We describe in this Prospectus the businesses that have been contributed to us by Sterling & Wilson Private Limited (“SWPL”), as part of our demerger from SWPL (the “Demerger”), as if they were our businesses for all historical periods described. The Demerger was conducted pursuant to the Scheme of Arrangement that was effective from April 1, 2017 (the “Appointed Date”). Accordingly, the operational and financial information for Fiscal 2017 included in this section, are prior to the Appointed Date of the Demerger and may not be reflective of our performance as a standalone company.

As used in this Prospectus, the terms “we”, “us” or “our” may, depending on the context, refer to the Solar EPC Division of SWPL prior to the Demerger or to Sterling and Wilson Solar Limited and its Subsidiaries after giving effect to the Demerger.

Our financial year ends on March 31 of each year. Accordingly, references to Fiscals 2017 and 2019 are for the 12-month period ended March 31 of that year. References to Fiscal 2018 mean the period from March 9, 2017 to March 31, 2018, reflecting the incorporation of our Company as a separate company on March 9, 2017. We did not recognize revenue from operations or incur any expenses in our Company from March 9, 2017 to March 31, 2017; therefore, there is no impact to our Restated Consolidated Summary Statement of Profit and Loss for Fiscal 2018 from this additional 22-day period.

Internal Risk Factors

- 1. If solar photovoltaic (“PV”) and related technologies are regarded as unsuitable for widespread adoption, or if demand for solar power does not develop or takes longer to develop than we anticipate, our revenues may decline and we may be unable to sustain our profitability.

The solar power market is still developing and the extent of acceptance of solar power as a form of energy generation remains uncertain. In many of the geographies in which we operate, the solar power market is at an early stage or nascent stage of development and we cannot assure that a sustainable market for solar power will emerge in those countries. Historical and current market data on the solar power industry are not as readily available as those for more established industries where trends can be assessed more reliably from data gathered over a longer period of time.

In addition, according to CRISIL Research, demand for solar power has not developed as fast as many market players have anticipated although the solar industry continues to experience increasingly lower costs, improved efficiency and higher electricity output. Many factors may affect the viability of widespread adoption of solar power technology and demand for solar power and the need for and viability of solar power projects, including but not limited to:

- cost-effectiveness, performance and reliability of solar power compared to traditional energy sources and other renewable energy sources and the availability of grid capacity to dispatch power generated from solar power projects;
- success of other alternative energy generation technologies such as wind power, hydroelectric power and biomass power;
- public perceptions of the direct and indirect benefits of adopting renewable energy technology;
- the availability of suitable storage solutions for solar energy to ensure continuity of energy supply;
- price volatility of solar power equipment such as modules, inverters, trackers and transformers;
- fluctuations in economic and market conditions that may affect the viability of traditional and other alternative renewable energy sources such as increases or decreases in the prices of oil and other fossil fuels;
- decreases in capital expenditures by end-users of solar power projects;
- the cost of capital and availability of credit, loans and other forms of financing for solar power projects;
- the availability of government subsidies and incentives to support the development of the solar power industry, such as capital cost rebates, feed-in tariffs, tax credits, net metering and other incentives to end users; and
- regulations and policies governing the solar power or electric utility industries that may present technical, regulatory or economic barriers to the establishment of solar power projects and the purchase and use of solar energy.

If solar PV technology is regarded as unsuitable for widespread adoption or the demand for solar power or solar power projects fails to develop or takes longer to develop than we anticipate, our revenues may decline and we may be unable to sustain our profitability.

2. We may work on projects for a limited number of customers in a financial period. The loss of a key customer in a financial period could significantly reduce our revenue and could have a material adverse effect on our business, future prospects, results of operations and financial condition.

The following table provides the percentage of our revenue from operations contributed by our top two customers and top five customers for the periods indicated:

Particulars	For the year ended March 31,
	2017	2018 [*]	2019
	SWPL – Solar EPC Division (Prior to Demerger)	Sterling and Wilson Solar Limited (post Demerger)
	(% of revenue from operations)
Top two customers in terms of revenue generated	49.42%	57.28%	36.86%
Top five customers in terms of revenue generated	62.70%	76.44%	53.68%

We neither assure you that we will be able to maintain the historic levels of business from our key customers or that we will be able to replace these key customers should we lose any or all of them. Since we are dependent on our key customers for a significant portion of our operations, the loss of any one of our key customers or a significant reduction in demand from such key customers could have a material adverse effect on our business, future prospects, results of operations and financial condition.

3. Several of our key raw materials and components are sourced from a single or a limited group of local or global third-party suppliers giving rise to supplier concentration risks. Any restrictions in supply or defects in quality could cause delays in project construction or implementation and impair our ability to provide our services to customers at a price that is profitable to us which could have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition and results of operations.

Our failure to obtain raw materials and components that meet our quality, quantity and cost requirements in a timely manner could interrupt or impair our ability to provide our services or increase our operating costs. We depend on a limited number of suppliers for our key raw materials. For example, In Fiscals 2017, 2018 and 2019 our top 10 suppliers constituted 73.32%, 67.66% and 45.46% of the aggregate costs of construction materials, stores and spare parts, purchase of traded goods, changes in inventories of stock-in-trade, respectively. As a result, any failure of any of our suppliers to perform could disrupt our global supply chain and materially and adversely affect our operations. For example, we depend on a single supplier for PV cells that are critical for PV modules and any failure to receive the PV cells on time could materially and adversely affect our operations.

In addition, we engage with local and global suppliers for raw materials for our projects and any adverse regulations for engaging local suppliers; import and export restrictions; transportation and related infrastructure failures; or deterioration in diplomatic relationships and bilateral trade disputes could increase supply costs which could have a material adverse effect on our operations and financial condition. For instance, anti-dumping and countervailing or anti-subsidy duties imposed on solar PV cells imported from certain countries, such as China, may restrict our choice of suppliers, which may result in increased supply costs for our projects, materially and adversely affecting our profitability, financial condition and results of our operations.

Further, some of our suppliers are small companies that may be unable to supply our increasing demand for raw materials and components as we expand our business. We may be unable to identify suppliers in new markets or qualify their products for use in our business in a timely manner and on commercially reasonable terms. We may also be subject to adverse local regulations for appointing suppliers. Any constraints on our suppliers may result in an inability for us to meet our development plans and our obligations under our customer contracts, which may have a material adverse effect on our business. In addition, reductions in our order volume may put pressure on suppliers and could result in increased material and component costs, materially and adversely affecting our business, financial condition and results of operations.

4. Our global business operations are subject to global and local risks related to economic, regulatory and, social and political uncertainties, any of which could have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition and results of operations.

Currently, we have a presence across 26 countries. We use our subsidiaries and branch offices (which include SWPL's branch offices) globally for our operations. Our business is therefore subject to diverse and constantly changing economic, regulatory and social and political conditions in the jurisdictions in which we operate. Operating in the international markets exposes us to a number of risks globally including, without limitation:

- compliance with local business, environmental, safety, health and other labour laws and regulations, which can be onerous and costly as the magnitude and complexity of, and continual amendments to, those laws and regulations are difficult to predict and the liabilities, costs, obligations and requirements associated with these laws and regulations can be substantial;
- dependence on governments, utility companies and other entities for electricity, water, telecommunications, transportation and other utilities or infrastructure needs;
- difficulties with local operating and market conditions, particularly regarding customs, taxation and labour;
- difficulties in organizing a skilled workforce for efficient execution of solar power plants including processing visas or entry permits quickly and repeatedly for our personnel;
- economic and financial conditions, including the stability of credit markets, foreign currency fluctuations and controls, particularly the ability to repatriate funds to India and other countries;
- changes in solar industry practices or trends, for example, with the reduction of solar module costs, there is a noticeable shift towards balance of system solutions, in India and outside India;
- changes in government regulations, policies, tax, subsidies and incentives, including transfer pricing rules; and

- political risks, risks of expropriation and nationalization of assets, potential losses due to civil unrest, acts of terrorism and war, regional and global political or military tensions, strained or altered foreign relations and protectionism.

To the extent that our operations are affected by unexpected and adverse economic, regulatory and, social and political conditions in the countries in which we operate, we may experience operational disruptions, loss of assets and personnel and other indirect losses that could materially and adversely affect our business, financial condition and results of operations.

5. We operate in a competitive industry and as such we may not be successful in bidding for and winning bids for solar power projects to grow our business globally, which may have a material adverse effect our business, financial condition, results of operations and prospects.

Our business depends on our ability to continually win bids for solar power projects and our current business strategy focuses on increasing the number of solar power projects to which we provide EPC services and expanding our operations into new geographies. We bid for solar power projects and compete with other EPC solutions providers based on, among other things, pricing, technical and design and engineering expertise, financing capabilities, past experience, amount and type of guarantees given and track-record. The bidding and selection process is also affected by a number of factors, including factors which may be beyond our control, such as market conditions or government incentive programs. Our market position therefore depends on our financing, development and operation capabilities, reputation, experience and track-record. We believe our primary competitors are traditional global and local EPC solutions providers and solar power companies that have their own in-house operations and maintenance (“O&M”) operations. Our competitors may have greater financial resources, a more effective or established local business presence with specific regional advantages or a greater willingness or ability to operate with little or no operating margins for sustained periods of time. Some of our competitors may have advantages over us in terms of greater operational, technical, management or other resources in particular markets or in general, better track records, stronger lender relations, as well as know-how of regulatory and political challenges in the geographies in which we operate or into which we intend to expand our operations. Our competitors may also have more experience than us in this business and a longer track record of operations. Further, as we have only been operating as a separate, independent company for two years, we may not meet the bid requirements of track-record or technical and financial specifications on our own. For example, in Vietnam, we faced difficulties in satisfying bid requirements because we were not able to demonstrate the required period of prior EPC experience. Such requirements could have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition, results of operations and prospects and give a competitive advantage to other market players. Any increase in competition during the bidding process or reduction in our competitive capabilities could have a material adverse effect on our market share and on the margins we generate from our solar power project portfolio.

In addition, our competitors may choose to enter into strategic alliances or form affiliates with other competitors to our detriment. Suppliers or subcontractors may merge with our competitors which may limit the choice of subcontractors we have available to us which may limit the flexibility of our overall service capabilities. There can be no assurance that our current or potential competitors will not offer the services we provide comparable or superior to those that we offer at the same or lower prices; adapt more quickly to industry challenges; or expand their operations at a faster pace than we do. Increased competition may result in price reductions, reduced profit margins and loss of market share, thereby causing a material adverse effect on our operations, prospects and financial condition.

6. We may be unable to accurately estimate costs under fixed-price EPC contracts, fail to maintain the quality and performance guarantees under our EPC contracts and we may experience delays in completing the construction of solar power projects, which may increase our construction costs and working capital requirements, and may have a material adverse effect on our financial condition, cash flow and results of operations.

We enter into fixed-price EPC contracts with most of our customers. We estimate essential costs, such as the cost of construction materials and direct project costs, at the time we enter into an EPC contract for a particular project and these are reflected in the overall fixed-price that we charge our customers for the solar power project. However, these cost estimates are preliminary, and at the time we submit bids for a project or enter into EPC contracts, we may not have finalized these costs in our related contracts with subcontractors, suppliers and other parties involved in the solar power project. Our EPC contracts may include provisions allowing for changes by our customers to the scope of work. Such provisions generally allow us to reprice the EPC contract and charge our customer for any additional work. Other than through such changes, we generally cannot reprice or renegotiate an EPC contract once it has been entered into with our customer. As a result, any failure to accurately estimate costs could result in our actual costs exceeding our estimated costs, thereby causing an increase in our construction costs and working capital requirements, and as a result, we may incur losses.

Under our EPC contracts we also typically provide certain performance guarantees that require us to complete the solar power project in accordance with a specified timeline and to be responsible for the solar power project maintaining a specified plant performance ratio for a specified time period, typically for up to two years after commissioning of the solar power project. Any failure to maintain these performance guarantees may subject us to penalties under our EPC contracts, such as requiring us to perform remediation work to meet the guarantees, pay liquidated damages or allowing the counterparty to terminate the EPC contract. As a result, we may face losses under a particular project, may not be able to achieve our expected margins and may record an overall loss in the relevant financial period. As at March 31, 2019, we had a provision for liquidated damages of ₹460.39 million for time/cost overruns at our projects, which are based solely on management estimates. However, we cannot assure that any actual liquidated damages that we are required to pay as a result of such delays would not exceed the amount of such provision. Additionally, with respect to our solar power project in Abu Dhabi, we received notices for liquidated damages for not meeting performance ratios, aggregating to ₹ 59.32 million between May 4, 2019 and July 9, 2019 primarily due to the faulty performance of certain equipment supplied by one of our suppliers. While we believe we have recourse for an amount in excess of these losses in the form of contractual performance guarantees from the supplier, in the event we are unsuccessful in recovering these losses under the performance guarantees from the supplier it could have an adverse impact on our financial condition and results of operations. We may also fail to complete our solar power projects by the specified timeline due to construction delays as a result of various factors, including unanticipated changes in engineering design; increase in the cost of equipment, materials or manpower; shortages of skilled labour; supply shortages or delays in the delivery of equipment and materials to the project site; unforeseen conditions or occurrences, including the inability of the customer to obtain the requisite environmental and other approvals, resulting in delays and increased costs; adverse local weather conditions; suppliers' or subcontractors' failure to perform; disputes, delay or failure in obtaining required cash inflow and financial assistance from our customers; or delays caused by us or due to factors outside our control. For example, the execution of a project in Argentina was delayed due to high velocity winds. We also experienced delay in the execution of a project in Namibia due to a transporters' strike that disrupted operations. We also faced delays in completing the construction of a solar power project in Morocco for various reasons, including extreme weather conditions and certain topographical challenges. Another project in Zambia was delayed due to difficult topographical conditions, such as sinkholes and limestone. Delays in project completion may subject us to penalties under our EPC contracts and harm our reputation with our customers and other stakeholders. Furthermore, delays on our part, beyond a specified period stipulated in the contract, may require us to purchase the solar power project from the developer, which could have a material adverse effect on our financial condition, cash flow and results of operations.

7. We as well as our Promoters may be involved in certain legal proceedings, which may materially and adversely affect our business financial condition and results of operations.

We may be involved in disputes with various parties, including local governments, suppliers, customers and subcontractors. These disputes may lead to legal or other proceedings and may result in substantial costs, delays in our development and operation schedule, and the diversion of resources and management's attention, regardless of the outcome. We may also have disagreements with regulatory authorities in the course of our operations, which may subject us to administrative proceedings and unfavourable decisions that result in penalties or delay or disrupt the development and operations of our facilities.

We as well as our Promoters are involved in certain legal proceedings in the ordinary course of business, which are pending at various levels of adjudication in different fora across various jurisdictions.

According to the Materiality Policy, any outstanding litigation proceedings, other than criminal proceedings, statutory or regulatory actions and taxation matters, is considered material if the monetary amount of claim by or against: (a) our Company, our Subsidiaries and/or Promoters (individually or in the aggregate), in any such pending matter is in excess of ₹321.61 million or if the outcome of any such litigation could have a material and adverse effect on our position, business, operations, prospects and reputation; and (b) our Directors, the outcome of any such litigation could have a material and adverse effect on our position, business, operations, prospects and reputation. Further, pursuant to the SEBI ICDR Regulations, we are required to disclose all outstanding litigation proceedings involving our Group Companies, which may have a material adverse effect on our Company.

9. We have, and may continue to have, negative cash flows from operating activities

	For the Year Ended March 31,
	2017	2018*	2019
	(₹ in million)
SWPL – Solar EPC Division (Prior to Demerger)	Sterling and Wilson Solar Limited (Post-Demerger)
Net cash flows generated from/(used in) operating activities	(3,186.38)	2,510.58	(7,233.44)
Net cash flows generated from/ (used in) investing activities.....	(20.59)	(187.42)	(9,288.33)
Net cash flows generated from/(used in) financing activities	3,242.66	(1,409.72)	19,722.09
Cash and cash equivalents at the end of the period	37.64	954.66	4,207.70

We had negative cash flow from operating activities of ₹(3,186.38) million and ₹(7,233.44) million in Fiscals 2017 and 2019, respectively. In Fiscal 2017 we had negative cash flow from operating activities primarily because of interest bearing credit given to a customer amounting to ₹2,770.71 million led to an increase in our working capital. The amount was subsequently collected in Fiscal 2018. We also recorded negative cash flow from operating activities in Fiscal 2019 due to reduction in a large advance from customer on substantial completion of the project which led to an increase in our working capital.

For further details, see “Restated Consolidated Summary Financial Information”, “Carved Out Combined Financial Statements” and “Management’s Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations” on pages 192, 313 and 398, respectively, of this Prospectus. We cannot assure you that our net cash flows will be positive in the future.

10. One of our Promoter Selling Shareholders has encumbered their Equity Shares with a deposit accepting housing finance company. Any exercise of such encumbrance by such deposit accepting housing finance company could dilute the shareholding of such Promoter and consequently dilute the aggregate shareholding of our Promoters, which may materially and adversely affect our business and financial condition.

The Equity Shares offered by the Promoter Selling Shareholders as part of the Offer are free from any encumbrances and eligible in terms of the SEBI ICDR Regulations. However, up to 35.76% of our Equity Shares held by SPCPL shall be pledged in favour of a deposit accepting housing finance company, namely, Housing Development Finance Corporation Limited after creation of lock-in in accordance with Regulation 16(b) of the SEBI ICDR Regulations. Any default under the agreements pursuant to which these Equity Shares are pledged will entitle the pledgee to enforce the pledge over these Equity Shares. If this happens, the aggregate shareholding of the Promoters may be diluted and we may face certain impediments in taking decisions on certain key, strategic matters. As a result, we may not be able to conduct our business or implement our strategies as currently planned, which may materially and adversely affect our business and financial condition. Further, any rapid sale of Equity Shares by such third parties may materially and adversely affect the price of the Equity Shares.

Any significant dilution in the shareholding of the SP Group in our Company (as a result of any enforcement of the pledge against SPCPL) may have a material adverse effect on us, our business and our financial condition including our reputation and ability to access capital, credit ratings and industry talent.

11. Our EPC contracts generally include provisions permitting our customers to terminate the agreement at their convenience. If our EPC contracts are terminated prematurely, we may not receive payments otherwise due to us which may result in a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition and results of operations.

Our EPC contracts typically include provisions permitting our customers to terminate the EPC contract prior to the issue of a notice to proceed (“NTP”) or at their convenience with a relatively short notice period. In such circumstances, we are generally able to recover actual costs incurred until that time, but we do not recover the full payment that would otherwise have been due to us under the contract. If our customers cancel some of our significant EPC contracts and we are unable to secure new contracts on substantially the same terms, or if our customers use such termination rights as leverage to re-negotiate the terms and conditions of the EPC contract, including pricing terms, changes to the scope of work or delivery schedule, this may materially and adversely affect our business, financial condition and results of operations.

12. We depend on various subcontractors and suppliers to procure materials and construct and provide our services and solutions. We are exposed to risks arising from the pricing, timing or quality of their services, equipment and supplies and warranties given. This may materially and adversely affect our business, profitability, financial condition and results of operations.

We enter into contracts with subcontractors and suppliers to supply equipment, materials and other goods and services for our EPC and O&M businesses and for providing certain services related to our operations. We are subject to the risk that suppliers or subcontractors may not perform their obligations under their respective contracts with us. If suppliers or subcontractors fail to deliver components on time or deliver components with manufacturing defects; do not comply with the specified quality standards and technical specifications; do not comply with local regulations; cause or are subject to accidents on the solar power project site; otherwise fail to perform their obligations; terminate their contracts with us; or are subject to insolvency proceedings, we may be unable to fulfil our warranty obligations under our EPC contracts with customers. We may also suffer disruptions in our operations and may need to enter into new contracts with other suppliers or subcontractors at a higher cost which we may not be able to recover from our customers under our EPC contracts. Such events could have a material and adverse effect on our ability to fulfil our obligations to our customers and meet agreed timelines and may cause an increase in our construction costs and working capital requirements. If any shutdowns continue for extended periods, this could give rise to contractual penalties or liabilities under our EPC contracts, a delay or inability to recognize revenues, loss of customers and damage to our reputation. Although we are entitled to compensation from such suppliers and subcontractors for certain solar power equipment failures and defects in certain cases, these arrangements may not fully compensate us for the damage and loss suffered as a result thereof.

Our profitability largely depends on our ability to manage costs relating to our EPC operations. Our most significant cost is the cost of construction materials, including modules, inverters and trackers, the prices of which are subject to price volatility. We seek to manage the cost of some of these materials by entering into pre-bid pricing arrangements for modules and inverters with our key suppliers at competitive rates. These pre-bid pricing arrangements are typically valid for a couple of months. We do not, however, enter into pre-bid pricing arrangements with our key suppliers for materials other than modules and inverters and cannot manage volatility in the prices of those raw materials, cannot assure that the supply of these materials will be at competitive rates. Any failure to enter into pre-bid arrangements with our suppliers, the termination of the pre-bid arrangement by our supplier or a delay in entering into the EPC contract, could subject us to price escalation risks, which could have a material adverse effect on our financial condition and results of operations.

We also make advance payments in connection with our procurement agreements for equipment and materials used in our operations. We may not be able to recover such advance payments and would suffer further losses if any subcontractor, supplier or specialist agency fails to fulfil its delivery obligations under its contract, including failing to provide sufficient quantities of materials of such quality as specified in the contract. In addition, to the extent that there is collateral or security attached to our advance payments, it is uncertain whether the advance payment can be repaid in full upon enforcement of such collateral or security. Any negotiation or litigation arising out of disputes with subcontractors, suppliers and specialist agencies could distract management from the day-to-day operation of our business, subject us to potentially significant legal expenses, the forfeiture of our advance payments to these subcontractors, suppliers and specialist agencies and interrupt our operations, which could materially and adversely affect our business, financial condition and results of operations.

We are also required to negotiate product and performance warranties and related insurance, for ourselves and our customers, with suppliers. Our failure to negotiate the product and performance warranties and procure insurances from suppliers for the required scope and period or at all, exposes us to the risks of compensating our customers for any defects in the modules or inverters. Where the warranty period by our suppliers is shorter in duration than our warranty obligations under the EPC contract, we may be exposed to further claims in case of defects and this may materially and adversely affect our profitability and financial condition.

13. Orders in our order book may be delayed, modified or cancelled, and letters of intent may be withdrawn or may not translate to confirmed orders, which may have a material adverse effect on our business, results of operations and financial condition.

Our order book, which we define as the value of solar power projects for which we have entered into definitive EPC contracts minus the revenue already recognized from those projects, was ₹38,315.77 million, as of March 31, 2019. Order book projects only represent business that is considered ‘firm’, although cancellations or unanticipated variations or scope or schedule adjustments may occur. Due to changes in project scope and schedule, we cannot predict with certainty when, or if the solar power projects in our order book will be performed. In addition, when a project proceeds as scheduled, it is possible that our customers may default and fail to pay amounts due. We cannot guarantee that the income anticipated in our order book will be realized on time, or at all. Any project cancellations or scope adjustments, which may occur from time to time, could reduce the amount of our order book and the income and profits that we ultimately earn from the contracts. Any delay, cancellation or payment default could have a material adverse effect on our business, results of operations and financial condition.

For some of the contracts in our order book, our customers are obliged to perform or take certain actions, such as acquiring land, securing rights of way, clearing forests, supplying owner-supplied material, securing required licenses, authorizations or permits, making advance payments or procuring financing, approving designs, approving supply chain vendors and shifting existing utilities. If customers do not perform these and other actions in a timely manner or at all, and the possibility of such failure is not provided for in the EPC contract, our projects could be delayed, modified or cancelled and as a result, our business, results of operations and financial condition could be materially and adversely affected.

As at March 31, 2019, letters of intent for projects for which we have won the bid, but have not yet executed definitive EPC contracts, was ₹39,081.60 million (of which ₹21,959.31 million were converted into definitive EPC contracts since March 31, 2019). Before entering into a binding contract with us, our customers generally issue letters of intent which they can withdraw at any time before entering into an EPC contract. As such, issued letters of intent may not lead to confirmed orders, which could impact our operations and financial condition. There have been instances in the past where letters of intent have been withdrawn and we cannot guarantee that customers will enter into a definitive contract with us after issuing a letter of intent.

14. We have entered into certain related party transactions in the past and may continue to do so in the future on an arm’s length basis.

We have entered, and are likely to continue to enter, into transactions with related parties, including our Promoters and our Group Companies on an arm’s length basis. The following table provides an overview of our related party transactions for Fiscals 2017, 2018, and 2019 as a percentage of total revenue from operations in the relevant period.

	SWPL – Solar EPC Division (Prior to Demerger)	Sterling and Wilson Solar Limited (Post-demerger)
	(as a % of Revenue from operations)
Total income	2.67%	4.52%	7.76%
Expenditure	0.40%	1.01%	0.76%
Liabilities	0.97%	1.70%	0.85%
Assets	15.22%	17.62%	29.06%
Off Balance Sheet Items	-	0.75%	0.34%

For more information on our prior related party transactions, see “Summary of the Offer Document -

Summary of Related Party Transactions” on page 25 of this Prospectus.

We have entered into certain loan arrangements with our related parties arising due to the Demerger. Under the terms of these loans, our related parties are required to make interest payments to us. We cannot assure you that the related parties will continue to be able to repay the principal amounts under these loans or that they will continue to be able to service the interest payable to us. Any failure by our related parties or their inability to repay the loans or pay interest due to us could have a material adverse impact on our operations, prospects and financial condition.

We believe that all of our related party transactions are in compliance with applicable law. Further, the transactions into which we have entered and any future transactions into which we may enter into with our related parties have involved or could potentially involve conflicts of interest. In addition, the Companies Act, 2013 and the SEBI Listing Regulations have brought into effect significant changes to the Indian company law framework including specific compliance requirements such as obtaining prior approval from the audit committee, board of directors and shareholders for certain related party transactions. There can be no assurance that such transactions would be approved. There can also be no assurance that we would be able to maintain existing terms, or in case of any future transactions with related parties. While we have entered into transactions with related parties on an arm’s length basis, we cannot assure you that any related party transactions in future, individually or in the aggregate, will not be negatively perceived or have an adverse effect on our results of operations and financial condition.

- 15. *We depend on SWPL for certain services as a result of the Demerger and we may encounter difficulties adjusting to operating as a separate company after the Demerger, which may materially and adversely affect our business, financial condition, cash flow, prospects and results of operations. Further, we also depend on our Prompter, SPCPL, for use of their intellectual property, termination of which may adversely affect our prospects and results of operations.

We began operations in 2011 as a business segment of SWPL and with effect from the Appointed Date, we completed our Demerger from SWPL on May 14, 2018. See “History and Other Corporate Matters – Mergers or Amalgamation” on page 140 of this Prospectus for more information on the Demerger. We have historically operated as part of SWPL’s corporate organization, and SWPL has provided us with various corporate functions. Following the Demerger, SWPL is under no obligation to provide assistance other than the services agreed under the Framework Agreement. Under the Framework Agreement, we depend on SWPL for utilizing some of its branch offices for our operations. SWPL, certain of its foreign branch offices and project offices (the “Foreign Branches”) and certain of its subsidiaries (the “SWPL Relevant Subsidiaries”) have been authorized to represent us in connection with our contracts entered into prior to the Demerger until the expiration such contracts or the novation of such contracts. SWPL, the Foreign Branches and the SWPL Relevant Subsidiaries have been authorized to execute necessary project-related documentation, tracking payment due dates, notifying us of impending payments, initiating or defending any action, suit or other legal proceedings and generally facilitating dealing with counterparties in relation to such contracts. Any failure by SWPL, the Foreign Branches or the SWPL Relevant Subsidiaries in performing these services efficiently or on time could have a material adverse effect on our financial condition, cash flows and results of operations.

We also depend on SWPL for certain transitional services, such as information technology, human resources and taxation. If SWPL fails to provide the quality of services necessary to operate effectively, our business, financial condition and results of operations may be materially and adversely affected. In addition, these services may not be sufficient to meet our needs, and, after the Framework Agreement with SWPL expires or if it is terminated, we may not be able to replace these services at all or obtain these services at prices and on terms as favourable as we currently have. Any failure or significant downtime in our own financial or administrative systems or in SWPL’s financial or administrative systems during the transitional period could impact our results and prevent us from paying our suppliers and employees, or performing other administrative services in a timely manner and could materially harm our business, financial condition and results of operations. Because our business has historically operated as part of the wider SWPL’s organization, we may be unable to successfully establish the infrastructure or implement the changes necessary to operate wholly independently, or may incur additional costs that could materially and adversely affect our business.

Additionally, under the Framework Agreement, SWPL has granted us the right to use all logos and brands of SWPL. Further, our Subsidiary, SW FZCO and our Company have entered into brand sharing agreements dated September 26, 2018 with SPCPL (the “Brand Sharing Agreements”) under which we have the right to use intellectual property belonging to the SP group and to benefit from the SP Group’s track record of project execution in bidding for large scale projects. For further details in relation to the Framework Agreement and Brand Sharing Agreements, please see section the section titled “History and Other Corporate Matters – Other Material Agreements” on page 141 of this Prospectus.

We believe that we benefit in reputational terms with customers, as well as in terms of access to capital, credit ratings and industry talent as a result of being a part of the SP Group and S&W. In order to benefit from the goodwill attached to SP and S&W brands we will need to expend significant time, effort and resources to continue to maintain the “SP” and “S&W” brand names in the marketplace. If we are unsuccessful in maintaining the brand identity or if SWPL or SPCPL terminates the Framework Agreement or the Brand Sharing Agreement, and as a result we are not able to use the “SP” and “S&W” brand and logo, our business, results of operations and prospects may be materially and adversely affected.

In addition, as result of the Demerger, we have limited experience in conducting our operations on a standalone basis and we may encounter operational, administrative and strategic difficulties as we adjust to operating as a standalone company. This may cause us to react more slowly than our competitors to market conditions, may divert our management’s attention from running our business or may otherwise harm our operations.

16. We are required to provide bank guarantees and performance guarantees under our EPC contracts. Any inability to arrange such guarantees or the invocation of such guarantees may materially and adversely affect our ability to bid for new projects and have a material adverse effect on our future revenues and business prospects.

As is customary in the EPC services industry, we are usually required to provide financial and performance bank guarantees to secure our financial and performance obligations under the respective contracts for our projects. These guarantees are typically required to be provided within a few days of the signing of an EPC contract and remain valid until the expiration of the defect liability period prescribed in that EPC contract. Where any such guarantee is invoked during the subsistence of a contract, we are likely to be required to replace such guarantee with another guarantee. In certain cases we may also be required to provide additional guarantees in case performance ratios are not met on the date of commissioning of the project for so long as such defect continues. In addition, letters of credit are often required to satisfy payment obligations to suppliers and subcontractors. We may not be able to continue to obtain new financial and performance bank guarantees in sufficient quantities to match our business requirements. If we are unable to provide sufficient collateral to secure the financial bank guarantees, performance bank guarantees or letters of credit, our ability to enter into new contracts or obtain adequate supplies could be limited. Providing security to obtain letters of credit, financial and performance bank guarantees also increases our working capital requirements. Our ability to obtain such guarantees or letters of credit depends upon our capitalization, working capital, available credit facilities, past performance, management expertise and reputation and certain external factors, including the overall capacity of the surety and letter of credit market. Surety companies and banks consider such factors by reference to the amount of our backlog and their underwriting standards, which may change from time to time. Events that adversely affect the insurance and bonding markets, and the banking markets generally, may result in bonding, financing or letters of credit becoming more difficult to obtain in the future, or being available only at a significantly greater cost. If we are not able to continue obtaining new letters of credit, bank guarantees and performance bank guarantees in sufficient quantities to match our business requirements, it could have a material adverse effect on our future revenues and business prospects.

17. We may be subject to unforeseen costs, liabilities or obligations when providing O&M services. In addition, certain of our O&M contracts include provisions permitting the counterparty to terminate the agreement without cause. This may materially and adversely affect our business, financial condition and results of operations.

We provide ongoing O&M services to our customers for whom we have commissioned solar power projects under separate O&M contracts as well as to third-parties, pursuant to which we generally perform standard activities associated with operating a fully or partially commissioned solar power project, including monitoring, control, trouble-shooting and security on a 24/7 basis, data recording and reporting, compliance activities, energy forecasting, scheduled and unscheduled maintenance, cleaning and overall operational management of the project. We may not be successful in winning separate O&M service contracts or in renewing expired contracts, which may materially and adversely affect our O&M business. Furthermore, we estimate the cost of performing these services at the time we enter into the O&M contract for a particular project, and these are reflected in the prices we charge our customers, including certain contracts which feature fixed pricing. If our estimates of O&M costs prove inaccurate, our growth strategy and results of operations could be materially and adversely affected. Because of the potentially long-term nature of these O&M contracts, the material adverse effect on our results of operations could be significant, particularly if our costs are not capped under the terms of the O&M contracts.

In addition, certain of our O&M contracts include provisions permitting the counterparty to terminate the agreement without cause or for convenience. We are generally able to recover actual costs incurred until that time, but we do not recover the full payment that would otherwise have been due to us under the contract. The exercise of such termination rights, or the use of such rights as leverage to re-negotiate terms and conditions of the O&M contract, including pricing terms, could materially and adversely affect our business, financial condition and results of operations.

18. We may not be successful in implementing our global expansion strategy effectively, which could have a material adverse effect on the long-term growth of our business, our financial condition and results of operations.

As part of our expansion strategy, we focus on new markets and conduct on-the-ground market diligence to tap new opportunities and where necessary, expand our operations through acquisitions and equity investments. As we grow, we expect to encounter additional challenges to our global network supply chain, internal processes, external construction management, capital commitment process, project funding infrastructure, financing capabilities and regulatory compliance. Our existing operations, personnel, systems and internal controls may not be adequate to support our growth and may require us to make additional unanticipated investments in our infrastructure. To manage the future growth of our operations, we will be required to improve our administrative, operational and financial systems, procedures and controls, and expand, train and manage our growing employee base. If we are unable to manage our growth effectively, we may not be able to take advantage of market opportunities, execute our business strategies successfully or respond to competitive pressures. As a result, our business, prospects, financial condition and results of operations could be materially and adversely affected. Additional difficulties executing our growth strategy, particularly in new geographical locations, may include, among other things, accurately prioritizing geographic markets for entry; including estimates on addressable market demand; obtaining construction, environmental and other permits and approvals; managing local operational, capital investment or sourcing regulatory requirements; adopting changes in foreign currency controls and foreign exchange policy; managing fluctuations in the economy and financial market, as well as credit risks; managing possible unfavourable labour conditions or employee strikes; and sourcing cost-competitive financing on attractive terms.

In connection with our growth strategy, we may acquire companies or technologies; enter into joint ventures or other strategic initiatives; establish permanent branch offices; or make equity investments in companies executing projects under our co-development model to facilitate our operations and business expansion strategy. We may not realize the anticipated benefits of such business combinations or acquisitions. The risks associated with such transactions may include difficulty in integrating and managing the operations and personnel of the acquired or partner company; difficulty in achieving profitable commercial scale from acquired technologies; difficulty in maintaining controls, procedures and policies during the transition and integration; disruption of our ongoing business and distraction of our management and associates from other opportunities and challenges due to integration issues; and difficulty integrating the acquired or partner company's accounting, management information and other administrative systems. For example, we have adopted a co-development business to secure EPC rights through equity investments in project companies in the United States. Any delay by the developer to commence EPC operations on the project, or the cancellation of the solar power project by the developer, could require us to keep our equity investment locked-in for a longer duration in case of a delay or cause us to withdraw our equity investment in the project at a lower purchase price, causing a material adverse effect on our financial condition and business operations.

19. Any failure by our customers to meet their contractual commitments, the insolvency or liquidation of our customers, or our inability to enter into or renew our contracts with customers, could materially and adversely affect our working capital requirements, our business, results of operations, financial condition and cash flow.

We depend on our customers to fulfil their contractual obligations under our EPC contracts with them. Our EPC services are provided under fixed-price short-term EPC contracts to private and state-owned solar power developers. Any reduction, delay or cancellation of orders from one or more of our significant customers; unilateral change of contractual technological specifications by one or more of our customers; failure to reach an agreement with our customers on the pricing terms or sales volumes under various contracts; loss of one or more of our significant customers and our failure to identify additional or replacement customers; or failure of any of our significant customers to make timely payment, may cause material fluctuations, or a decrease, in our working capital requirements and our revenue.

In our EPC business, our customers generally make milestone payments in relation to portions of work completed. Our customers generally inspect and confirm the work progress before making such milestone payments. Our customers may disagree with our assessment of the progress of completed work and there is no assurance that we will be able to fully collect our fees as originally contracted. In the event that we are unable to collect our fees in full and on time, our working capital requirements could increase beyond our estimates and our cash flow and financial condition may be materially and adversely affected.

Our financial condition, profitability and cash flow are also dependent on the creditworthiness of our customers and their ability to pay us promptly when due. Our customers may have low credit ratings and any inability to comply with their contractual payment obligations or the commencement of any insolvency or liquidation proceedings against them during the term of the EPC project could cause working capital shortages and materially and adversely affect our business, results of operations, financial condition and cash flow.

20. We are required to maintain certain licenses, approvals, registrations, consents and permits in the ordinary course of business, and the failure to maintain them may materially and adversely affect our operations.

Our business is highly regulated and we require a number of licenses, approvals, registrations, consents and permits to operate our business in India and globally. As we expand our operations globally and enter new markets, we may not be familiar with local regulations and may need to incur additional costs to ensure regulatory compliance. In addition, we may need to apply for approvals, including the renewal of approvals which may expire, from time to time, as and when required in the ordinary course of business. If we fail to obtain or renew such licenses, approvals, registrations, consents and permits in a timely manner, we may not be able to execute solar power projects in accordance with the terms of our EPC contracts with our customers, or at all, which could affect our business, financial condition and results of operations. We are required to obtain and maintain consents, approvals, registrations and permits with respect to the provision of EPC, O&M and solar rooftop services and solutions for the solar power projects.

Furthermore, government approvals and licenses are subject to numerous conditions, including adherence to emission standards and regular monitoring and compliance requirements, some of which are onerous and require us to incur substantial expenditure. We may incur substantial costs, including clean up and/or remediation costs, fines and civil or criminal sanctions, as a result of violations of or liabilities under environmental or health and safety laws, which may have a material adverse effect on our business or financial condition. We cannot assure you that approvals, licenses, registrations, consents and permits issued to us would not be suspended or revoked in the event of non-compliance with any terms or conditions thereof, or pursuant to any regulatory action. Any failure to renew the approvals that have expired or apply for and obtain the required licenses, approvals, registrations, consents or permits, or any suspension or revocation of any approvals, licenses, registrations and permits that have been or may be issued to us, may materially and adversely affect our operations. See “Government and Other Approvals” on page 430 of this Prospectus for more details, including such approvals for which applications are pending before relevant authorities.

21. Our success will depend on our ability to attract and retain our key managerial personnel, our design and engineering team and other key personnel. Failure to do so may have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition and results of operations.

We are dependent on the services of our executive officers and other members of our senior management team. The loss of one or more of these key employees or any other member of our senior management team could have a material adverse effect on our business. We may not be able to retain or replace these key employees and may not have adequate succession plans in place. Several of our current key employees, including our executive officers are subject to employment laws of the jurisdictions in which they operate and to arrangements that contain post-employment non-competition provisions. However, these arrangements permit our employees to terminate their employment with us upon little or no notice and the enforceability of the non-competition provisions in certain jurisdictions including India, is uncertain.

In addition, we are dependent on the services of our design and engineering team globally. We benefit from the cost advantages of having the entirety of our design and engineering team in India. However, the demand for specialist design engineers has increased in India, resulting in a shortage of, and increasing costs to hire, such specialists. We face a continuous challenge to recruit and retain a sufficient number of suitably skilled personnel, particularly as we implement our growth and expansion strategy. Generally, there is significant competition for management, engineering and design and other skilled personnel in the businesses in which we operate, and it may be difficult to attract and retain the skilled personnel we need. In particular, even if we were to increase our pay structures to attract and retain such personnel, we may be unable to compete with other companies for suitably skilled personnel to the extent they are able to provide more competitive compensation and benefits. Furthermore, we may not be able to redeploy and retrain our employees to keep pace with continuing changes, evolving standards and changing customer preferences. The loss of key personnel and our inability to recruit suitable replacements may have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition and results of operations.

These key personnel possess technical and business capabilities that would be difficult to replace. The loss or diminution in the services of our senior management or other key team members or our failure to maintain the necessary management and other resources to operate and grow our business could have a material adverse effect on our business, results of operations, financial condition and prospects. In addition, as our business develops and expands, we believe that our future success will depend on our ability to attract and retain highly skilled and qualified personnel globally, which cannot be guaranteed.

Currently, pursuant to the terms of our Framework Agreement with SWPL, we rely on SWPL for the group HR services, information technology services, indirect tax services and common management services. See “History and Certain Corporate Matters – Other material agreements” on page 141 of this Prospectus for further details.

22. Technological changes, evolving customer requirements and emerging industry trends may affect our business, may render our current technologies obsolete and may require us to make substantial capital investments.

Our future success depends, in part, on our ability to respond to technological advances, evolving customer requirements and emerging industry standards and practices on a cost-effective and timely basis. The development and implementation of such technology entails technical and business risk and not insignificant implementation costs. We cannot assure you that we will be able to successfully implement new technologies or adapt our processing systems to evolving customer requirements or emerging industry standards. Changes in technology may make newer solutions more competitive than ours or may require us to make additional capital expenditure to upgrade our facilities and technology. If we are unable, for technical, legal, financial or other reasons, to adapt in a timely manner to changing market conditions, evolving customer requirements or technological changes, our business, financial condition and results of operations could be materially and adversely affected.

We are dependent on the capacity and reliability of the communications, information and technology systems supporting our operations, whether developed, owned and operated by us or by third parties. Operational risks, such as trading or operational errors or interruptions of our financial, accounting, trading, compliance and other data processing systems, whether caused by the failure to prevent or mitigate data losses and other security breaches, or other cyber security threats or attacks, fire or other disaster, power or telecommunications failure, could result in a disruption of our business and/or cause reputational damage, and may have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition and results of operations. We cannot assure you that we will be able to complete our current technology initiatives or achieve the anticipated efficiencies. Furthermore, unavailability of, or failure to retain, well-trained employees capable of constantly servicing our Information Technology (“IT”) system, such as our Computerized Monitoring System (“CMS”) and our Computerized Maintenance Management System (“CMMS”) that is in the process of being implemented, may lead to inefficiencies or disruption of the IT system and consequently our business and operations. We cannot assure you that we will be able to improve our project management and execution systems and upgrade our technology infrastructure at a rate commensurate with the increase in the size and complexity of the projects that we may undertake in the future. Any resulting impairment in our project management and execution capabilities may have a material adverse effect on our business, prospects, financial condition and results of operations.

23. Our design, research and development efforts may not yield meaningful results and this may materially and adversely affect our business profitability and financial condition.

We devote substantial resources to our design and engineering functions and innovative engineering efforts that continually seek to improve the efficiency of our solutions and services. For example, we are currently developing a research and design centre in Rajasthan to this effect. As at March 31, 2019 our design and engineering team comprises 154 personnel. However, there is no guarantee that any of our research and development activities will yield meaningful results, can be used for our commercial operations or will generate any revenue. There can be no guarantee that our technologies and installation solutions will suit the local conditions, environmental characteristics or comply with the regulations or approval requirements of the various regions and countries in which we operate and such conditions may change in the future, rendering our research and development efforts unsuitable. Technical and operational issues or other problems may delay or hinder our research and development processes and increase our costs and lack of regulatory approvals may cause us to expend more time and resources in the design process. Furthermore, our research and development activities may not always keep pace with our competitors. If we fail to design, research and develop suitable solutions and services for our projects, this may affect our ability to win bids and/or to successfully implement our existing projects and our business profitability and financial condition may be materially and adversely affected.

24. Our business operations rely on consistent solar weather conditions and unfavourable solar weather conditions could have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition and results of operations.

Solar power is highly dependent on weather conditions and the profitability of our operations depends not only on observed solar conditions at the project site but also on the consistency of those solar conditions. Unfavourable weather conditions could impair the effectiveness of solar power projects; reduce their output beneath their rated capacity; require the shutdown of key equipment; impede the operation of solar power projects; and could materially and adversely affect our forecasted revenues and cash flows. Sustained unfavourable weather could also unexpectedly delay the installation of solar power projects, which could result in a delay in project completion and could have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition and results of operations.

25. Our business, financial condition and results of operations could be materially and adversely affected by strikes, work stoppages and/or increased wage demands by our employees or any other kind of dispute with our employees and other workers.

We had 1,160 full-time employees as at March 31, 2019. None of our employees are members of labour unions and we have had no instances of strikes or labour unrest since we commenced operations. However, we cannot guarantee that our employees will not join labour unions in the future and as a result we may experience disruptions in our operations due to disputes or other problems with our workforce. Efforts by our employees to modify compensation and other terms of employment may also divert management's attention and increase operating expenses or lead to delays in executing our solar power projects, which may result in penalties under our EPC contracts. The occurrence of such events could materially adversely affect our business, financial condition and results of operations.

From time to time, we also enter into contracts with subcontractors and other independent contractors to complete specific assignments and these subcontractors are required to provide the labour necessary to complete such assignments. We do not have control over their day-to-day affairs. Although we do not engage these labourers directly, it is possible under the local laws of the countries in which we operate, that we may be held responsible for wage payments to labourers engaged by subcontractors should the subcontractors default on wage payments. Any requirement to fund such payments may materially and adversely affect our business, financial condition and results of operations.

26. Our operations may cause injury to people or property and therefore could subject us to significant disruptions in our business, legal and regulatory actions, costs and liabilities which could materially and adversely affect our business, financial condition and results of operations.

Our operations require our employees and other workers to work under potentially dangerous circumstances. Our operations could lead to mechanical and electrical failures due to improper installation of components and power cables, accidents or malfunctions at project sites, including malfunctions of port facilities, rail and road connectivity to project sites, corrosion of equipment and weather-related or other risks related to structural integrity post-commissioning. Operation of equipment and machinery can be dangerous and may cause significant personal injury to our employees or other persons, severe damage to and destruction of property, plant and equipment, and contamination of, or damage to, the environment. For example, an employee working on the construction of our solar project in South Africa was fatally injured in a workplace accident. Such situations could significantly disrupt our operations, subject us to legal and regulatory actions and additional costs and liabilities, which could materially and adversely affect our business, financial condition and results of operations.

27. Environmental obligations and liabilities could have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition, cash flow, and results of operations.

Our operations involve the use, handling, generation, processing, storage, transportation, and disposal of certain materials during the construction process of solar power projects. We are subject to extensive environmental laws and regulations at local, state, national, and international levels and, during the project construction process, we often prepare environmental impact assessment reports as part of the permitting process. We have to obtain certain environmental permits in order to conduct our business. These environmental laws and regulations include those governing the discharge of pollutants into the air and water, the use, management, and disposal of certain materials, the clean-up of work sites and occupational health and safety. As we execute our long-term strategic plans and expand our business into foreign jurisdictions worldwide, our environmental compliance burden may continue to increase both in terms of magnitude and complexity. We have incurred and may continue to incur significant costs in complying with these laws and regulations. In addition, violations of, or liabilities under environmental laws or permits may result in restrictions being imposed on our operating activities or in our being subjected to substantial fines, penalties, criminal proceedings, third-party property damage or personal injury claims, clean-up and/or other costs. Such solutions could also result in substantial delay to or the termination of projects under construction within our systems business, which could materially and adversely affect our results of operations. While passage of climate change legislation or other regulatory initiatives that regulate or restrict emissions of greenhouse gases may encourage use of solar power and accordingly increase demand for our projects and services, this could also cause us to incur additional direct costs in complying with any new environmental regulations during our engineering and construction processes, as well as increased indirect costs resulting from our customers and/or suppliers, incurring additional compliance costs that get passed on to us. Future developments such as more aggressive enforcement policies, the implementation of new, more stringent laws and regulations or the discovery of currently unknown environmental conditions may entail additional costs that could have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition, cash flow and results of operations.

28. As a significant percentage of our sales are denominated in foreign currency, we are exposed to currency translation and transaction risks which may have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition and results of operations.

The Indian Rupee has been volatile and as of March 31, 2019, the Indian Rupee was ₹69.44 compared to one US$ and ₹77.98 compared to one Euro. Although our reporting currency is the Indian Rupee, we conduct certain business operations and incur costs, such as local manpower and equipment leasing costs, in the local currency of most countries in which we operate. In addition, payments under most of our EPC contracts with our customers outside India are denominated in U.S. dollars and certain acquisitions and equity investments are made in foreign currency. As a result, we are subject to currency translation and transaction risk. Because our financial results are reported in Indian Rupees, if we generate revenue or earnings in other currencies, the translation of those results into Indian Rupees can result in a significant increase or decrease in the amount of those revenues or earnings. Further, to the extent that we are unable to match revenues received in foreign currencies with costs paid in the same currency, exchange rate fluctuations between such currencies could have a material adverse effect on our liquidity or our ability to efficiently utilize our working capital. Therefore, volatility in currency exchange rates may have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition and results of operations.

In conducting our business, we also use various derivative and non-derivative instruments to manage risks arising from fluctuations in exchange rates, interest rates and commodity prices. For details of the hedging program of our Company, see “Management’s Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations – Currency risk” on page 419. Such instruments are used for risk management purposes only and, in the last few years, their use has been very limited. However, we cannot assure you that we will be able to successfully hedge our risks or that we will not incur such losses in the future.

29. We may not have sufficient insurance coverage to cover all possible economic losses. If we incur an uninsured loss or a loss that significantly exceeds the limits of our insurance policies, the resulting costs may have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition and results of operations.

Our operations carry inherent risks of personal injury and loss of life, damage to or destruction of property, plant and machinery and damage to the environment, and are subject to risks such as fire, theft, flood, earthquakes and terrorism. We maintain robust insurance coverage, in amounts we believe are commercially appropriate, including insurance against damage, loss of profit and business interruption, marine inland transit and third party liability insurance with respect to our assets. The percentage of assets covered under insurance as a percentage of our total assets as of March 31, 2019 was 66.58%. However, such insurance may not adequately cover all losses or liabilities that may arise from our operations, including, but not limited to, when the loss suffered is not easily quantifiable. Even where we have made a claim under an existing insurance policy, we may not be able to successfully assert our claim for any liability or loss under such insurance policy. If our losses significantly exceed our insurance coverage or cannot be recovered through insurance, our business, financial condition and results of operations could be materially and adversely affected.

In addition, we are obliged to maintain insurance policies under the majority of our EPC contracts and a failure to maintain adequate insurance coverage could trigger an event of default thereunder. However, we may not be able to maintain insurance of the types or at levels which we deem necessary or adequate or at rates which we consider reasonable, in particular, if our premium levels increase significantly when we renew our insurance policies. If we are unable to pass increased insurance costs onto our customers, the costs of higher insurance premiums could have a material adverse effect on our business, prospects, financial condition and results of operations. Furthermore, the occurrence of an event for which we are not adequately or sufficiently insured or for which insurance is not available in the market, or the successful assertion of one or more large claims against us that exceed available insurance coverage, or changes in our insurance policies (including premium increases or the imposition of large deductible or co-insurance requirements), could have a material adverse effect on our business, prospects, financial condition and results of operations. We cannot assure you that any claim under the insurance policies maintained by us will be honoured fully or on time. Any payments we make to cover any losses, damages or liabilities or any delays we experience in receiving appropriate payments from our insurers could have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition and results of operations. See “Our Business- Insurance” on page 131 of this Prospectus for more details.

30. Our financial information and certain key performance indicators prior to the Demerger may not be representative of our results as an independent company.

We began our operations in 2011 as the Solar EPC Division of SWPL and demerged from SWPL with effect from the Appointed Date. We were incorporated on March 9, 2017. As a result, our Restated Consolidated Summary Financial Information for the period from March 9, 2017 to March 31, 2018, to which we refer as “Fiscal 2018”, and for Fiscal 2019 were prepared on an actual basis after the Demerger. For comparative purposes, we have prepared Carved Out Combined Financial Statements for the financial year prior to the Demerger, Fiscal 2017, on a “carve-out” basis as if we had been in existence as a standalone company since April 1, 2016 and as at March 31, 2017. Similarly, certain key performance indicators for Fiscal 2017 are presented on a carve-out basis. We have made numerous estimates, assumptions and allocations in our financial information and key performance indicators as SWPL did not account for us, and we did not operate, as a standalone business for any period prior to April 1, 2017. The use of such assumptions and estimates means that the Restated Consolidated Summary Financial Information, Carved Out Combined Financial Statements or key performance indicators for periods prior to our Demerger presented in this Prospectus may not be representative of what our financial condition, results of operations and cash flow would have been had we been a separate standalone entity during the periods presented. Furthermore, neither the Restated Consolidated Summary Financial Information nor the Carved Out Combined Financial Statements cannot be used to forecast or accurately predict our future performance with any degree of certainty.

31. We are required to obtain prior consent from our lenders under some of our financing agreements before undertaking certain actions. Our inability to meet our obligations, conditions and restrictions imposed by our financing agreements could materially and adversely affect our ability to conduct our business and operations. Furthermore, our operations are subject to certain restrictions imposed under certain facilities utilised by us with the combined limits sanctioned to SWPL. which may limit our flexibility in operating our business and may result in a material adverse effect on our business and financial conditions.

As on June 30, 2019, our aggregate outstanding borrowings (on a consolidated basis) was ₹67,413.66 million which comprised of facilities that we directly availed and facilities utilised within the combined limits sanctioned to SWPL (the “SWPL Facilities”).

The outstanding borrowings directly availed by us (on a consolidated basis) as on June 30, 2019 was ₹64,578.07 million. The documentation in relation to working capital facilities directly availed by us contains, and documents governing our future indebtedness may contain, numerous financial and operating covenants that may limit the discretion of management with respect to certain business matters. These covenants place restrictions on, among other things, our ability to: effect any change in the nature of our business or undertaking any new business, operations or projects; effect any change in our capital structure; undertake or permit any reorganization, amalgamation, reconstruction, takeover, substantial change of ownership or shareholding or any other scheme of arrangement or compromise affecting our present constitution; effect any change in the management set-up; change the practice with regard to remuneration of directors; make any alteration to the Memorandum of Association or Articles of Association attempting or purporting to alienate or create any mortgage, charge, pledge, hypothecation or lien or encumbrance over our assets; and undertake guarantee obligations or extend letters of comfort on behalf of any other company, person, trust or any third party. Certain of our existing debt financing agreements also require, and documents governing our future indebtedness may require, us to furnish certain security in favour of the relevant lender and meet certain financial ratios and tests.

Further, as on June 30, 2019, we had utilised facilities aggregating to ₹2,835.59 million in connection with our business from the SWPL Facilities. We cannot assure you that we will be able to negotiate more favourable terms with our future lenders compared to the terms of the limits utilised by us from the SWPL Facilities.

Our ability to comply with these and other provisions of the existing or future debt agreements is dependent on our future performance, which will be subject to many factors, some of which are beyond our control. The breach of any covenants applicable to us or non-compliance with any of financial ratios and tests applicable to us could result in an event of default under the existing debt agreements, which, if not cured or waived, could result in acceleration of the related debt and the acceleration of debt under other debt instruments that may contain cross-acceleration or cross-default provisions. Further, variable rate indebtedness subjects us to the risk of higher interest rates, which could cause our future debt service obligations to increase significantly and may impair our ability to raise future debt or impede business operations.

32. We recognize revenue based on the ‘Percentage of Completion Method’ of accounting on the basis of our management’s estimates of the project cost. Changes to applicable accounting standards that alter the Percentage of Completion Method may materially and adversely affect our operations.

We recognize revenue generated from our projects on the basis of the ‘Percentage of Completion Method’ of accounting. Under this method, revenues from sales are recognized as a percentage of the actual project cost incurred against the total estimated cost of the project. Although this method of accounting is widely used in the industry, we cannot assure you that these estimates will match the actual costs incurred with respect to the projects. The effect of such changes to estimates, is recognized in the financial statements of the period in which such changes are determined. Therefore, our revenue recognition is based on the number of projects that qualify for such revenue recognition that are under execution during a period. This may lead to significant fluctuations in our revenues in accounting periods. Currently, we follow accounting standards prescribed under applicable laws. In the event of any change in law or IndAS, which results in a change to the method of revenue recognition, the results of our operations may be materially and adversely affected.

33. We have availed ourselves of certain borrowings which may be recalled by our lenders at any time. Any such recall of borrowings may have a material adverse effect on our business, cash flow, financial condition and results of operations.

We and one of our Subsidiaries, Sterling and Wilson International Solar FZCO have utilized certain financing facilities outstanding (including secured cash credit facilities and working capital demand loans), which may be recalled by the lenders at any time during the tenor of such facilities with or without the existence of an event of default. We had outstanding unsecured loans of ₹19,506.28 million as of March 31, 2019. In the event that a lender or a combination of lenders, seeks a repayment of such facilities, we would have to explore alternative sources of financing, which may not be immediately available on commercially reasonable terms, or at all. If we are unable to procure such financing, we may not be able to meet our working capital requirements. As a result, any such recall of our borrowings may materially and adversely affect our business, cash flow, financial condition and results of operations.

34. Contingent liabilities could adversely affect our financial condition

We had contingent liabilities of ₹1.72 million as of March 31, 2019. For further details regarding our contingent liabilities, see “Management’s Discussion and Analysis on Financial Position and Results of Operations - Contingent Liabilities and Commitments” on page 418. Our contingent liabilities may become actual liabilities. In the event that any of our contingent liabilities materialize, our business, financial condition and results of operations may be adversely affected. Furthermore, there can be no assurance that we will not incur similar or increased levels of contingent liabilities in the current fiscal year or in the future

35. Our investments in certain countries are subject to foreign ownership and investment restrictions which could have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition and results of operations.

We are subject to foreign ownership and investment restrictions in some of the jurisdictions in which we operate and those into which we intend to expand. This may affect our ability to assert operational control over such operations or to expand our operations in these jurisdictions. For example, we are subject to foreign ownership laws which provide that nationals must hold a certain percentage of the shares of our subsidiaries incorporated in each of the United Arab Emirates (“UAE”). UAE law contains local ownership requirements stating that nationals of the UAE must, directly or indirectly, be the legal/registered owners of at least 51% of the share capital of UAE companies and accordingly foreign investors cannot acquire more than 49% of such share capital. Companies which are registered in a free zone in the UAE are exempt from this requirement and may be 100% non-UAE-owned. One of our UAE-based subsidiaries, Sterling and Wilson Middle East Solar LLC, is directly held by our wholly-owned subsidiary, Sterling and Wilson International Solar FZCO, a free zone company, which is considered a foreign entity under UAE law and may not hold more than 49% of Sterling and Wilson Middle East Solar LLC. In order to secure beneficial ownership of our UAE operations above the UAE foreign ownership restriction threshold, we have adopted the approach taken by many non-UAE-owned companies operating in the UAE by implementing a commonly used nominee arrangement whereby Sterling and Wilson FZCO holds 49% of the share capital of Sterling and Wilson Middle East Solar LLC and the remaining 51% is held by a UAE national, Mr. Ahmed Mohammed Jassim Aljassim, for our benefit.

Our ownership structure for Sterling and Wilson Middle East Solar LLC could be unilaterally challenged before a UAE court, which could decide that the ownership structure violates public policy, morals or law in the UAE. There could be a number of adverse implications for us if our nominee arrangements and ownership structure for Sterling and Wilson Middle East Solar LLC were to be successfully challenged or an enforcement action initiated, including our beneficial ownership through the trust and sponsorship arrangements being deemed void, which could result in a loss of revenue from the Sterling and Wilson Middle East Solar LLC and could have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition and results of operations.

36. An increase in interest rates or tightening of the supply of capital in the global financial markets could make it difficult for our customers to finance their solar power projects, potentially reducing the demand for our services and solutions which may have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition and results of operations. Further, such conditions could also impact our ability to obtain funding at optimal costs.

Many of our customers depend on debt and/or equity financing to fund the initial capital expenditure requirement to develop, engineer and build their solar power projects. As a result, an increase in interest rates, or a reduction in the supply of project debt financing or tax equity investments, could reduce the number of solar power projects that receive financing or could otherwise make it difficult for our customers to secure the financing they require. This could result in us receiving fewer services and solutions orders, which could have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition and results of operations.

Macroeconomic, political and market conditions may adversely affect the availability and terms of short and long-term funding, volatility of interest rates, the credit quality of our counterparties, currency exchange rates and inflation. Our borrowing costs and access to capital may be adversely affected if our corporate credit rating or the credit ratings assigned to our debt are downgraded.

37. Cyber security risks, breaches and/or malfunction of any of our systems could disrupt our operations and could materially and adversely affect our business, financial condition and results of operations.

We rely on our information technology systems for our operations and their reliability and functionality is critical to our business success. Our growing dependence on our IT infrastructure, applications and data has caused us to have a vested interest in its reliability and functionality which can be affected by a number of factors, including, but not limited to, the increasing complexity of the IT systems, frequent change and short life span due to technological advancements and data security. If our IT systems malfunction or experience extended periods of downtime, we may not be able to run our operations safely or efficiently. We are subject to cyber security risks and may incur costs to minimize those risks. Cyber security breaches, such as unauthorized access, accidents, employee errors or malfeasance, computer viruses, computer hackings or other disruptions could compromise the security of our data and infrastructure, thereby exposing such information to unauthorized access by third parties. Techniques used to obtain unauthorized access to, or to sabotage, systems change frequently and generally are not recognized until launched against a target. We may be required to deploy significant capital and other resources to remedy, protect against or alleviate these and related problems, and we may not be able to remedy these problems promptly, or at all. Any security breaches that occur could disrupt our operations, increase our security costs, or expose us to potential losses due to data corruption or information leakage, which could have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition and results of operations.

Further, any damage or system failure that causes interruptions or delays in the input, retrieval or transmission of data could disrupt our normal operations and possibly interfere with our ability to undertake projects pursuant to the requirements of our contracts. Should such an interruption or delay occur, we can neither assure you that it will not result in the loss of data or information that is important to our business nor that we will be able to restore our operational capacity within a sufficiently adequate time-frame to avoid disruptions to our business. If our systems malfunction or experience extended periods of downtime, we will not be able to run our operations safely or efficiently. We may suffer losses in revenue, reputation, volume of business, and our business, financial condition and results of operation may be materially and adversely affected.

38. We may infringe the intellectual property rights of others and we may face claims that may be costly to resolve and/or limit our ability to use such technology in the future which may have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition and results of operations.

As we expand our business, third parties may assert that our technologies or techniques violate their intellectual property rights. Successful intellectual property claims against us could result in significant financial liability or prevent us from operating all or part of our business. Despite our efforts to comply with the intellectual property rights of others, we cannot determine with certainty whether we are infringing any existing third-party intellectual property rights which may force us to alter our technologies, obtain additional licenses or cease significant portions of our operations. We may also be susceptible to claims from third parties asserting infringement and other related claims. Regardless of their merits, such claims could materially and adversely affect our relationships with current or future customers, result in costly litigation, cause product shipment delays or stoppages, divert management's attention and resources, subject us to significant liabilities, require us to enter into additional royalty or licensing agreements or require us to cease certain activities. Any of the foregoing could materially and adversely affect our business, financial condition and results of operations.

39. Our Registered and Corporate Office is located on leased premises. We cannot assure you that the lease agreement will be renewed upon termination or that we will be able to lease other premises on the same or similar commercial terms.

We do not own the premises upon which our Registered and Corporate Office is located. We have been authorized to use such premises by a member of our Promoter Group, Transtel Utilities Private Limited, pursuant to their letter dated June 11, 2018. We cannot assure you that we will be able to retain and possession of the premises on the same or similar terms or at all, or find an alternative location on similar terms favourable to us, or at all.

In addition, free zone entities in Dubai are required to enter into lease agreements for leasing business premises procure regulation and approvals. Any failure to maintain these lease agreements or approvals by

Sterling and Wilson International Solar FZCO could cause its license to be challenged by the authorities, which could even be cancelled for continued failure to maintain these lease agreements and approvals, and could materially impact our operations in the Middle East and North Africa region, and have an adverse impact on our financial condition, business and results of operations.

External Risks

- 40. *Our business operates in many locations around the world and relies on global supply chains. The occurrence of various socio-political and/or environmental events may disrupt our operations which may have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition and results of operations.

We currently have a presence in 26 countries globally and the occurrence of external social and political and/or environmental events, including, but not limited to, civil unrest, acts of terrorism and war, regional and global political or military tensions, strained or altered foreign relations, protectionism, strikes, flooding, drought, fire, earthquake, sandstorm, high velocity wind, tsunami and pandemic, in those territories and in other territories involved in our supply chains, may disrupt our operations and may have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition and results of operations.

- 41. *The solar power industry is heavily influenced by government regulations and policies. Any changes in such regulations and policies, including any reduction, modification, delay or elimination of economic incentives in the solar power industry may have a direct impact on our business and could have a material adverse effect on our business, prospects, financial condition and results of operations.

The cost of solar energy currently exceeds, and we believe will continue to exceed in the near term, the cost of conventional fossil fuel energy and certain non-solar renewable energy, particularly in light of low oil prices in recent years. For example, according to IHS Markit, in both India and the United States, the levelized cost of electricity (a measure used to calculate the average total cost of producing electricity over a 25-year system lifetime) of solar PV systems remains higher than other traditional sources of energy such as coal and gas. Many governments have recognized solar power as a viable alternative to conventional power, as demonstrated by the establishment of the International Solar Alliance (“ISA”) in 2016, and have as a result, used policy initiatives to encourage or accelerate the development and adoption of solar power and other renewable energy sources. The solar power industry is heavily influenced by government regulations and policies, as well as policies adopted by electric utilities companies. Examples of government-sponsored financial incentives to promote solar power include capital cost rebates, feed-in tariffs, tax credits, net metering and other incentives to end-users, distributors, system integrators and manufacturers of solar products. For example, in India, complementary central and state government policies, such as the National Tariff Policy in 2016 together with infrastructure support through the Solar Park Policy in 2014 has continued to drive growth of the solar power industry. Similarly, in Africa and the Middle East, government initiatives, such as South Africa’s Renewable Energy IPP Procurement Programme and Dubai’s Clean Energy 2050 plan, have also driven the solar power industry’s growth. However, government incentive programs are expected to gradually decrease in scope or be discontinued as solar power technology improves and becomes more affordable relative to other types of energy. Governments may reduce or eliminate existing incentive programs for political, financial or any other reasons, which is difficult for us to predict. In addition, an economic downturn could impair the fiscal ability of some governments to maintain existing incentive programs or to offer new incentive programs. Electric utilities companies that do not use solar energy and that have significant political lobbying power may also seek legislative changes in their markets that may materially and adversely affect the development and commercial acceptance of solar power. Until the solar power industry reaches such a scale that it becomes cost-effective on non-subsidized basis, a significant reduction in the scope or discontinuation of government incentive programs could reduce demand for solar power projects and, as a result, cause a decrease in the demand for our services and solutions, which could have a material adverse effect on our business, prospects, financial condition and results of operations.

- 42. *Changing laws, rules and regulations and legal uncertainties, including adverse interpretation or application of tax laws and regulations, may materially and adversely affect our business, prospects, future financial performance, the trading price of the Equity Shares, financial condition and results of operations.

Currently, we have a presence across 26 countries. We use our subsidiaries and branch offices (which include SWPL’s branch offices) globally for our operations. As a result, our business, prospects, financial condition and results of operations could be materially and adversely affected by changes in law, or interpretations of existing laws, rules and regulations, or the promulgation of new laws, rules and regulations in India and other countries, applicable to us and our business, including potentially adverse tax consequences, such as scrutiny of transfer pricing arrangements by authorities in the countries in which we operate, or implementation of potential tariffs and other barriers to trade.

Governmental and regulatory bodies in India and other countries may enact new regulations or policies, which may require us to obtain approvals and licenses from applicable governments and other regulatory bodies, or impose onerous requirements and conditions on our operations, in addition to those which we are in the process of obtaining. Any such changes and the related legal uncertainties with respect to the implementation of new regulations or owing to the overlap of different legal regimes may have a material adverse effect on our business, prospects, financial condition and results of operations.

For example, in India, as of July 1, 2017, a national goods and service tax (“GST”) replaced taxes levied by central and state governments with a unified tax regime in respect of certain goods and services for the whole of India. However, given the recent introduction of the GST in India, there is no well-established practice regarding the implementation of, and compliance with, GST. Further, as GST is implemented, we cannot assure you that we will not be required to comply with additional procedures or obtain additional approvals and licenses from the government and other regulatory bodies or that they will not impose onerous requirements and conditions on our operations. As the taxation system in India will see significant changes as a result of GST, its consequent effects cannot be determined at present and we cannot assure you that such effects will not have a material adverse effect on our business, future financial performance and the trading price of the Equity Shares.

The application of GST and other applicable laws, rules and regulations to our business or to our equipment suppliers, now or in the future, may be subject to interpretation by relevant authorities, and, if amended or notified, could result in increased tax payments to us (prospectively or retrospectively) or to our equipment suppliers (thereby increasing their costs and the rates they charge us for their services), which could affect our business, prospects, financial condition and results of operations. Further, there is a risk that the Indian Income Tax Department may assess our tax liability to be materially different from the provision that we have carried in our books for the past periods.

43. Changes in international trade policies and the imposition of trade barriers or anti-dumping duties on solar equipment imports may increase our costs and materially and adversely affect our margins, growth prospects and results of operations.

Changes in international trade policies, increases or changes in duties, quotas, tariffs and other trade restrictions may affect our ability to import raw materials from suppliers in certain countries. The Ministry of Finance of the Government of India recently imposed a safeguard duty at the rate of 25% ad valorem minus anti-dumping duty payable on the import of solar panels from July 30, 2018 to July 29, 2019 (inclusive), which will be lowered to a safeguard duty at the rate of 20% from July 30, 2019 to January 29, 2020 (inclusive) and 15% for the six months from January 30, 2019 to July 29, 2020 (inclusive). Such safeguard duty will not apply to import of solar panels from countries notified as developing countries by the Central Board of Excise and Customs, Department of Revenue, Ministry of Finance, pursuant to notification no. 19/2016-Customs (N.T.) dated February 5, 2016, as amended except the People’s Republic of China and Malaysia. While certain solar power producers approached the High Court of Orissa and obtained an interim stay on July 23, 2018, the Supreme Court of India overturned this order on September 10, 2018, and accordingly, while the proceedings remain ongoing, the safeguard duty continues to be in effect.

Further, pursuant to the Public Procurement (Preference to Make in India) Order, 2017 dated June 15, 2017 issued by the DIPP (the “Make in India Order”) to promote the manufacture and production of goods and services in India, with a view to enhancing income and employment, the Ministry of New and Renewable Energy, Government of India (“MNRE”) issued the Memorandum of Implementation of Public Procurement (Preference to Make in India) Order for Renewable Energy Sector, dated December 11, 2018 (“Make in India Renewable Energy Order”), directing all departments, attached offices or subordinate offices of the MNRE or autonomous bodies controlled by the Government of India or government companies (as defined under the Companies Act) to adhere to the Make in India Order with respect to all of their procurements. Grid-connected solar power projects, apart from civil construction, central ministries, departments, and central public sector undertakings, are required to give preference to domestically manufactured components, with solar PV modules required to be 100% locally manufactured and other components such as inverters required to be at least 40% locally manufactured. With respect to off-grid or decentralized solar power projects (apart from civil construction projects) the requirement of local content in solar street lights, solar home lighting systems, solar power packs or micro grids, solar water pumps, inverters, batteries and any other solar PV balance of system is at least 70%. However, products purchased for research and development purpose or demonstration projects are exempt from the Make in India Renewable Energy Order. If the procurement exceeds ₹100 million, the local supplier would be required to provide a certificate from the statutory or cost auditor of the company or from a practicing cost or chartered accountant, giving the percentage of local content.

In September 2018, the President of the United States announced the imposition of tariffs of 10% to a list of imports from China that includes PV inverters and module level power electronics. These tariffs were originally scheduled to increase to 25% on January 1, 2019, but the increase has been delayed while negotiations between the United States and China continue. Our various inverter suppliers are still determining how they will manage these tariffs. We are currently seeing various responses to the 10% tariff, ranging from no price increases to passing on the majority of the tariff to the purchaser. We are also seeing a disparity in supplier pricing in relation to the potential implementation of the 25% tariff. Additionally, it remains unclear whether the tariff applies to all components that accompany an inverter, or just the inverter itself.

Such measures could further increase the cost to us of solar panels and other system components and any ability to pass on these costs to our customers could potentially cause a material adverse effect on our costs, results of operations and business prospects. If we are required to pay higher prices, accept less favourable terms or purchase solar modules or other system components from alternative, higher-priced sources, or if supply is otherwise constrained, our costs may increase significantly and it may be less economically beneficial for us to serve certain markets, which would materially and adversely affect our margins, results of operations and growth prospects.

44. Financial instability in other countries may cause increased volatility in Indian financial markets and may have a material adverse effect on our business and the trading price of the Equity Shares.

The Indian economy is influenced by economic and market conditions in other countries, including, but not limited to, the conditions in the United States, Europe and certain economies in Asia. Financial turmoil in Asia and elsewhere in the world in recent years has affected the Indian economy. Any worldwide financial instability may cause increased volatility in the Indian financial markets and, directly or indirectly, materially and adversely affect the Indian economy and financial sector and its business.

Although economic conditions vary across markets, loss of investor confidence in one emerging economy may cause increased volatility across other economies, including India. Financial instability in other parts of the world could have a global influence and thereby impact the Indian economy. Financial disruptions in the future could materially and adversely affect our business, prospects, financial condition and results of operations.

The global credit and equity markets have experienced substantial dislocations, liquidity disruptions and market corrections. In Europe, the exit of the United Kingdom from the European Union, and any prolonged period of uncertainty which results, could have a significant negative impact on international markets. These could include further falls in stock exchange indices and/or greater volatility of markets in general due to the increased uncertainty. These and other related events could have a significant impact on the global credit and financial markets as a whole, and could result in reduced liquidity, greater volatility, widening of credit spreads and a lack of price transparency in the global credit and financial markets.

There are also concerns that a tightening of monetary policy in emerging markets and some developed markets will lead to a moderation in global growth. In particular, as China is one of India's major trading partners, there are rising concerns regarding the United States limiting trade and/or imposing a tariff on imports from China and of a possible slowdown in the Chinese economy. Such factors might also result in a slowdown in India's export growth momentum and could materially and adversely affect our operating results and financial performance.

In response to such developments, legislators and financial regulators in the United States and other jurisdictions, including India, have implemented a number of policy measures designed to add stability to the financial markets. However, the overall long-term impact of these and other legislative and regulatory efforts on the global financial markets is uncertain, and they may not have had the intended stabilizing effects. Any significant financial disruption in the future could have a material adverse effect on our cost of funding, loan portfolio, business, future financial performance and the trading price of the Equity Shares. Adverse economic developments overseas in countries where we have operations could have a material adverse effect on our business and the trading price of the Equity Shares.

- 45. *Any constraints in the availability of the electricity grid, including our inability to obtain access to transmission lines in a timely and cost-effective manner, could materially and adversely affect our business, results of operations and cash flow.

Solar power projects and our customers rely on transmission lines and other transmission and distribution facilities to transmit power to electricity grids. If transmission and distribution networks are not readily available, which is the case in certain countries in which we operate, we engage contractors to build transmission lines and other related infrastructure, which may extend project timelines and increase project costs. Transmission and distribution facilities are typically owned and operated by state governments or public entities and in many of the countries in which we operate, including India, power transmission infrastructure, including the electricity grid, is less developed than in many more developed countries. As a result, the transmission and dispatch of the full output of our renewable energy assets may be curtailed due to fluctuating power voltages, causing grid constraints, such as grid congestion and restrictions on transmission capacity of the grid. Due to less developed grid infrastructure where our energy assets are established, the electricity generated by solar power projects in such areas may cause frequency disturbances that may lead to power curtailments, a limitation that we currently face. Such events could reduce the net power generation of renewable energy assets. If construction of renewable energy assets outpaces transmission capacity of electricity grids, we may be dependent on the construction and upgrade of grid infrastructure by the government or public entities of those countries. We cannot assure you that the relevant government or public entities will do so in a timely manner, or at all, which in turn could have a material adverse effect on the solar power industry, and consequently on our business, results of operations and cash flow.

- 46. *If global inflation rates were to rise, we may not be able to increase the prices of our services in order to pass costs on to our customers and our profits may decline. This may have a material adverse effect on our business, prospects, financial condition and results of operations.

Global inflation rates have been volatile in recent years, and such volatility may continue in the future. According to CRISIL Research, inflation rates have risen strongly in regions like Africa, while in regions like India, the Middle East, the United States and South America, inflation rates are expected to remain moderate. Increasing inflation could cause a rise in the price of transportation, wages, raw materials and other expenses, and we may be unable to reduce our costs or fully pass the increased costs on to our customer by increasing the price that we charge for our services, and our business, prospects, financial condition and results of operations may therefore be materially and adversely affected.

- 47. *Significant differences exist between Indian Accounting Standards (“IndAS”) and other accounting principles, such as the generally accepted accounting principles in the US (“US GAAP”) and International Financial Reporting Standards (“IFRS”), which may be material to an investor’s assessment of our financial condition.

The financial statements included in this Prospectus have been prepared in accordance with IndAS, as applicable, in the relevant period of reporting. We have not attempted to quantify the impact of US GAAP or IFRS on the financial data included in this Prospectus, nor do we provide a reconciliation of our financial statements to those of US GAAP or IFRS. US GAAP and IFRS differ in significant respects from IndAS. Accordingly, the degree to which the IndAS financial statements, which are restated as per the SEBI ICDR Regulations included in this Prospectus, will provide meaningful information is entirely dependent on the reader’s level of familiarity with Indian accounting practices. Any reliance by persons not familiar with Indian accounting practices on the financial disclosures presented in this Prospectus should be limited accordingly.

- 48. *Fluctuation in the exchange rate between the Indian Rupee and foreign currencies may have a material adverse effect on the trading price of, and returns on, our Equity Shares, independent of our operating results.

On listing, our Equity Shares will be quoted in Indian Rupees on the Stock Exchanges. Any dividends in respect of our Equity Shares will also be paid in Indian Rupees and subsequently converted into the relevant foreign currency for repatriation, if required. Any adverse movement in currency exchange rates during the time that it takes to undertake such conversion may reduce the net dividend foreign investors receive. In addition, any adverse movement in currency exchange rates during a delay in repatriating outside India the proceeds from a sale of Equity Shares, for example, because of a delay in regulatory approvals that may be required for the sale of Equity Shares may reduce the proceeds received by Equity Shareholders. For example, the exchange rate between the Rupee and the U.S. dollar has fluctuated substantially in recent years and may continue to fluctuate substantially in the future, which may have a material adverse effect on the trading price of our Equity Shares and returns on our Equity Shares, independent of our operating results.

49. Government regulation of foreign ownership of Indian securities may have a material adverse effect on the price of the Equity Shares.

Foreign ownership of Indian securities is subject to regulation by the Government of India (“GoI”). In accordance with foreign exchange regulations currently in effect in India, under certain circumstances, the Reserve Bank of India (“RBI”) must approve the sale of the Equity Shares from a non-resident of India to a resident of India or vice-versa if the sale does not meet certain requirements specified by the RBI. Additionally, any person who seeks to convert Indian Rupee proceeds from any such sale into foreign currency and repatriate that foreign currency from India is required to obtain a no-objection or a tax clearance certificate from the Indian income tax authorities. As provided in the foreign exchange controls currently in effect in India, the RBI has provided that the price at which the Equity Shares are transferred will be calculated in accordance with internationally accepted pricing methodology for the valuation of shares at an arm’s length basis, and a higher (or lower, as applicable) price per share may not be permitted. We cannot assure you that any required approval from the RBI or any other government agency can be obtained on terms favourable to a non-resident investor in a timely manner or at all. Because of possible delays in obtaining requisite approvals, investors in the Equity Shares may be prevented from realizing gains during periods of price increase and/or limiting losses during periods of price decline. This may have a material adverse effect on the price of the Equity Shares.

Risks Related to the Offer

50. We will continue to be controlled by our Promoters after the completion of the Offer.

As of the date of this Prospectus, our Promoters hold 99.10% of our issued, subscribed and paid-up Equity Share capital. Upon completion of the Offer, our Promoters will continue to exercise control over us, which will allow them to vote together on certain matters in our general meetings. Accordingly, the interests of our Promoters in their capacity as our Shareholders may conflict with your interests and the interests of our other shareholders.

51. We cannot assure payment of dividends on the Equity Shares in the future.

While any declarations of dividends will be at the discretion of our Board and subject to Shareholder approval as set out in the chapter entitled “Dividend Policy” on page 190 of this Prospectus, the amount of future dividend payments by us, if any, will depend upon our future earnings, financial condition, cash flow, working capital requirements, capital expenditures, applicable Indian legal restrictions and other factors. We may decide to retain all of our earnings to finance the development and expansion of its business and therefore, we may not declare dividends on the Equity Shares. Additionally, in the future, we may be restricted by the terms of our loan agreements to make any dividend payments unless otherwise agreed with our lenders.

52. After the Offer, the price of our Equity Shares may be highly volatile, or an active trading market for our Equity Shares may not develop.

The price of our Equity Shares on the Stock Exchanges may fluctuate after the Offer as a result of several factors, including: volatility in the Indian and global securities market; our operations and performance; performance of our competitors; adverse media reports about us or the solar power projects industry generally; changes in the estimates of our performance or recommendations by financial analysts; significant developments in India’s economic liberalization and deregulation policies; and significant developments in India’s fiscal regulations. There has been no public market for our Equity Shares prior to the Offer and the price of the Equity Shares may fluctuate after the Offer.

If the stock price of the Equity Shares fluctuates after the Offer, investors could lose a significant part of their investment. As of the date of this Prospectus, there is no market for the Equity Shares. Following the Offer, the Equity Shares are expected to trade on the Stock Exchanges. We cannot assure you that active trading in the Equity Shares will develop after the Offer or, if such trading develops, that it will continue. Investors might not be able to sell the Equity Shares rapidly at the quoted price if there is no active trading in the Equity Shares.

53. Investors may be subject to Indian taxes arising out of capital gains on the sale of the Equity Shares.

Under current Indian tax laws, unless specifically exempted, capital gains arising from the sale of Equity Shares in an Indian company are generally taxable in India. A securities transaction tax (“STT”) is levied on and collected by an Indian stock exchange on which equity shares are sold. The Finance Act, 2018 has levied taxes on such long-term capital gains exceeding ₹0.10 million arising from sale of equity shares on or after April 1, 2018, while continuing to exempt the unrealized capital gains earned up to January 31, 2018 on such equity shares. Accordingly, you may be subject to payment of long-term capital gains tax in India, in addition to payment of STT, on the sale of any Equity Shares held for more than 12 months. STT will be levied on and collected by a domestic stock exchange on which the Equity Shares are sold.

Further, any gain realized on the sale of listed equity shares held for a period of 12 months or less will be subject to short-term capital gains tax in India. Capital gains arising from the sale of the Equity Shares may be partially exempt or exempt from taxation in India in cases where such exemption is provided under a treaty between India and the country of which the seller is resident. Generally, Indian tax treaties do not limit India’s ability to impose tax on capital gains. As a result, residents of other countries may be liable for tax in India as well as in their own jurisdiction on a gain resulting from the sale of the equity shares.

54. The Offer Price of our Equity Shares may not be indicative of the market price of our Equity Shares after the Offer.

The Offer Price will be determined pursuant to the Book Building Process and may not be indicative of prices that will prevail in the open market following the Offer. The market price of the Equity Shares may be influenced by many factors, some of which are beyond our control, including:

- the failure of security analysts to cover the Equity Shares after this Offer, or changes in the estimates of our performance by analysts;
- the activities of competitors and suppliers;
- future sales of the Equity Shares by us or our shareholders;
- investor perception of us and the industry in which we operate;
- our quarterly or annual earnings or those of our competitors;
- developments affecting fiscal, industrial or environmental regulations;
- the public’s reaction to our press releases and adverse media reports; and
- general economic conditions.

As a result of these factors, investors may not be able to resell their Equity Shares at or above the Offer Price. In addition, the stock market often experiences price and volume fluctuations that are unrelated or disproportionate to the operating performance of a particular company. These broad market fluctuations and industry factors may materially reduce the market price of the Equity Shares, regardless of our performance. There can be no assurance that the investor will be able to resell their Equity Shares at or above the Offer Price.

55. Investors may have difficulty enforcing foreign judgments against us or our management.

We are a limited liability company incorporated under the laws of India. The majority of our Directors are residents of India. A substantial portion of our assets and the assets of our Directors resident in India are located in India. As a result, it may be difficult for investors to effect service of process upon us or such persons outside India or to enforce judgments obtained against us or such parties outside India.

Recognition and enforcement of foreign judgments is provided for under Section 13 of the Code of Civil Procedure, 1908 (“CPC”) on a statutory basis. Section 13 of the CPC provides that foreign judgments shall be conclusive regarding any matter directly adjudicated upon, except: (i) where the judgment has not been pronounced by a court of competent jurisdiction; (ii) where the judgment has not been given on the merits of the case; (iii) where it appears on the face of the proceedings that the judgment is founded on an incorrect view of international law or a refusal to recognize the law of India in cases to which such law is applicable;

(iv) where the proceedings in which the judgment was obtained were opposed to natural justice; (v) where the judgment has been obtained by fraud; and (vi) where the judgment sustains a claim founded on a breach of any law then in force in India. Under the CPC, a court in India shall, upon the production of any document purporting to be a certified copy of a foreign judgment, presume that the judgment was pronounced by a court of competent jurisdiction, unless the contrary appears on record. However, under the CPC, such presumption may be displaced by proving that the court did not have jurisdiction.

India is not a party to any international treaty in relation to the recognition or enforcement of foreign judgments. Section 44A of the CPC provides that where a foreign judgment has been rendered by a superior court, within the meaning of that Section, in any country or territory outside of India which the GoI has by notification declared to be in a reciprocating territory, it may be enforced in India by proceedings in execution as if the judgment had been rendered by the relevant court in India. However, Section 44A of the CPC is applicable only to monetary decrees not being of the same nature as amounts payable in respect of taxes, other charges of a like nature or of a fine or other penalties. The United Kingdom, Singapore and Hong Kong have been declared by the Government of India to be reciprocating countries for the purposes of Section 44A of the CPC.

The United States and India do not currently have a treaty providing for reciprocal recognition and enforcement of judgments, other than arbitration awards, in civil and commercial matters. Therefore, a final judgment for the payment of money rendered by any federal or state court in the United States on civil liability, whether or not predicated solely upon the federal securities laws of the United States, would not be enforceable in India. However, the party in whose favour such final judgment is rendered may bring a new suit in a competent court in India based on a final judgment that has been obtained in the United States. The suit must be brought in India within three years from the date of the judgment in the same manner as any other suit filed to enforce a civil liability in India.

Further, there may be considerable delays in the disposal of suits by Indian courts. It is unlikely that a court in India would award damages on the same basis as a foreign court if an action was brought in India. Furthermore, it is unlikely that an Indian court would enforce a foreign judgment if that court were of the view that the amount of damages awarded was excessive or inconsistent with public policy or Indian practice. It is uncertain as to whether an Indian court would enforce foreign judgments that would contravene or violate Indian law. However, a party seeking to enforce a foreign judgment in India is required to obtain approval from the RBI under the Foreign Exchange Management Act, 2000 (“FEMA”) to execute such a judgment or to repatriate any amount recovered.

56. QIBs and Non-Institutional Bidders are not permitted to withdraw or lower their Bids (in terms of quantity of Equity Shares or the Bid Amount) at any stage after submitting a Bid, and Retail Individual Investors are not permitted to withdraw their Bids after closure of the Offer.

Pursuant to the SEBI ICDR Regulations, QIBs and Non-Institutional Investors are required to pay the Bid Amount on submission of the Bid and are not permitted to withdraw or lower their Bids (in terms of quantity of Equity Shares or the Bid Amount) at any stage after submitting a Bid. Retail Individual Bidders can revise their Bids during the Bid/Offer Period and withdraw their Bids until closure of the Offer.

Therefore, QIBs and Non-Institutional Bidders would not be able to withdraw or lower their Bids, notwithstanding adverse changes in international or national monetary policy, financial, political or economic conditions, our business, results of operations or financial condition, or otherwise, between the dates of the submission of their Bids and the Allotment.

While we are required to complete Allotment pursuant to the Offer within six Working Days from the Bid/Offer Closing Date or such other period as may be prescribed, events affecting the Bidders’ decision to invest in the Equity Shares, including material adverse changes in international or national monetary policy, financial, political or economic conditions, our business, results of operations or financial condition may arise between the date of submission of the Bid and Allotment. We may complete the Allotment of the Equity Shares even if such events occur, and such events limit the Bidders’ ability to sell the Equity Shares Allotted pursuant to the offer or cause the trading price of the Equity Shares to decline on listing.

57. Any future issuance of Equity Shares may dilute your shareholding and sales of the Equity Shares by any of our Promoters or other major shareholders may adversely affect the trading price of the Equity Shares.

We may be required to finance our growth, whether organic or inorganic, through future equity offerings.

Any future equity issuances by us, including a primary offering, may lead to the dilution of investors' shareholdings in us. Any future issuances of Equity Shares (including under any employee benefit scheme) or the disposal of Equity Shares by any of our Promoters or the perception that such issuance or sales may occur, including to comply with the minimum public shareholding norms applicable to listed companies in India may adversely affect the trading price of the Equity Shares, which may lead to other adverse consequences including difficulty in raising capital through offering of the Equity Shares or incurring additional debt. There can be no assurance that we will not issue further Equity Shares or that shareholders will not dispose of Equity Shares. Any future issuances could also dilute the value of your investment in the Equity Shares. In addition, any perception by investors that such issuances or sales might occur may also affect the market price of the Equity Shares.

58. We will not receive any proceeds from the Offer. Our Selling Shareholders will receive the entire proceeds from the Offer.

This Offer comprises an offer for sale by the Promoter Selling Shareholders. The Net Proceeds from the Offer will be paid directly to the Promoter Selling Shareholders. We will not directly receive any Net Proceeds from the Offer and will accordingly not have direct access to such funds. However, the Promoter Selling Shareholders shall utilize a portion of the Net Offer Proceeds to fund complete repayment of loans due to our Company and Sterling and Wilson International Solar FZCO from SWPL and Sterling and Wilson International FZE (a subsidiary of SWPL), respectively, within 90 days of the listing of the Equity Shares.

Overview of the Global Solar Power Industry

Renewable energy sources, such as solar energy, have become significant contributors to power capacity growth additions globally. The global energy landscape has been transforming, with a rapid uptake in renewable energy sources, such as solar energy, as a result of increasing cost competitiveness, improving technology and robust government approaches to climate change. According to IHS Markit, the share of solar photovoltaic (“PV”) generation capacity annual additions in global power generation capacity annual additions has increased from 9.8% in 2012 to 25.3% in 2018, and could increase to 38.4% in 2022. The figure below depicts the year-on-year share of solar PV and share of renewable energy in global power generation capacity annual additions.

Key Factors Driving the Growth of the Solar Power Industry

Declining costs of solar energy

The use of solar energy has become increasingly competitive over the years due to the declining costs associated with its use, making this a key factor driving the global growth of the solar industry. Solar energy has emerged as a low-cost source of energy and has become lower in cost than traditional energy sources, such as coal and gas, in some key markets. Awarded tender prices for large solar PV projects have fallen below the cost of conventional power generation in several markets with high solar resources.

According to IHS Markit, in India, the levelized cost of electricity (“LCOE”) (a measure used to calculate the average total cost of producing electricity over a 25-year system lifetime) of solar PV systems decreased sharply between 2012 and 2018, and is expected to continue to decrease until 2030. In comparison, other sources of energy in India, such as coal, have seen a general increase in costs in recent years. The figure below depicts the year-on-year changes in LCOE of solar PV systems in India, in comparison with traditional energy sources, such as coal and gas.

According to IHS Markit, in the United States, the LCOE of solar PV systems has also generally decreased between 2012 and 2018, and is expected to continue to decrease until 2030. In contrast, traditional sources of energy in the United States, such as coal and gas, have seen an increase in costs in recent years. The figure below depicts the year-on-year changes in LCOE of solar PV systems in the United States, in comparison with traditional energy sources, such as coal and gas.

The declining costs of using solar energy can be attributed to a decrease in the costs of solar PV systems. According to BloombergNEF’s 4Q 2018 Global PV Market Outlook report published November 19, 2018, the average global total utility-scale PV systems cost decreased from $1.82/watt in 2012 to $0.89/watt (DC) in 2018, and is expected to further decrease to $0.70/watt (DC) in 2022. The figure below depicts the year-on-year global average cost of major components in utility-scale PV systems.

Source: BloombergNEF

A key driver of this decline in costs of solar PV systems is the decreasing costs of solar PV modules over the years, with the average price of solar PV modules decreasing by 68.5% between 2012 and 2018, according to BloombergNEF. The share of modules and invertors as a percentage of total PV system costs has declined globally from 58.3% in 2012 to 38.4% in 2018 and is expected to further decline to 33.8% by 2022. Improvement of module efficiency, while not directly affecting the module price, lowers the per watt spending of non-module components in the system. The figure below depicts the year-on-year change in composition break-up of global utility-scale PV system costs.

Average global utility-scale PV systems cost by major component

Source: BloombergNEF

The decline in cost of solar modules has contributed to bringing down the costs of generating PV electricity, making solar energy competitive with retail energy prices in most developed markets, and with wholesale energy prices in areas with significant solar energy resources. In the countries that first developed specific support schemes for PV, the most common approach was the fixed feed-in tariff (“FiT”), paying the system owner for each unit of electricity produced. In 2008, government-set feed-in tariffs for PV-generated power were in general above US$450/mega-watt hour (“MWh”). In 2018, many government support policies adopted tenders instead of fixed feed-in tariffs, with low-end bids from companies with access to low-cost financing coming in below US$40/MWh. According to IHS Markit, further declines in the cost of solar energy may continue driving global deployment of solar PV systems to generate electricity.

Favorable regulatory environment for growth of the solar energy sector

In recent years, governments across the world have made increasing commitments to combat climate change and lower dependency on fossil fuels. One such action has been to set targets to increase the share of renewable energy in the electricity mix. These targets have, in most cases, been followed by direct support policies. Such support policies for solar energy include fixed FiTs, tariffs set by competitive tenders, tax credits, and net-metering. This has created a favorable regulatory environment for growth of the renewable energy sector, including the solar power industry. The table below summarizes the main policy and regulatory drivers for solar energy in each region.

In combination with declining solar technology costs, many governments have noticed that the cost of new support schemes for solar PV has declined, lowering the total cost of generating electricity in suitable locations. This has encouraged the rapid deployment of PV globally. Supportive policies continue to be a major driver for global PV deployment, even as such schemes adapt to declining costs.

According to CRISIL Research, due to favorable policy, the low tariff discovery that results from competitive bidding processes and declining solar technology costs, tariffs for solar energy have declined globally, notably in comparison to coal-based energy. The table shows the decline in average solar energy tariffs across major regions from 2013 to 2018.

As the chart below shows, weighted average solar energy tariffs for India have fallen significantly from Rs. 7.4/unit in 2013 to Rs. 2.7/unit in 2018, representing a decline in approximately 18% CAGR, and are now lower than tariffs for coal-based energy.

Greater efficiency in installation and commissioning process

Another factor driving the growth of the solar energy industry is the efficient installation process of solar PV plants. Governments in countries with rapidly growing electricity demand are also considering solar energy as an option for rapidly increasing power generation capacity. The installation time of solar PV plants are significantly shorter compared to other large-scale power generation sources, potentially driving down installation costs. Once any administrative steps have been completed, it can take between a few months to a year to install a major solar PV plant. In contrast, other large-scale power generation sources can take significantly longer to complete installation. Solar PV technology is also scalable so that plants can be built to suit the available land and grid connections. PV systems can also be built as captive power plants directly connected to the end-user, designed to suit the user's electricity demand. The transportation of materials in the installation of solar PV plants may also be more efficient compared to other large-scale power plants. Solar PV plants do not require fuel, which may be an advantage in terms of transportation, particularly in emerging markets with distribution challenges. As long as solar PV plants continue to benefit from such advantages in the installation and commissioning process, the solar power industry is likely to continue to grow.

Solar energy storage to be the next major driver of growth

According to IHS Markit, the increasing use of battery energy storage in solar PV plants could help to drive further growth in the solar industry. Pairing batteries with solar PV plants helps to overcome the inherent intermittency of solar PV generation by smoothing output and/or storing generated energy which can then be utilized when energy is not being generated in off-peak times. This trend has been accelerated by significant reductions in battery costs. The average price of a lithium-ion battery module for front-of-the-meter energy storage applications fell by 73.0% from 2012 to 2018, as depicted in the chart below.

According to IHS Markit, global solar PV installations paired with battery energy storage has increased from 76 megawatts (“MW”) in 2012 to 3,825 MW in 2018. This is expected to increase to 9,232 MW in 2022. The figure below depicts the year on year cumulative global solar PV installations paired with battery energy storage.

The Solar Power Industry Value Chain

The key players in the solar power industry value chain are as follows.

Owners/operators

The owner of a solar PV asset is the end-investor, either for short or long-term investments, which receives revenues generated by selling electricity. The owner may have a specific portfolio of PV assets, or include single PV assets in a broader portfolio of power generation plants. In addition to the main investors, there may also be many local investors that hold minority shares of projects. Owners of PV assets include: the utility or independent power producer (“IPP”) owner, which is typically a company focused on owning and operating power generation assets; financial owners, such as fund managers or institutional investors that operate PV assets on behalf of shareholders, fund participants or other stakeholders; private owners, such as a small company or family that owns stakes in select PV assets or small distributed PV systems; or end-user owners that own PV plants with the main purpose of consuming the electricity directly.

Financiers

Financiers provide debt financing to solar power projects. This can either be short-term bridge financing for the construction of the project, or long-term debt financing provided to the main developer or asset owner. Types of financiers include: commercial banks that provide debt funding under commercial terms in the given jurisdiction; development finance institutions that are national or multilateral donors that provide financing to projects falling within the agency’s mandate in the form of direct debt to the project developer or channeled via a commercial bank; or in-house equity funding, through which larger investors may also finance projects on the balance sheet without borrowing money.

EPC solutions providers

Engineering, procurement and construction (“EPC”) solutions providers coordinate the turn-key construction of a solar PV plant, including design and engineering. The EPC role in a project will vary according to the developer’s preferences. Projects for EPC providers range from: full turn-key EPC projects, where the EPC provider fully manages plant construction and typically provides operations and maintenance (“O&M”) services for the plant for two to five years, making a margin on the procurement of components and on the services provided; partial EPC projects, where the EPC provider is only hired for the engineering and construction of the plant; or in-house EPC projects, where the EPC provider only takes on specific sub-contracted tasks from an in-house EPC team. Some EPC solutions providers have also found opportunities in project development. The project is often sold immediately before construction, and an EPC contract is signed.

Suppliers

Key suppliers in the solar power industry include PV module suppliers, PV inverter suppliers and balance of system suppliers. Companies within the PV module supply chain are typically manufacturing focused and consist mainly of polysilicon, wafer, cell and module manufacturers, although a large number of companies have expanded downstream to become active as developers or EPC solutions providers in recent years. PV inverter suppliers are mostly large industrial electronics companies, with the solar power industry accounting for a small share of their business. Specialist PV inverter companies also exist, although most are currently focused on diversifying into other adjacent industries, such as energy storage and O&M services for full solar PV systems. Balance of system suppliers include a wide range of companies providing a diverse set of products, from the racking and mounting of PV modules to cabling and electrical connectors. The vast majority of these companies focus on manufacturing one specific component of PV systems.

O&M service providers

O&M service providers ensure the functioning of the solar PV plant. This can be done under a comprehensive contract or through partial sub-contracting. O&M service providers include: full asset management and O&M providers, in which the O&M contract can include both the commercial and technical management of a PV asset, although many asset owners contract separate providers for the two; EPC providers that provide O&M services as part of their package; pure-play O&M service providers, in which the O&M provider supplies a range of services which can vary greatly between contracts, typically for a period of five years; and in-house O&M service providers, in which the asset owner performs the O&M with an in-house team and only sub-contracts specific tasks.

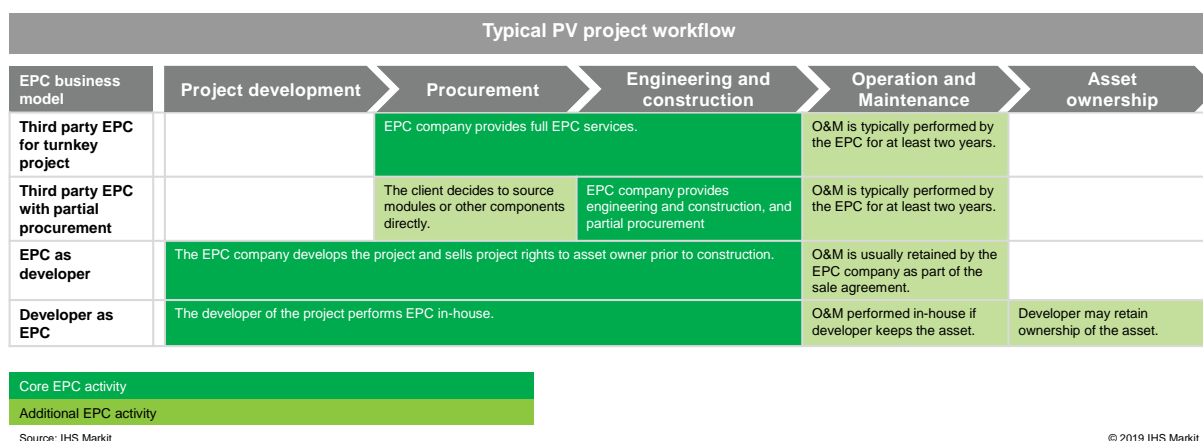

The Solar EPC Industry

Overview of the solar EPC industry

Solar EPC solutions providers coordinate the turn-key construction of a PV plant, including design and engineering. The EPC role in a solar PV project will vary according to the developer’s preferences and the EPC provider will require enough financial resources to commit to the project.

Projects for solar EPC solutions providers range from full turn-key EPC projects, where the EPC provider manages plant construction in its entirety and typically provides O&M services for the plant for two to five years, making a margin on the procurement of components and on the services provided; partial EPC projects, where the EPC provider is only hired for the engineering and construction of the plant; or in-house EPC projects, where the EPC provider only takes on specific sub-contracted tasks from an in-house EPC team. Some EPC solutions providers have also found opportunities in project development. The project is often sold immediately before construction, and an EPC contract is signed. The figure below summarizes the different work streams and business modules for solar PV EPC players.

Competition in the solar EPC industry

The solar EPC industry is highly fragmented, but has been tending towards increased consolidation in recent years. According to IHS Markit, the combined global market share of the twenty largest solar EPC solutions providers increased from 15.0% in 2010 to 28.0% in 2015. In 2017, this declined to 20.0% as a result of significant solar PV construction activity in China, where EPC activity is highly fragmented. Excluding China, the combined global market share of the five largest solar EPC solutions providers in 2018, based on annual installations of utility-scale PV systems of more than five MWp, increased from 5.7% in 2015 to 19.3% in 2018. In 2010, global solar PV system additions were dominated by Europe with a large number of local EPC solutions providers based in countries such as Germany, Italy and Spain. As Europe scaled back its support schemes for solar PV systems, competition increased, and scale became an important factor for EPC solutions providers. As solar PV deployment has grown, successful EPC solutions providers have been able to scale-up their businesses and increase their market share. In recent years, new companies have entered the solar EPC industry, particularly in newer markets like Australia. This has, in combination with fragmented solar EPC activity in China, slightly increased fragmentation globally. According to IHS Markit, as an increasing number of projects larger than 100 MW are being built, the total global market share of the twenty largest solar EPC solutions providers is likely to increase.

Successful solar EPC solutions providers have not only offered the most competitive prices, but have also demonstrated a track-record of strong design and engineering capabilities, on-time project completion and as expected or higher plant performance. Successful EPC solutions providers have also built up relations with suppliers and other stakeholders, like consultants and local sub-contractors in order to execute projects on time. When evaluating a project, lenders also evaluate the strength of the EPC provider, with EPC providers with a strong track-record and good lender relations increasing the bankability of the project. The financial strength of solar EPC solutions providers is becoming an increasingly important factor for developers to ensure that the EPC provider has enough liquidity to complete the construction according to schedule.

Key market barriers to entering the solar EPC industry include financial capability, track-record and experience, and local licenses. Many markets regulate construction activities requiring solar EPC solutions providers to set up local entities with appropriate permits/licenses. In newer markets where EPC providers have less experience in building solar PV systems, the shortage of highly experienced engineers may also be a barrier to entry, resulting in high competition in acquiring key staff.

Even though financial strength is an important factor during the construction process, well-managed EPC solutions providers can maintain liquidity through a steady inflow of revenue from various projects. The EPC business does not require any heavy initial investments in machinery or equipment, and many services can be outsourced. This creates flexibility with regard to managing liquidity. In many instances, EPC solutions providers can also access bridge financing to maintain liquidity during the project construction phase.

Key criteria for selecting an EPC solutions provider

Generally, the selection of an EPC solutions provider is done in two stages. In the initial selection stage, owners or operators assess each bidder based on a checklist of qualification requirements. Common criteria that bidders may be assessed on is depicted in the figure below.

Source: World Bank, CRISIL Research

Once a bidder surpasses the minimum pass/fail requirements and is deemed qualified, the owner or operator will then make its final selection based on the quality of the bidder’s submitted proposal and, in some cases, on the cost of services as quoted. Methods of selecting an EPC solutions provider include quality and cost-based selection, quality-based selection, and least-cost selection. Quality and cost-based selection is the most commonly used method of selecting an EPC solutions provider as this takes into account the quality of the proposal as well as the cost of services. Under this selection process, the technical and financial proposals are submitted by bidders at the same time in two separate sealed envelopes, and using pre-assigned weightages on technical and financial proposals, the final weighted scores are determined, with the bidder with the highest final score being selected. Under the quality-based selection method, only the quality of the technical proposals are evaluated. Once the highest ranked technical proposal is determined, the corresponding financial proposal will be opened and the bidder will then be invited for subsequent negotiation of the financial terms, with the project being awarded to the bidder after a successful conclusion of negotiations. Under the least-cost selection method, the winning submission is determined based on the financial proposal with the lowest price. The technical proposals are evaluated only to the extent of assessing the bidder’s minimum technical score.

The performance specification section of an EPC contract details the performance criteria that the EPC solutions provider must meet. However, this section does not dictate how these performance criteria must be met and this is left to the EPC solutions provider to determine. Generally, an EPC contract will highlight technical and financial eligibility criteria for prospective bidders. This tests the previous experience of EPC solutions providers as well as checking for healthy balance sheets.

Technical eligibility criteria for EPC solutions providers typically include: having a minimum mega-watt peak (“MWp”) of grid interactive solar power plant O&M experience for the past two years, either equivalent to or more than the capacity of the solar power plant the developer is setting up; successful handling of consultancy or bid process management services for the past five years; qualified and experienced staff with a minimum of five years of O&M experience on high speed diesel fuel based engine generator sets of capacity not less than 500 kilo-volt-amperes (“kVA”), 415 volts (“V”), or 50 hertz (“Hz”); the bidder as a single company or the “lead member” company in a consortium being an ISO:9001 certified company; the bidder being a Ministry of New and Renewable Energy (“MNRE”) accredited single-stage solar photovoltaic (“SPV”) system integrator with a rating of 1A; and the bidder holding a valid “A” class electrical contracting license as of the date of submission of the bid.

Financial eligibility criteria for EPC solutions providers typically include minimum average net worth and turnover requirements for the bidder over the last three financial years. EPC contracts may also require bidders to submit bank solvency certificates of a specified amount or to provide summarized sheets of turnover and/or financial statements. The figure below depicts the key determinants for selecting EPC solutions providers as typically seen in the performance specification section of EPC contracts.

Solar O&M

O&M service providers ensure the functioning of the PV plant, either through a comprehensive contract or partial sub-contracting. O&M service providers include full asset management and O&M providers; EPC solutions providers that provide O&M services as part of their package; pure-play O&M service providers; and in-house O&M service providers. According to IHS Markit, the size of the global solar O&M industry for systems of more than one MW was US$2.1 billion in 2017. With the combined market-share of the top 10 largest O&M providers (in terms of capacity under management) being 44.0% in North America, South America and Central America and just 10.0% in Europe, this industry is highly fragmented.

The O&M industry faces several challenges. The change in responsibility from EPC solutions provider to O&M services provider may not be smooth and plant output is often beyond the control of O&M providers, due to reasons such as incomplete EPC work, expired warranties or a lack of spare parts provided by developers. Such contingent liabilities and uncertainties have penalized O&M service providers and the high risks involved have created difficulties in mobilizing financing.

As a result, there has been a growing trend in the solar industry for EPC solutions providers to offer EPC and O&M services in the same contract due to the increased transparency in responsibility and liability between the two prongs of work. Developers and investors have not shown much interest in vertically diversifying into O&M activities, instead continuing to focus on capacity expansion, while in-house O&M services lack in quality and consistency compared with specialized O&M service providers. In contrast, EPC solutions providers tend to have the financial backing and prowess to test forward-looking technology required in providing specialized O&M services. According to CRISIL Research, all major solar EPC firms have been providing O&M services in one package at competitive prices, and, with the advent of process centralization, automation and centralized troubleshooting, there is a growing potential for O&M services to become commoditized and integrated with EPC services.

The Global Solar Power Industry

India

The solar power industry in India has been flourishing. Complementary central and state government policies, such as the Smart Cities Mission, National Tariff Policy in 2016 and the recently proposed Electricity Amendment Bill in 2018, and the commissioning of projects under large central and state capacity allocations coupled with the increasing price competitiveness of solar energy, has led to a surge in solar PV installations. Infrastructure support by the Government of India (“GoI”), such as the Solar Park Policy in 2014, and the improved financial condition of electricity distribution companies under the Ujwal DISCOM Assurance Yojana scheme (“UDAY Scheme”) have also been key drivers of growth. With the GoI targeting to commission 100 GW of solar PV installations by 2022, the solar industry in India has strong growth potential and the overall market for solar EPC solutions providers in India is expected to grow at a comparable pace.

Africa

Several countries in the region have benefited from government initiatives in recent years that encourage the use of renewable energy. In South Africa, 2.6 GW of PV capacity has been awarded through the Renewable Energy IPP Procurement Programme to date, of which 1.6 GW has come into operation. A 2.2 GW quota has been announced for future bid rounds. In Kenya, a FiT programme attracted developers to build up a pipeline, but projects did not start installation until 2017-18 with the 55 MW Garissa project being the only installed project to date. Under the FiT program, Kenya Power signed 0.3 GW of PPAs at KSh 12/kWh (approximately USD 120/MWh) between 2015 and 2017. A draft energy bill allowing generators to supply renewable energy to consumers directly may also drive growth in Kenya. The Federal Government of Nigeria has moved to strengthen the energy sector and tackle acute and consistent power shortages in the country. In 2016, the Nigerian Bulk Electricity Trader signed 14 PPAs (1 GW) with solar PV projects. In 2018, the Federal Government of Nigeria asked the African Development Bank for support on the Nigeria Electrification Project, which aims to increase access to electricity in off-grid areas of the country through the activities of the Rural Electrification Agency, relying predominantly on solar technology.

Middle East

Dubai and Abu Dhabi have taken the lead on the procurement of large-scale PV projects in the region. In Dubai, three phases of PV projects have been tendered to IPPs as part of the Mohammed bin Rashid Al Maktoum solar park, of which 213 MW of the awarded capacity has been completed, while the 800 MW third phase is expected to be completed by 2020. Under the Dubai Clean Energy 2050 plan, Dubai has raised its PV targets to 25.0% solar by 2030 and 75.0% by 2050 and has increased the planned size of the Mohammed bin Rashid Al Maktoum solar park to 5 GW. In Abu Dhabi, the 1,177 MW Sweihan PV plant is scheduled for commissioning in April 2019. New tenders for further solar parks in Abu Dhabi are under planning. The energy crisis in Jordan has spurred interest in renewables, with two rounds of PV auctions for 450 MW capacity being held and the third round for 150 MW capacity attracting bids from 14 companies. Net-metering and wheeling (the transportation of electric energy from within an electrical grid to an electrical load outside the grid boundaries) have also taken off as options for consumers to offset high electricity bills, spurring the deployment of utility-scale PV projects under bilateral PPAs. Jordan’s state-owned utility company is also working on the Green Corridor project, aimed at improving the integration of renewable energy projects by expanding the capacity of the grid. Oman plans to install around 2 GW of solar power by 2024, with the Oman Power and Water Procurement company launching a 500 MW Ibrill Solar IPP tender in December 2017 and the Petroleum Development Oman awarding a 100 MW Amin Solar PV IPP project to a consortium in October 2018. Saudi Arabia has made several announcements on solar power targets and tenders since 2012. In 2017, a 300 MW PV plant was tendered and awarded, and is currently under construction, and in January 2019, the Saudi Renewable Energy Project Development Office (“REPDO”) announced that it was planning to tender 2,225 MW of solar capacity in 2019 across 11 projects. By 2023, REPDO targets 20 GW of PV.

Macroeconomic Overview of the Global Economy

According to CRISIL Research, there is a strong correlation between the gross domestic product (“GDP”) of a country and its power consumption, especially for developing countries. As countries grow, industrialization and prosperity improves, thereby impacting per capita power consumption.

Per capita power consumption has grown steadily at the global level, led by developing and under-developed nations. In developed nations, although total power consumption has generally increased, consumption on a per capita basis has remained steady owing to efficiency measures. On the other hand, developing nations have shown a strong increase in per capita power consumption, as large-scale electrification programs continue to connect rural areas and living conditions of the general population improve. With millions still not connected to the electricity grid, this increase is expected to continue in the short to medium term, according to CRISIL Research.

India

According to International Monetary Fund (“IMF”) forecasts, after overtaking China in 2018, India is likely to retain its position as the fastest-growing economy in the world in 2019. India’s GDP is expected to grow healthily to 7.4% in 2019, led by re-monetization and easing of the initial difficulties faced under the goods and services tax (“GST”) mechanism. While the pain of demonetization and GST implementation will be frontloaded, the benefits will be felt over a period of time. Hence, GDP growth has been strong in 2018 over the weak base of 2017. The ongoing liberalization of India’s foreign direct investment (“FDI”) regime has also triggered a surge in investment, especially after the launch of the ‘Make in India’ campaign in October 2014. Net FDI inflows have risen from approximately $22.0 billion in 2014 to approximately $44.8 billion in 2018. Growth will also find support from private consumption, driven by continued government spending on construction activities, benign inflation and revision in government salaries at the state level. The strong increase in world trade and investments among developed economies indicates increased manufacturing growth, driving economic growth in India. However, protectionism could cloud global growth forecasts. Key risks flagged by IMF include protectionist sentiment and inward-looking policies that harm international trade, geopolitical tensions and a sharp tightening of global financial conditions.

Africa

The GDP of the African region has grown for most of 2008 to 2017, with 2015 and 2016 being the exceptions. This may be attributed to a rise in domestic demand, partly met by import substitution and improved agricultural production. Public and private investment, both major constituents of GDP, have grown over the years, keeping the region’s economic growth steady. Tightening of financial conditions in the United States, such as the raising of benchmark interest rates and winding down of the stimulus program, may constrain global liquidity and reduce demand. This may hinder growth in major African economies since they rely on international capital markets for financing needs. Also, waning of commodity prices may hit Africa’s GDP owing to weaker export earnings. Going forward, domestic consumption, labor productivity, gains in the industry, agriculture and services sectors and public expenditure will dictate the region’s growth.

Australia

Led by strong domestic demand and year-on-year population growth of 1.5%, Australia has grown strongly at 2.6% year-on-year from 2007 to 2018. Growing domestic demand and an accommodating global environment, led by strong end-use mineral demand from energy-hungry countries, such as China and India, has kept Australia’s GDP growth rates buoyant. The labor market has remained strong and created jobs in excess of the working age population growth. Going forward, the current unemployment rate of 5.3% is expected to reduce by another percentage point. This signals greater household consumption and increased spending. Although the country has experienced healthy GDP growth rates over the past decade, protectionist sentiment, trade wars and macroeconomic risks may dampen growth. With Sino-Australian trade accounting for approximately 44.0% of Australia’s GDP, weaker Chinese markets may have repercussions on Australia as well. With the Reserve Bank of Australia forecasting 3.5% GDP growth in 2019 and 2020, the rise in household consumption, which is the largest part of the economy at over 50.0%, is likely to shape the GDP curve going forward.

Middle East

The Middle East’s economic performance has been mixed over the years. Moderate growth up to 2014 was offset in 2015 and 2016 with a slump in oil prices. However, prices have risen ever since, propping up GDP growth. While Iran is faltering under sanctions imposed by the United States, countries like Iraq, Jordan, Lebanon, and Oman are struggling to establish political stability. Elevated debt levels and regional conflicts present headwinds to strong growth. With mounting global trade tensions and volatility in international financial markets, spillover risks are high. Going forward, domestic demand, including private consumption, will be a major driver of growth. With oil prices expected to rise in the short-term owing to the impact of sanctions on Iran, prices are expected to decline in the medium term due to larger shale oil production in the United States. A rebound of GDP growth as a result of increased global oil prices is therefore unlikely. However, improvement in the fiscal space and consumption-led growth may lead to steady growth in the region.

South America

The GDP of the region has shown staggered growth with a strong rise from 2009 to 2011, stagnation from 2009 to 2014 and then bouts of contraction over the next two years. After these two years of contraction, the region grew modestly, led by stronger-than-expected growth in Brazil and improved private consumption. Retail trade and industrial production grew in Brazil despite a reduction in construction activity and reduced consumer confidence. Floods in Chile reduced mining output and recessions in Argentina and Venezuela had a bearing on growth prospects. Economic growth in South America is expected to be modest. Brazil and Argentina, which account for more than half of the region's economy, are expected to revive slightly, although growth momentum is expected to be curbed due to domestic problems and global market volatilities. Smaller economies like Chile may grow at a faster pace but such growth is unlikely to be enough to offset the drag of the rest of the South American economy.

United States

GDP numbers for the world's largest economy have experienced cyclical upswings and downswings over the last decade. The United States' real GDP growth rate is expected to slow to approximately 1.5% by 2022 according to IMF estimates. This is in line with the Federal Reserve's expectations of economic growth slowing to 2.3% in 2019. The long run growth forecast stands at 1.9%. This may be attributable to ensuing trade wars, slower unemployment growth, declining construction activity and higher interest rates. Movements in core inflation, wage growth, labor market conditions and earnings growth of companies will sway GDP numbers. The anticipated slowdown in the global economy poses headwinds to US growth rates.

Power consumption Trends in the Global Economy

India

India has seen strong growth in per capita power consumption of 4.8% year-on-year growth from 2017 to 2018. This was led by an increase in industrial activity, rising disposable household income and infrastructural growth. Although the industrial segment accounts for the bulk of power consumption, the share of the domestic sector has risen from an approximate share of 22.0% in 2013 to an approximate share of 25.0% in 2018. This was led by intensive electrification schemes and an improvement in supply.

Africa

Power generation has grown modestly on a per capita basis, but remains well below the global average. The power access rate for African countries is the world's lowest, at approximately 40.0%.

Australia

Power consumption in the country has remained flat, growing at a modest 0.6% year-on-year over the past decade (Australia Energy Update, 2017). However, per capita power generation has reduced marginally from 10.07 MWh per person in 2008 to 9.49 MWh per person in 2016. This can be partly attributed to a reduction in energy intensity, which dropped by 1.8 % between 2008 and 2016.

Middle East

Power access in the region has improved, led by stronger underlying demand and economic growth.

South America

With all countries experiencing economic growth, despite contractionary forces, power consumption has grown steadily. A rising middle class, improvements in infrastructure and power access are likely to continue to propel per capita power consumption going forward.

United States

Power consumption, in absolute terms as well as on a per capita basis, is declining. This may be attributed to changes in the weather and energy efficiency improvements.

Risks to the Growth of the Solar Power Industry

Trade policies have, in recent years, become a major concern for the solar power industry. Policies that either remove support schemes or create barriers to installing new solar PV systems could negatively impact the solar power industry, and such actions within individual countries could impact total global demand for solar PV systems depending on the size of the specific market. Intensified price competition also poses another risk to the solar power industry. As price competition intensifies, profits could deteriorate and cash reserves could be diminished for a large portion of companies across the value chain. If large suppliers, in particular, are less solvent, this could have a negative impact on many companies in the solar industry. Newer technologies could also emerge in the long term, potentially displacing solar energy as a competitive source of new power generation. However, according to IHS Markit, this is unlikely to happen over the next ten years. See “Risk Factors – External Risks” on page 48 of this Prospectus for more risks associated with our industry.

OUR BUSINESS

We describe in this Prospectus the businesses that have been contributed to us by Sterling & Wilson Private Limited (“SWPL”), as part of our demerger from SWPL (the “Demerger”), as if they were our businesses for all historical periods described. The Demerger was completed pursuant to a scheme of arrangement that was effective as of April 1, 2017. Overview

We are a global pure-play, end-to-end solar engineering, procurement and construction (“EPC”) solutions provider, and were the world’s largest solar EPC solutions provider in 2018 based on annual installations of utility-scale photovoltaic (“PV”) systems of more than five mega-watt peak (“MWp”), according to IHS Markit. We provide EPC services primarily for utility-scale solar power projects with a focus on project design and engineering and manage all aspects of project execution from conceptualizing to commissioning. We also provide operations and maintenance (“O&M”) services, including for projects constructed by third-parties. We commenced operations in 2011 as the Solar EPC Division of SWPL and demerged from SWPL with effect from April 1, 2017. Over a span of seven years, we became the largest solar EPC solutions provider in each of India, Africa and the Middle East according to IHS Markit in 2018 and currently have a presence across 26 countries. As of March 31, 2019, we had 205 commissioned and contracted solar power projects with an aggregate capacity of 6,870.12 MWp. Our order book, which we define as the value of solar power projects for which we have entered into definitive EPC contracts minus the revenue already recognized from those projects, was ₹38,315.77 million as of March 31, 2019.

We offer a complete range of customized solutions for solar power projects. Our customers include leading independent power producers (“IPPs”), developers and equity funds. We adopt a consultative approach to our customers’ solar energy needs and capabilities, which enables us to provide customized solutions to meet their requirements. We follow a “hub-and-spoke” business model where we manage the complete supply chain from India, including the design and engineering functions, and engage a few suppliers and third-party subcontractors and procure part of the raw materials for our operations locally in each of our markets, where there is a cost advantage or to comply with local regulations. We seek to leverage this business model to procure products and services solutions for our customers at competitive prices. Our customers also benefit from our relationships with key stakeholders, such as, suppliers, project lenders and consultants, which help us execute projects for our customers efficiently and at competitive prices. In Fiscals 2018 and 2019, our revenue from operations outside India accounted for 59.11% and 69.82% of our total revenue from operations, respectively. We often receive repeat orders from our customers and as of March 31, 2019 customers in India and outside India for whom we have executed more than one project constituted 83.26% and 64.35% of our total commissioned solar capacity, respectively.

Our operations are supported by a competent and sizable design and engineering team who are responsible for designing solutions, that we believe are innovative and cost-effective, with an aim to increase the performance ratio of solar power projects. As of March 31, 2019, all of our design team is based in India, which we believe provides us a cost advantage over our competitors. Our design and engineering team of 154 employees continually seeks to improve the efficiency of our solutions and services. We believe that our design and engineering solutions, coupled with robust quality compliance checks on PV modules helps us in achieving more than the contractually agreed performance ratio for the solar power projects we construct. In Fiscals 2018 and 2019, we did not pay liquidated damages related to performance ratios under our EPC contracts as we achieved the contractually agreed performance ratios under those contracts.

We strategically focus on markets that have conducive solar power policies and high solar resources, and invest in geographies with long-term solar opportunities. We adopt a disciplined expansion strategy that we customize for each market with a view to enhancing our bidding abilities in these geographies. For example, to tap opportunities in the United States, we adopted a co-development business model to help us secure EPC rights through equity investments in relevant projects. In other markets, such as Australia and Kazakhstan, we have acquired local entities to help us establish a permanent presence in such markets. In addition, as part of our expansion strategy, we conduct on-the-ground market diligence to evaluate each local opportunity and establish relationships with local suppliers and subcontractors. We believe this helps us identify potential bids in advance and prepare for bids quickly when opportunities arise. After we win a bid, our team executes the project with the support of our internal processes, global supply chain network, three-step quality management process comprising initial factory audit, production process audit and monitoring and pre-shipment inspection, risk management and field quality monitoring. In 2018, we were awarded the Specialist Contractor of the Year Award by MEED Awards, the EPC of the Year by Solar + Power Awards and the certificate of honor in the category of “RE International Excellence - Indian Companies” at the Renewable Energy India Awards.

We benefit from the brand reputation, industry relationships and project management expertise of the Shapoorji Pallonji group (the “SP Group”) and the Sterling and Wilson group (“S&W”). The SP Group is a global conglomerate and has over 150 years of experience as an EPC solutions provider in various industries across 45 countries. As of March 31, 2018, the total consolidated assets of Shapoorji Pallonji and Company Private Limited (“SPCPL”), the flagship company of the SP Group was ₹563,531.38 million, which helps us meet certain financial requirements for bidding for solar power projects. We also benefit from global presence and stakeholder relationships of the SP Group. S&W has over 90 years of experience in offering EPC solutions with operations across 34 countries. In particular, before entering a new market, we typically leverage from the presence of the SP Group and S&W in that market to get a head start in establishing our operations. In connection with the Demerger, we entered into a Framework Agreement with SWPL, pursuant to which SWPL will execute all our service contracts entered into prior to the Demerger from its branch offices and transfer all related benefits to us. We also have the right to continue using SWPL’s branch offices for our operations going forward and avail certain shared services that we require to operate our business and have the right to use the “S&W” brand without payment. Further, our Subsidiary, SW FZCO and our Company have entered into brand sharing agreements dated September 26, 2018 with SPCPL (the “Brand Sharing Agreements”) under which we have the right to use intellectual property belonging to the SP group and to benefit from the SP Group’s track record of project execution in bidding for large scale projects.

We operate an asset-light business model, under which our customers are responsible for sourcing and acquiring real estate while we typically lease equipment required for our operations. Our asset-light business model generally entails low capital expenditures and fixed costs, and offers flexibility and scalability to meet our customers’ needs, provide customized solutions and respond quickly to market conditions. We are able to operate with low working capital requirements as our EPC contracts are typically of short duration. We typically require an advance payment from customers for certain deliverables and our EPC contracts include shorter payment cycles from our customers compared to longer payment cycles from our suppliers.

Our total revenue from operations was ₹16,402.71 million, ₹68,717.08 million and ₹82,404.08 million in Fiscals 2017, 2018 and 2019, respectively. Our combined profit after tax was ₹314.32 million in Fiscal 2017 and our consolidated profit after tax was ₹4,505.35 million and ₹6,382.33 million in Fiscals 2018 and 2019, respectively. We believe our growth and financial performance has been facilitated by our focus on risk management and reliance on clearly defined internal processes to manage our business. We seek to limit our counterparty risk exposure by focusing on our project selection on solar power projects that achieve financial closure before we commence our operations. We follow this guideline for most of our operations outside India.

Strengths and Strategies

Strengths

The following strengths are components of our differentiated business model that we believe create high entry barriers for our competitors in the EPC power industry.

Largest global solar EPC solutions provider in a fast growing solar industry

We were the world’s largest solar EPC solutions provider, based on annual installations of utility-scale PV systems of more than five MWp, with a market share of 4.6% in 2018 which increased from 0.3% in 2014, according to IHS Markit.

We were also the largest solar EPC solutions providers in each of India, Africa and Middle East in 2018 with 16.6%, 36.6% and 40.4% market share, respectively, according to IHS Markit. In 2017, we won the bid for the 1,177 MWp solar power project in Abu Dhabi, which is the world's largest single location solar PV plant, according to CRISIL Research.

Solar energy is one of the fastest growing forms of renewable energy, according to IHS Markit. The total cumulative installed solar PV generation capacity could reach nearly 1,090 GW_{DC} globally by 2022, compared to less than 100 GW_{DC} at the end of 2012, and the levelized cost of electricity for solar PV projects decreased sharply between 2012 and 2018 and is expected to continue to decrease until 2030. See “Industry Overview” on page 98 of this Prospectus for more information on the growth in the annual solar PV installations.

Currently we have a presence across 26 countries with operations in India, South East Asia, Middle East and North Africa, rest of Africa, Europe, United States and Latin America and Australia, which has helped us diversify our business globally. These markets are expected to see a steep growth in solar power capacity additions over the next three years, according to IHS Markit. For the period from 2018 to 2021, annual solar PV installations could grow at a compound annual growth rate (“CAGR”) of 11.7% in India, 70.6% CAGR in South East Asia, 22.2% CAGR in the Middle East and North Africa, 42.0% CAGR in the rest of Africa, 30.0% CAGR in Europe, 17.4% CAGR in the United States, 5.4% in CAGR Latin America and 8.1% CAGR in Australia. On an aggregate this represents a cumulative 20.0% CAGR growth in annual solar installations in India, South East Asia, the Middle East and North Africa, the rest of Africa, Europe, the United States, Latin America, and Australia from 49.1 GW in 2018 to 84.8 GW in 2021, according to IHS Markit. We believe that our execution track-record, relationships with customers and suppliers, and our innovative and cost-effective engineering project designs make us well positioned to benefit from this positive trend and continue to expand our operations.

Comprehensive end-to-end EPC solutions provider with a global execution track record

We are a global pure-play end-to-end solar EPC solutions provider. We provide EPC services primarily for utility-scale solar power projects with a focus on project design and engineering, and manage all aspects of project execution from conceptualizing to commissioning. We also provide EPC solutions for rooftop solar projects, O&M services, including for projects constructed by third-parties. We follow a “hub-and-spoke” business model where we manage the complete supply chain from India, including the design and engineering functions and engage supplies and third-party subcontractors, and procure raw materials for our operations locally in each of our markets, where there is a cost advantage or to comply with local regulations. We seek to leverage this business model to procure optimal product and service solutions for our customers at a cost advantage. As of March 31, 2019, we had 205 commissioned and contracted solar power projects with an aggregate capacity of 6,870.12 MWp, that included 177 commissioned projects with an aggregate capacity of 5,271.34 MWp and 28 contracted solar power projects (which include solar power projects for which we have executed definitive EPC contracts) with an aggregate capacity of 1,598.78 MWp. As at March 31, 2019 our order book was ₹38,315.77 million and we had received letters of intent of ₹39,081.60 million (of which ₹21,959.31 million were converted into definitive EPC contracts since March 31, 2019) for solar power projects for which we have won the bid, but have not yet executed definitive EPC contracts.

Currently we have a presence across 26 countries and use our Subsidiaries and branch offices (which include SWPL's branch offices) globally for our operations. We leverage these offices to strategically tap solar opportunities in markets in which we do not have a permanent presence as such opportunities arise. We strategically focus on markets that have conducive solar power policies and high solar resources, and invest in geographies with long-term solar opportunities. We adopt a disciplined expansion strategy that we customize for each market with a view to enhancing our bidding abilities in these geographies. For example, to tap opportunities in the United States, we adopted a co-development business model to help us secure EPC rights through equity investments in companies undertaking the relevant projects. In other markets, such as Australia, we have acquired local companies to help us establish a permanent presence in the market. In addition, as part of our expansion strategy, we conduct on-the-ground market diligence to evaluate each local opportunity and to establish relationships with local suppliers and subcontractors. We believe this helps us identify potential bids in advance and prepare for bids quickly when opportunities arise

After we win a bid, we execute the project with the support of our comprehensive internal processes, global supply chain network, three-step quality management process comprising initial factory audit, production process audit and monitoring and pre-shipment inspection, risk management and field quality monitoring. Our operations are supported by our global supply chain, relationships with suppliers and a large design and project execution team in India, which we believe gives us a cost advantage over our competitors and helps us win bids and repeat orders. For example, we believe that our diligence, detailed market studies, cost-effective supply chain and engineering and design capabilities helped us win the bid for the 1,177 MWp solar power plant in Abu Dhabi.

A dedicated design and engineering team focused on innovation and developing efficient and cost effective engineering solutions

Our operations are supported by a competent and sizable design and engineering team that are responsible for designing innovative and cost-effective solutions with an aim to increase the performance ratio of solar power projects. As of March 31, 2019, all of our design and engineering team is based in India, which we believe provides us a cost advantage over our competitors. Our design and engineering team is engaged on our projects from the pre-bid stage through commissioning. At the pre-bid stage, our design and engineering team, evaluate and provide innovative design solutions for each potential solar power project and once we win the bid, they work with our project execution team to implement the designs and overcome challenges through design solutions. We believe that our design and engineering solutions, coupled with robust quality compliance checks, such as factory audits, pre-shipment checks and compliance tests on PV modules have helped us achieve contractually agreed performance ratio for the solar power projects we construct. For example we believe one of the factors that helped us win the bid for the 1,177 MWp solar power project in Abu Dhabi was our customized, innovative design solutions of placing PV solar modules in an east-west orientation instead of the standard south facing orientation, to maximize electricity generation on limited available land that we submitted as part of our bid. We also deployed 1,412 robots to automate the cleaning of the project to reduce water consumption and operating expenses, and increase the efficiency of the project compared to conventional cleaning methods. In addition, at a project site in Philippines, we leveraged our design and engineering expertise to overcome topographical challenges of the project site by deploying an innovative flood resistant three leg module structure. As a result of our detailed market studies and geography specific approach, our engineering and design team was able to provide a solution of deploying the bi-facial module technology at the solar power project in Oman on limited available land. In Fiscals 2018 and 2019, we did not pay liquidated damages related to performance ratios under our EPC contracts as we achieved the contractually agreed performance ratios under those contracts.

Our design and engineering team seeks to improve the efficiency of our solutions and services. We also leverage our experience of providing O&M services to understand solar modules and other equipment, which helps us improve our services and win repeat orders. For example, we are in the process of establishing an Innovation Center in Rajasthan, India, with an aim to facilitate the analysis of various developed and futuristic module technologies, robotics for module cleaning, inverter technologies and tracker systems, thereby enabling us to stay in the forefront of technology adoption for our customers and developers. We have installed a Computerized Monitoring System (“CMS”) and are in the process of installing the Computerized Maintenance Management System (“CMMS”) that we share with SWPL under the Framework Agreement, to improve our operational efficiency by providing real-time automated performance analysis through data mining, track key performance indicators, generate automatic performance reports, record management with best-in-class international quality standards and track assets.

Strong relationships with customers and other key stakeholders

We offer a complete range of customized solutions for solar power projects. Our customers include leading IPPs and developers such as Marubeni, EDF Renewables, Alten, Sunseap, Sao Mai, Enfinity, ACWA Power and BNRG Renewables, and equity funds. We adopt a consultative approach to our customers’ solar energy needs, which enables us to provide customized solutions to meet their requirements. Our global network connects our customers to key stakeholders and allows our customers to reduce the number of service providers they need to engage with, thus saving them time and cost, while also providing enhanced supply chain visibility. We believe that managing the complete supply chain for our customers gives us a competitive advantage as we are able to select and optimize solutions for our customers efficiently and at competitive prices. We often receive repeat orders from our customers and as of March 31, 2019 customers in India and outside India for whom we have executed more than one project constituted 83.26% and 64.35% of our total commissioned solar capacity, respectively.

As part of our global network, we maintain relationships with other key stakeholders in the industry, such as, a diversified group of global and local suppliers of modules and other raw materials as they are critical to the success of our supply chain. We also maintain relationships with state-owned and private project lenders and private equity houses to assist our customers, thereby enhancing the bankability of the project. In addition, we maintain continued interactions with large scale public sector off-takers and who purchase the power generated by the power projects constructed by us. In addition, we work with a diversified set of contractors and engineers, and consultants appointed by the relevant clients. Their market reputation and certifications provide additional assurance to our customers of regarding the quality of our services. Our good relationships with third-party engineering consultants who are typically appointed by customers and lenders to manage project executions, including appointment of EPC providers, is also an important factor in the success of our bids. We also have relationships with market participants as we conduct continuous learning and development programs while executing solar power projects, which help them stay updated with latest market studies and new technologies and innovations. We also conduct ongoing training for engineers and subcontractors, which we believe that this help us build long term relation them.

Strong parentage and ability to leverage global “SP” brand

We benefit from the brand reputation, industry relationships and project management expertise of the SP Group and S&W. The SP Group is a global conglomerate and has over 150 years of experience as an EPC solutions provider in six major business areas and operations across 45 countries. Currently, S&W has over 90 years of offering EPC solutions and has operations across various industries, including mechanical engineering and plumbing, co-gen solutions, transmission and distribution, turnkey data centers, diesel generators and renewables in 34 countries. We benefit from global presence and stakeholder relationships of the SP Group and S&W. In particular, before entering a new market, we typically leverage from the SP Group's and S&W's presence in that market to get a head start in establishing our operations. For example, SP Group's presence in the Middle East, Africa and South East Asia assisted us in accessing these markets. In addition, SP Group's and S&W's relationships with key stakeholders have helped us establish connections with major customers and market leading subcontractors, lenders, designers and consultants. We believe that we have benefited from their robust project management processes, including bidding discipline, market studies, operational expertise and track record, which help us bid for and execute large-scale projects in short timelines.

In connection with the Demerger, we entered into a Framework Agreement with SWPL, pursuant to which SWPL will execute all our service contracts entered into prior to the Demerger from its branch offices and transfer all related benefits to us. We also have the right to continue using SWPL's branch offices for our operations going forward and avail certain shared services that we require to operate our business, and have the right to use the "S&W" brand without payment. Further under the Brand Sharing Agreements with SPCPL, we have the right to use intellectual property belonging to the SP group and to benefit from the SP Group's track record of project execution in bidding for large scale projects. For further details on these agreements, please see "History and Other Corporate Matters – Other Material Agreements" on page 141 of this Prospectus.

Strong growth and financial performance backed by an asset-light business model

We have demonstrated strong financial performance and our total income has grown at a CAGR of 72.37% from ₹16,500.65 million in Fiscal 2017 to ₹84,499.33 million in Fiscal 2019. Driven by our strong operational capabilities, we have been able to minimize costs and achieve healthy profit margins. Our EBITDA increased from ₹646.71 million in Fiscal 2017 to ₹8,516.26 million in Fiscal 2019. Our profit after tax has grown at a CAGR of 172.82% from a combined profit after tax of ₹314.32 million in Fiscal 2017, to a consolidated profit after tax of ₹4,505.35 million in Fiscal 2018, and ₹6,382.33 million in Fiscal 2019. In Fiscals 2018 and 2019, our revenue from operations outside India accounted for 59.11% and 69.82% of our total revenue from operations, respectively.

We believe our strong growth and financial performance has been facilitated by our focus on risk management and reliance on clearly defined internal processes to manage our business. For example, we have stringent criteria for project selection with a disciplined bidding approach that includes comprehensive risk assessments to protect returns. Our risk assessment approach considers risks in different geographies based on existing market presence, market size, growth opportunity and geo-political risks. We also seek to limit our counterparty credit risk exposure by focusing our project selection on solar power projects that generally achieve financial closure before we commence our operations. We follow this guideline for most of our operations outside India.

We screen project opportunities using an approval process that evaluates resource availability, technical specifications, environmental impact, sources of funds and commercial viability of each project. We follow a multi-stage approval process which seeks to maintain technical, commercial and financial discipline across our projects. We have a successful track record of winning competitive bids as indicated by our solar power project portfolio of 205 solar power projects, an order book of ₹38,315.77 million and letters of intent of ₹39,081.60 million (of which ₹21,959.31 million letters of intent were converted into definitive EPC contracts since March 31, 2019), respectively, as of March 31, 2019. In addition, we maintain risk management systems, such as a hedging program for hedging foreign currency exposure in connection with our international operations.

We operate an asset-light business model, under which our customers are responsible for sourcing and acquiring real estate while we typically lease equipment required for our operations. Our asset-light business model generally entails low capital expenditures and fixed costs, and offers flexibility and scalability to meet our customers' needs, provide customized solutions and respond quickly to market conditions. We are able to operate with low working capital requirements as our EPC contracts are typically of short duration. We typically require an advance payment from customers for certain deliverables and our EPC contracts include shorter payment cycles from our customers compared to longer payment cycles from our suppliers.

Experienced key management personnel, project management and operations team with experience in the global solar EPC industry

We are led by a management team with extensive experience in the solar EPC industry and the solar power sector, deep understanding of managing projects and a proven track record of performance. Benefitting from the experience of the management team, their quick decision making abilities and strategy to focus on key markets for opportunities, since 2011, we have been able to expand our operations across 26 countries and achieve notable market rankings, such as our ranking as the world's largest solar EPC utility-scale PV provider in 2018, according to IHS Markit. We were also the largest solar EPC provider in each of, India, Africa and the Middle-East, according to IHS Markit.

We have an experienced global team of 1,160 employees as of March 31, 2019. We benefit from the broad experience gained by our management and project execution teams through their involvement in end-to-end solar EPC projects. As a result, we believe our management and certain members of our project execution teams bring a deep understanding of the local markets in which they operate with strong global project execution expertise that enables us to identify and take advantage of strategic opportunities. Our teams are committed to growing our business, as demonstrated by our track record of project execution and financial results. We conduct continuous learning and development programs for our employees, to keep our employees updated with the latest market studies and new technologies and innovations.

Strategies

Maintain market leadership through strategic expansion of overseas operations

We aim to maintain our market leadership position through strategic expansion, including through roll up acquisitions in the markets in which we currently operate and into new geographies that present attractive opportunities. Currently, we have a presence across 26 countries, with our Subsidiaries and branch offices globally, and plan to continue expanding our operations. We are focused on leveraging our global presence, which we believe is a significant competitive advantage, our strong project execution track record and our relationships with key customers and project lenders to continue to position ourselves as a credible and reliable EPC player and win repeat orders.

Our strategy is to focus on markets with conducive solar power policies and high solar resources. We aim to establish a permanent presence in regions that have continuous and large solar opportunities and leverage this regional presence to strategically access local geographies as needed. We also aim to leverage the global presence of the SP Group and S&W to give us a head start in expanding our operations in new geographies. In particular, we expect to leverage our market leadership and customer relationships in Africa and India to be attractively positioned to bid for African projects funded by India under the International Solar Alliance (“ISA”) treaty.

Grow our customer base and maintain relationships with other key stakeholders

We believe there is a substantial opportunity to grow our customer base in existing and new markets through a combination of our strong track record and market leadership in the regions in which we operate, our global presence (including through the broader network of the SP Group and S&W) and our relationships with key stakeholders in the solar power industry. We intend to develop this opportunity by continuing to invest in our business development, tendering and marketing functions to optimize our ability to identify, evaluate and win new customers. We also intend to continue building relationships with our existing customers and other key stakeholders, such as engineers, suppliers and consultants. Our strategy is to connect our customers to such key stakeholders and reduce the number of service providers they need to engage with, with an objective to save them time and cost. For this, we intend to continue collaborating with strategic partners and such key stakeholders to position ourselves as a reliable EPC player in the market that customers can depend on for developing their solar power projects. We also intend on leveraging from our “hub-and-spoke” business model by managing our operations from India, which we believe provides us a cost advantage over our competitors. Certain of our customers are expanding their business and we plan to expand with them. We follow our key customers to new markets and this helps us identify new markets and opportunities early in the process. We intend to leverage our global presence and relationships to secure repeat projects with our customers and demonstrate to our customers the time and resource savings that they can generate by re-engaging our services.

Focus on increasing operational and financial efficiency

We plan to continue focusing on operational and financial efficiency by investing in our competent and sizable design and engineering team in India and their innovative engineering efforts. Having this talent pool in India gives us a low cost base to use these resources and execute projects. In addition, we are continually evolving our internal processes for project execution, frequently update our risk assessment matrix, stay updated with new technology and continue leveraging the global presence of the SP Group for our operations. We intend to continue to devote significant resources to recruit, train and retain a talented workforce and offer competitive compensation packages, training and career opportunities to attract and retain capable employees. Through our geography specific market approach, building strong customer and stakeholder relationships and operational efficiency, we intend to tailor our business model, and enhance our ability to bid for solar power projects independently and accordingly reduce our dependence on the SP Group.

Focus on expanding O&M, rooftop solar EPC and solar storage solutions

We plan to continue expanding our O&M operations to solar power projects that were not constructed by us. We are building a dedicated team for our O&M operations that is focused on adopting a targeted approach to winning contracts for O&M services. We intend to first expand our O&M operations in the regions where we have EPC operations, and enter markets that have conducive solar power policies with commissioned solar power projects. We also intend to continue developing our data analytics processes through the CMS and CMMS that we have licensed from SWPL and leverage our experience of providing O&M services to understand solar modules and other equipment, which we believe will help us improve our EPC and O&M services and win repeat orders. In addition, we plan to expand our rooftop solar EPC solutions which we started in Fiscal 2016. We also intend to benefit from the evolving energy storage and ancillary service technologies, and intend to leverage from SWPL’s energy storage capabilities by offering solar + storage solutions. See “Industry overview” on page 98 of this Prospectus for more details on the solar storage industry.

Demerger

We commenced operations in 2011 as the Solar EPC Division of SWPL. With effect from April 1, 2017, we demerged from SWPL and SWPL contributed substantially all of the assets and liabilities of its Solar EPC Division to us. See “History and other corporate matters – Mergers or amalgamation” on page 140 of this Prospectus for more details on the Demerger.

Framework Agreement and Brand Sharing Agreements

In connection with the Demerger, we and our Subsidiary, SW FZCO have entered into the Brand Sharing Agreements that allows SW FZCO and us to use certain intellectual property belonging to the SP Group and to continue to benefit from the financial support of the SP Group and its track record of project execution in bidding for large scale projects. We have also entered into the Framework Agreement dated October 11, 2018 with SWPL, pursuant to which SWPL will execute all our service contracts entered into prior to the Demerger from its branch offices and transfer all related benefits to us. SWPL has also agreed to provide certain shared services that we require to operate our business, including human resources, information technology, common management and tax services. We also have the right to use S&W’s brand and logos without payment, and have a “right of first refusal” to provide EPC solutions for the solar component of any hybrid projects executed by SWPL under the Framework Agreement. See “History and Corporate Matters-Other material agreements” on page 141 of this Prospectus for more information on the Brand Sharing Agreements and the Framework Agreement.

The Demerger was intended to provide, among other things, financial, operational and managerial benefits to us, including but not limited to having strategic focus and flexibility following the Demerger; allowing us to tailor our capital structure and business model to be asset-light with low working capital requirements; benefit from focused management, corporate strategies and policies; enhance our ability to bid for solar power projects independently and accordingly reduce our dependence on the SP Group and allow our investors to make independent investment decisions with respect to us. See “Risk Factors – We depend on SWPL for certain services as a result of the Demerger and we may encounter difficulties adjusting to operating as a separate company after the Demerger, which may materially and adversely affect our business, financial condition, cash flow, prospects and results of operations” on page 37 of this Prospectus for risks associated with the Demerger.

Our Business

We are a global pure-play, end-to-end solar EPC solutions provider. We provide EPC services primarily for utility-scale solar power projects with a focus on project design and engineering, and manage all aspects of project execution from conceptualizing to commissioning. We also provide O&M services, including for projects constructed by third-parties.

Solar EPC business

In our solar EPC business, we offer a complete range of turnkey and BoS solutions for our utility-scale and rooftop solar power projects. As of March 31, 2019, we had 205 commissioned and contracted solar power projects with an aggregate capacity of 6,870.12 MWp, that included 177 commissioned projects having an aggregate capacity of 5,271.34 MWp and 28 contracted projects having an aggregate capacity of 1,598.78 MWp. As at March 31, 2019 our order book was ₹38,315.77 million and we had received letters of intent of ₹39,081.60 million (of which ₹21,959.31 million were converted into definitive EPC contracts since March 31, 2019) for solar power projects for which we have won the bid, but have not yet executed definitive EPC contracts.

Currently we have a presence across 26 countries, and use our Subsidiaries and branch offices globally for our operations. For Fiscals 2017, 2018 and 2019, our income from works contracts was ₹16,157.32 million, ₹68,272.43 million and ₹81,452.55 million, respectively, accounting for 98.50%, 99.35% and 98.85% of our total revenue from operations for each such period, respectively.

Our solar EPC solutions include design, engineering, procurement, construction and project management. We may provide our full range of EPC solutions or any combination of individual services, depending on our customer's needs and market opportunity.

- Turnkey EPC solutions: Our turnkey EPC solutions involve building solar power projects from concept designing to commissioning. We provide end-to-end solutions to our clients including design, engineering, procurement, construction, project management, testing and commissioning, and connecting the solar power project to the electricity grid. Turnkey solutions are used by our customers in India and outside India.

- BoS and package BoS: Our BoS solutions comprise all project design and execution services other than the procurement of modules and components, which is handled by the customer, and “package BoS” projects include additional civil, mechanical and electrical work solutions. BoS solutions are used primarily by our customers in India and in the United States.

EPC contracts

Under our EPC contracts with our customers, we undertake to provide solar EPC solutions for solar power projects according to a specified timeline and by a specified completion date. We generally enter into fixed price EPC contracts and bill our customers according to contractually agreed milestones that reflect key stages of execution. We also typically receive an advance payment from our customers at the time we enter into the EPC contract and adjust the advance received against milestone payments. In general, our EPC contracts typically include the following milestones: (i) commencement of work, (ii) completion of design and engineering, (iii) placement of orders for all necessary equipment and PV components, (iv) supply of necessary equipment and PV modules at the project site; (v) mechanical and electrical erection of the module mounting structures, (vi) installation of modules, (vii) testing and commissioning of the project (viii) completion of civil works; (ix) completion of punch list items and (x) performance ratio tests. For example, for a project with an 11-month timeline to completion, we typically receive an advance payment of approximately 10%-15% of the contract price from the developer in the first month or at the time of executing the EPC contract, for us to commence operations at the solar power project. Thereafter we receive milestone payments of between 60-95% of the contract price, beginning on or around the fifth month of operations, coinciding with the time we engage our suppliers and sub-contractors which is usually in the sixth and seventh months. We receive the remainder of the contract price from the eighth month until we complete the construction of, and commission, the project in the 10th or 11th month.

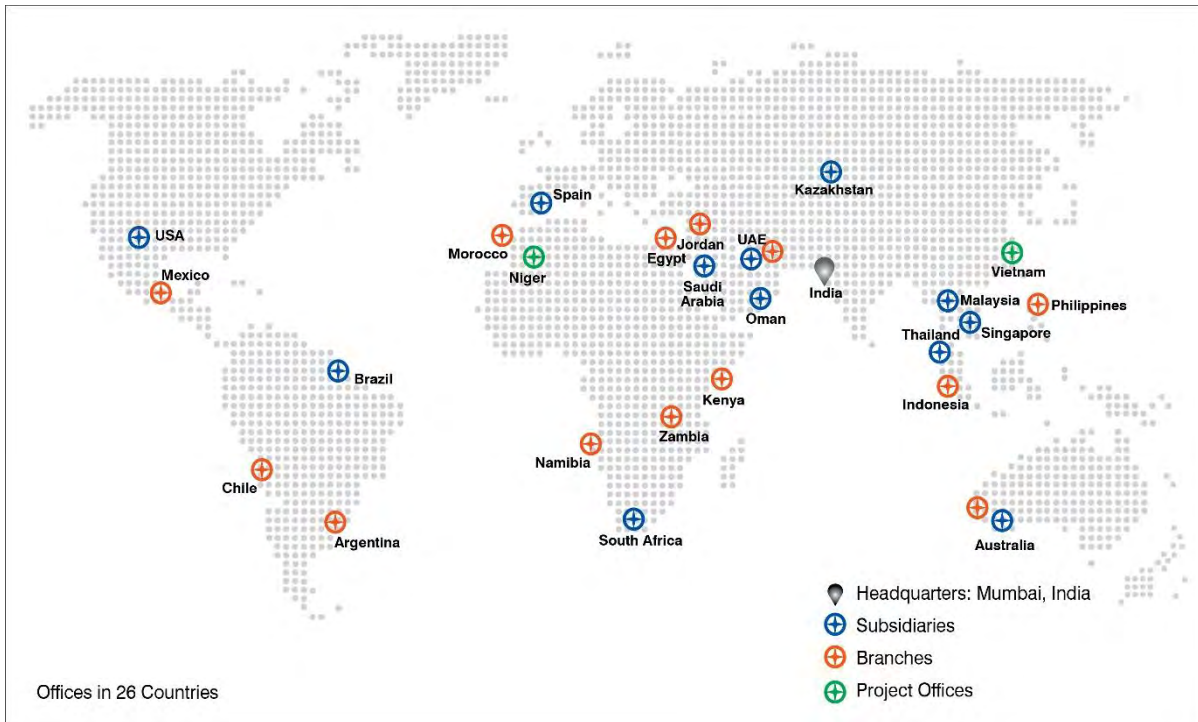

Our EPC contracts contain quality and performance guarantees by us and typically require that we be responsible for the solar power project maintaining a target project performance ratio for a specified time period after commissioning, usually ranging from 18 months to two years. We are also generally required to obtain performance and product warranties and related insurance from suppliers of modules, inverters, transformers and trackers, for our customers and us, typically ranging from five to 10 years. Our EPC contracts may include provisions allowing for changes by our customer to the scope of work. Such provisions generally allow us to reprice the EPC contract and charge our customer for any additional work. Other than such changes, we are not typically able to reprice or renegotiate an EPC contract once it has been entered into with our customer. However, we are generally able to terminate our services and obligations under the EPC contract for non-payment by our customer or for prolonged and unanticipated events outside our control. See “Management’s Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations – Significant Factors Affecting our Results of Operations – Pricing Model for EPC Services” on page 401 of this Prospectus for more details on our EPC contracts and our EPC Pricing model. See also “Risk Factors - We may be unable to accurately estimate costs under fixed-price EPC contracts, fail to maintain the quality and performance guarantees under our EPC contracts and we may experience delays in completing the construction of solar power projects, which may increase our construction costs and working capital requirements, and may have a material adverse effect on our financial condition, cash flow and results of operations” on page 31 of this Prospectus for risks associated with EPC contracts.

Our Operations

We commenced our operations focusing on solar power projects in India and since our inception in 2011, we have expanded our operations overseas into multiple countries. Currently, we have operations in 26 countries, and use our Subsidiaries and branch offices globally for our operations.

Before we enter a new market, our regional development teams prepare market analysis reports and financial models, including key assumptions, to guide us in sourcing, evaluating and executing solar power projects. These market analysis reports include information on the contract structure and related tax aspects, permitting processes, timelines and costs, logistics, local manufacturing, sub-contractor availability, off-taker credibility, visa regulations, results of technical diligence, key project milestones, major market risks and an action plan outlining steps and requirements for pursuing projects in the subject market. We update the market analysis reports quarterly, or more frequently as needed. We also engage law firms and consulting firms to investigate the most viable legal route for entering the market, either through acquisitions or establishing branch offices, validity of regulatory permits, property laws, solar regulations, environmental laws, and tax and incentive policies, with particular focus on any PV or other renewable energy regulatory environment and policies. See “- Project lifecycle” below for more details on our project selection to project execution processes.

The following table highlights our global operations as of the date of this Prospectus:

As of March 31, 2019, we conducted our operations through four branch offices in United Arab Emirates, Egypt, Oman, Jordan and Morocco.

Rest of Africa

We are the largest solar EPC solutions provider in Africa in 2018 based on annual installations of utility-scale PV systems of more than five MWp, according to IHS Markit. See “Industry Overview” on page 98 for more details on our market rankings in Africa and related competitor base.

In rest of Africa, we typically provide turnkey utility-scale solar solutions. As of March 31, 2019, our solar power EPC portfolio in rest of Africa consisted of six solar power projects with an aggregate capacity of 336.35 MWp, of which we had commissioned four solar power projects with an aggregate capacity of 198.10 MWp and we had two contracted solar power projects with an aggregate capacity of 138.25 MWp for which we have signed definitive EPC contracts or are under-construction. We cater to the African markets through our subsidiaries, Sterling and Wilson Engineering (Pty) Ltd and Sterling and Wilson - Waaree Private Limited. As of March 31, 2019, we conducted our operations through three branch offices across Namibia, Zambia and Kenya.

United States and Latin America

In the United States, we typically provide turnkey and BoS EPC utility-scale solar solutions, and turnkey EPC utility-scale solar solutions in Latin America. As of March 31, 2019, our solar power EPC portfolio in United States and Latin America consisted of four solar power projects with an aggregate capacity of 102.81 MWp, which we had finished commissioning. In the United States, we typically construct solar EPC projects based on the co-development business model. Under this model, we secure EPC rights for a solar power project by acquiring an equity interest, or the right to acquire an equity interest, in a special purpose vehicle formed to own the relevant project, and transfer our equity interest in the special purpose vehicle to the developer once the project is ready-to-build. We believe this business model increases the chances of winning EPC contracts in the United States.

We cater to the US markets through our subsidiary, Sterling & Wilson Solar Solutions Inc. and its subsidiary, Sterling and Wilson Solar Solutions LLC. Our subsidiary office in the United States, located in Scottsdale, Arizona, manages EPC operations in the country with engineering and design support from our team in India.

We cater to the United States and Latin American markets through our subsidiaries, Sterling and Wilson Brasil Servicos Ltda. and Renovable Energia Contracting S.L. As a majority of our Latin American business is driven by Spanish IPPs and developers, we cater to these markets through our subsidiary offices in Spain and Brazil and branch offices. In February 2019, we opened a branch office in Chile to support our operations in Latin America.

Based on the annual installations of all utility-scale PV systems of more than five MWp, our competitors in 2018 in United States and Latin America included Swinerton Renewable Energy, Black & Veatch, First Solar, Grupo ACS and Prodiel, among others, according to IHS Markit.

Europe

We cater to the European market through our subsidiary in Spain, Renovable Energia Contracting S.L. As of March 31, 2019 we had a letter of intent of ₹17,122.29 million to construct a solar power project in Montenegro.

Based on the annual installations of all utility-scale PV systems of more than five MWp, our competitors in 2018 in Europe included BayWa Re, Prodiel, Enerparc, Risen Energy and Hevel Solar, among others, according to IHS Markit.

Australia

We recently entered the Australian market by acquiring a 76.00% equity interest in GCO Electricals Pty. Limited, an electrical contracting company with experience in executing solar power projects in Australia. We cater to the Australian market through our subsidiary office and one branch office that manages the EPC operations in the country, with engineering, design, financial and strategic support from our team in India. Apart from regular EPC opportunities, we are exploring opportunities to develop solar power projects on a co-development basis.

Case Studies

Single location solar power plant of 1,177 MWp in Abu Dhabi

We are the sole EPC solutions provider for the world's largest single location solar PV plant of 1,177 MWp in Abu Dhabi, according to CRISIL Research. It is developed by a group of customers, including Marubeni at a tariff of $2.42 cents per kilo-watt hour ("kWh"), which is one of the lowest LCOE bids for solar energy discovered globally in 2018, according to CRISIL Research. The solar power project is also government-supported by the Abu Dhabi Water and Electricity Authority. We are constructing this project on a turnkey basis and are responsible for providing end-to-end EPC services, including designing, engineering, constructing, executing, testing and commissioning a fully-completed, new and operational solar power plant. While the developers invited bids for constructing a solar power plant of minimum 350 MWp, we deployed innovative design solutions of placing PV solar modules in an east-west orientation instead of the standard south facing orientation to maximize 1,177 MWp on limited available land. We also deployed an eight high fixed structure design to optimize electricity generation. We deployed 1,412 robots to automate the cleaning of the plant to reduce water consumption and operating expenses. We were able to install approximately 200 MWp within a short timeline of one month. To further optimize time and cost, we engaged local contractors for procurement and construction. The project was financed by a consortium of financiers, including BNP Paribas, Credit Agricole, First Gulf Bank, the Norinchukin Bank, MUFG, Natixis and Sumitomo Mitsui Banking Corporation, and achieved financial closure before we started operations. We have also agreed to provide O&M services for at least two years after the plant is commissioned. This project has been built with over five million accident free safe man hours.

22.32 MWp solar power project in Philippines

We completed the construction of 22.32 MWp solar power project for Enfinity Philippines Renewable Resources, Inc., a joint venture company of Sindicatum Sustainable Resources in Philippines within the scheduled timeline despite various topographical challenges of high-speed wind and soft, mushy soil at the project site. We deployed a three leg module mounting structure with a combination of concrete ballast and piling foundations to make the project site flood resistant. We also conducted a detailed flood analysis and installed outdoor inverter stations with RCC beams to tackle soft, mushy soil. We partnered with local subcontractors to assist with project execution and procured majority of our raw materials from local suppliers in Philippines, which helped us manage our costs and project timelines. To meet the short timelines, we were able to mobilize project managers and engineers from India to assist the team in Philippines quickly.

36.3 MWp solar power project in Rajasthan, India

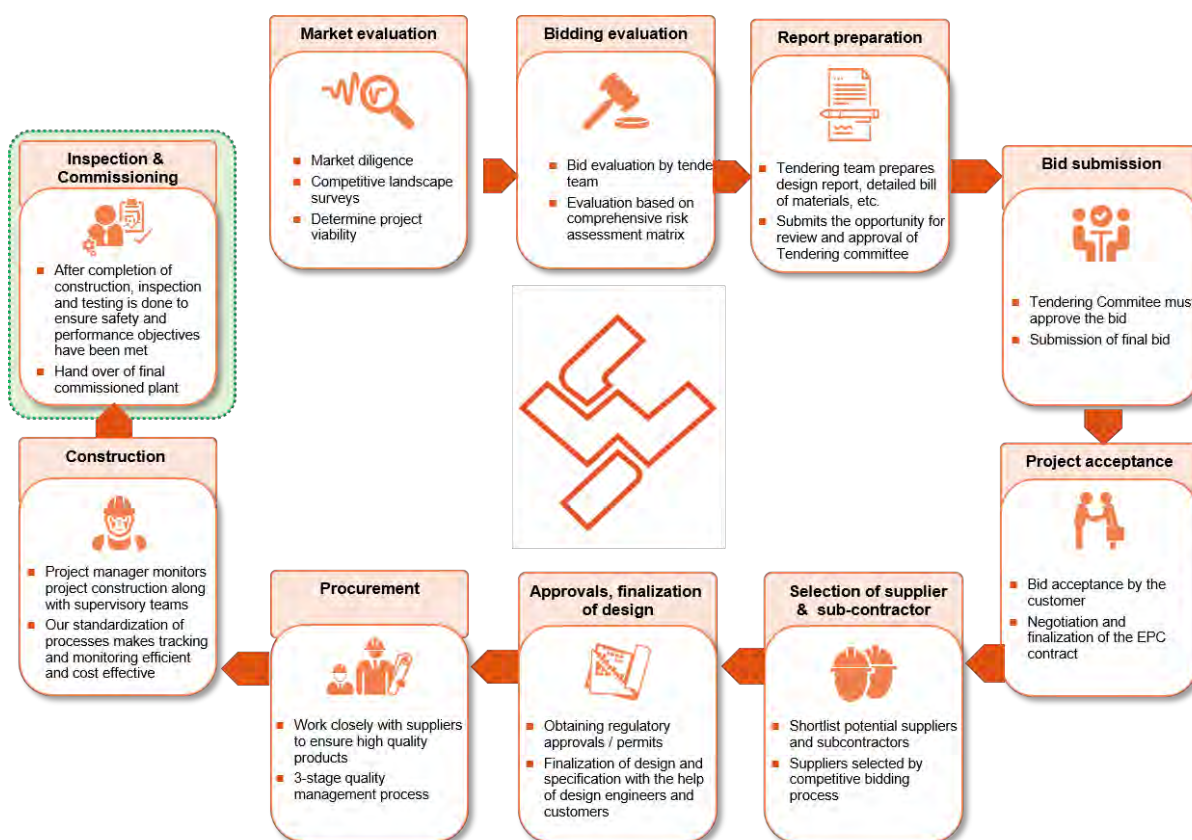

We provided the complete EPC solution for a 36.3 MWp solar power project in Bavdi, Rajasthan on a turnkey basis for Giriraj Enterprises (part of the Malpani Group). This project was the first utility scale project we developed on a turnkey basis. This project was commissioned in March 2013 and was completed within four months. We were responsible for providing end-to-end EPC services including designing, construction and commissioning the solar power plant. We were also responsible for bay extension at 33 kV level and eight kilometers of transmission line. The plant is designed to provide 100% redundancy for evacuation of power from each inverter station. To optimize time, cost and providing local employment, we strategized procurement and sourcing by engaging with local transporters and contractors. We were required to provide O&M services as part of the contract for a period of six years after the date of completion under the EPC contracts and have been maintaining the plant with an availability of over 99% which is 1.3% above the contractually agreed value. Due to our performance under the EPC and O&M contracts for this matter, the Malpani Group awarded us the mandate to construct a 50 MWp solar power project in Tamil Nadu in 2015. We were also awarded the O&M contract for the same.

580 MWp solar power project in Rajasthan, India

SB Energy One Private Limited, SB Energy Three Private Limited and SB Energy four Private Limited, subsidiaries of SB Energy Holdings Limited (together “SB Energy”), awarded EPC contracts for the construction of the 580 MWp solar power plant at the Bhadla Solar Park in Rajasthan to us. We have already commissioned 290 MWp of this total awarded capacity and are constructing the remaining 290 MWp. This solar power project was executed under harsh and challenging environmental conditions, such as shifting sand dunes, heat waves and scorching temperatures. We deployed an automated robotic cleaning mechanism to enhance power generation, reduce water consumption and reduce operating expenses. To further optimize schedule and cost efficiency, we engaged local contractors for procurement and construction activities. A sourcing strategy was developed for the solar power project to improve uptime availability of major equipment and spare parts. This solar power project has resulted in substantial employment and inclusive growth in the local areas of Bhadla, Rajasthan. We were also awarded the O&M contract for 10 years for this solar power project, which is the largest O&M contract awarded in India, according to CRISIL.

Project lifecycle

We provide EPC services, which primarily include design and engineering functions, procurement of raw materials and selection of vendors, inspection and audit of suppliers, construction of the solar power project, field quality monitoring of the project and commissioning. The following diagram illustrates the typical stages of an EPC project from bidding to commissioning:

Business development, market evaluation and preparedness: Our business development team focuses on markets with conducive solar power policies particularly in regions with high solar resources and stays updated with the new projects of our key customers and borrows expertise from the SP Group’s presence in that market to get a head start in establishing our operations. Our business development team identifies potential markets, conducts on-the-ground market diligence to evaluate each local opportunity including from the perspective of a comprehensive risk assessment matrix with escalation at critical decision points and prepares a comprehensive checklist to verify market preparedness. In addition, our team evaluates each local opportunity and establishes relationships with local suppliers and subcontractors. We believe this helps us identify potential bids in advance and prepare for bids quickly when opportunities arise.

- Project Selection and Bidding; Execution of EPC Contract: We use a comprehensive evaluation process, that we refer to as “the 360 degree evaluation process”. This process is used to determine whether to bid for a proposed solar power project. Because of the high cost and management resources required to prepare a competitive bid, we only bid on selected projects that we believe will be accretive to our growth and business strategy. We have a tendering team of our business development employees, design engineers and accountants that is responsible for identifying, reviewing and evaluating potential solar power projects. Our business development and tendering teams evaluate each opportunity, including from the perspective of a comprehensive risk assessment matrix that is updated frequently depending on the risks identified with each project and across geographies, prepare design reports, detailed bill of materials and other bid materials and submit the opportunity for the review and approval of our tendering committee. We have developed a comprehensive database of completed projects and market studies which we believe helps us evaluate our bids thoroughly within short time periods.

In evaluating bid opportunities, we consider such factors as the customer's reputation and financial strength, the geographic location of the proposed project and the difficulty of the work, the project's cost and profitability estimates, our current and projected workload, our competitive advantage relative to other likely bidders and the long-term relationship potential and likelihood of repeat business from the customer. Our tendering committee approves new bids before submission.

In selecting contractors for major solar power projects, we believe customers generally limit the tender to contractors that have been pre-qualified by the customer based on several criteria, including experience, technological capacity and performance, reputation for quality, safety record, financial strength and capacity to provide financial guarantees, and track record of executing projects of similar size. The price competitiveness of the bid is also a significant selection criteria. We regard pre-qualification as a key factor in winning major projects and we continue to focus on pre-qualification through improved project execution and by building our relationships with key players in the industry. Our marketing and contracts teams are responsible for marketing and commercial activities in connection with the bid. We cannot predict with any degree of certainty the frequency, timing or location of new contract awards. Until final selection by the customer, negotiations can continue on a range of matters pertaining to the specific project, such as construction schedule and financial and other contractual terms and conditions. This stage varies depending on the complexity of the bid and negotiations. After we execute the EPC contract, the tendering team hands over the project to the execution team.

After our bid has been accepted by our customer, our business development team leads the process of negotiating and finalizing an EPC contract with the customer. For further details regarding our EPC contracts, see "EPC contracts" on page 123 of this Prospectus.

- Selection of Suppliers and Subcontractors: Concurrently with the negotiation of the EPC contract with our customer, our procurement and project execution teams select potential suppliers and subcontractors for the proposed project. We typically serve as the principal contractor for an EPC project and we provide most of the engineering and project management services using our in-house resources. We generally subcontract activities such as construction, fabrication and installation, which enables us to deploy our resources more effectively. In addition, we procure major equipment, such as inverters, transformers and trackers from third-party suppliers and, in the case of turnkey EPC contracts, we procure modules from customer selected suppliers. We believe this allows us to focus our resources on higher value-added tasks, such as engineering design and project management. We have established relationships with many of these suppliers and subcontractors with whom we have worked in the past. Through our risk management process, we conduct a thorough diligence on these suppliers, identify the scope, create a detailed bill of materials and do a supply chain analysis. Based on our assessment, we prepare a response for our suppliers, specify technical qualifications and engage in commercial negotiations. We also consider such factors as the supplier's reputation and financial strength, the geographic location of the proposed project and the difficulty of the work and the project's cost and profitability estimates before selecting a supplier. Our procurement and project execution teams coordinate with regional development teams to ensure that supplier and subcontractor selection complies with local regulatory requirements. See "Suppliers" on page 130 of this Prospectus for more details on our supplier arrangements.
- Permits and Approvals; Finalization of Design and Specifications: After we have selected and finalized the relevant suppliers and subcontractors for the project, our project execution team attends to basic infrastructure at the site, obtains required regulatory permits and approvals, and work closely with our engineering design team and our customer to finalize the design and specification of the project. The engineering design process includes the site layout and the electrical design as well as assessing a variety of factors to choose an appropriate technology and, in the case of a turnkey contract, the modules and inverters. Through engineering design, we aim to reduce the risks and costs of a project, and improve the performance of solar power projects and maintain the contractually agreed performance ratio.
- Supply and Procurement of Materials: We work closely with our suppliers to ensure we receive high quality and certified products for installation in our projects. We follow a three-step quality management process that includes an initial factory audit of each supplier, the audit and monitoring of raw materials and production at our supplier's facility at the production stage, and a pre-shipment inspection of the finished product.
- Construction and Commissioning of Solar power project: Our project managers and supervisory teams monitor project construction. After a project has been completed, our project commissioning team conducts a final inspection and testing to ensure that the newly-constructed power project is safe and meets design and performance objectives.

Procurement of suppliers and construction of a solar power project, which varies depending on the complexity and timelines of the project.

O&M business

We provide O&M services to our customers after solar power projects become operational. As of March 31, 2019, we provided O&M services to 116 solar power projects in India, Middle East and North Africa, United States and Latin America and Rest of Africa, aggregating to 5,557.89 MWp, of which solar power projects having an aggregate capacity of 1,573.66 MWp were constructed by third-parties. For Fiscals 2017, 2018 and 2019, our revenue from O&M services was ₹242.76 million, ₹437.49 million and ₹935.76 million, respectively, accounting for 1.47%, 0.64% and 1.11% of our total income for each such period, respectively.

Our O&M contracts generally provide for standard services associated with operating and maintaining solar power projects and typically have a tenor of two to ten years, but we have O&M contracts for up to 20 years as well. We provide these services pursuant to the scope of services outlined in the underlying O&M contract with our customer. Our scope of services typically includes preventive and predictive, and corrective maintenance and repair services for solar power projects, such that the performance ratios are maintained. These services seek to optimize system performance and compliance with contractual and regulatory obligations of our customer. Although the scope of our services vary by customer and market opportunity, our O&M services may include 24/7 system monitoring, monitoring compliance with operational agreements such as power purchase agreements and large generator interconnection agreements, energy forecasting, performance engineering analysis, regular performance reporting, turnkey maintenance services, including spare parts and corrective maintenance repair, warranty management and environmental regulatory compliance and management services. We also typically provide an effective availability guarantee, which stipulates that a system will be available to generate a certain percentage of total possible energy during a specific period after adjusting for factors outside of our control as the service provider, such as weather, curtailment, outages, force majeure, and other conditions that may affect system availability. Payment arrangements under our O&M contracts vary, as we receive lump sum payments at the commencement of services or on monthly or quarterly basis either in advance or in arrears. We are also required to maintain reports and logs of our operations, which may be inspected by our customer.

As of March 31, 2019, we employed an experienced team of 203 O&M engineers that deploy advanced technology and equipment, such as robots, centralized monitoring and maintenance systems and analytics, for our operations. We also rely on centralized monitoring systems to optimize maintenance costs, aid in timely rectification of issues and generate higher yield. We conduct regular project inspections through advanced drone-based thermography, thermal imaging, flash testing and cable fault locaters. We have installed a CMS and are in the process of installing the CMMS that we have licensed from SWPL under the Framework Agreement, to improve our operational efficiency by providing real-time automated performance analysis through data mining, track key performance indicators, generate automatic performance reports, record management with best-in-class international quality standards and track assets.

Engineering & Design, Innovation

Our operations are supported by a dedicated design and engineering team of 154 employees, all of whom are in India, that are responsible for designing innovative and cost-effective solutions with an aim to increase the performance ratio of solar power projects. We have deployed advanced technology and equipment, such as robots, centralized monitoring and maintenance systems and analytics, for our operations. In addition, we engage in multi-device preventive and predictive analytics through artificial intelligence for our operations. These systems optimize maintenance costs, aid in timely rectification of issues and generate higher yield. We currently devote substantial resources to innovative engineering efforts, which generally focus on improving the efficiency of our solutions and services. We explore various technologies in our efforts to sustain competitive differentiation in our solutions and services. We intend to stay current with market innovations through internal and external knowledge sharing, including through the use of SWPL's test-bed initiative, which facilitates the testing and analysis of various technology prototypes. We also intend to continue to solicit feedback from our customers and engineers. We also intend to develop alternative products, manufacturing processes, execution methods and communication protocols to improve our operations and services, while meeting global market standards. We also intend to benefit from the evolving energy storage and ancillary service technologies, and intend to leverage from SWPL's solar storage and floating solar capabilities.

We are in the process of establishing an Innovation Center in Rajasthan, India, with an aim to facilitate the analysis of various developed and futuristic module technologies, robotics for module cleaning, inverter technologies and tracker systems, thereby enabling us to stay in the forefront of technology adoption for our customers and developers. We have installed a CMS and are in the process of installing the CMMS that we have licensed from SWPL under the Framework Agreement, to improve our operational efficiency by providing real-time automated performance analysis through data mining, track key performance indicators, generate automatic performance reports, record management with best-in-class international quality standards and track assets.

Customers

We offer a complete range of customized solutions for solar power projects. Our customers include leading strategic IPPs and developers, such as Marubeni, EDF Renewables, Alten, Sunseap, Sao Mai, Enfinity, ACWA Power and BNRG Renewables, and equity funds. We adopt a consultative approach to our customers' solar energy needs and capabilities, which enables us to provide customized solutions to meet their economic goals. Our customers benefit from our global supply chain, a majority of which is based in India, and our relationships with suppliers helps us execute projects for our customers efficiently and economically. In addition, by providing this service to our customers we are able to strengthen our customer relationships and thus our competitive position. We often receive repeat orders from our customers and as of March 31, 2019 customers in India and outside India for whom we have executed more than one project constituted 83.26 and 64.35% of our total commissioned solar capacity, respectively.

In Fiscals 2017, 2018 and 2019 our top 10 customers in terms of revenue generated accounted for 75.85%, 90.26% and 71.91% of our revenue from operations, respectively. In Fiscal 2017, our top two customers in terms of revenue generated constituted more than 10% of our revenue from operations aggregating to 49.42% of our total revenue from operations for that period. In Fiscal 2018 our top two customers in terms of revenue generated constituted more than 10% of our total revenue from operations aggregating to 57.09% of our revenue from operations for that period. In Fiscal 2019, one customer in terms of revenue generated constituted more than 10% of our revenue from operations aggregating to 25.83% of our total revenue from operations for that period.

Suppliers

We have relationships with a diversified group of suppliers globally, which helps us source equipment, such as modules, inverters, transformers, trackers and other solar equipment at competitive costs, while maintaining quality, which we believe gives us a competitive advantage as competition is largely from regional players. However, we also source subcontractors locally, whenever feasible, and procure certain raw materials from local suppliers, where there is a cost advantage or to comply with local regulations. We generally subcontract activities such as construction, fabrication and installation, which enables us to deploy our resources more effectively. While identifying suitable suppliers, we are generally guided by a purchase requisition list provided by the project manager that specifies the materials required, technical specifications and quality plans for the raw materials. We negotiate pricing and specifications with suppliers of these major equipment and typically enter into pre-bid arrangements for guaranteed pricing for a period of up to six months to manage volatility in module and inverter prices. Once we win the bid and receive the notice to proceed from our customers, we enter into definitive contracts with the selected supplier and place orders. We also engage with suppliers for the supply of other materials, such as sand, cement and solar wafers. See "Risk Factors – We depend on various subcontractors and suppliers to procure materials and construct and provide our services and solutions. We are exposed to risks arising from the pricing, timing or quality of their services, equipment and supplies and warranties given. This may materially and adversely affect our business, profitability, financial condition and results of operations" on page 35 of this Prospectus for more information.

We employ a number of measures to manage and monitor the performance of such subcontractors in terms of both quality and timeliness and to ensure compliance with applicable safety and other requirements. For example, we generally have on-site supervisors and hold regular on-site meetings with our subcontractors to monitor their work to ensure that projects progress according to schedule and adhere to quality standards. We also conduct periodic inspections to examine project implementation and quality standards compared to our project planning and prepare periodic reports for review and approval by the relevant departments in our corporate headquarters. If we identify any quality or progress issues which are attributable to the work of the subcontractor, we will have further follow-up discussions with the subcontractor and monitor their rectification work.

We also require our subcontractors to comply with applicable laws and regulations regarding work-place safety as well as our own operational safety rules and policies. We examine and keep records of safety documentation and insurance policies of our subcontractors. In addition, we require that all tools and equipment used by our subcontractors at our project sites must be compliant with, and certified by, applicable regulatory standards. Our subcontractors are also required to regularly provide us their internal records relating to workplace safety (for example safety training and safety inspections) and we also conduct regular safety inspections on our subcontractors.

Under our subcontracting agreements, we are generally entitled to compensation if the subcontractors fail to meet the prescribed requirements and deadlines under their contracting agreements. Consistent with market practice, we typically obtain performance and product warranties and related insurance from suppliers of modules, inverters, transformers and trackers, for our customers and us, typically ranging from five to 10 years. We generally negotiate to pay our subcontractors a portion of the contract price after the expiration of the quality warranty period, which generally lasts two years, or, if we pay all of the contract price upon completion of the solar power plan, require the subcontractor to provide a bond in respect of the warranty obligations.

Competition

The solar EPC market is highly competitive and our competitors include global and regional solar EPC providers. The solar EPC industry is also highly fragmented, but has been tending towards increased consolidation in recent years. According to IHS Markit, the combined global market share of the twenty largest solar EPC solutions providers increased from 15.0% in 2010 to 28.0% in 2015. In 2017, this declined to 20.0% as a result of significant solar PV construction activity in China, where EPC activity is highly fragmented. Excluding China, the combined global market share of the five largest solar EPC solutions providers in 2018, based on annual installations of utility-scale PV systems of more than five MWp, increased from 5.7% in 2015 to 19.3% in 2018. We also compete with developers' in-house EPC providers. EPC players typically compete on the basis of technology, know-how, price, timeliness of project completion, quality of construction, market knowledge, reputation and other measures of competitive strength, according to CRISIL Research. According to IHS Markit, we were the world's largest solar EPC solutions provider in the utility-scale PV segment in 2018 as well as being the largest such provider in India, Africa and the Middle East and therefore have a large geographical presence compared to other solar EPC solutions providers and we believe that we are well-positioned to meet our customer's requirements. In addition, we believe that our competitive pricing, relationships with lenders and their engineers, strong customer focus, excellent track record, financial strength and group parentage allows us to compete favorably with these companies.

Insurance

Under our EPC contracts we are generally required to maintain insurance. Our operations are subject to risks inherent in our industry, such as risks of work accidents, explosions, terrorist attacks, riots, fire, earthquakes, floods and other force majeure events. These hazards may cause injury and loss of life, damage and destruction of property, equipment and environmental damage. We maintain insurance policies to cover various risks related to our operations. Such insurance policies include general liability insurance, group personal accident policy for employees and insurance coverage for fire, special perils, loss of profit on account of fire and burglary on all our facilities.

Quality Control

For selecting solar equipment, such as modules and inverters, for our operations, we follow a defined quality management procedure. The procedure includes a pre-selection stage, where we conduct a thorough diligence of the available suppliers in the market. We typically engage suppliers who fulfill our basic selection criteria. We then engage in a supplier validation process through which we conduct a factory audit of the supplier. As part of the internal factory audit, we evaluate the supplier's key processes and procedures, provide training to their engineers and works and review their daily records. We also engage in production validation procedures which involve inspecting raw materials, evaluating their manufacturing process and conduct equipment safety checks. We then engage in an operating performance evaluation of the equipment through pre-shipping inspections and external lab tests.

Safety, health and environmental regulations

We are subject to extensive, evolving and increasingly stringent occupational safety, health and environmental laws and regulations governing our operations. Our safety, health and environmental practices are robust and are continuously updated to adapt to the safety, health and environmental practices, rules and regulations of the geography we operate in. We conduct external audits of our safety mechanisms every year to comply with the rules under the Occupational Health and Safety Assessment Series (BS OHSAS 18001:2007) standards, and are in the process of adopting the International Organization of Standardization's ISO 14001:2015 standards.

Our management processes, including our commitment to the environment and sustainability, aim to reflect the robust governance practices of the SP Group. We focus on deploying sustainable project execution techniques that have minimal impact on the environment, and among other things, focus on air emissions (particularly greenhouse gases), waste water discharges, the generation, handling, storage, transportation and disposal of chemicals, hazardous materials and waste, workplace conditions and employee exposure to hazardous substances. For example, we intend to implement the robotic dry-cleaning mechanism developed by SWPL to reduce dependency on water in arid terrains. We have also adopted environmentally sustainable technologies, such as, the earth screw method to reduce dust generation at solar power projects.

We have implemented work safety measures and standards to ensure healthy and safe working conditions for all the employees, contractors, visitors and customers at project sites. We have established a Health, Safety and Environment ("HSE") department, which ensures compliance with applicable safety regulations and measures. The HSE department interacts closely with the management and provides quality control reports directly to the management which ensures efficiency and quick turnaround of responses. We have incurred, and expect to continue to incur, operating costs to comply with such laws and regulations. In addition, we have made and expect to continue to make capital expenditures on an ongoing basis to comply with safety, health and environmental laws and regulations. We believe we are in compliance in all material respects with all applicable safety, health and environmental laws and regulations.

Property

Our registered and corporate office is located at 9th Floor, Universal Majestic, P.L. Lokhande Marg Chembur (West), Mumbai 400 043. We currently provide our services through 15 foreign branch offices some of which are owned by SWPL and through our Subsidiaries' offices.

Intellectual property rights

We do not own any intellectual property rights that are material to our business. Under the Framework Agreement we have the right to use the S&W brand, without payment. Our Subsidiary, SW FZCO and our Company have entered into the Brand Sharing Agreements with SPCPL, under which we have the right to use intellectual property belonging to the SP group. For further details on these agreements, please see "History and Other Corporate Matters – Other Material Agreements" on page 141 of this Prospectus.

Corporate social responsibility

We collaborate with the SP Group and S&W in their corporate social responsibility initiatives. The SP Group and S&W are engaged in corporate social initiatives through programmes in India aimed at promoting education among tribal students, construction of toilets in schools and promoting healthcare, sanitation and safe drinking water.

Key regulations and policies in India

The Electricity Act, 2003 ("Electricity Act")

The Electricity Act is the central legislation which covers, among others, generation, transmission, distribution, trading and use of electricity. Under the Electricity Act, the transmission, distribution and trade of electricity are regulated activities that require licenses from the Central Electricity Regulatory Commission ("CERC"), the State Electricity Regulatory Commissions ("SERCs") or a joint commission (constituted by an agreement entered into by two or more state governments or the central government in relation to one or more state governments, as the case may be).

Under the Electricity Act, the appropriate commission, guided by, inter alia, the methodologies specified by the CERC, with the aim of promotion of co-generation and generation of electricity from renewable sources of energy shall specify the terms and conditions for the determination of tariff.

The Electricity Act currently requires the GoI to, from time to time, prepare the national electricity policy and tariff policy, in consultation with the state governments and Central Electricity Authority. The Draft Electricity (Amendment) Act, 2018 ("Draft EAA") is sought to be enacted to amend certain provisions of the Electricity Act. Among others, the amendment empowers the GoI to establish and review a national renewable energy policy, tariff policy and electricity policy. Further, the GoI may in consultation with the state governments, notify policies and adopt measures for promotion of the national renewable energy fund, development of the renewable energy industry and for effective implementation and enforcement of related measures. The Draft EAA also seeks to inter alia exempt persons intending to generate and supply electricity from renewable energy resources from the requirement of obtaining a license for the generation and supply of electricity, subject to compliance with certain requirements specified under the Electricity Act.

Draft National Renewable Energy Act, 2015 ("Draft NRE Act")

The Draft NRE Act has been formulated by the MNRE with the stated purpose of promoting the production of energy through use of renewable energy sources. The Draft NRE Act seeks to provide a framework to facilitate and promote the use of renewable energy. It aims to address issues with respect to renewable energy such as the principles of grid planning and operation and the concept of national targets and its compliance by utilities. It proposes the creation of a framework for governance of renewable energy at the national level as well as the state level, creating a national renewable energy committee and a national renewable energy advisory group and requiring states to establish a state-level implementing agency responsible for implementing renewable projects in the state. It would require the MNRE to, from time to time, prepare and publish a national renewable energy policy in consultation with the state governments to from time to time, formulate and implement a state level renewable energy policy, and renewable energy plan taking into consideration the applicable national renewable energy policy and national renewable energy plan.

Among other things, the Draft NRE Act proposes to empower the GoI and State Governments to establish national renewable energy funds and state green funds respectively, in order to meet the expenses incurred for implementing the national renewable energy policy and national renewable energy plan. Further, unlike the Electricity Act, no license is required for supply of electricity, if generated from renewable energy sources under the provisions of the Draft NRE Act.

National Electricity Policy

The GoI approved the National Electricity Policy on February 12, 2005, in accordance with the provisions of the Electricity Act. The National Electricity Policy lays down the guidelines for development of the power sector including renewable energy and aims to accelerate the development of power sector by providing supply of electricity to all areas and protecting interests of consumers and other stakeholders. The National Electricity Policy provides that the SERCs should specify appropriate tariffs in order to promote renewable energy, until renewable energy power producers relying on non-conventional technologies can compete with conventional sources of energy.

The SERCs are required to ensure progressive increase in the share of generation of electricity from non-conventional sources and provide suitable measures for connectivity with grid and sale of electricity to any person. Further, the SERCs are required to specify, for the purchase of electricity from renewable energy sources, a percentage of the total consumption of electricity in the area of a distribution licensee. Furthermore, the National Electricity Policy provides that such purchase of electricity by distribution companies should be through a competitive bidding process. The National Electricity Policy permits the SERCs to determine appropriate differential prices for the purchase of electricity from renewable energy power producers, in order to promote renewable sources of energy.

Jawaharlal Nehru National Solar Mission (“JNNSM”)

The JNNSM was approved by the GoI on November 19, 2009 and launched on January 11, 2010. The JNNSM has set a target of 100 GW of solar power in India by 2022 and seeks to implement and achieve the target in three phases (Phase I from 2012 to 2013, Phase II from 2013 to 2017 and Phase III from 2017 to 2022). The target will principally comprise of 40 GW rooftop solar power projects and 60 GW large and medium scale grid connected solar power projects. The JNNSM aims at creating conditions for rapid scale up of capacity and technological innovation to drive down costs towards grid parity. In addition, the GoI on March 22, 2017 sanctioned the implementation of a scheme to enhance the capacity of solar parks from 20,000 MW to 40,000 MW for setting up at least 50 solar parks each with a capacity of 500 MW and above by 2019 or 2020.

National Tariff Policy

The GoI notified the revised National Tariff Policy effective from January 28, 2016. Among others, the National Tariff Policy seeks to ensure availability of electricity to consumers at reasonable and competitive rates, financial viability of the sector and attract investments and promote generation of electricity from renewable sources. The National Tariff Policy mandates that SERCs must reserve a minimum percentage for purchase of solar energy equivalent to 8% of total consumption of energy by March 2022.

Central Electricity Regulatory Commission (Terms and Conditions for Tariff Determination from Renewable Energy Sources) Regulations, 2017

The Central Electricity Regulatory Commission has announced the Central Electricity Regulatory Commission (Terms and Conditions for Tariff Determination from Renewable Energy Sources) Regulations, 2017 (“Tariff Regulations”), which prescribe the criteria that may be taken into consideration by the relevant electricity regulatory commissions while determining the tariff for the sale of electricity generated from renewable energy sources which include, among others, return on equity, interest on loan and working capital, operations and maintenance expenses, cost of capital and depreciation. Pursuant to the National Tariff Policy, the CERC is required to determine the rate of return on equity which may be adopted by the relevant electricity regulatory commissions to determine the generic tariff, keeping in view the overall risk and prevalent cost of capital, which factors are also to be taken into consideration by relevant electricity regulatory commissions while determining the tariff rate. The Tariff Regulations prescribe that the normative return on equity will be 14%, to be grossed up by the prevailing Minimum Alternate Tax (“MAT”) as on April 1st of the previous year for the entire useful life of the project.

The Tariff Regulations also provide the mechanism for sharing of carbon credits from approved clean development mechanism projects between renewable energy generating companies and the concerned beneficiaries.

Under the Tariff Regulations, the project developer is entitled to retain 100% of the gross proceeds on account of clean development mechanism project benefit in the first year after the date of commercial operation of the generating station. Subsequently, in the second year, the share of the beneficiaries will be then progressively increased by 10% every year until it reaches 50% after which the clean development mechanism project proceeds are to be shared equally between the generating company and the beneficiaries.

Renewable Purchase Obligations

The Electricity Act promotes the development of renewable sources of energy by requiring the relevant electricity regulatory commission to ensure grid connectivity and the sale of electricity generated from renewable sources. In addition, it requires the relevant electricity regulatory commission to specify, for the purchase of electricity from renewable sources, a percentage of the total consumption of electricity within the area of a distribution licensee, which are known as renewable purchase obligations (“RPOs”). Pursuant to this mandate, most of the relevant electricity regulatory commission have specified solar and non-solar RPOs in their respective states. RPOs are required to be met by obligated entities (that is, distribution licensees, captive power plants and open access consumers) by purchasing renewable energy, either by entering into power purchase agreements with renewable energy power producers or by purchasing renewable energy certificates.

Pursuant to the order dated June 14, 2018 (no. 23/03/2016-RandR) issued by the Ministry of Power, Government of India (the “MoP”), the MoP has notified the long-term growth trajectory of renewable purchase obligations for solar and non-solar, uniformly for all states/Union Territories for a period of three years i.e. Fiscal 2020 to Fiscal 2022.

Notification dated July 30, 2018 (no. 01/2018-Customs (SG) issued by the Department of Revenue, Ministry of Finance, Government of India (the “Customs Notification”)

The Department of Revenue, Ministry of Finance, Government of India has issued the Customs Notification in terms of the Customs Tariff Act, 1975 and the Customs Tariff (Identification and Assessment of Safeguard Duty) Rules, 1997, imposing on “solar cells whether or not assembled in models or panels” (the “Subject Goods”), falling under heading 8541 of Schedule I of the Customs Tariff Act, 1975, when imported into India a safeguard duty at the following rate; (a) 25% ad valorem minus anti-dumping duty payable, if any, when imported during the period from July 30, 2018 to July 29, 2019; (b) 20% ad valorem minus anti-dumping duty payable, if any, when imported during the period from July 30, 2019 to January 29, 2020; (c) 15% ad valorem minus anti-dumping duty payable, if any, when imported during the period from January 30, 2020 to July 29, 2020. The Customs Notification is not applicable to countries notified as developing countries pursuant to the notification dated February 5, 2016 (notification no. 19/2016-Customs (N.T.), except China and Malaysia.

Bureau of Indian Standards Act, 2016 (the “BIS Act”) and the Solar Photovoltaics, Systems, Devices and Components Goods (Requirements for Compulsory Registration) Order, 2017 (“Compulsory Registration Order”)

The Bureau of Indian Standards Act, 2016 provides for the establishment of bureau for the standardization, marking and quality certification of goods. Functions of the bureau include, inter-alia, (a) recognizing as an Indian standard, any standard established for any article or process by any other institution in India or elsewhere; (b) specifying a standard mark which shall be of such design and contain such particulars as may be prescribed to represent a particular Indian standard; and (c) conducting such inspection and taking such samples of any material or substance as may be necessary to see whether any article or process in relation to which the standard mark has been used conforms to the Indian Standard or whether the standard mark has been improperly used in relation to any article or process with or without a license. A person may apply to the bureau for grant of license or certificate of conformity, if the articles, goods, process, system or service conforms to an Indian Standard.

The Compulsory Registration Order issued by MNRE was published on the Gazette of India on August 30, 2017 and was scheduled to come into effect on the expiry of one year from the date of such publication. In terms of the Compulsory Registration Order, any manufacturer who inter alia manufactures, stores for sale, sells or distributes; (a) utility interconnected photovoltaic inverters, (b) power converters for use in PV power system, (c) PV modules (si wafer and thin film) and (d) thin film terrestrial PV modules; and (e) crystalline silicon terrestrial PV modules (collectively the “Goods”) would require registration from the Bureau of Indian Standards for use of the Standard Mark as specified in the Schedule of the Compulsory Registration Order. The Compulsory Registration Order seeks to prohibit the manufacture or storage for sale, import, sale or distribution of the Goods which do not conform to the standard specified under the Compulsory Registration Order. However, pursuant to the notifications of MNRE dated April 16, 2018 and October 12, 2018, considering the time taken for tests and the framing of the guidelines for such tests, manufacturers of SPV modules and inverters were permitted in the interim to continue operations by submitting a self-certification that their products conform to the relevant Indian standards or their IEC counterparts along with proof of submission of samples to laboratories with the expected date of completion of testing. With respect to SPV modules ((c), (d) and (e) above), the timeline for submission of such self-certification together with samples for a test lab recognised by BIS pending results was January 1, 2019. However, pursuant to the notification dated January 4, 2019 of the MNRE subsequently, manufacturers of inverters ((a) and (b) above) have been at this stage permitted to continue operations by only submitting self-certification by June 30, 2019 without submission of samples to test labs till the series guidelines for submission of samples was under preparation, provided that the manufacturers have valid IEC corresponding to the Indian Standard.

Public Procurement (Preference to Make in India) Order for Renewable Energy Sector, 2018 (“Make in India Renewable Energy Order”)

Pursuant to the Public Procurement (Preference to Make in India) Order, 2017 dated June 15, 2017 issued by the DIPP (the “Make in India Order”) to promote the manufacture and production of goods and services in India, the Ministry of New and Renewable Energy, Government of India (“MNRE”) has issued the Make in India Renewable Energy Order, directing all departments/attached offices/subordinate offices of the MNRE or autonomous bodies controlled by the Government of India or government companies (as defined under the Companies Act) to adhere to the Make in India Order with respect to all of their procurements. For grid connected solar power projects, apart from civil construction, central ministries, departments, and central public sector undertakings, are required to give preference to domestically manufactured components, with solar modules required to be 100% locally manufactured and other components such as invertors required to be at least 40% locally manufactured. With respect to off grid/ decentralised solar power, the requirement of local content in solar street lights, solar home lighting systems, solar power packs/micro grid, solar water pumps, inverters, batteries, and any other solar PV balance of system is at least 70%. However, products purchased for research and development/demonstration projects are exempt from the Make in India Renewable Energy Order. If the procurement exceeds ₹10 crore, the local supplier would be required to provide a certificate from the statutory or cost auditor of the company or from a practicing cost or chartered accountant, giving the percentage of local content.

Approved Models and Manufacturers of Solar Photovoltaic Modules (Requirement for Compulsory Registration) Order, 2019 (“ALMM Order”)

To ensure the quality of solar cells, solar modules, used in solar PV power plants, the MNRE issued the ALMM Order on January 2, 2019. The ALMM Order provides that the government will enlist eligible models and manufacturers of solar PV power plants complying with the applicable BIS standard, and publish a list titled the “Approved List of models and manufacturers” (“ALMM”). Only the models and manufacturers included in the ALMM would be eligible for use in government/ government assisted/ projects under government schemes and programmes installed in the country, including the projects set-up for sale of electricity to the government under the “Guidelines for Tariff Based Competitive Bidding Process for Procurement of Power from Grid Connected Solar PV Power Projects” dated August 3, 2017 and the amendments thereof (collectively, the “Applicable Projects”). The ALMM will consist of LIST-I specifying models and manufacturers of solar PV modules and LIST-II specifying models and manufacturers of solar PV cells. Both List I and List II would come into effect from March 31, 2020. Further with respect to the Applicable Projects, solar PV module manufacturers from List I, would have to mandatorily source PV solar cells only from manufacturers in List II. For being eligible to be included in List-I, the manufacturers are required to obtain a BIS certification in accordance with the Compulsory Registration Order. Manufacturers are required to make an application to the MNRE for registration, and if enlisted, such enlistment shall be valid for a two-year period and can be renewed by submitting necessary documents and satisfactory performance of products. Prior to inclusion in the ALMM, a team of MNRE will inspect the manufacturing facility. Enlisted models and manufacturers will be subjected to random quality tests and failure or non-compliance will lead to removal from ALMM. The ALMM Order will not apply to projects for which bids have been finalised before the issuance of the ALMM Order.

The MNRE, vide its Office Memorandums dated March 25, 2019, March 28, 2019 and June 12, 2019, has issued the Guidelines for enlistment under Approved Models and Manufacturers of Solar Photovoltaic Modules (Requirement for Compulsory Registration) Order, 2019 (the “ALMM Guidelines”). The ALMM Guidelines provide the procedural framework for the implementation of the ALMM Order, including the application procedure, inspection and application fees payable, quality checks and renewal procedure. The National Institute of Solar Energy has been appointed as the implementing agency for the ALMM Order.

Time/cost overrun

We have experienced delays in completion of certain of our international and domestic projects. In certain cases, liquidated damages have been levied by our customers in connection with such delays. While we are discussing such levy of liquidated damages with our customers, based on estimate of management, our Company has made provisions for liquidated damages aggregating to ₹460.39 million as on March 31, 2019.

Defaults or rescheduling/restructuring of borrowings with financial institutions/banks

Our Company has not defaulted on repayment of any loan availed from any banks or financial institutions. The tenure of repayment of any loan availed by our Company from banks or financial institutions has not been rescheduled or restructured.

Mergers or amalgamation

Our Board has on March 27, 2019, noted the proposal for the amalgamation of our Subsidiary, Sterling and Wilson - Waaree Private Limited into our Company through a scheme of arrangement, once the project for which Sterling and Wilson - Waaree Private Limited was incorporated is completed.

Except as mentioned below, our Company has not undertaken any merger, demerger or amalgamation since incorporation:

Scheme of arrangement between Sterling and Wilson Private Limited and our Company and their respective shareholders

The Scheme of Arrangement was filed by SWPL and our Company with the National Company Law Tribunal, Mumbai under Sections 230 to 232 of the Companies Act, 2013, seeking approval for the demerger of the Solar EPC Division from SWPL into our Company. The Scheme of Arrangement was approved by our Board at its meeting held on September 7, 2017 and by our Shareholders at their EGM held on January 3, 2018. The stated rationale for the Scheme of Arrangement was inter alia to enable the Solar EPC Division and the other businesses of SWPL (the “Other Business”) to capitalise on growth opportunities in an independent manner, given that the nature of the offerings, operating and working capital requirements and risk and return profile of the Solar EPC Division were distinct from the Other Business. Further, since the Solar EPC Division had its own management team and set-up, the demerger of the Solar EPC Division would enable the maximization of growth potential of both the Solar EPC Division and the Other Business, with focused leadership, specialisation and superior efficiency.

The Scheme of Arrangement provided for the transfer and vesting of the Solar EPC Division with effect from April 1, 2017 (the “Appointed Date”) upon the Scheme of Arrangement becoming effective (the “Effective Date”), into our Company as a going concern, including all assets, receivables and investments, employees, permits, licenses, agreements, qualifications, technical experience, request for proposal, tenders, bid acceptances, intellectual property, litigation proceedings, debts, borrowings and liabilities of the Solar EPC Division.

The Scheme of Arrangement was approved by the NCLT, Mumbai pursuant to its order dated March 28, 2018 (the “Order”) and the Order was filed by our Company with the RoC on May 14, 2018. Accordingly, the Effective Date of the Scheme of Arrangement was May 14, 2018.

In terms of the Scheme of Arrangement, from the Appointed Date till the Effective Date (the “Transition Period”), SWPL was to carry on the business and activities pertaining to the Solar EPC Division and hold all the properties and assets of the Solar EPC Division for and on account of and in trust for our Company. All profits or income which accrued or arose to the Solar EPC Division or expenditure or losses which arose or were incurred or suffered by the Solar EPC Division, during the Transition Period, would be treated and be deemed to be accrued as the income or profits or losses or expenditure, as the case may be of our Company, and SWPL was not to utilise the profits or income of the Solar EPC Division, if any, without the prior consent of our Company.

Prior to the Scheme of Arrangement, our issued and paid-up equity share capital comprised of 3,588 equity shares of ₹10 each, of which SWPL held 3,558 equity shares of ₹10 each. Under the terms of the Scheme of Arrangement, as consideration for the transfer of the Solar EPC Division to our Company, each shareholder of SWPL was allotted one equity share for every equity share held by them in SWPL. Our Company took necessary corporate actions to increase our authorized share capital to enable the issuance of such equity shares. Further the Company was renamed to Sterling and Wilson Solar Limited on 25 January 2019. The balance of the previous period are for the period of 9 March 2017 to 31 March 2018. d Use of estimates and judgments

The preparation of the Restated Consolidated Summary Financial Information in accordance with Ind AS requires use of judgements, estimates and assumptions, that affect the application of accounting policies and the reported amounts of assets, liabilities, income and expenses. The actual results may differ from these estimates.

Estimates and underlying assumptions are reviewed on an ongoing basis. Revision to accounting estimates are recognised prospectively.

Assumptions and estimation uncertainties that have a significant risk of resulting in a material adjustment are as follows:

(i) Evaluation of percentage of completion

Determination of revenue under percentage of completion method necessarily involves making estimates, some of which are of a technical nature, concerning, where relevant, the percentage of completion, costs to completion, the expected revenue from the project or activity and foreseeable losses to completion. Estimates of project income, as well as project costs, are reviewed periodically. The effect of changes, if any, to estimates is recognised in the Restated Consolidated Summary Financial Information for the period in which such changes are determined.

(ii) Estimated useful lives of property, plant and equipment

The Group estimates the useful lives of property, plant and equipment based on the period over which the assets are expected to be available for use. The estimation of the useful lives of property, plant and equipment is based on collective assessment of industry practice, internal technical evaluation and on the historical experience with similar assets. It is possible, however, that future results from operations could be materially affected by changes in estimates brought about by changes in factors mentioned above. The amounts and timing of recorded expenses for any year/period would be affected by changes in these factors and circumstances. The estimated useful lives are reviewed periodically and are updated if expectations differ from previous estimates due to physical wear and tear, technical or commercial obsolescence and legal or other limits on the use of the assets.

(iii) Recoverability of deferred income tax assets

In determining the recoverability of deferred income tax assets, the Group primarily considers current and expected profitability of applicable operating business segments and their ability to utilise any recorded tax assets. The Group reviews its deferred income tax assets at every reporting year/period end, taking into consideration the availability of sufficient current and projected taxable profits, reversals of taxable temporary differences and tax planning strategies.

(iv) Measurement of defined benefit obligations and other employee benefit obligations

The Group's net obligation in respect of gratuity benefit scheme is calculated by estimating the amount of future benefit that employees have earned in return for their service in the current and prior periods; that benefit is discounted to determine its present value, and the fair value of any plan assets is deducted.

Compensated absences which are not expected to occur within twelve months after the end of the period in which the employee renders the related services are recognised as a liability at the present value of the other long-term employment benefits.

The present value of the obligation is determined based on actuarial valuation at the balance sheet date by an Independent actuary using the Projected Unit Credit Method, which recognises each year/period of service as giving rise to additional unit of employee benefit entitlement and measures. The obligation is measured at the present value of the estimated future cash flows. The discount rates used for determining the present value of the obligation under defined benefit plan, are based on the market yields on Government securities as at the balance sheet date.

(v) Provision for obsolete inventory

The Group reviews its inventory to assess loss on account of obsolescence on a regular basis. In determining whether provision for obsolescence should be recorded in the Restated Consolidated Summary Statement of Profit and Loss, the Group makes judgments as to whether there is any observable data indicating that there is any future salability of the product, including demand forecasts and shelf life of the product. The provision for obsolescence of inventory is based on the ageing and past movement of the inventory.

(vi) Impairment losses on trade receivables and other receivables

The Group reviews its trade and other receivables to assess impairment at regular intervals. The Group's credit risk is primarily attributable to its trade and other receivables. In determining whether impairment losses should be reported in the Restated Consolidated Summary Statement of Profit and Loss, the Group makes judgments as to whether there is any observable data indicating that there is a measurable decrease in the estimated future cash flows. Accordingly, an allowance for expected credit loss is made where there is an identified loss event or condition which, based on previous experience, is evidence of a reduction in the recoverability of the cash flows.

(Currency: Indian rupees in million)

(vii) Impairment losses on investment

The Group reviews its carrying value of investments carried at amortised cost annually, or more frequently when there is indication for impairment. If the recoverable amount is less than its carrying amount, the impairment loss is accounted for.

(viii) Measurement of fair values

A number of the Group's accounting policies and disclosures require the measurement of fair values, for both financial and non-financial assets and liabilities.

The Group has an established control framework with respect to the measurement of fair values, which includes overseeing all significant fair value measurements, including Level 3 fair values by the management.

The management regularly reviews significant unobservable inputs and valuation adjustments. If third party information, such as broker quotes or pricing services, is used to measure fair values, then the management assesses the evidence obtained from the third parties to support the conclusion that these valuations meet the requirements of Ind AS, including the level in the fair value hierarchy in which the valuations should be classified. Significant valuation issues are reported to the Company's Board of Directors

Fair values are categorised into different levels in a fair value hierarchy based on the inputs used in the valuation techniques as follows.

- Level 1: quoted prices (unadjusted) in active markets for identical assets or liabilities.
- Level 2: inputs other than quoted prices included in Level 1 that are observable for the asset or liability, either directly (i.e. as prices) or indirectly (i.e. derived from prices).
- Level 3: inputs for the asset or liability that are not based on observable market data (unobservable inputs).

When measuring the fair value of an asset or a liability, the Group uses observable market data as far as possible. If the inputs used to measure the fair value of an asset or a liability fall into different levels of the fair value hierarchy, then the fair value measurement is categorised in its entirety in the same level of the fair value hierarchy as the lowest level input that is significant to the entire measurement.

The Group recognises transfers between levels of the fair value hierarchy at the end of the reporting year/period during which the change has occurred. Further information about the assumptions made in measuring fair values is included in the following notes:-
- Note 49 – financial instruments

(ix) Estimation of provisions and contingencies

Provisions are liabilities of uncertain amount or timing recognised where a legal or constructive obligation exists at the balance sheet date, as a result of a past event, where the amount of the obligation can be reliably estimated and where the outflow of economic benefit is probable. Contingent liabilities are possible obligations that may arise from past event whose existence will be confirmed only by the occurrence or non-occurrence of one or more uncertain future events which are not fully within the control of the Group. The Group exercises judgement and estimates in recognizing the provisions and assessing the exposure to contingent liabilities relating to pending litigations. Judgement is necessary in assessing the likelihood of the success of the pending claim and to quantify the possible range of financial settlement. Due to this inherent uncertainty in the evaluation process, actual losses may be different from originally estimated provision.

(ix) Business combinations and intangible assets

Business combinations are accounted for using Ind AS 103, Business Combinations. Ind AS 103 requires the identifiable intangible assets and contingent consideration to be fair valued in order to ascertain the net fair value of identifiable assets, liabilities and contingent liabilities of the acquiree. Significant estimates are required to be made in determining the value of contingent consideration and intangible assets. These valuations are conducted by independent valuation experts.

(x) Impairment of Goodwill

Goodwill is tested for impairment on an annual basis and whenever there is an indication that the recoverable amount of a cash generating unit is less than its carrying amount based on a number of factors including operating results, business plans, future cash flows and economic conditions. The recoverable amount of cash generating units is determined based on higher of value-in-use and fair value less cost to sell. The goodwill impairment test is performed at the level of the cash generating unit or groups of cash-generating units which are benefitting from the synergies of the acquisition and which represents the lowest level at which goodwill is monitored for internal management purposes.

Market related information and estimates are used to determine the recoverable amount. Key assumptions on which management has based its determination of recoverable amount include estimated long term growth rates, weighted average cost of capital and estimated operating margins. Cash flow projections take into account past experience and represent management's best estimate about future developments.

3 Significant accounting policies

3.1 Principles of consolidation

a Subsidiaries

The Restated Consolidated Summary Financial Information comprise the financial statements of the Company and its subsidiaries. The Group controls an entity when it is exposed to, or has rights to, variable returns from its involvement with the entity and has the ability to affect those returns through its power over the entity.

The Group re-assesses whether or not it controls an investee if facts and circumstances indicate that there are changes to one or more of the three elements of control. Consolidation of a subsidiary begins when the Group obtains control over the subsidiary and ceases when the Group loses control of the subsidiary. Assets, liabilities, income and expenses of a subsidiary acquired or disposed of during the year/period are included in the consolidated financial statements from the date the Group gains control until the date the Group ceases to control the subsidiary.

Restated Consolidated Summary Financial Information are prepared using uniform accounting policies for like transactions and other events in similar circumstances. If a member of the Group uses accounting policies other than those adopted in the Restated Consolidated Summary Financial Information for like transactions and events in similar circumstances, appropriate adjustments are made to that Group member's financial statements in preparing the Restated Consolidated Summary Financial Information to ensure conformity with the Group's accounting policies.

The financial statements of all entities used for the purpose of consolidation are drawn up to same reporting date as that of the parent company, i.e., 31 March 2019 and 31 March 2018. When the end of the reporting year/period of the parent is different from that of a subsidiary, the subsidiary prepares, for consolidation purposes, additional financial information as of the same date as the standalone financial statements of the parent to enable the parent to consolidate the financial information of the subsidiary, unless it is impracticable to do so.

Consolidation procedure:

- (i) Combine like items of assets, liabilities, equity, income, expenses and cash flows of the parent with those of its subsidiary. For this purpose, income and expenses of the subsidiary are based on the amounts of the assets and liabilities recognised in the Restated Consolidated Summary Financial Information at the acquisition date.
- (ii) Offset (eliminate) the carrying amount of the parent's investment in each subsidiary and the parent's portion of equity of each subsidiary. Business combinations policy explains how to account for any related goodwill.
- (iii) Eliminate in full intragroup assets and liabilities, equity, income, expenses and cash flows relating to transactions between entities of the group (profits or losses resulting from intragroup transactions that are recognised in assets, such as inventory and property, plant and equipment, are eliminated in full). Intragroup losses may indicate an impairment that requires recognition in the Restated Consolidated Summary Financial Information. Ind AS 12 Income Taxes applies to temporary differences that arise from the elimination of profits and losses resulting from intragroup transactions.

For a list of Legal entities / business fully included in these financial statements, refer Note 51 - List of branches and subsidiaries

b Non-controlling interests (NCI)

NCI are measured at their proportionate share of the acquiree's net identifiable assets at the date of acquisition. Non-controlling interests in the results and equity of subsidiaries are shown separately in the Restated Consolidated Summary Statement of Profit and Loss, Restated Consolidated Summary Statement of Changes in Equity and Restated Consolidated Summary Statement of Assets and Liabilities.

Profit or loss and each component of other comprehensive income (OCI) are attributed to the equity holders of the parent of the Group and to the non-controlling interests, even if this results in the non-controlling interests having a deficit balance.

c Changes in ownership interests

The Group treats transactions with non-controlling interests that do not result in loss of control as transactions with equity owners of the Group. For purchases from non-controlling interests, the difference between fair value of any consideration paid and the relevant share acquired of the carrying value of net assets of the subsidiary is recorded in equity. Gains or losses on disposals to non-controlling interests are also recorded in equity. The share of non-controlling interest is restricted to the extent of contractual obligation of the Group.

When the Group ceases to consolidate or equity account for an investment because of loss of control, joint control or significant influence, any retained interest in the entity is re-measured to its fair value with the change in carrying amount recognised in the consolidated statement of profit and loss. This fair value becomes the initial carrying amount for the purpose of subsequently accounting for the retained interest in joint venture or financial asset.

3.2 Business combinations

Business combinations (other than common control business combinations)

In accordance with Ind AS 103, the Group accounts for these business combinations using the acquisition method when control is transferred to the Group. The consideration transferred for the business combination is generally measured at fair value as at the date the control is acquired (acquisition date), as are the net identifiable assets acquired. Any goodwill that arises is tested annually for impairment. Any gain on a bargain purchase is recognised in OCI and accumulated in equity as capital reserve if there exists clear evidence of the underlying reasons for classifying the business combination as resulting in a bargain purchase; otherwise the gain is recognised directly in equity as capital reserve. Transaction costs are expensed as incurred, except to the extent related to the issue of debt or equity securities.

Sterling and Wilson Solar Limited

(Currency: Indian rupees in million)

Business combinations (other than common control business combinations) (Continued)

The consideration transferred does not include amounts related to the settlement of pre-existing relationships with the acquiree. Such amounts are generally recognised in profit or loss.

Any contingent consideration is measured at fair value at the date of acquisition. If an obligation to pay contingent consideration that meets the definition of a financial instrument is classified as equity, then it is not re-measured subsequently and settlement is accounted for within equity. Other contingent consideration is remeasured at fair value at each reporting date and changes in the fair value of the contingent consideration are recognised in the consolidated statement of profit and loss.

If a business combination is achieved in stages, any previously held equity interest in the acquiree is re-measured at its acquisition date fair value and any resulting gain or loss is recognised in the consolidated statement of profit and loss or OCI, as appropriate.

Common control transactions

Business combinations involving entities that are controlled by the Group are accounted for using the pooling of interests method as follows:

- (i) The assets and liabilities of the combining entities are reflected at their carrying amounts.
- (ii) No adjustments are made to reflect fair values, or recognise any new assets and liabilities. Adjustments are only made to harmonise accounting policies.
- (iii) The financial information in the financial statements in respect of prior periods is restated as if the business combination had occurred from the beginning of the preceding period in the financial statements, irrespective of the actual date of the combination. However, where the business combination had occurred after that date, the prior period information is restated only from that date.
- (iv) The balance of the retained earnings appearing in the financial statements of the transferor is aggregated with the corresponding balance appearing in the financial statements of the transferee or is adjusted against general reserve.
- (v) The identity of the reserves are preserved and the reserves of the transferor become reserves of the transferee.
- (vi) The difference, if any, between the amounts recorded as share capital issued plus any additional consideration in the form of cash or other assets and the amount of share capital of the transferor is transferred to capital reserve and is presented separately from other capital reserves.

3.3 Current/non-current classification

The Schedule III to the Act requires assets and liabilities to be classified as either current or non-current.

Assets

An asset is classified as current when it satisfies any of the following criteria:

- (i) it is expected to be realised in, or is intended for sale or consumption in, the Group's normal operating cycle;
- (ii) it is expected to be realised within twelve months from the reporting date;
- (iii) it is held primarily for the purposes of being traded; or
- (iv) it is cash or cash equivalent unless it is restricted from being exchanged or used to settle a liability for at least twelve months after the reporting date.

All other assets are classified as non-current.

Liabilities

A liability is classified as current when it satisfies any of the following criteria:

- (i) it is expected to be settled in the Group's normal operating cycle;
- (ii) it is due to be settled within twelve months from the reporting date;
- (iii) it is held primarily for the purposes of being traded; or
- (iv) the Group does not have an unconditional right to defer settlement of the liability for at least twelve months from the reporting date.

All other liabilities are classified as non-current.

Operating Cycle

All assets and liabilities have been classified as current or non-current as per the Group's normal operating cycle and other criteria set out above which are in accordance with the Schedule III to the Act.

In respect of the Solar engineering, procurement and construction services (EPC) segment of the Group, the construction projects usually have long gestation periods and based on the nature of services and the time between the acquisition of assets for processing and their realisation in cash and cash equivalents, the Group has ascertained its operating cycle as 18 months for the purpose of current - non-current classification of assets and liabilities. For the Solar operations and maintenance services, the operating cycle is ascertained as 12 months for the purpose of current - non-current classification of the assets and liabilities.

3.4 Foreign currency

(i) Foreign currency transactions

- Initial Recognition

All transactions that are not denominated in the Group's functional currency are foreign currency transactions. These transactions are initially recorded in the functional currency by applying the appropriate daily rate which best approximates the actual rate of the transaction. Exchange differences arising on foreign exchange transactions settled during the year/period are recognised in the Restated Consolidated Summary Statement of profit and loss.

- Measurement of foreign currency items at the reporting date

Monetary assets and liabilities denominated in foreign currencies are translated into the functional currency at the exchange rate at the reporting date. Non-monetary assets and liabilities that are measured at fair value in a foreign currency are translated into the functional currency at the exchange rate when the fair value was determined. Non-monetary assets and liabilities that are measured based on historical cost in a foreign currency are translated at the exchange rate at the date of the transaction. Exchange differences are recognised in the Restated Consolidated Summary Statement of Profit and Loss, except exchange differences arising from the translation of the equity investments classified as fair value through OCI (FVOCI) which is recognised in OCI.

(ii) Foreign operations

The assets and liabilities of foreign operations (subsidiaries and branches) including goodwill and fair value adjustments arising on acquisition, are translated into INR, the functional currency of the Company, at the exchange rates at the reporting date. The income and expenses of foreign operations are translated into INR at the exchange rates at the dates of the transactions or an average rate if the average rate approximates the actual rate at the date of the transaction.

Exchange differences are recognised in OCI and accumulated in equity (as exchange differences on translating the financial statements of a foreign operation), except to the extent that the exchange differences are allocated to NCI.

When a foreign operation is disposed of in its entirety or partially such that control, significant influence or joint control is lost, the cumulative amount of exchange differences related to that foreign operation recognised in OCI is reclassified to the consolidated statement profit and loss as part of the gain or loss on disposal. If the Group disposes of part of its interest in a subsidiary but retains control, then the relevant proportion of the cumulative amount is re-allocated to NCI. When the Group disposes of only a part of its interest in a joint venture while retaining significant influence or joint control, the relevant proportion of the cumulative amount is reclassified to the Restated Consolidated Summary Statement of Profit and Loss.

3.5 Financial instruments

A financial instrument is any contract that gives rise to a financial asset of one entity and a financial liability or equity instrument of another entity.

(a) Recognition and initial measurement

Trade receivables and debt securities issued are initially recognised when they are originated. All other financial assets and financial liabilities are initially recognised when the Group becomes a party to the contractual provisions of the instrument.

A financial asset or financial liability is initially measured at fair value plus, for an item not at fair value through profit and loss (FVTPL), transaction costs that are directly attributable to its acquisition or issue.

(b) Classification and subsequent measurement

Financial assets

On initial recognition, a financial asset is classified as measured at

- amortised cost;
- FVOCI – debt investment;
- FVOCI – equity investment; or
- FVTPL.

Financial assets are not reclassified subsequent to their initial recognition, except if and in the year/period the Group changes its business model for managing financial assets.

A financial asset is measured at amortised cost if it meets both of the following conditions and is not designated as at FVTPL:

- the asset is held within a business model whose objective is to hold assets to collect contractual cash flows; and
- the contractual terms of the financial asset give rise on specified dates to cash flows that are solely payments of principal and interest on the principal amount outstanding.

A debt investment is measured at FVOCI if it meets both of the following conditions and is not designated as at FVTPL:

- the asset is held within a business model whose objective is achieved by both collecting contractual cash flows and selling financial assets; and
- the contractual terms of the financial asset give rise on specified dates to cash flows that are solely payments of principal and interest on the principal amount outstanding.

On initial recognition of an equity investment that is not held for trading, the Group may irrevocably elect to present subsequent changes in the investment's fair value in OCI (designated as FVOCI – equity investment). This election is made on an investment- by-investment basis.

All financial assets not classified as measured at amortised cost or FVOCI as described above are measured at FVTPL. This includes all derivative financial assets. On initial recognition, the Group may irrevocably designate a financial asset that otherwise meets the requirements to be measured at amortised cost or at FVOCI as at FVTPL if doing so eliminates or significantly reduces an accounting mismatch that would otherwise arise.

Financial assets: Business model assessment

The Group makes an assessment of the objective of the business model in which a financial asset is held at a portfolio level because this best reflects the way the business is managed and information is provided to management. The information considered includes:

- the stated policies and objectives for the portfolio and the operation of those policies in practice. These include whether management's strategy focuses on earning contractual interest income, maintaining a particular interest rate profile, matching the duration of the financial assets to the duration of any related liabilities or expected cash outflows or realising cash flows through the sale of the assets;
- how the performance of the portfolio is evaluated and reported to the Group's management;
- the risks that affect the performance of the business model (and the financial assets held within that business model) and how those risks are managed;
- how managers of the business are compensated – e.g. whether compensation is based on the fair value of the assets managed or the contractual cash flows collected; and
- the frequency, volume and timing of sales of financial assets in prior periods, the reasons for such sales and expectations about future sales activity.

Transfers of financial assets to third parties in transactions that do not qualify for derecognition are not considered sales for this purpose, consistent with the Group's continuing recognition of the assets.

Financial assets that are held for trading or are managed and whose performance is evaluated on a fair value basis are measured at FVTPL.

Financial assets: Assessment whether contractual cash flows are solely payments of principal and interest

For the purposes of this assessment, 'principal' is defined as the fair value of the financial asset on initial recognition. 'Interest' is defined as consideration for the time value of money and for the credit risk associated with the principal amount outstanding during a particular period of time and for other basic lending risks and costs (e.g. liquidity risk and administrative costs), as well as a profit margin.

In assessing whether the contractual cash flows are solely payments of principal and interest, the Group considers the contractual terms of the instrument. This includes assessing whether the financial asset contains a contractual term that could change the timing or amount of contractual cash flows such that it would not meet this condition. In making this assessment, the Group considers:

- contingent events that would change the amount or timing of cash flows;
- terms that may adjust the contractual coupon rate, including variable interest rate features;
- prepayment and extension features; and
- terms that limit the Group's claim to cash flows from specified assets (e.g. non-recourse features).

A prepayment feature is consistent with the solely payments of principal and interest criterion if the prepayment amount substantially represents unpaid amounts of principal and interest on the principal amount outstanding, which may include reasonable additional compensation for early termination of the contract. Additionally, for a financial asset acquired at a significant discount or premium to its contractual par amount, a feature that permits or requires prepayment at an amount that substantially represents the contractual par amount plus accrued (but unpaid) contractual interest (which may also include reasonable additional compensation for early termination) is treated as consistent with this criterion if the fair value of the prepayment feature is insignificant at initial recognition.

Financial assets: Subsequent measurement and gains and losses

(i) Financial assets at FVTPL:

These assets are subsequently measured at fair value. Net gains and losses, including any interest or dividend income, are recognised in the Restated Consolidated Summary Statement of Profit and Loss.

(ii) Financial assets at amortised cost:

These assets are subsequently measured at amortised cost using the effective interest method. The amortised cost is reduced by impairment losses. Interest income, foreign exchange gains and losses and impairment are recognised in the Restated Consolidated Summary Statement of Profit and Loss. Any gain or loss on derecognition is recognised in the Restated Consolidated Summary Statement of Profit and Loss.

(iii) Debt investments at FVOCI:

These assets are subsequently measured at fair value. Interest income under the effective interest method, foreign exchange gains and losses and impairment are recognised in the consolidated statement of profit and loss. Other net gains and losses are recognised in OCI. On derecognition, gains and losses accumulated in OCI are reclassified to the Restated Consolidated Summary Statement of Profit and Loss.

(iv) Equity investments at FVOCI:

These assets are subsequently measured at fair value. Dividends are recognised as income in the Restated Consolidated Summary Statement of Profit and Loss unless the dividend clearly represents a recovery of part of the cost of the investment. Other net gains and losses are recognised in OCI and are not reclassified to the Restated Consolidated Summary Statement of Profit and Loss.

Financial liabilities: Classification, subsequent measurement and gains and losses

Financial liabilities are classified as measured at amortised cost or FVTPL. A financial liability is classified as at FVTPL if it is classified as held-for-trading, or it is a derivative or it is designated as such on initial recognition. Financial liabilities at FVTPL are measured at fair value and net gains and losses, including any interest expense, are recognised in the Restated Consolidated Summary Statement of Profit and Loss. Other financial liabilities are subsequently measured at amortised cost using the effective interest method. Interest expense and foreign exchange gains and losses are recognised in the Restated Consolidated Summary Statement of Profit and Loss. Any gain or loss on derecognition is also recognised in the Restated Consolidated Summary Statement of Profit and Loss. See Annexure V, Note 3.5 (e) for financial liabilities designated as hedging instruments.

(c) Derecognition

Financial assets

The Group derecognises a financial asset when the contractual rights to the cash flows from the financial asset expire, or it transfers the rights to receive the contractual cash flows in a transaction in which substantially all of the risks and rewards of ownership of the financial asset are transferred or in which the Group neither transfers nor retains substantially all of the risks and rewards of ownership and does not retain control of the financial asset.

If the Group enters into transactions whereby it transfers assets recognised on its balance sheet, but retains either all or substantially all of the risks and rewards of the transferred assets, the transferred assets are not derecognised.

Financial liabilities

The Group derecognises a financial liability when its contractual obligations are discharged or cancelled, or expire. The Group also derecognises a financial liability when its terms are modified and the cash flows under the modified terms are substantially different. In this case, a new financial liability based on the modified terms is recognised at fair value. The difference between the carrying amount of the financial liability extinguished and the new financial liability with modified terms is recognised in the Restated Consolidated Summary Statement of Profit and Loss.

(d) Offsetting

Financial assets and financial liabilities are offset and the net amount presented in the balance sheet when, and only when, the Group currently has a legally enforceable right to set off the amounts and it intends either to settle them on a net basis or to realise the asset and settle the liability simultaneously.

(e) Derivative financial instruments and hedge accounting

The Group holds derivative financial instruments to hedge its foreign currency risk exposures. Embedded derivatives are separated from the host contract and accounted for separately if the host contract is not a financial asset and certain criteria are met.

(formerly known as Sterling and Wilson Solar Private Limited)

Derivatives are initially measured at fair value. Subsequent to initial recognition, derivatives are measured at fair value, and changes therein are generally recognised in the Restated Consolidated Summary Statement of Profit and Loss.

The Group designates certain derivatives as hedging instruments to hedge variability in cash flows associated with highly probable forecast transactions arising from changes in foreign exchange rates.

At inception of designated hedging relationships, the Group documents the risk management objective and strategy for undertaking the hedge. The Group also documents the economic relationship between the hedged item and the hedging instrument, including whether the changes in cash flows of the hedged item and hedging instrument are expected to offset each other.

Cash flow hedges

When a derivative is designated as a cash flow hedging instrument, the effective portion of changes in the fair value of the derivative is recognised in OCI and accumulated in the other equity under 'effective portion of cash flow hedges'. The effective portion of changes in the fair value of the derivative that is recognised in OCI is limited to the cumulative change in fair value of the hedged item, determined on a present value basis, from inception of the hedge. Any ineffective portion of changes in the fair value of the derivatives is recognised immediately in the Restated Consolidated Summary Statement of Profit and Loss.

When the hedged forecast transaction subsequently results in the recognition of a non-financial item such as inventory, the amount accumulated in other equity is included directly in the initial cost of the non-financial item when it is recognised. For all other hedged forecast transactions, the amount accumulated in other equity is reclassified to the Restated Consolidated Summary Statement of Profit and Loss in the same period or periods during which the hedged expected future cash flows affect profit or loss.

If a hedge no longer meets the criteria for hedge accounting or the hedging instrument is sold, expires, is terminated or is exercised, then hedge accounting is discontinued prospectively. When hedge accounting for cash flow hedges is discontinued, the amount that has been accumulated in other equity remains there until, for a hedge of a transaction resulting in recognition of a non-financial item, it is included in the non-financial item's cost on its initial recognition or for other cash flow hedges, it is reclassified to the Restated Consolidated Summary Statement of Profit and Loss in the same period or periods as the hedged expected future cash flows affect profit or loss.

If the hedged future cash flows are no longer expected to occur, then the amounts that have been accumulated in other equity are immediately reclassified to the Restated Consolidated Summary Statement of Profit and Loss.

3.6 Fair Value

The Group measures financial instruments at fair value in accordance with the accounting policies mentioned above. Fair value is the price that would be received to sell an asset or paid to transfer a liability in an orderly transaction between market participants at the measurement date. The fair value measurement is based on the presumption that the transaction to sell the asset or transfer the liability takes place either:

- (i) in the principal market for the asset or liability; or
- (ii) in the absence of a principal market, in the most advantageous market for the asset or liability.

All assets and liabilities for which fair value is measured or disclosed in the Restated Consolidated Summary Financial Information are categorised within the fair value hierarchy that categorises into three levels, as described as follows, the inputs to valuation techniques used to measure value. The fair value hierarchy gives the highest priority to quoted prices in active markets for identical assets or liabilities (Level 1 inputs) and the lowest priority to unobservable inputs (level 3 inputs).

Level 1 : quoted (unadjusted) market prices in active markets for identical assets or liabilities.

Level 2 : inputs other than quoted prices included within Level 1 that are observable for the asset or liability, either directly or indirectly.

Level 3 : inputs that are unobservable for the asset or liability

For assets and liabilities that are recognised in the Restated Consolidated Summary Financial Information at fair value on a recurring basis, the Group determines whether transfers have occurred between levels in the hierarchy by re-assessing categorisation at the end of each reporting year/period.

3.7 Property, plant and equipment

Recognition and measurement

The cost of an item of property, plant and equipment is recognised as an asset if, and only if, it is probable that future economic benefits associated with the item will flow to the Group and the cost of the item can be measured reliably and is measured at cost. Subsequent to recognition, all items of property, plant and equipment (except for freehold land) are stated at cost less accumulated depreciation and accumulated impairment losses.

If the cost of an individual part of property, plant and equipment is significant relative to the total cost of the item, the individual part is accounted for and depreciated separately.

The cost of property, plant and equipment comprises its purchase price plus any costs directly attributable to bringing the asset to the location and condition necessary for it to be capable of operating in the manner intended by management and the initial estimate of decommissioning, restoration and similar liabilities, if any. Subsequent expenditure is capitalised only if it is probable that the future economic benefits associated with the expenditure will flow to the Group.

Items such as spare parts, stand-by equipments and servicing that meets the definition of property, plant and equipment are capitalised at cost and depreciated over the useful life. Cost of repairs and maintenance are recognised in the Restated Consolidated Summary Statement of Profit and Loss as and when incurred.

Capital work in progress and Capital advances:

Assets under construction includes the cost of property, plant and equipment that are not ready to use at the balance sheet date. Advances paid to acquire property, plant and equipment before the balance sheet date are disclosed under other non-current assets. Assets under construction are not depreciated as these assets are not yet available for use.

Depreciation

Depreciation on property, plant and equipment has been provided using the straight line method over the estimated useful lives prescribed by Schedule II of the Act, except for certain items of plant and machinery (such as welding machine, drilling machine, porta cabin etc. whose useful life has been estimated to be five years) wherein depreciation is provided based on the estimated useful lives of the plant and machinery so acquired, determined by the Group's management based on the technical evaluation carried out by the projects team. Depreciation on additions (disposals) is provided on a pro-rata basis i.e. from (upto) the date on which asset is ready for use (disposed of). The useful lives used, as set out in the following table, are lower than or as those specified in Schedule II of the Act as under :

Assets	Life in no. of years	Schedule II useful lives
Plant and equipment	5 years to 15 years	15 years
Furniture and fixtures	3 years to 10 years	10 years
Vehicles	8 years to 10 years	8 years to 10 years
Computer hardware	3 years to 6 years	3 years / 6 years
Building	10 years to 30 years	30 years

Assets acquired under finance leases are depreciated over the shorter of the lease term and their useful lives unless it is reasonably certain that the Group will obtain ownership by the end of the lease term.

Lease hold improvements are amortised over the primary lease period or the useful life of the assets, whichever is lower.

Depreciation method, useful lives and residual values are reviewed at each financial year-end and adjusted if appropriate.

Assets costing INR 5,000 or less are fully depreciated in the period of purchase.

3.8 Goodwill

For measurement of goodwill that arises on a business combination, refer note 3.2. Subsequent measurement is at cost less any accumulated impairment losses.

3.9 Other intangible assets

Intangible assets comprise primarily of computer software (including enterprise systems) and licences (includes construction license and ISO license). Intangible assets are initially recorded at cost and subsequent to recognition, intangible assets are stated at cost less accumulated amortisation and accumulated impairment losses.

Amortisation

Other intangible assets are amortised over an expected benefit period as follows using straight line method.

Assets	Life in no. of years	Schedule II useful lives
Computer Software	1 years to 5 years	5 years
Licenses	1 years to 5 years	5 years

(Currency: Indian rupees in million)

Amortisation (Continued)

The amortisation period and the amortisation method for an intangible asset with finite useful life is reviewed at the end of each financial year. If any of these expectations differ from previous estimates, such changes is accounted for as a change in an accounting estimate.

Derecognition

An item of intangible asset is derecognised upon disposal or when no future economic benefits are expected from its use or disposal. Any gain or loss on derecognition of an item of intangible asset is measured as the difference between the net disposal proceeds and the carrying amount of the item and is recognised in the Restated Consolidated Summary Statement of profit and loss in the period the asset is derecognised.

3.10 Inventories

Material at central stores comprises modules, wires, cables, components, stores and spares. Stock in trade comprises of land acquired for Solar EPC projects.

Inventories are valued at lower of cost or net realisable value; cost is determined on the moving weighted average method basis. Net realisable value is the estimated selling price in the ordinary course of business, less estimated costs of completion and estimated costs necessary to make the sale.

3.11 Impairment

Impairment of non-derivative financial assets

A financial asset is assessed at each reporting date to determine whether there is objective evidence that it is impaired. A financial asset is impaired if objective evidence indicates that a loss event has occurred after the initial recognition of the asset, and that the loss event had a negative effect on the estimated future cash flows of that asset that can be estimated reliably.

The Group applies expected credit losses (ECL) model for measurement and recognition of loss allowance on the following:

- (i) Trade receivables, lease receivables, contract revenue receivables and unbilled revenue; and
- (ii) Financial assets measured at amortised cost (other than trade receivables, lease receivables, contract revenue receivables and unbilled revenue).

In case of trade receivables, contract revenue receivables and lease receivables, the Group follows a simplified approach wherein an amount equal to lifetime ECL is measured and recognition as loss allowance. For all other financial assets, expected credit losses are measured at an amount equal to the 12 month ECL, unless there has been a significant increase in credit risk from initial recognition in which case those are measured at lifetime of ECL.

ECL is the difference between all contractual cash flows that are due to the Group in accordance with the contract and all the cash flows that the entity expects to receive (i.e. all cash shortfalls), discounted at the original effective interest rate.

Lifetime ECL are the expected credit losses resulting from all possible defaults events over the expected life of a financial asset. 12 month ECL are a portion of the lifetime ECL which result from default events that are possible within 12 months from the reporting date.

ECL are measured in a manner that they reflect unbiased and profitability weighted amounts determined by a range of outcomes, taking into account the time value of money and other reasonable information available as a result of past events, current conditions and forecasts of future economic

The amount of expected credit losses (or reversal) that is required to adjust the loss allowance at the reporting date to the amount that is required to be recognised is recognised as an impairment gain or loss in the Restated Consolidated Summary Statement of Profit and Loss.

Impairment of non-financial assets

The carrying amount of the Group's non-financial assets, other than inventories and deferred tax assets, is reviewed at each reporting date to determine whether there is any indication of impairment. If any such indication exists then the asset's recoverable amount is estimated. Goodwill is tested annually for impairment.

For impairment testing, assets that do not generate independent cash inflows are grouped together into cash-generating units (CGUs). Each CGU represents the smallest group of assets that generates cash inflows that are largely independent of the cash inflows of other assets or CGUs.

Goodwill arising from a business combination is allocated to CGUs or groups of CGUs that are expected to benefit from the synergies of the combination.

The recoverable amount of a CGU (or an individual asset) is the higher of its value in use and its fair value less costs to sell. Value in use is based on the estimated future cash flows, discounted to their present value using a pre-tax discount rate that reflects current market assessments of the time value of money and the risks specific to the CGU (or the asset).

An impairment loss is recognised if the carrying amount of an asset or CGU exceeds its estimated recoverable amount. Impairment losses are recognised in the Restated Consolidated Summary Statement of Profit and Loss.

Impairment loss recognised in respect of a CGU is allocated first to reduce the carrying amount of any goodwill allocated to the CGU, and then to reduce the carrying amounts of the other assets of the CGU (or group of CGUs) on a pro rata basis.

An impairment loss in respect of goodwill is not subsequently reversed. In respect of other assets for which impairment loss has been recognised in prior periods, the Group reviews at each reporting date whether there is any indication that the loss has decreased or no longer exists. An impairment loss is reversed if there has been a change in the estimates used to determine the recoverable amount. Such a reversal is made only to the extent that the asset's carrying amount does not exceed the carrying amount that would have been determined, net of depreciation or amortisation, if no impairment loss had been recognised.

3.12 Employee benefits

Short-term employee benefits

Short-term employee benefit obligations are measured on an undiscounted basis and are expensed as the related service is provided. A liability is recognised for the amount expected to be paid e.g., under short-term cash bonus, if the Group has a present legal or constructive obligation to pay this amount as a result of past service provided by the employee, and the amount of obligation can be estimated reliably.

Post-employment benefits

(i) Defined contribution plans

A defined contribution plan is a plan for the post employment benefit of an employee under which the Group pays fixed periodic contributions into Provident Fund and Employee State Insurance Corporations in accordance with Indian regulations. The Group has no further legal or constructive obligation to pay once contributions are made. Obligations for contributions to defined contribution plans are recognised as an employee benefit expense in the Restated Consolidated Summary Statement of Profit and Loss in the periods during which the related services are rendered by employees. In respect of overseas entities, the Group's contribution towards defined contribution benefit plan is accrued in compliance with the domestic laws of the country in which the consolidated foreign entities operate.

(ii) Defined benefit plans

The Group's gratuity benefit scheme and terminal benefit scheme (in overseas jurisdictions) are a defined benefit plan. The Group's net obligation in respect of the gratuity benefit scheme is calculated by estimating the amount of future benefit that employees have earned in return for their service in the current and prior periods; that benefit is discounted to determine its present value.

The present value of the obligation under such defined benefit plan is determined based on actuarial valuation by an independent actuary using the Projected Unit Credit Method, which recognises each period of service as giving rise to additional unit of employee benefit entitlement and measures each unit separately to build up the final obligation. The obligation is measured at the present value of the estimated future cash flows. The discount rates used for determining the present value of the obligation under defined benefit plan, are based on the market yields on Government securities as at the balance sheet date.

All remeasurement gains and losses arising from defined benefit plans are recognised in the Restated Consolidated Summary Statement of Other Comprehensive Income in the period in which they occur and not reclassified to the Restated Consolidated Summary Statement of Profit and Loss in the subsequent period. The Group determines the net interest expense (income) on the net defined benefit liability (asset) for the period by applying the discount rate used to measure the defined benefit obligation at the beginning of the annual period to the then-net defined benefit liability (asset), taking into account any changes in the net defined benefit liability (asset) during the period as a result of contributions and benefit payments. Net interest expense and other expenses related to defined benefit plans are recognised in the Restated Consolidated Summary Statement of Profit and Loss.

When the benefits of a plan are changed or when a plan is curtailed, the resulting change in benefit that relates to past service or the gain or loss on curtailment is recognised immediately in the Restated Consolidated Summary Statement of Profit and Loss. The Group recognises gains and losses on the settlement of a defined benefit plan when the settlement occurs in the Restated Consolidated Summary Statement of Profit and Loss.

In respect of the overseas subsidiaries, up to 31 March 2018, provision were made for employees' terminal benefits on the basis prescribed under the labor laws of the respective countries in which the overseas subsidiaries operates and was determined based on arithmetic calculation. Subsequently the present value of the obligation is determined based on actuarial valuation by an independent actuary using the Projected Unit Credit Method.

Other long-term employee benefits

The Group's net obligation in respect of long-term employment benefits, other than gratuity and terminal benefits, is the amount of future benefit that employees have earned in return for their service in the current and prior periods. The obligation is calculated at the balance sheet date on the basis of an actuarial valuation done by an independent actuary using the projected unit credit method and is discounted to its present value and the fair value of any related assets is deducted. Remeasurements gains or losses are recognised in the Restated Consolidated Summary Statement of profit and loss in the period in which they arise.

Compensated absences which are not expected to occur within twelve months after the end of the period in which the employee renders the related services are recognised as a liability at the present value of the defined benefit obligation at the balance sheet date. The discount rates used for determining the present value of the obligation under long term employment benefits, are based on the market yields on Government securities as at the balance sheet date.

Equity settled share based payments

Employees of the Group receive remuneration in the form of share-based payments, whereby employees render services as consideration for equity instruments. The cost of equity-settled transactions is determined by the fair value at the date when the grant is made using an appropriate valuation model.

That cost is recognised, together with a corresponding increase in share-based payment reserves in equity, over the period in which the performance and/or service conditions are fulfilled. The cumulative expense recognised for equity-settled transactions at each reporting date until the vesting date reflects the extent to which the vesting period has expired and the Group's best estimate of the number of equity instruments that will ultimately vest.

When the terms of an equity-settled award are modified, the minimum expense recognised is the expense had the terms had not been modified, if the original terms of the award are met. An additional expense is recognised for any modification that increases the total fair value of the share-based payment transaction, or is otherwise beneficial to the employee as measured at the date of modification. Where an award is cancelled by the entity or by the counterparty, any remaining element of the fair value of the award is expensed immediately through the Restated Consolidated Statement of Profit and Loss. The dilutive effect of outstanding options is reflected as additional share dilution in the computation of diluted earnings per share.

3.13 Provisions and Contingencies

A provision is recognised if, as a result of a past event, the Group has a present legal or constructive obligation that can be estimated reliably, and it is probable that an outflow of economic benefits will be required to settle the obligation. Provisions are determined by discounting the expected future cash flows (representing the best estimate of the expenditure required to settle the present obligation at the balance sheet date) at a pre-tax rate that reflects current market assessments of the time value of money and the risks specific to the liability. The unwinding of the discount is recognised as finance cost. Expected future operating losses are not provided for.

A disclosure for a contingent liability is made when there is a possible obligation or a present obligation that may, but probably will not require an outflow of resources embodying economic benefits or the amount of such obligation cannot be measured reliably. When there is a possible obligation or a present obligation in respect of which likelihood of outflow of resources embodying economic benefits is remote, no provision or disclosure is made.

A contingent asset is disclosed where an inflow of economic benefits is probable.

Onerous contracts

A contract is considered to be onerous when the expected economic benefits to be derived by the Group from the contract are lower than the unavoidable cost of meeting its obligations under the contract. The provision for an onerous contract is measured at the present value of the lower of the expected cost of terminating the contract and the expected net cost of continuing with the contract. Before such a provision is made, the Group recognises any impairment loss on the assets associated with that contract.

3.14 Revenue recognition

The Group has adopted Ind AS 115, Revenue from Contracts with Customers, with effect from 1 April 2018. However, as required by SEBI (Issue of Capital and Disclosure Requirements) Regulations, 2018, issued by the SEBI, the standard has been effected retrospectively with effect from 9 March 2017 and accordingly prior year financial statements for the year ended 31 March 2019 and 31 March 2018 have been restated. The Group has applied the following accounting policy in the preparation of the Restated Consolidated Summary Financial Information:

Revenue from contracts with customers

The Group recognises revenue from contracts with customers based on a five step model as set out in Ind AS 115:

Step 1: Identify the contract(s) with a customer: A contract is defined as an agreement between two or more parties that creates enforceable rights and obligations and sets out the criteria for every contract that must be met.

Step 2: Identify the performance obligations in the contract: A performance obligation is a promise in a contract with a customer to transfer a good or service to the customer.

Step 3: Determine the transaction price: The transaction price is the amount of consideration to which the Group expects to be entitled in exchange for transferring promised goods or services to a customer, excluding amounts collected on behalf of third parties.

Step 4: Allocate the transaction price to the performance obligations in the contract: For a contract that has more than one performance obligation, the Group will allocate the transaction price to each performance obligation in an amount that depicts the amount of consideration to which the Group expects to be entitled in exchange for satisfying each performance obligation.

Step 5: Recognise revenue when (or as) the entity satisfies a performance obligation.

The Group satisfies a performance obligation and recognises revenue over time, if one of the following criteria is met:

1. The customer simultaneously receives and consumes the benefits provided by Group; or
2. The Group's performance creates or enhances an asset that the customer controls as the asset is created or enhanced; or
3. The Group's performance does not create an asset with an alternative use to the Group and the entity has an enforceable right to payment for performance completed to date.

Revenue is measured at the fair value of the consideration received or receivable, taking into account contractually defined terms of payment and excluding taxes and duty. The Group assesses its revenue arrangements against specific criteria to determine if it is acting as principal or agent. The Group has concluded that it is acting as a principal in all of its revenue arrangements.

Revenue from works contract

Revenue from works contracts, where the outcome can be estimated reliably, is recognised under the percentage of completion method by reference to the stage of completion of the contract activity. The stage of completion is measured by calculating the proportion that costs incurred to date bear to the estimated total costs of a contract. Determination of revenues under the percentage of completion method necessarily involves making estimates by the management.

When the Group satisfies a performance obligation by delivering the promised goods or services it creates a contract asset based on the amount of consideration to be earned by the performance. Where the amount of consideration received from a customer exceeds the amount of revenue recognised this gives rise to a contract liability.

Any variations in contract work, claims, incentive payments are included in the transaction price if it is highly probable that a significant reversal of revenue will not occur once associated uncertainties are resolved.

Consideration is adjusted for the time value of money if the period between the transfer of goods or services and the receipt of payment exceeds twelve months and there is a significant financing benefit either to the customer or the Group.

Revenue from sale of goods

The Group recognises revenue from sale of goods once the customer takes possession of the goods. Revenue represents the invoice value of goods provided to third parties net of discounts and sales taxes/value added taxes/goods and service tax.

Operation and maintenance income

The Group recognises revenue from Operations and Maintenance services using the time-elapsing measure of progress i.e input method on a straight line basis.

Multiple deliverable arrangements

When two or more revenue generating activities or deliverables are provided under a single arrangement, each deliverable that is considered to be a separate unit of account is accounted for separately. The allocation of consideration from a revenue arrangement to its separate units of account is based on the relative fair value of each unit. If the fair value of the delivered item is not reliably measurable, then revenue is allocated based on the difference between the total arrangement consideration and the fair value of the undelivered item.

3.15 Export incentives

Export incentives receivable are accrued for when the right to receive the credit is established and there is no significant uncertainty regarding the ultimate collection of export proceeds. The export incentives are disclosed as other operating income in the Restated Consolidated Summary Financial Information.

3.16 Advances from customers, progress payments and retention

Advances received from customers in respect of contracts are treated as liabilities and adjusted against progress billing as per terms of the contract.

Progress payments received are adjusted against amount receivable from customers in respect of the contract work performed.

Amounts retained by the customers until the satisfactory completion of the contracts are recognised as receivables.

3.17 Leases

Determining whether an arrangement contains a lease

At inception of an arrangement, it is determined whether the arrangement is or contains a lease. At inception or on reassessment of the arrangement that contains a lease, the payments and other consideration required by such an arrangement are separated into those for the lease and those for other elements on the basis of their relative fair values. If it is concluded for a finance lease that it is impracticable to separate the payments reliably, then an asset and a liability are recognised at an amount equal to the fair value of the underlying asset. The liability is reduced as payments are made and an imputed finance cost on the liability is recognised using the incremental borrowing rate.

Assets held under leases

Leases of property, plant and equipment that transfer to the Group substantially all the risks and rewards of ownership are classified as finance leases. The leased assets are measured initially at an amount equal to the lower of their fair value and the present value of the minimum lease payments. Subsequent to initial recognition, the assets are accounted for in accordance with the accounting policy applicable to similar owned assets.

Assets held under leases that do not transfer to the Group substantially all the risks and rewards of ownership (i.e. operating leases) are not recognised in the Restated Consolidated Summary Statement of Assets and Liabilities.

Lease payments

Payments made under operating leases are generally recognised in the Restated Consolidated Summary Statement of Profit and Loss on a straight-line basis over the term of the lease unless such payments are structured to increase in line with expected general inflation to compensate for the lessor's expected inflationary cost increases. Lease incentives received are recognised as an integral part of the total lease expense over the term of the lease.

Minimum lease payments made under finance leases are apportioned between the finance charge and the reduction of the outstanding liability. The finance charge is allocated to each period during the lease term so as to produce a constant periodic rate of interest on the remaining balance of the liability.

3.18 Recognition of dividend income, interest income or expense

Dividend income is recognised in the Restated Consolidated Summary Statement of Profit and Loss on the date on which the Group's right to receive payment is established.

Interest income or expense is recognised using the effective interest method.

The 'effective interest rate' is the rate that exactly discounts estimated future cash payments or receipts through the expected life of the financial instrument to:

- the gross carrying amount of the financial asset; or
- the amortised cost of the financial liability.

In calculating interest income and expense, the effective interest rate is applied to the gross carrying amount of the asset (when the asset is not credit-impaired) or to the amortised cost of the liability. However, for financial assets that have become credit-impaired subsequent to initial recognition, interest income is calculated by applying the effective interest rate to the amortised cost of the financial asset. If the asset is no longer credit-impaired, then the calculation of interest income reverts to the gross basis.

3.19 Income tax

Income tax comprises current and deferred tax. It is recognised in the Restated Consolidated Summary Statement of Profit and Loss except to the extent that it relates to a business combination or to an item recognised directly in equity or in other comprehensive income.

Current tax

Current tax comprises the expected tax payable or receivable on the taxable income or loss for the year and any adjustment to the tax payable or receivable in respect of previous years. The amount of current tax reflects the best estimate of the tax amount expected to be paid or received after considering the uncertainty, if any, related to income taxes. It is measured using applicable tax rates (and tax laws) enacted or substantively enacted by the reporting date.

Current tax assets and current tax liabilities are offset only if there is a legally enforceable right to set off the recognised amounts, and it is intended to realise the asset and settle the liability on a net basis or simultaneously.

Minimum Alternative Tax ('MAT')

Minimum Alternative Tax ('MAT') under the provisions of the Income-tax Act, 1961 is recognised as current tax in the Restated Consolidated Summary Statement of profit and loss. The credit available under the Act in respect of MAT paid is recognised as a deferred tax asset only when and to the extent there is convincing evidence that the Group will pay normal income tax during the period for which the MAT credit can be carried forward for set-off against the normal tax liability. MAT credit recognised as an deferred tax asset is reviewed at each balance sheet date and written down to the extent the aforesaid convincing evidence no longer exists.

Deferred tax

Deferred tax is recognised in respect of temporary differences between the carrying amounts of assets and liabilities for financial reporting purposes and the corresponding amounts used for taxation purposes. Deferred tax is also recognised in respect of carried forward tax losses and tax credits.

Deferred tax is not recognised for:

- temporary differences arising on the initial recognition of assets or liabilities in a transaction that is not a business combination and that affects neither accounting nor taxable profit or loss at the time of the transaction;
- temporary differences related to investments in subsidiaries and joint arrangements to the extent that the Group is able to control the timing of the reversal of the temporary differences and it is probable that they will not reverse in the foreseeable future; and
- taxable temporary differences arising on the initial recognition of goodwill.

Deferred tax assets are recognised to the extent that it is probable that future taxable profits will be available against which they can be used. The existence of unused tax losses is strong evidence that future taxable profit may not be available. Therefore, in case of a history of recent losses, the Group recognises a deferred tax asset only to the extent that it has sufficient taxable temporary differences or there is convincing other evidence that sufficient taxable profit will be available against which such deferred tax asset can be realised. Deferred tax assets – unrecognised or recognised, are reviewed at each reporting date and are recognised/ reduced to the extent that it is probable/ no longer probable respectively that the related tax benefit will be realised.

Deferred tax is measured at the tax rates that are expected to apply to the period when the asset is realised or the liability is settled, based on the laws that have been enacted or substantively enacted by the reporting date.

The measurement of deferred tax reflects the tax consequences that would follow from the manner in which the Group expects, at the reporting date, to recover or settle the carrying amount of its assets and liabilities.

Deferred tax assets and liabilities are offset if there is a legally enforceable right to offset current tax liabilities and assets, and they relate to income taxes levied by the same tax authority on the same taxable entity, or on different tax entities, but they intend to settle current tax liabilities and assets on a net basis or their tax assets and liabilities will be realised simultaneously.

3.20 Borrowing costs

Borrowing costs are interest and other costs (including exchange differences relating to foreign currency borrowings to the extent that they are regarded as an adjustment to interest costs) incurred in connection with the borrowing of funds. Borrowing costs directly attributable to acquisition or construction of an asset which necessarily take a substantial period of time to get ready for their intended use are capitalised as part of the cost of that asset. Other borrowing costs are recognised as an expense in the period in which they are incurred.

3.21 Consolidated statement of cash flows

The Group's consolidated statement of cash flows are prepared using the Indirect method, whereby profit for the period is adjusted for the effects of transactions of a non-cash nature, any deferrals or accruals of past or future operating cash receipts or payments and item of income or expenses associated with investing or financing cash flows. The cash flows from operating, investing and financing activities of the Group are segregated.

Cash and cash equivalents comprise cash and bank balances and short-term fixed bank deposits that are subject to an insignificant risk of changes in value.

3.22 Earnings per share

The basic earnings per share ('EPS') is computed by dividing the net profit attributable to equity shareholders for the year/period, by the weighted average number of equity shares outstanding during the year/period.

Diluted EPS is computed using the weighted average number of equity and dilutive (potential) equity equivalent shares outstanding during the year/period except where the results would be anti-dilutive.

3.23 Events after reporting date

Where events occurring after the balance sheet date provide evidence of conditions that existed at the end of the reporting period, the impact of such events is adjusted with the consolidated financial statements. Otherwise, events after the balance sheet date of material size or nature are only disclosed.

3.24 Measurement of earnings before interest, tax, depreciation and amortisation (EBITDA)

The Group has opted to present earnings before interest (finance cost), tax, depreciation and amortisation (EBITDA) as a separate line item on the face of the Restated Consolidated Summary Statement of Profit and Loss for the year ended 31 March 2019 and for the period beginning from 9 March 2017 to 31 March 2018. The Group measures EBITDA on the basis of profit/loss from continuing operations including other income. Finance cost includes interest on borrowings, financial guarantee and foreign exchange on borrowing cost to the extent it is considered to be an adjustment to the interest rate.

3.25 Standards issued but not yet effective

Standards and amendments to published standards that have been published but will be effective from 1 April 2019:

Ind AS 116, Leases: Ind AS 116 is applicable for financial reporting periods beginning on or after 1 April 2019 and replaces existing lease accounting guidance, namely Ind AS 17 Leases. Ind AS 116 introduces a single, on-balance sheet lease accounting model for lessees. A lessee recognises a right-of-use ("ROU") asset representing its right to use the underlying asset and a lease liability representing its obligation to make lease payments. The nature of expenses related to those leases will change as Ind AS 116 replaces the operating lease expense (i.e., rent) with depreciation charge for ROU assets and interest expense on lease liabilities. There are recognition exemptions for short-term leases and leases of low-value items. Lessor accounting remains similar to the current standard – i.e. lessors continue to classify leases as finance or operating leases.

The Group will adopt Ind AS 116 effective annual reporting period beginning April 1, 2019. The Group will apply the standard to its leases, using modified retrospective method under which the right-of-use asset is at an amount equal to the lease liability.

On transition, for leases other than short-term leases and leases of low value assets, the Group will recognise a right-of-use asset of Rs 111.44 millions and a corresponding lease liability of Rs 111.44 millions, with no impact on retained earnings.

In addition to the above, the following amendments to existing standards have been issued, are not yet effective and are not expected to have a significant impact on the Group's restated consolidated summary financial information:

- Amendments to Ind AS 103, Business Combinations, and Ind AS 111, Joint Arrangements: This interpretation clarifies how an entity accounts for increasing its interest in a joint operation that meets the definition of a business.
- Amendments to Ind AS 109, Financial Instruments: amendments relating to the classification of particular prepayable financial assets
- Amendments to Ind AS 12, Income Taxes, clarify that all income tax consequences of dividends (including payments on financial instruments classified as equity) are recognized consistently with the transactions that generated the distributable profits – i.e. in profit or loss, other comprehensive income or equity. Further Appendix C, uncertainty over income tax treatments has been added to clarify how entities should reflect uncertainties over income tax treatments, in particular when assessing the outcome a tax authority might reach with full knowledge and information if it were to make an examination.
- Amendment to Ind AS 19, Employee Benefits - The amendment to Ind AS 19 clarifies that on amendment, curtailment or settlement of a defined benefit plan, the current service cost and net interest for the remainder of the annual reporting period are calculated using updated actuarial assumptions – i.e. consistent with the calculation of a gain or loss on the plan amendment, curtailment or settlement. This amendment also clarifies that an entity first determines any past service cost, or a gain or loss on settlement, without considering the effect of the asset ceiling. This amount is recognized in profit or loss. The entity then determines the effect of the asset ceiling after plan amendment, curtailment or settlement. Any change in that effect is recognized in other comprehensive income (except for amounts included in net interest).
- Amendments to Ind AS 23, Borrowing Costs, clarify that the general borrowings pool used to calculate eligible borrowing costs excludes only borrowings that specifically finance qualifying assets that are still under development or construction.
- Amendments to Ind AS 28, Investments in Associates and Joint Ventures: When applying the equity method, a non-investment entity that has an interest in an investment entity associate or joint venture can elect to retain the fair value accounting applied by the associate or joint venture to its subsidiaries. Venture capital and other qualifying organizations can elect to measure investments in associates or joint ventures at fair value through profit or loss instead of applying the equity method. The amendments clarify that both these elections apply for each investment entity associate or joint venture separately.

During the current year, the Group has acquired the following two subsidiaries:

Name of subsidiary	Country of registration and principal place of business	Proportion of ownership interest held by the Group
GCO Electrical Pty Ltd.	Australia	76%
Sterling and Wilson International LLP (formerly known as A&S Company LLP)	Kazakhstan	100%

A) Acquisition of Sterling and Wilson International LLP- Kazakhstan (formerly known as A&S Company LLP)

On 22 June 2018, the Group acquired 100% ownership interest in Sterling and Wilson International LLP (formerly A&S Company LLP) in Kazakhstan for a total consideration of USD 60,000 (equivalent to Rs 4.16 millions).

The determined fair values of the assets and liabilities of Sterling and Wilson International LLP (formerly A&S Company LLP) as at the date of acquisition are as follows:

Description	Amounts

Net identifiable assets acquired	0.07
Add: Intangible asset (Construction license) arising on acquisition (Note 4)	4.09
Total	4.16
Purchase consideration paid in cash	4.16
Goodwill on acquisition	-

The management of the Group has allocated the excess of purchase consideration over the net identifiable assets acquired to the expected synergies arising from a construction license held by Sterling and Wilson International LLP (formerly A&S Company LLP).

From the date of acquisition, Sterling and Wilson International LLP (formerly A&S Company LLP) did not contribute any amount to the revenue and profit of the Group. Further, if the acquisition has occurred on 1 April 2018, the Group's revenue and profit for the year ended 31 March 2019 would have remained unchanged. This is due to Sterling and Wilson International LLP not having any operations during the year.

Acquisition-related cost

The Company incurred acquisition related cost Rs 0.31 million.

B) Acquisition of GCO Electrical Proprietary Limited

Effective 31 December 2018, the Group acquired 76% ownership interest in GCO Electrical Pty Ltd., Australia.

The gross contractual amounts and the fair value of trade receivables acquired is Rs 41.34 million. None of the trade receivables are credit impaired and it is expected that the full contractual amounts will be recoverable. Goodwill on acquisition was Rs 31.15 million and it is not expected to be deductible for tax purpose.

B) Acquisition of GCO Electrical Proprietary Limited (Continued)

From the date of acquisition, GCO Electrical Proprietary Limited contributed Rs 26.03 million of revenue and Rs 17.45 million of loss before tax to the Group. If the acquisition had taken place at the beginning of the period, the Group's revenue and profit before tax would have been Rs 85,017.57 millions and Rs. 7,509.43 millions respectively.

The Company incurred acquisition related cost: Rs 8.88 million.

The purchase consideration payable by the Parent Company was transferred to an escrow account as per the share purchase and shareholders agreement ("the agreement"), (Refer note 13). The purchase consideration shall be payable from the Escrow account on the respective dates as follows:

a) Upfront consideration representing 25% of the purchase consideration less the closing loss (loss for the period from 30 June 2018 to 6 December 2018) is payable on 6 December 2018. Since the amount of closing loss exceeded the 25% of the purchase consideration, no amount was paid on 6 December 2018.

b) Conditional consideration representing 75% of the purchase consideration payable in 2 tranches as follows:

i) First tranche consideration representing 25% of the purchase consideration shall be adjusted for subsidiary's loss for the period from 6 December 2018 to 6 June 2019, other losses due to the occurrence of any event of default as defined in the agreement, receivables at 30 June 2018 not collected as of 6 June 2019 and loss incurred by GCO Electrical Pty Ltd. from payment of a claim made by liquidators of a customer. The first tranche was payable on 6 June 2019, however, the above mentioned conditions were not met on the due date accordingly the consideration towards the first tranche was not payable.

ii) Second tranche consideration representing 50% of the purchase consideration shall be adjusted for certain carry forward deductions not fully able to be deducted from the first tranche consideration, other losses due to the occurrence of any event of default as defined in the agreement and loss incurred by GCO Electrical Pty Ltd. from payment of a claim made by liquidators of a customer. The second tranche shall be payable on 6 December 2019.

Further, as per the agreement, if in the 3 financial years following 6 December 2018, the subsidiary is able to set off its assessable profit against its carried forward tax losses which have accrued prior to 6 December 2018, the Parent Company shall pay to the sellers an amount equal to 76% of the tax benefit which accrues to GCO Electrical Pty Ltd due to the set off of the accrued losses.

In the opinion of the management, the estimated effects of the adjustments to the first and second tranche purchase consideration and the estimated amount of tax benefits payable are not material as at the reporting date.

E) Performance obligation

The Group undertakes Engineering, Procurement and Construction business. The ongoing contracts with customers are for Solar utility and Rooftop Project. The type of work in these contracts involve construction, engineering, designing, supply of materials, development of system, installation, project management, operations and maintenance etc.

The Group evaluates whether each contract consists of a single performance obligation or multiple performance obligations. Contracts where the Group provides a significant integration service to the customer by combining all the goods and services are concluded to have a single performance obligations. Contracts with no significant integration service, and where the customer can benefit from each unit on its own, are concluded to have multiple performance obligations. In such cases consideration is allocated to each performance obligation, based on standalone selling prices. Where the Group enters into multiple contracts with the same customer, the Group evaluates whether the contract is to be combined or not by evaluating factors such as commercial objective of the contract, consideration negotiated with the customer and whether the individual contracts have single performance obligations or not.

The Group recognises contract revenue over time as the performance creates or enhances an asset controlled by the customer. For such arrangements revenue is recognised using cost based input methods. Revenue is recognised with respect to the stage of completion, which is assessed with reference to the proportion of contract costs incurred for the work performed at the balance sheet date relative to the estimated total contract costs.

Any costs incurred that do not contribute to satisfying performance obligations are excluded from the Group's input methods of revenue recognition as the amounts are not reflective of our transferring control of the system to the customer. Significant judgment is required to evaluate assumptions related to the amount of net contract revenues, including the impact of any performance incentives, liquidated damages, and other forms of variable consideration.

If estimated incremental costs on any contract, are greater than the net contract revenues, the Group recognizes the entire estimated loss in the period the loss becomes known. Variations in contract work, claims, incentive payments are included in contract revenue to the extent that may have been agreed with the customer and are capable of being reliably measured.

The Group recognises revenue from Operations and Maintenance services using the time-elapsd measure of progress i.e input method on a straight line basis.

There is no revenue to be recognised in future related to performance obligations that are unsatisfied (or partially satisfied) as at 31 March 2019.

F) Practical expedients:

Applying the practical expedient in paragraph 63 of Ind AS 115, the Group does not adjust the promised amount of consideration for the effects of a significant financing component if at contract inception it is expected that the year/period between when the entity transfers a promised good or service to a customer and when the customer pays for that good or service will be one year or less.

The Group applies practical expedient in paragraph 121 of Ind AS 115 and does not disclose information about remaining performance obligations for EPC contracts that have original expected duration of one year or less.

(c) Financial risk management

The Group has exposure to the following risks arising from financial instruments:

- i) Credit risk ;
- ii) Liquidity risk ; and
- iii) Market risk

Risk management framework

The Group's Board of directors has overall responsibility for the establishment and oversight of the Group's risk management framework.

The Group's risk management policies are established to identify and analyse the risks faced by the Group, to set appropriate risk limits and controls and to monitor risks and adherence to limits. Risk management policies and systems are reviewed regularly to reflect changes in market conditions and the Group's activities. The Group, through its training and management standards and procedures, aims to maintain a disciplined and constructive control environment in which all employees understand their roles and obligations.

The Audit Committee oversees how management monitors compliance with the Group's risk management policies and procedures, and reviews the adequacy of the risk management framework in relation to the risks faced by the Group. The Audit Committee is assisted in its oversight role by internal audit. Internal audit undertakes both regular and ad hoc reviews of risk management controls and procedures, the results of which are reported to the Board of directors of the Group.

i. Credit risk

Credit risk is the risk of financial loss to the Group if a customer or counterparty to a financial instrument fails to meet its contractual obligations, and arises principally from the Group's receivables from customers and investment in debt securities. The carrying amounts of financial assets represent the maximum credit exposure.

Trade and other receivables

The Group's exposure to credit risk is influenced mainly by the individual characteristics of each customer. The demographics of the customer, including the default risk of the industry and country in which the customer operates, also has an influence on credit risk assessment. Credit risk is managed through credit approvals, establishing credit limits and continuously monitoring the creditworthiness of customers to which the Group grants credit terms in the normal course of business. The Group establishes an allowances for doubtful debts and impairments that represents its estimates of incurred losses in respect of trade and other receivable and investment.

Total trade receivable as on 31 March 2019 is Rs 19,002.18 million (31 March 2018: Rs 18,214.70 million).

One largest customer has a total concentration of 14.36% (31 March 2018: One largest customer has a total concentration of 45.13%) of total trade receivables.

As per simplified approach, the Group makes provision of expected credit losses on trade receivables to mitigate the risk of default payments and makes appropriate provision at each reporting date wherever outstanding is for longer period and involves higher risk.

b. Interest rate risk

Interest rate risk is the risk that the fair value or future cash flows of a financial instrument will fluctuate because of changes in market interest rates. The Group's exposure to market risk for changes in interest rates relates to security deposits, loans given and borrowings from financial institutions.

For details of the Group's short-term and long-term loans and borrowings, including interest rate profiles, refer to Note 21 and 23 of these Restated Consolidated Summary Financial Information.

Interest rate sensitivity - fixed rate instruments

The Group's fixed rate borrowings and fixed rate bank deposits are carried at amortised cost. They are therefore not subject to interest rate risk as defined in Ind AS 107, since neither the carrying amount nor the future cash flow will fluctuate because of a change in market interest rates.

Interest rate sensitivity - variable rate instruments

Particulars	31 March 2019		31 March 2018
	Profit or loss		Profit or loss
	100 bp increase	100 bp decrease	100 bp increase	100 bp decrease
Variable-rate instruments	(160.32)	160.32	-	-
Cash flow sensitivity (net)	(160.32)	160.32	-	-

The risk estimates provided assume a change of 100 basis points interest rate for the interest rate benchmark as applicable to the borrowings summarised above. This calculation also assumes that the change occurs at the balance sheet date and has been calculated based on risk exposures outstanding as at that date. The period end balances are not necessarily representative of the average debt outstanding during the period.

(d) Capital management

The Group's policy is to maintain a strong capital base so as to maintain investor, creditor and market confidence and to sustain future development of the business. Management monitors the return on capital as well as the level of dividends to ordinary shareholders.

The Group monitors capital using a ratio of 'adjusted net debt' to 'adjusted equity'. For this purpose, adjusted net debt is defined as total borrowings, comprising interest-bearing loans and borrowings and obligations under finance leases, less cash and cash equivalents. Adjusted equity comprises all components of equity.

The works were majorly completed by end February 2018 and the balance work was pending due to non-availability of land, which was in the scope of the customer. In October 2018 NCLT actions were initiated against the customer group and the Company issued a work suspension notice to the customer, for balance of payments, with a copy to the developer. The developer issued directions to the Company, vide a letter, to go ahead with the works/maintenance of the plant where in they also assured the Company that they would make the payment if the customer failed to pay. As on date the customer owes SWPL INR 924.54 million. In addition, an amount of INR 641.04 million under confirmed, irrevocable Letters of Credit arranged by the customer from their bank mainly for the supplies which had been discounted by SWPL, after confirmation both from the customer and their bank, became due. As part of the Demerger transaction, SWSPL has acquired the SWPL Solar EPC Division from SWPL. This transaction includes transfer of certain entities / branches which are engaged in solar business (refer note 43). Accordingly this transaction is accounted for as a combination of legal entities / businesses under common control.

These carved out combined financial statements have been prepared in accordance with the Guidance Note on Combined and Carve-Out Financial Statements ("Guidance Note") issued by the Institute of Chartered Accountants of India ("ICAI") to reflect the state of affairs, profit, the statement of changes in owner's net investment and the statement of cash flows of the SWPL Solar EPC Group. Per the Guidance Note, as the combined/carve-out financial statements are prepared for specific purposes, accordingly they should be referred to as 'carved out combined financial statements'. As per the Guidance Note, the procedure for preparing combined financial statements of the combining entities is the same as that for consolidated financial statements as per the applicable Accounting Standards. The information presented in these carved out combined financial statements may not be representative of the position which may prevail after the transaction. The resulting financial position may not be that which might have existed if the combining businesses had been a stand-alone business.

The carved out combined financial statements have been prepared on a going concern basis under the historical cost convention except derivative liability and certain financial assets and liabilities that are measured at fair values whereas net defined benefit (asset)/ liability are valued at fair value of plan assets less defined benefit obligation at the end of each reporting period, as explained in the accounting policies below.

The procedure followed for the preparation of these carved out combined financial statements has been provided in the paragraphs below.

The financial information for the SWPL Solar EPC Division has been extracted from the audited consolidated financial statements of SWPL along with the SWPL's subsidiaries and overseas branch offices related to Solar EPC Division (refer note 43) for the years ended 31 March 2017 and 31 March 2016 which had been prepared basis in accordance Indian Accounting Standards ('Ind AS') notified under the Section 133 of the Companies Act, 2013 ('the Act') and other generally accepted accounting principles in India.

The historical costs and expenses reflected in these Carved out Combined Financial Statements include an allocation for certain corporate and shared service functions historically provided by SWPL, including, but not limited to, executive oversight, accounting, treasury, tax, legal, human resources, occupancy, procurement, information technology, and other shared services. These expenses have been allocated to us on the basis of direct usage when identifiable, with the remainder allocated on a pro rata basis of headcount considered to be a reasonable reflection of the historical utilisation levels of these services.

The basis of allocation of assets and liabilities, income and expenditure which are not directly allocable to the SWPL Solar EPC Group business is as below:

- a. Cash and cash equivalent, other bank balances, borrowings and certain investments are retained with SWPL and are not allocated to SWPL Solar EPC Group.
- b. Other expenses (e.g. Rent, legal and professional expenses, travelling and conveyance expenses etc) not directly attributable have been allocated on the basis of headcount.
- c. Income tax has been computed for the entities where separate tax returns are filed based on the enacted tax rates applicable in the respective tax jurisdictions. Where separate tax returns do not exist, income tax expenses have been computed by applying the effective tax rates on results of the entity/division.

Management believes the assumptions underlying our Carved out Combined Financial Statements, including the assumptions regarding the allocation of general corporate expenses from SWPL, are reasonable. Nevertheless, our Carved out Combined Financial Statements may not include all of the actual expenses that would have been incurred had we operated as a standalone company during the periods presented and may not reflect our combined results of operations, financial position and cash flows had we operated as a standalone company during the periods presented. Actual costs that would have been incurred if we had operated as a standalone company would depend on multiple factors, including organisational structure and strategic decisions made in various areas, including information technology and infrastructure. We also may incur additional costs associated with being a standalone, publicly listed company that were not included in the expense allocations and, therefore, would result in additional costs that are not reflected in our historical results of operations, financial position and cash flows.

As these carved out combined financial statements have been prepared on a carve-out basis, it is not meaningful to show share capital or provide an analysis of reserves. Owner's net investment, therefore, represents the difference between the assets and liabilities pertaining to combined businesses. Share capital of SWPL Solar EPC Group is held by the parent. Earnings per Share have not been presented in these combined financial statements, as the SWPL Solar Group did not meet the applicability criteria as specified under Ind AS 33 – Earnings per Share.

Owner's net investment disclosed in the carved out combined financial statements represents the difference between the assets and liabilities pertaining to the SWPL Solar EPC Group. Further reserves and surplus comprises of retained earnings; cash flow hedge reserve and foreign currency translation reserve pertaining to the SWPL Solar EPC Group since the commencement of solar business in SWPL.

While preparing these carved out combined financial statements, events occurring after the balance sheet date till the signing of the audited financials of SWPL dated 7 September 2017, have been adjusted if the evidence of conditions existed at the end of that period, to the extent they pertain to the SWPL Solar EPC Group Events occurring after the date of signing the audited financials of SWPL dated 7 September 2017 have not been adjusted in these carved out combined financial statements.

These carved out combined financials have been prepared on a carved out basis to present the assets and liabilities of the combining companies engaged in Solar Business at these dates, as if the SWPL Solar EPC Group had been in existence as at these dates, in order to reflect the impact of the Demerger. As a result, these financial statements may not be suitable for any other purpose.

b Functional and presentation currency

These carved out combined financial statements are presented in Indian Rupees (INR), which is also SWPL Solar EPC Group's functional currency. All amounts have been rounded off to the nearest two decimal places in million, unless otherwise stated.

c Basis of measurement

The combined financial statements have been prepared on the historical cost basis except for the following::

- certain financial assets and liabilities (including derivative instruments) that are measured at fair value (refer accounting policy regarding financial instruments); and
- employee's defined benefit plan as per actuarial valuation.

d Use of estimates and judgments

The preparation of the carved-out combined financial statements in accordance with Ind AS requires use of judgements, estimates and assumptions, that affect the application of accounting policies and the reported amounts of assets, liabilities, income and expenses. The actual results may differ from these estimates.

Estimates and underlying assumptions are reviewed on an ongoing basis. Revision to accounting estimates are recognised prospectively. Significant assumptions and estimates considered are as follows:

(i) Allocation of Expenses

All costs that were specifically identifiable to the SWPL Solar EPC Group have been allocated to the SWPL Solar EPC Group and included in the carve-out financial statements. Where specific identification of expenses to the SWPL Solar EPC Group was not practicable, a reasonable method of allocation such as number of employees was used for the purpose of allocation of expenses.

(ii) Evaluation of revenue recognition

Determination of revenue under percentage of completion method necessarily involves making estimates, some of which are of a technical nature, concerning, where relevant, the percentage of completion, costs to completion, the expected revenue from the project or activity and foreseeable losses to completion. Estimates of project income, as well as project costs, are reviewed periodically. The effect of changes, if any, to estimates is recognised in the carved out combined financial statements for the period in which such changes are determined.

(iii) Estimated useful lives of property, plant and equipment

SWPL Solar EPC Group estimates the useful lives of property, plant and equipment based on the period over which the assets are expected to be available for use. The estimation of the useful lives of property, plant and equipment is based on collective assessment of industry practice, internal technical evaluation and on the historical experience with similar assets. It is possible, however, that future results from operations could be materially affected by changes in estimates brought about by changes in factors mentioned above. The amounts and timing of recorded expenses for any period would be affected by changes in these factors and circumstances. The estimated useful lives are reviewed periodically and are updated if expectations differ from previous estimates due to physical wear and tear, technical or commercial obsolescence and legal or other limits on the use of the assets.

(iv) Recoverability of deferred income tax assets

In determining the recoverability of deferred income tax assets, the SWPL Solar EPC Group primarily considers current and expected profitability of applicable operating business segments and their ability to utilise any recorded tax assets. The SWPL Solar EPC Group reviews its deferred income tax assets at every reporting period end, taking into consideration the availability of sufficient current and projected taxable profits, reversals of taxable temporary differences and tax planning strategies.

(v) Measurement of defined benefit obligations and other employee benefit obligations

The SWPL Solar EPC Group's net obligation in respect of gratuity benefit scheme is calculated by estimating the amount of future benefit that employees have earned in return for their service in the current and prior periods; that benefit is discounted to determine its present value, and the fair value of any plan assets is deducted.

Compensated absences which are not expected to occur within twelve months after the end of the period in which the employee renders the related services are recognised as a liability at the present value of the other long-term employment benefits.

The present value of the obligation is determined based on actuarial valuation at the balance sheet date by an Independent actuary using the Projected Unit Credit Method, which recognises each period of service as giving rise to additional unit of employee benefit entitlement and measures. The obligation is measured at the present value of the estimated future cash flows. The discount rates used for determining the present value of the obligation under defined benefit plan, are based on the market yields on Government securities as at the balance sheet date.

(vi) Provision for obsolete inventory

SWPL Solar EPC Group reviews its inventory to assess loss on account of obsolescence on a regular basis. In determining whether provision for obsolescence should be recorded in the combined statement of profit and loss, the SWPL Solar EPC Group makes judgments as to whether there is any observable data indicating that there is any future salability of the product, including demand forecasts and shelf life of the product. The provision for obsolescence of inventory is based on the ageing and past movement of the inventory.

(vii) Impairment losses on trade receivables and unbilled receivables

SWPL Solar Group reviews its trade receivables and unbilled receivables to assess impairment at regular intervals. The SWPL Solar EPC Group's credit risk is primarily attributable to its trade receivables. In determining whether impairment losses should be reported in the carved-out combined statement of profit and loss, the SWPL Solar EPC Group makes judgments as to whether there is any observable data indicating that there is a measurable decrease in the estimated future cash flows. Accordingly, an allowance for expected credit loss is made where there is an identified loss event or condition which, based on previous experience, is evidence of a reduction in the recoverability of the cash flows.

(viii) Impairment losses on investment

SWPL Solar EPC Group reviews its carrying value of investments in joint ventures carried at amortised cost annually, or more frequently when there is indication for impairment. If the recoverable amount is less than its carrying amount, the impairment loss is accounted for.

(ix) Measurement of fair values

A number of the SWPL Solar EPC Group's accounting policies and disclosures require the measurement of fair values, for both financial and non-financial assets and liabilities.

The SWPL Solar EPC Group has an established control framework with respect to the measurement of fair values, which includes overseeing all significant fair value measurements, including Level 3 fair values by the management. The management regularly reviews significant unobservable inputs and valuation adjustments.

The management regularly reviews significant unobservable inputs and valuation adjustments. If third party information, such as broker quotes or pricing services, is used to measure fair values, then the management assesses the evidence obtained from the third parties to support the conclusion that these valuations meet the requirements of Ind AS, including the level in the fair value hierarchy in which the valuations should be classified. Significant valuation issues are reported to the SWPL Solar EPC Group's Board of Directors

Fair values are categorised into different levels in a fair value hierarchy based on the inputs used in the valuation techniques as follows.

- Level 1: quoted prices (unadjusted) in active markets for identical assets or liabilities.
- Level 2: inputs other than quoted prices included in Level 1 that are observable for the asset or liability, either directly (i.e. as prices) or indirectly (i.e. derived from prices).
- Level 3: inputs for the asset or liability that are not based on observable market data (unobservable inputs).

When measuring the fair value of an asset or a liability, the SWPL Solar EPC Group uses observable market data as far as possible. If the inputs used to measure the fair value of an asset or a liability fall into different levels of the fair value hierarchy, then the fair value measurement is categorised in its entirety in the same level of the fair value hierarchy as the lowest level input that is significant to the entire measurement.

The SWPL Solar EPC Group recognises transfers between levels of the fair value hierarchy at the end of the reporting period during which the change has occurred.

Further information about the assumptions made in measuring fair values is included in the following notes:-

3 Significant accounting policies

3.1 Principles of consolidation

The carved out combined financial statements of the SWPL Solar EPC Group were prepared by applying the Guidance note on Combined and Carve out issued by ICAI as mentioned in the basis of preparation (Note 2) and principles of consolidation as per Ind AS 110- Consolidated Financial Statements.

Accordingly while applying the above guidance, financial statements of the solar division of the entities controlled by SWPL have been combined on the following basis:

(i) Combine like items of assets, liabilities, equity, income, expenses and cash flows of the combining businesses

(ii) Inter-company transactions, balances and unrealised gains/losses on transactions between companies within the SWPL Solar EPC Group are eliminated

iii) Disclose non-controlling interest for the SWPL Solar EPC Group where 100% shares are not held.

Further under this approach the Solar Division of the Parent has been treated as the holding company of the businesses / entities which are controlled by the SWPL Solar EPC Group. Such manner of presentation reflects the economic substance of the business which were combined, as a single economic enterprise, although the legal parent-subsidiary relationships were not established.

The SWPL Solar EPC Group controls an entity / business when it is exposed to, or has rights to, variable returns from its involvement and has the ability to affect those returns through its power.

The SWPL Solar EPC Group re-assesses whether or not it controls an investee if facts and circumstances indicate that there are changes to one or more of the three elements of control.

Consolidation of an entity/ business begins when the SWPL Solar EPC Group obtains control and ceases when the SPWL Solar Group loses control of the entity / business. Assets, liabilities, income and expenses acquired or disposed of during the year are included in the combined financial statements from the date the SWPL Solar EPC Group gains control until the date the SWPL Solar EPC Group ceases to control the entity / business.

Combined financial statements are prepared using uniform accounting policies for like transactions and other events in similar circumstances.

For a list of Legal entities / business fully included in these financial statements prior to their actual legal transfer, refer Note 43 - List of combining entities / businesses.

c Equity accounted investees

The SWPL Solar EPC Group's interests in equity accounted investees comprise interests in joint venture. A joint venture is an arrangement in which the SWPL Solar EPC Group has joint control and has rights to the net assets of the arrangement, rather than rights to its assets and obligations for its liabilities.

Interests joint ventures are accounted for using the equity method. Under the equity method, the investment in a joint venture is initially recognised at cost. The carrying amount of the investment is adjusted to recognise changes in the SWPL Solar EPC Group's share of net assets of the joint venture since the acquisition date and the SWPL Solar EPC Group's share of other comprehensive income. Goodwill relating to the joint venture is included in the carrying amount of the investment and is not tested for impairment individually. When the SWPL Solar EPC Group's share of losses in an equity accounted investment equals or exceeds its interest in the entity, the SWPL Solar EPC Group does not recognise further losses, unless it has incurred obligations or made payments on behalf of the other entity. Unrealised gains on transactions between the SWPL Solar EPC Group and its joint ventures are eliminated to the extent of the SWPL Solar EPC Group's interest in these entities until the date on which significant influence or joint control ceases.

3.2 Business combinations

Business combinations (other than common control business combinations)

In accordance with Ind AS 103, the SWPL Solar EPC Group accounts for these business combinations using the acquisition method when control is transferred to the SWPL Solar EPC Group. The consideration transferred for the business combination is generally measured at fair value as at the date the control is acquired (acquisition date), as are the net identifiable assets acquired. Any goodwill that arises is tested annually for impairment. Any gain on a bargain purchase is recognised in OCI and accumulated in equity as capital reserve if there exists clear evidence of the underlying reasons for classifying the business combination as resulting in a bargain purchase; otherwise the gain is recognised directly in equity as capital reserve. Transaction costs are expensed as incurred, except to the extent related to the issue of debt or equity securities.

The consideration transferred does not include amounts related to the settlement of pre-existing relationships with the acquiree. Such amounts are generally recognised in the carved out combined statement of profit or loss.

Any contingent consideration is measured at fair value at the date of acquisition. If an obligation to pay contingent consideration that meets the definition of a financial instrument is classified as equity, then it is not re-measured subsequently and settlement is accounted for within equity. Other contingent consideration is remeasured at fair value at each reporting date and changes in the fair value of the contingent consideration are recognised in the carved out combined statement of profit and loss.

If a business combination is achieved in stages, any previously held equity interest in the acquiree is re-measured at its acquisition date fair value and any resulting gain or loss is recognised in the carved out combined statement of profit and loss or OCI, as appropriate.

Common control transactions

Business combinations involving entities that are controlled by the SWPL Solar EPC Group are accounted for using the pooling of interests method as follows:

- (i) The assets and liabilities of the combining entities are reflected at their carrying amounts.
- (ii) No adjustments are made to reflect fair values, or recognise any new assets and liabilities. Adjustments are only made to harmonise accounting policies.
- (iii) The financial information in the financial statements in respect of prior periods is restated as if the business combination had occurred from the beginning of the preceding period in the financial statements, irrespective of the actual date of the combination. However, where the business combination had occurred after that date, the prior period information is restated only from that date.
- (iv) The balance of the retained earnings appearing in the financial statements of the transferor is aggregated with the corresponding balance appearing in the financial statements of the transferee or is adjusted against general reserve.
- (v) The identity of the reserves are preserved
- (vi) The difference, if any, between the amounts recorded as share capital issued plus any additional consideration in the form of cash or other assets and the amount of share capital of the transferor is transferred to capital reserve and is presented separately from other capital reserves.

3.3 Current/ non-current classification

The Schedule III to the Act requires assets and liabilities to be classified as either current or non-current.

Assets

An asset is classified as current when it satisfies any of the following criteria:

- (i) it is expected to be realised in, or is
- (ii) it is expected to be realised within twelve
- (iii) it is held primarily for the purposes of
- (iv) it is cash or cash equivalent unless it is restricted from being exchanged or used to settle a liability for at least twelve months after the reporting date.

All other assets are classified as non-current.

Liabilities

A liability is classified as current when it satisfies any of the following criteria:

- (i) it is expected to be settled in the SWPL Solar EPC Group's normal operating cycle;
- (ii) it is due to be settled within twelve months from the reporting date;
- (iii) it is held primarily for the purposes of
- (iv) the SWPL Solar EPC Group does not have an unconditional right to defer settlement of the liability for at least twelve months from the reporting date.

All other liabilities are classified as non-current.

Operating Cycle

All assets and liabilities have been classified as current or non-current as per the SWPL Solar EPC Group's normal operating cycle and other criteria set out above which are in accordance with the Schedule III to the Act.

In respect of the Solar engineering, procurement and construction services (EPC) segment of the SWPL Solar EPC Group, the construction projects usually have long gestation periods and based on the nature of services and the time between the acquisition of assets for processing and their realisation in cash and cash equivalents, the SWPL Solar EPC Group has ascertained its operating cycle as 36 months for the purpose of current - non-current classification of assets and liabilities. For the operations and maintenance operations, the operating cycle is ascertained as 12 months for the purpose of current – non-current classification of the assets and liabilities.

3.4 Foreign currency

(i) Foreign currency transactions

- Initial Recognition

All transactions that are not denominated in the SWPL Solar EPC Group's functional currency are foreign currency transactions. These transactions are initially recorded in the functional currency by applying the appropriate daily rate which best approximates the actual rate of the transaction. Exchange differences arising on foreign exchange transactions settled during the year are recognised in the carved out combined statement of profit and loss.

3.4 Foreign currency

(i) Foreign currency transactions (Continued)

- Measurement of foreign currency items at the reporting date

Monetary assets and liabilities denominated in foreign currencies are translated into the functional currency at the exchange rate at the reporting date. Non-monetary assets and liabilities that are measured at fair value in a foreign currency are translated into the functional currency at the exchange rate when the fair value was determined. Non-monetary assets and liabilities that are measured based on historical cost in a foreign currency are translated at the exchange rate at the date of the transaction. Exchange differences are recognised in the carved out combined statement of profit and loss, except exchange differences arising from the translation of the equity investments classified as fair value through OCI (FVOCI) which is recognised in OCI.

(ii) Foreign operations

The assets and liabilities of foreign operations (subsidiaries and branches) including goodwill and fair value adjustments arising on acquisition, are translated into INR, the functional currency of the SWPL Solar EPC Group, at the exchange rates at the reporting date. The income and expenses of foreign operations are translated into INR at the exchange rates at the dates of the transactions or an average rate if the average rate approximates the actual rate at the date of the transaction.

Exchange differences are recognised in OCI and accumulated in equity (as exchange differences on translating the financial statements of a foreign operation), except to the extent that the exchange differences are allocated to NCI.

When a foreign operation is disposed of in its entirety or partially such that control, significant influence or joint control is lost, the cumulative amount of exchange differences related to that foreign operation recognised in OCI is reclassified to the carved out combined statement profit and loss as part of the gain or loss on disposal. If the SWPL Solar EPC Group disposes of part of its interest in a subsidiary but retains control, then the relevant proportion of the cumulative amount is re-allocated to NCI. When the SWPL Solar EPC Group disposes of only a part of its interest in a joint venture while retaining significant influence or joint control, the relevant proportion of the cumulative amount is reclassified to the carved out combined statement of profit and loss.

3.5 Financial instruments

A financial instrument is any contract that gives rise to a financial asset of one entity and a financial liability or equity instrument of another entity.

(a) Recognition and initial measurement

Trade receivables and debt securities issued are initially recognised when they are originated. All other financial assets and financial liabilities are initially recognised when the SWPL Solar EPC Group becomes a party to the contractual provisions of the instrument.

A financial asset or financial liability is initially measured at fair value plus, for an item not at fair value through profit and loss (FVTPL), transaction costs that are directly attributable to its acquisition or issue.

(b) Classification and subsequent measurement

Financial assets

On initial recognition, a financial asset is classified as measured at

- amortised cost;
- FVOCI – debt investment;
- FVOCI – equity investment; or
- FVTPL.

Financial assets are not reclassified subsequent to their initial recognition, except if and in the period the SWPL Solar EPC Group changes its business model for managing financial assets.

A financial asset is measured at amortised cost if it meets both of the following conditions and is not designated as at FVTPL:

- the asset is held within a business model whose objective is to hold assets to collect contractual cash flows; and
- the contractual terms of the financial asset give rise on specified dates to cash flows that are solely payments of principal and interest on the principal amount outstanding.

A debt investment is measured at FVOCI if it meets both of the following conditions and is not designated as at FVTPL:

- the asset is held within a business model whose objective is achieved by both collecting contractual cash flows and selling financial assets; and
- the contractual terms of the financial asset give rise on specified dates to cash flows that are solely payments of principal and interest on the principal amount outstanding.

On initial recognition of an equity investment that is not held for trading, the SWPL Solar EPC Group may irrevocably elect to present subsequent changes in the investment's fair value in OCI (designated as FVOCI – equity investment). This election is made on an investment- by-investment basis.

All financial assets not classified as measured at amortised cost or FVOCI as described above are measured at FVTPL. This includes all derivative financial assets. On initial recognition, the SWPL Solar EPC Group may irrevocably designate a financial asset that otherwise meets the requirements to be measured at amortised cost or at FVOCI as at FVTPL if doing so eliminates or significantly reduces an accounting mismatch that would otherwise arise.

Financial assets: Business model assessment

The SWPL Solar EPC Group makes an assessment of the objective of the business model in which a financial asset is held at a portfolio level because this best reflects the way the business is managed and information is provided to management. The information considered includes:

- the stated policies and objectives for the portfolio and the operation of those policies in practice. These include whether management's strategy focuses on earning contractual interest income, maintaining a particular interest rate profile, matching the duration of the financial assets to the duration of any related liabilities or expected cash outflows or realising cash flows through the sale of the assets;
- how the performance of the portfolio is evaluated and reported to the SWPL Solar EPC Group's management;
- the risks that affect the performance of the business model (and the financial assets held within that business model) and how those risks are managed;
- how managers of the business are compensated – e.g. whether compensation is based on the fair value of the assets managed or the contractual cash flows collected; and
- the frequency, volume and timing of sales of financial assets in prior periods, the reasons for such sales and expectations about future sales activity.

Transfers of financial assets to third parties in transactions that do not qualify for derecognition are not considered sales for this purpose, consistent with the SWPL Solar EPC Group's continuing recognition of the assets.

Financial assets that are held for trading or are managed and whose performance is evaluated on a fair value basis are measured at FVTPL.

For the purposes of this assessment, 'principal' is defined as the fair value of the financial asset on initial recognition. 'Interest' is defined as consideration for the time value of money and for the credit risk associated with the principal amount outstanding during a particular period of time and for other basic lending risks and costs (e.g. liquidity risk and administrative costs), as well as a profit margin.

In assessing whether the contractual cash flows are solely payments of principal and interest, the SWPL Solar EPC Group considers the contractual terms of the instrument. This includes assessing whether the financial asset contains a contractual term that could change the timing or amount of contractual cash flows such that it would not meet this condition. In making this assessment, the SWPL Solar EPC Group considers:

- contingent events that would change the amount or timing of cash flows;
- terms that may adjust the contractual coupon rate, including variable interest rate features;
- prepayment and extension features; and
- terms that limit the SWPL Solar EPC Group's claim to cash flows from specified assets (e.g. non-recourse features).

A prepayment feature is consistent with the solely payments of principal and interest criterion if the prepayment amount substantially represents unpaid amounts of principal and interest on the principal amount outstanding, which may include reasonable additional compensation for early termination of the contract. Additionally, for a financial asset acquired at a significant discount or premium to its contractual par amount, a feature that permits or requires prepayment at an amount that substantially represents the contractual par amount plus accrued (but unpaid) contractual interest (which may also include reasonable additional compensation for early termination) is treated as consistent with this criterion if the fair value of the prepayment feature is insignificant at initial recognition.

Financial assets: Subsequent measurement and gains and losses

(i) Financial assets at FVTPL:

These assets are subsequently measured at fair value. Net gains and losses, including any interest or dividend income, are recognised in the carved out combined statement of profit and loss.

(ii) Financial assets at amortised cost:

These assets are subsequently measured at amortised cost using the effective interest method. The amortised cost is reduced by impairment losses. Interest income, foreign exchange gains and losses and impairment are recognised in the carved out combined statement of profit and loss. Any gain or loss on derecognition is recognised in the carved out combined statement of profit and loss.

(iii) Debt investments at FVOCI:

These assets are subsequently measured at fair value. Interest income under the effective interest method, foreign exchange gains and losses and impairment are recognised in the carved out combined statement of profit and loss. Other net gains and losses are recognised in OCI. On derecognition, gains and losses accumulated in OCI are reclassified to the carved out combined statement of profit and loss.

(iv) Equity investments at FVOCI:

These assets are subsequently measured at fair value. Dividends are recognised as income in the carved out combined statement of profit and loss unless the dividend clearly represents a recovery of part of the cost of the investment. Other net gains and losses are recognised in OCI and are not reclassified to the carved out combined statement of profit and loss.

Financial liabilities: Classification, subsequent measurement and gains and losses

Financial liabilities are classified as measured at amortised cost or FVTPL. A financial liability is classified as at FVTPL if it is classified as held-for-trading, or it is a derivative or it is designated as such on initial recognition. Financial liabilities at FVTPL are measured at fair value and net gains and losses, including any interest expense, are recognised in the carved out combined statement of profit and loss. Other financial liabilities are subsequently measured at amortised cost using the effective interest method. Interest expense and foreign exchange gains and losses are recognised in the carved out combined statement of profit and loss. Any gain or loss on derecognition is also recognised in the carved out combined statement of profit and loss. See Note 3.5 (e) for financial liabilities designated as hedging instruments.

The SWPL Solar EPC Group derecognises a financial asset when the contractual rights to the cash flows from the financial asset expire, or it transfers the rights to receive the contractual cash flows in a transaction in which substantially all of the risks and rewards of ownership of the financial asset are transferred or in which the SWPL Solar EPC Group neither transfers nor retains substantially all of the risks and rewards of ownership and does not retain control of the financial asset.

If the SWPL Solar EPC Group enters into transactions whereby it transfers assets recognised on its balance sheet, but retains either all or substantially all of the risks and rewards of the transferred assets, the transferred assets are not derecognised.

Financial liabilities

The SWPL Solar EPC Group derecognises a financial liability when its contractual obligations are discharged or cancelled, or expire. The SWPL Solar EPC Group also derecognises a financial liability when its terms are modified and the cash flows under the modified terms are substantially different. In this case, a new financial liability based on the modified terms is recognised at fair value. The difference between the carrying amount of the financial liability extinguished and the new financial liability with modified terms is recognised in the carved out combined statement of profit and loss.

(c) Offsetting

Financial assets and financial liabilities are offset and the net amount presented in the balance sheet when, and only when, the SWPL Solar EPC Group currently has a legally enforceable right to set off the amounts and it intends either to settle them on a net basis or to realise the asset and settle the liability simultaneously.

(d) Derivative financial instruments and hedge accounting

The SWPL Solar EPC Group holds derivative financial instruments to hedge its foreign currency risk exposures. Embedded derivatives are separated from the host contract and accounted for separately if the host contract is not a financial asset and certain criteria are met.

Derivatives are initially measured at fair value. Subsequent to initial recognition, derivatives are measured at fair value, and changes therein are generally recognised in the carved out combined statement of profit and loss.

The SWPL Solar EPC Group designates certain derivatives as hedging instruments to hedge variability in cash flows associated with highly probable forecast transactions arising from changes in foreign exchange rates.

At inception of designated hedging relationships, the SWPL Solar EPC Group documents the risk management objective and strategy for undertaking the hedge. The SWPL Solar EPC Group also documents the economic relationship between the hedged item and the hedging instrument, including whether the changes in cash flows of the hedged item and hedging instrument are expected to offset each other.

When a derivative is designated as a cash flow hedging instrument, the effective portion of changes in the fair value of the derivative is recognised in OCI and accumulated in the other equity under 'effective portion of cash flow hedges'. The effective portion of changes in the fair value of the derivative that is recognised in OCI is limited to the cumulative change in fair value of the hedged item, determined on a present value basis, from inception of the hedge. Any ineffective portion of changes in the fair value of the derivatives is recognised immediately in the carved out combined statement of profit and loss.

When the hedged forecast transaction subsequently results in the recognition of a non-financial item such as inventory, the amount accumulated in other equity is included directly in the initial cost of the non-financial item when it is recognised. For all other hedged forecast transactions, the amount accumulated in other equity is reclassified to the carved out combined statement of profit and loss in the same period or periods during which the hedged expected future cash flows affect profit or loss.

If a hedge no longer meets the criteria for hedge accounting or the hedging instrument is sold, expires, is terminated or is exercised, then hedge accounting is discontinued prospectively. When hedge accounting for cash flow hedges is discontinued, the amount that has been accumulated in other equity remains there until, for a hedge of a transaction resulting in recognition of a non-financial item, it is included in the non-financial item's cost on its initial recognition or for other cash flow hedges, it is reclassified to the carved out combined statement of profit and loss in the same period or periods as the hedged expected future cash flows affect profit or loss.

If the hedged future cash flows are no longer expected to occur, then the amounts that have been accumulated in other equity are immediately reclassified to the carved out combined statement of profit and loss.

3.6 Fair Value

The SWPL Solar EPC Group measures financial instruments at fair value in accordance with the accounting policies mentioned above. Fair value is the price that would be received to sell an asset or paid to transfer a liability in an orderly transaction between market participants at the measurement date. The fair value measurement is based on the presumption that the transaction to sell the asset or transfer the liability takes place either:

- (i) in the principal market for the asset or liability; or
- (ii) in the absence of a principal market, in the most advantageous market for the asset or liability.

All assets and liabilities for which fair value is measured or disclosed in the carved out combined financial statements are categorised within the fair value hierarchy that categorises into three levels, as described as follows, the inputs to valuation techniques used to measure value. The fair value hierarchy gives the highest priority to quoted prices in active markets for identical assets or liabilities (Level 1 inputs) and the lowest priority to unobservable inputs (level 3 inputs).

Level 1 : quoted (unadjusted) market prices in active markets for identical assets or liabilities.

Level 2 : inputs other than quoted prices included within Level 1 that are observable for the asset or liability, either directly or indirectly.

Level 3 : inputs that are unobservable for the asset or liability

For assets and liabilities that are recognised in the carved out combined financial statements at fair value on a recurring basis, the SWPL Solar EPC Group determines whether transfers have occurred between levels in the hierarchy by re-assessing categorisation at the end of each reporting period.

3.7 Property, plant and equipment

Recognition and measurement

The cost of an item of property, plant and equipment is recognised as an asset if, and only if, it is probable that future economic benefits associated with the item will flow to the SWPL Solar EPC Group and the cost of the item can be measured reliably and is measured at cost. Subsequent to recognition, all items of property, plant and equipment (except for freehold land) are stated at cost less accumulated depreciation and accumulated impairment losses.

If the cost of an individual part of property, plant and equipment is significant relative to the total cost of the item, the individual part is accounted for and depreciated separately.

The cost of property, plant and equipment comprises its purchase price plus any costs directly attributable to bringing the asset to the location and condition necessary for it to be capable of operating in the manner intended by management and the initial estimate of decommissioning, restoration and similar liabilities, if any. Subsequent expenditure is capitalised only if it is probable that the future economic benefits associated with the expenditure will flow to the SWPL Solar EPC Group.

Items such as spare parts, stand-by equipments and servicing that meets the definition of property, plant and equipment are capitalised at cost and depreciated over the useful life. Cost of repairs and maintenance are recognised in the carved out combined statement of profit and loss as and when incurred.

Capital work in progress and Capital advances:

Assets under construction includes the cost of property, plant and equipment that are not ready to use at the balance sheet date. Advances paid to acquire property, plant and equipment before the balance sheet date are disclosed under other non-current assets. Assets under construction are not depreciated as these assets are not yet available for use.

3.7 Property, plant and equipment (Continued)

Depreciation

Depreciation on property, plant and equipment has been provided using the straight line method over the estimated useful lives prescribed by Schedule II of the Act, except for certain items of plant and machinery (such as welding machine, drilling machine, porta cabin etc. whose useful life has been estimated to be five years) wherein depreciation is provided based on the estimated useful lives of the plant and machinery so acquired, determined by the SWPL Solar EPC Group's management based on the technical evaluation carried out by the projects team. Depreciation on additions (disposals) is provided on a pro-rata basis i.e. from (upto) the date on which asset is ready for use (disposed of). The useful lives used, as set out in the following table, are lower than or as those specified in Schedule II of the Act as under :

Assets	Life in no. of years	Schedule II useful lives
Plant and equipment	5 years to 15 years	15 years
Furniture and fixtures	3 years to 10 years	10 years
Vehicles	8 years to 10 years	8 years to 10 years
Computer hardware	3 years to 6 years	3 years / 6 years

Assets acquired under finance leases are depreciated over the shorter of the lease term and their useful lives unless it is reasonably certain that the SWPL Solar EPC Group will obtain ownership by the end of the lease term.

Lease hold improvements are amortised over the primary lease period or the useful life of the assets, whichever is lower. Depreciation method, useful lives and residual values are reviewed at each financial year-end and adjusted if appropriate. Assets costing INR 5,000 or less are fully depreciated in the period of purchase.

3.8 Other intangible assets

Intangible assets comprise primarily of computer software (including enterprise systems). Intangible assets are initially recorded at cost and subsequent to recognition, intangible assets are stated at cost less accumulated amortisation and accumulated impairment losses.

Amortisation

Other intangible assets are amortised over an expected benefit period of one to five years using straight line method.

The amortisation period and the amortisation method for an intangible asset with finite useful life is reviewed at the end of each financial year. If any of these expectations differ from previous estimates, such changes is accounted for as a change in an accounting estimate.

Derecognition

An item of intangible asset is derecognised upon disposal or when no future economic benefits are expected from its use or disposal. Any gain or loss on derecognition of an item of intangible asset is measured as the difference between the net disposal proceeds and the carrying amount of the item and is recognised in the carved out combined statement of profit and loss in the period the asset is derecognised.

3.9 Inventories

Material at central stores comprises modules, wires, cables, components, stores and spares. Stock in trade comprises of land acquired for Solar EPC projects.

Inventories are valued at lower of cost or net realisable value; cost is determined on the moving weighted average method basis. Net realisable value is the estimated selling price in the ordinary course of business, less estimated costs of completion and estimated costs necessary to make the sale.

3.10 Impairment

Impairment of non-derivative financial assets

A financial asset is assessed at each reporting date to determine whether there is objective evidence that it is impaired. A financial asset is impaired if objective evidence indicates that a loss event has occurred after the initial recognition of the asset, and that the loss event had a negative effect on the estimated future cash flows of that asset that can be estimated reliably.

The SWPL Solar EPC Group applies expected credit losses (ECL) model for measurement and recognition of loss allowance on the following:

(i) Trade receivables and lease receivables; and

In case of trade receivables, contract revenue receivables and lease receivables, the SWPL Solar EPC Group follows a simplified approach wherein an amount equal to lifetime ECL is measured and recognition as loss allowance. For all other financial assets, expected credit losses are measured at an amount equal to the 12 month ECL, unless there has been a significant increase in credit risk from initial recognition in which case those are measured at lifetime of ECL.

ECL is the difference between all contractual cash flows that are due to the SWPL Solar EPC Group in accordance with the contract and all the cash flows that the entity expects to receive (i.e. all cash shortfalls), discounted at the original effective interest rate.

Lifetime ECL are the expected credit losses resulting from all possible defaults events over the expected life of a financial asset. 12 month ECL are a portion of the lifetime ECL which result from default events that are possible within 12 months from the reporting date.

ECL are measured in a manner that they reflect unbiased and profitability weighted amounts determined by a range of outcomes, taking into account the time value of money and other reasonable information available as a result of past events, current conditions and forecasts of future economic conditions.

The amount of expected credit losses (or reversal) that is required to adjust the loss allowance at the reporting date to the amount that is required to be recognised is recognised as an impairment gain or loss in the carved out combined statement of profit and loss.

Impairment of non-financial assets

The carrying amount of the SWPL Solar EPC Group's non-financial assets, other than inventories and deferred tax assets, is reviewed at each reporting date to determine whether there is any indication of impairment. If any such indication exists then the asset's recoverable amount is estimated. Goodwill is tested annually for impairment.

For impairment testing, assets that do not generate independent cash inflows are SWPL Solar EPC Grouped together into cash-generating units (CGUs). Each CGU represents the smallest SWPL Solar EPC Group of assets that generates cash inflows that are largely independent of the cash inflows of other assets or CGUs.

Goodwill arising from a business combination is allocated to CGUs or SWPL Solar EPC Groups of CGUs that are expected to benefit from the synergies of the combination.

The recoverable amount of a CGU (or an individual asset) is the higher of its value in use and its fair value less costs to sell. Value in use is based on the estimated future cash flows, discounted to their present value using a pre-tax discount rate that reflects current market assessments of the time value of money and the risks specific to the CGU (or the asset).

An impairment loss is recognised if the carrying amount of an asset or CGU exceeds its estimated recoverable amount. Impairment losses are recognised in the carved out combined statement of profit and loss.

Impairment loss recognised in respect of a CGU is allocated first to reduce the carrying amount of any goodwill allocated to the CGU, and then to reduce the carrying amounts of the other assets of the CGU (or SWPL Solar EPC Group of CGUs) on a pro rata basis.

An impairment loss in respect of goodwill is not subsequently reversed. In respect of other assets for which impairment loss has been recognised in prior periods, the SWPL Solar EPC Group reviews at each reporting date whether there is any indication that the loss has decreased or no longer exists. An impairment loss is reversed if there has been a change in the estimates used to determine the recoverable amount. Such a reversal is made only to the extent that the asset's carrying amount does not exceed the carrying amount that would have been determined, net of depreciation or amortisation, if no impairment loss had been recognised.

3.11 Employee benefits

Short-term employee benefits

Short-term employee benefit obligations are measured on an undiscounted basis and are expensed as the related service is provided. A liability is recognised for the amount expected to be paid e.g., under short-term cash bonus, if the SWPL Solar EPC Group has a present legal or constructive obligation to pay this amount as a result of past service provided by the employee, and the amount of obligation can be estimated reliably.

Post-employment benefits

(i) Defined contribution plans

A defined contribution plan is a plan for the post employment benefit of an employee under which the SWPL Solar EPC Group pays fixed periodic contributions into Provident Fund and Employee State Insurance Corporations in accordance with Indian regulations. The SWPL Solar EPC Group has no further legal or constructive obligation to pay once contributions are made. Obligations for contributions to defined contribution plans are recognised as an employee benefit expense in the carved out combined statement of profit and loss in the periods during which the related services are rendered by employees. In respect of overseas entities, the SWPL Solar EPC Group's contribution towards defined contribution benefit plan is accrued in compliance with the domestic laws of the country in which the carved out combined foreign entities operate.

(ii) Defined benefit plans

The SWPL Solar EPC Group's gratuity benefit scheme is a defined benefit plan. The SWPL Solar EPC Group's net obligation in respect of the gratuity benefit scheme is calculated by estimating the amount of future benefit that employees have earned in return for their service in the current and prior periods; that benefit is discounted to determine its present value.

The present value of the obligation under such defined benefit plan is determined based on actuarial valuation by an independent actuary using the Projected Unit Credit Method, which recognises each period of service as giving rise to additional unit of employee benefit entitlement and measures each unit separately to build up the final obligation. The obligation is measured at the present value of the estimated future cash flows. The discount rates used for determining the present value of the obligation under defined benefit plan, are based on the market yields on Government securities as at the balance sheet date.

All remeasurement gains and losses arising from defined benefit plans are recognised in the carved out combined statement of other comprehensive income in the period in which they occur and not reclassified to the carved out combined statement of profit and loss in the subsequent period. The SWPL Solar EPC Group determines the net interest expense (income) on the net defined benefit liability (asset) for the period by applying the discount rate used to measure the defined benefit obligation at the beginning of the annual period to the then-net defined benefit liability (asset), taking into account any changes in the net defined benefit liability (asset) during the period as a result of contributions and benefit payments. Net interest expense and other expenses related to defined benefit plans are recognised in the carved out combined statement of profit and loss.

When the benefits of a plan are changed or when a plan is curtailed, the resulting change in benefit that relates to past service or the gain or loss on curtailment is recognised immediately in the carved out combined statement of profit and loss. The SWPL Solar EPC Group recognises gains and losses on the settlement of a defined benefit plan when the settlement occurs in the carved out combined statement of profit and loss.

In respect of the overseas subsidiaries, provision is made for employees' terminal benefits on the basis prescribed under the labour laws of the respective countries in which the overseas subsidiaries operates and is determined based on arithmetic calculation.

(iii) Other long-term employee benefits

The SWPL Solar EPC Group's net obligation in respect of long-term employment benefits, other than gratuity, is the amount of future benefit that employees have earned in return for their service in the current and prior periods. The obligation is calculated at the balance sheet date on the basis of an actuarial valuation done by an independent actuary using the projected unit credit method and is discounted to its present value and the fair value of any related assets is deducted. Remeasurements gains or losses are recognised in the carved out combined statement of profit and loss in the period in which they arise.

Compensated absences which are not expected to occur within twelve months after the end of the period in which the employee renders the related services are recognised as a liability at the present value of the defined benefit obligation at the balance sheet date. The discount rates used for determining the present value of the obligation under long term employment benefits, are based on the market yields on Government securities as at the balance sheet date.

3.12 Provisions and Contingencies

A provision is recognised if, as a result of a past event, the SWPL Solar EPC Group has a present legal or constructive obligation that can be estimated reliably, and it is probable that an outflow of economic benefits will be required to settle the obligation. Provisions are determined by discounting the expected future cash flows (representing the best estimate of the expenditure required to settle the present obligation at the balance sheet date) at a pre-tax rate that reflects current market assessments of the time value of money and the risks specific to the liability. The unwinding of the discount is recognised as finance cost. Expected future operating losses are not provided for.

A disclosure for a contingent liability is made when there is a possible obligation or a present obligation that may, but probably will not require an outflow of resources embodying economic benefits or the amount of such obligation cannot be measured reliably. When there is a possible obligation or a present obligation in respect of which likelihood of outflow of resources embodying economic benefits is remote, no provision or disclosure is made.

A contingent asset is disclosed where an inflow of economic benefits is probable.

Onerous contracts

A contract is considered to be onerous when the expected economic benefits to be derived by the SWPL Solar EPC Group from the contract are lower than the unavoidable cost of meeting its obligations under the contract. The provision for an onerous contract is measured at the present value of the lower of the expected cost of terminating the contract and the expected net cost of continuing with the contract. Before such a provision is made, the SWPL Solar EPC Group recognises any impairment loss on the assets associated with that contract.

3.13 Revenue recognition

Revenue is recognised to the extent that it is probable that the economic benefits will flow to the SWPL Solar EPC Group and the revenue can be reliably measured.

Revenue from works contracts:

Revenue is measured at the fair value of the consideration received or receivable. This inter alia involves discounting of the consideration due to present value if payment extends beyond normal credit terms. Amounts disclosed as revenue are inclusive of excise duty and net of returns, trade allowances, rebates, value added taxes and amounts collected on behalf of third parties.

Contract prices are either fixed or subject to price escalation clauses. Revenue from works contracts is recognised on the basis of percentage completion method, and the level of completion depends on the nature and type of each contract including:

- a) Unbilled work-in-progress valued at lower of cost and net realisable value upto the stage of completion. Cost includes direct material, labour cost and appropriate overheads; and
- b) amounts due in respect of the price and other escalation, bonus claims and/or variation in contract work approved by the customer/third parties etc. where the contract allows for such claims or variations and there is evidence that the customer/third party has accepted it.

Revenue from works contracts, where the outcome can be estimated reliably, is recognised under the percentage of completion method by reference to the stage of completion of the contract activity. The stage of completion is measured by calculating the proportion that costs incurred to date bear to the estimated total costs of a contract. Determination of revenues under the percentage of completion method necessarily involves making estimates by the SWPL Solar EPC Group, some of which are of a technical nature, concerning, where relevant, the percentages of completion, costs to completion, the expected revenues from the project / activity and the foreseeable losses to completion. The estimates of cost are periodically reviewed by the management and the effect of changes in estimates is recognised in the period such changes are identified.

Revenue from works contracts, where the outcome cannot be estimated reliably, is recognised only to the extent of contract costs incurred that it is probable will be recoverable; and contract costs shall be recognised as an expense in the period in which they are incurred.

Contract costs are recognised as expenses as incurred unless they create an asset related to future contract activity. An expected loss on a contract is recognised immediately in the consolidated statement of profit and loss. Liquidated damages/ penalties are accounted as per the contract terms wherever there is a delayed delivery attributable to the SWPL Solar EPC Group.

Revenue from sale of goods:

The SWPL Solar EPC Group recognises revenue from sale of goods once the customer takes possession of the goods. Revenue represents the invoice value of goods provided to third parties net of discounts and sales taxes/value added taxes.

Operation and maintenance income:

The SWPL Solar EPC Group recognises revenue from operation and maintenance services is recognised as and when the relevant services are rendered.

Multiple deliverable arrangements:

When two or more revenue generating activities or deliverables are provided under a single arrangement, each deliverable that is considered to be a separate unit of account is accounted for separately. The allocation of consideration from a revenue arrangement to its separate units of account is based on the relative fair value of each unit. If the fair value of the delivered item is not reliably measurable, then revenue is allocated based on the difference between the total arrangement consideration and the fair value of the undelivered item.

3.14 Export incentives

Export incentives receivable are accrued for when the right to receive the credit is established and there is no significant uncertainty regarding the ultimate collection of export proceeds. The export incentives are disclosed as other operating income in the carved out combined financial statements.

3.15 Advances from customers, progress payments and retention

Advances received from customers in respect of contracts are treated as liabilities and adjusted against progress billing as per terms of the contract.

Progress payments received are adjusted against amount receivable from customers in respect of the contract work performed. Amounts retained by the customers until the satisfactory completion of the contracts are recognised as receivables.

3.16 Leases

Determining whether an arrangement contains a lease

At inception of an arrangement, it is determined whether the arrangement is or contains a lease. At inception or on reassessment of the arrangement that contains a lease, the payments and other consideration required by such an arrangement are separated into those for the lease and those for other elements on the basis of their relative fair values. If it is concluded for a finance lease that it is impracticable to separate the payments reliably, then an asset and a liability are recognised at an amount equal to the fair value of the underlying asset. The liability is reduced as payments are made and an imputed finance cost on the liability is recognised using the incremental borrowing rate.

Assets held under leases

Leases of property, plant and equipment that transfer to the SWPL Solar EPC Group substantially all the risks and rewards of ownership are classified as finance leases. The leased assets are measured initially at an amount equal to the lower of their fair value and the present value of the minimum lease payments. Subsequent to initial recognition, the assets are accounted for in accordance with the accounting policy applicable to similar owned assets.

Assets held under leases that do not transfer to the SWPL Solar EPC Group substantially all the risks and rewards of ownership (i.e. operating leases) are not recognised in the SWPL Solar EPC Group's Balance Sheet.

Lease payments

Payments made under operating leases are generally recognised in the carved out combined statement of profit and loss on a straight-line basis over the term of the lease unless such payments are structured to increase in line with expected general inflation to compensate for the lessor's expected inflationary cost increases. Lease incentives received are recognised as an integral part of the total lease expense over the term of the lease.

Minimum lease payments made under finance leases are apportioned between the finance charge and the reduction of the outstanding liability. The finance charge is allocated to each period during the lease term so as to produce a constant periodic rate of interest on the remaining balance of the liability.

3.17 Recognition of dividend income, interest income or expense

Dividend income is recognised in the carved out combined statement of profit and loss on the date on which the SWPL Solar EPC Group's right to receive payment is established.

Interest income or expense is recognised using the effective interest method.

The 'effective interest rate' is the rate that exactly discounts estimated future cash payments or receipts through the expected life of the financial instrument to:

- the gross carrying amount of the financial asset; or
- the amortised cost of the financial liability.

In calculating interest income and expense, the effective interest rate is applied to the gross carrying amount of the asset (when the asset is not credit-impaired) or to the amortised cost of the liability. However, for financial assets that have become credit-impaired subsequent to initial recognition, interest income is calculated by applying the effective interest rate to the amortised cost of the financial asset. If the asset is no longer credit-impaired, then the calculation of interest income reverts to the gross basis.

3.18 Income tax

Income tax comprises current and deferred tax. It is recognised in the carved out combined statement of profit and loss except to the extent that it relates to a business combination or to an item recognised directly in equity or in other comprehensive income.

Current tax

Current tax has been computed by applying the statutory tax rates on results of the carved out combined financial statements as separate tax returns do not exist.

Current tax assets and current tax liabilities are offset only if there is a legally enforceable right to set off the recognised amounts, and it is intended to realise the asset and settle the liability on a net basis or simultaneously.

Minimum Alternative Tax ('MAT')

Minimum Alternative Tax ('MAT') under the provisions of the Income-tax Act, 1961 is recognised as current tax in the carved out combined statement of profit and loss. The credit available under the Act in respect of MAT paid is recognised as a deferred tax asset only when and to the extent there is convincing evidence that the SWPL Solar EPC Group will pay normal income tax during the period for which the MAT credit can be carried forward for set-off against the normal tax liability. MAT credit recognised as an deferred tax asset is reviewed at each balance sheet date and written down to the extent the aforesaid convincing evidence no longer exists.

Deferred tax

Deferred tax is recognised in respect of temporary differences between the carrying amounts of assets and liabilities for financial reporting purposes and the corresponding amounts used for taxation purposes. Deferred tax is also recognised in respect of carried forward tax losses and tax credits.

Deferred tax is not recognised for:

- temporary differences arising on the initial recognition of assets or liabilities in a transaction that is not a business combination and that affects neither accounting nor taxable profit or loss at the time of the transaction;
- temporary differences related to investments in subsidiaries and joint arrangements to the extent that the SWPL Solar EPC Group is able to control the timing of the reversal of the temporary differences and it is probable that they will not reverse in the foreseeable future; and
- taxable temporary differences arising on the initial recognition of goodwill.

Deferred tax assets are recognised to the extent that it is probable that future taxable profits will be available against which they can be used. The existence of unused tax losses is strong evidence that future taxable profit may not be available. Therefore, in case of a history of recent losses, the SWPL Solar EPC Group recognises a deferred tax asset only to the extent that it has sufficient taxable temporary differences or there is convincing other evidence that sufficient taxable profit will be available against which such deferred tax asset can be realised. Deferred tax assets – unrecognised or recognised, are reviewed at each reporting date and are recognised/ reduced to the extent that it is probable/ no longer probable respectively that the related tax benefit will be realised.

Deferred tax is measured at the tax rates that are expected to apply to the period when the asset is realised or the liability is settled, based on the laws that have been enacted or substantively enacted by the reporting date.

The measurement of deferred tax reflects the tax consequences that would follow from the manner in which the SWPL Solar EPC Group expects, at the reporting date, to recover or settle the carrying amount of its assets and liabilities.

Deferred tax assets and liabilities are offset if there is a legally enforceable right to offset current tax liabilities and assets, and they relate to income taxes levied by the same tax authority on the same taxable entity, or on different tax entities, but they intend to settle current tax liabilities and assets on a net basis or their tax assets and liabilities will be realised simultaneously.

3.19 Borrowing cost

Borrowing costs are interest and other costs (including exchange differences relating to foreign currency borrowings to the extent that they are regarded as an adjustment to interest costs) incurred in connection with the borrowing of funds. Borrowing costs directly attributable to acquisition or construction of an asset which necessarily take a substantial period of time to get ready for their intended use are capitalised as part of the cost of that asset. Other borrowing costs are recognised as an expense in the period in which they are incurred.

3.20 Investments

Investments that are readily realisable and intended to be held for not more than a year from the date of acquisition are classified as current investments. All other investments are classified as long-term investments.

Any reductions in the carrying amount and any reversals of such reductions are charged or credited to the carved out combined statement of profit and loss.

Cost of investments include acquisition charges such as brokerage, fees and duties.

Profit or loss on sale of investments is determined on the basis of first in first out (FIFO) basis of carrying amount of investment disposed off.

3.21 Cash flow

The SWPL Solar EPC Group's carved out combined statement of cash flows are prepared using the Indirect method, whereby profit for the period is adjusted for the effects of transactions of a non-cash nature, any deferrals or accruals of past or future operating cash receipts or payments and item of income or expenses associated with investing or financing cash flows. The cash flows from operating, investing and financing activities of the SWPL Solar EPC Group are segregated.

Cash and cash equivalents comprise cash and bank balances and short-term fixed bank deposits that are subject to an insignificant risk of changes in value.

3.22 Measurement of earnings before interest, tax, depreciation and amortisation (EBITDA)

The SWPL Solar EPC Group has opted to present earnings before interest (finance cost), tax, depreciation and amortisation (EBITDA) as a separate line item on the face of the carved out combined statement of profit and loss for the year. The SWPL Solar EPC Group measures EBITDA on the basis of profit/loss from continuing operations including other income. Finance cost includes interest on borrowings, financial guarantee and foreign exchange on borrowing cost to the extent it is considered to be an adjustment to the interest rate.

MANAGEMENT'S DISCUSSION AND ANALYSIS OF FINANCIAL CONDITION AND RESULTS OF OPERATIONS

The following discussion is intended to convey management's perspective on our financial condition and results of operations for Fiscals 2017, 2018 and 2019. You should read the following discussion and analysis of our financial condition and results of operations in conjunction with the sections entitled "Carved Out Combined Financial Statements", "Restated Consolidated Summary Financial Information" and "Summary of Financial Information" on pages 313, 192 and 56, respectively, of this Prospectus. This discussion contains forward-looking statements and reflects our current views with respect to future events and our financial performance and involves numerous risks and uncertainties, including, but not limited to those described in the section entitled "Risk Factors" on page 28 of this Prospectus. Actual results could differ materially from those contained in any forward-looking statements and for further details regarding forward-looking statements kindly refer to the section entitled "Forward-Looking Statements" on page 20 of this Prospectus. Unless otherwise stated, the financial information of our Company used in this section has been derived from the Restated Consolidated Summary Financial Information or the Carved Out Combined Financial Statements included elsewhere in this Prospectus.

We began our operations in 2011 as the Solar EPC Division of Sterling & Wilson Private Limited ("SWPL") and demerged from SWPL with effect from April 1, 2017 (the "Demerger"). Our Company was incorporated on March 9, 2017 prior to the Demerger. As a result, our Restated Consolidated Summary Financial Information for Fiscal 2019 and for the period from March 9, 2017 to March 31, 2018, which we refer to as "Fiscal 2018" are prepared on an actual basis after the Demerger. For comparative purposes, we have prepared Carved Out Combined Financial Statements for the financial year prior to the Demerger, Fiscal 2017, on a "carve-out" basis as if we had been in existence as a separate company since April 1, 2016 and as of and for the period ended March 31, 2017. Accordingly, the Carved Out Combined Financial Statements and certain operating information for the periods prior to the Demerger (Fiscal 2017) included elsewhere in this Prospectus may not be reflective of our performance as a separate company after the Demerger. For risks related to our carve-out financials see "Risk Factors – We depend on SWPL for certain services as a result of the Demerger and we may encounter difficulties adjusting to operating as a separate company after the Demerger, which may materially and adversely affect our business, financial condition, cash flow, prospects and results of operations" on page 37 of this Prospectus.

The Restated Consolidated Summary Financial Information included in this Prospectus are as at and for Fiscals 2018 and 2019, and the Carved Out Combined Financial Statements included in this Prospectus are as at and for Fiscal 2017, and have been prepared in accordance with Indian Accounting Standards ("Ind AS") as prescribed under Section 133 of Companies Act, 2013 read with Companies (Indian Accounting Standards) Rules, 2015 and other relevant provisions of the Companies Act, 2013 and the guidance notes issued by the Institute of Chartered Accountants of India. Ind AS differs in certain respects from Indian GAAP, IFRS and U.S. GAAP and other accounting principles with which prospective investors may be familiar. As a result, the Restated Consolidated Summary Financial Information prepared under Ind AS may not be comparable to our historical financial statements. See "Risk Factors— Significant differences exist between IndAS and other accounting principles, such as the US GAAP and IFRS, which may be material to an investor's assessment of our financial condition." on page 51 of this Prospectus.

We have included various operational and financial performance indicators in this Prospectus, including certain non-GAAP financial measures, some of which may not be derived from the Restated Consolidated Summary Financial Information or the Carved Out Combined Financial Statements or otherwise subjected to an audit or review by our auditors. The manner in which such operational and financial performance indicators, including non-GAAP financial measures, are calculated and presented, and the assumptions and estimates used in such calculation, may vary from that used by other companies.

As used in this Prospectus, the terms "we", "us" or "our" may, depending on the context, refer to the Solar EPC Division of SWPL prior to the Demerger or to our Company and our consolidated subsidiaries after giving effect to the Demerger.

Our financial year ends on March 31 of each year. Accordingly, references to Fiscals 2017 and 2019 are for the 12-month period ended March 31 of that year. References to Fiscal 2018 mean the period from March 9, 2017 to March 31, 2018, reflecting the incorporation of our Company as a separate company on March 9, 2017. We did not recognize revenue from operations or incur any expenses in our Company from March 9, 2017 to March 31, 2017; therefore, there is no impact to our Restated Consolidated Summary Statement of Profit and Loss for Fiscal 2018 from this additional 22-day period.

We have provided certain operational numbers as of March 31, 2019 and unless otherwise stated, such numbers take into account the period starting from the commencement of our operations in 2011.

Overview

We are a global pure-play, end-to-end solar EPC solutions provider, and were the world's largest solar EPC solutions provider in 2018 based on annual installations of utility-scale PV systems of more than five MWp, according to IHS Markit. We provide EPC services primarily for utility-scale solar power projects with a focus on project design and engineering and manage all aspects of project execution from conceptualizing to commissioning. We also provide O&M services, including for projects constructed by third-parties. We commenced operations in 2011 as the Solar EPC Division of SWPL and demerged from SWPL with effect from April 1, 2017. Over a span of seven years, we became the largest solar EPC solutions provider in each of India, Africa and the Middle East according to IHS Markit in 2018 and currently have a presence across 26 countries. As of March 31, 2019, we had 205 commissioned and contracted solar power projects with an aggregate capacity of 6,870.12 MWp. Our order book, which we define as the value of solar power projects for which we have entered into definitive EPC contracts minus the revenue already recognized from those projects, was ₹38,315.77 million as of March 31, 2019.

We offer a complete range of customized solutions for solar power projects. Our customers include leading IPPs, developers and equity funds. We adopt a consultative approach to our customers' solar energy needs and capabilities, which enables us to provide customized solutions to meet their requirements. We follow a "hub-and-spoke" business model where we manage the complete supply chain from India, including the design and engineering functions, and engage a few suppliers and third-party subcontractors and procure part of the raw materials for our operations locally in each of our markets, where there is a cost advantage or to comply with local regulations. We seek to leverage this business model to procure products and services solutions for our customers at competitive prices. Our customers also benefit from our relationships with key stakeholders, such as, suppliers, project lenders and consultants, which help us execute projects for our customers efficiently and at competitive prices. In Fiscals 2018 and 2019, our revenue from operations outside India accounted for 59.11% and 69.82% of our total revenue from operations, respectively. We often receive repeat orders from our customers and as of March 31, 2019 customers in India and outside India for whom we have executed more than one project constituted 83.26% and 64.35% of our total commissioned solar capacity, respectively.

Our operations are supported by a competent and sizable design and engineering team who are responsible for designing solutions, that we believe are innovative and cost-effective, with an aim to increase the performance ratio of solar power projects. As of March 31, 2019, all of our design team is based in India, which we believe provides us a cost advantage over our competitors. Our design and engineering team of 154 employees continually seeks to improve the efficiency of our solutions and services. We believe that our design and engineering solutions, coupled with robust quality compliance checks on PV modules helps us in achieving more than the contractually agreed performance ratio for the solar power projects we construct. In Fiscals 2018 and 2019, we did not pay liquidated damages related to performance ratios under our EPC contracts as we achieved the contractually agreed performance ratios under those contracts.

We strategically focus on markets that have conducive solar power policies and high solar resources, and invest in geographies with long-term solar opportunities. We adopt a disciplined expansion strategy that we customize for each market with a view to enhancing our bidding abilities in these geographies. For example, to tap opportunities in the United States, we adopted a co-development business model to help us secure EPC rights through equity investments in relevant projects. In other markets, such as Australia and Kazakhstan, we have acquired local entities to help us establish a permanent presence in such markets. In addition, as part of our expansion strategy, we conduct on-the-ground market diligence to evaluate each local opportunity and establish relationships with local suppliers and subcontractors. We believe this helps us identify potential bids in advance and prepare for bids quickly when opportunities arise. After we win a bid, our team executes the project with the support of our internal processes, global supply chain network, three-step quality management process comprising initial factory audit, production process audit and monitoring and pre-shipment inspection, risk management and field quality monitoring. In 2018, we were awarded the Specialist Contractor of the Year Award by MEED Awards, the EPC of the Year by Solar + Power Awards and the certificate of honor in the category of "RE International Excellence - Indian Companies" at the Renewable Energy India Awards.

We benefit from the brand reputation, industry relationships and project management expertise of the SP Group and the S&W. The SP Group is a global conglomerate and has over 150 years of experience as an EPC solutions provider in various industries across 45 countries. As of March 31, 2018, the total consolidated assets of SPCPL, the flagship company of the SP Group was ₹563,531.38 million, which helps us meet certain financial requirements for bidding for solar power projects. We also benefit from global presence and stakeholder relationships of the SP Group. S&W has over 90 years of experience in offering EPC solutions with operations across 34 countries. In particular, before entering a new market, we typically leverage from the presence of the SP Group and S&W in that market to get a head start in establishing our operations. In connection with the Demerger, we entered into a Framework Agreement with SWPL, pursuant to which SWPL will execute all our service contracts entered into prior to the Demerger from its branch offices and transfer all related benefits to us. We also have the right to continue using SWPL's branch offices for our operations going forward and avail certain shared services that we require to operate our business and have the right to use the "S&W" brand without payment. Further, our Subsidiary, SW FZCO and our Company have entered into the Brand Sharing Agreements under which we have the right to use intellectual property belonging to the SP group and to benefit from the SP Group's track record of project execution in bidding for large scale projects.

We operate an asset-light business model, under which our customers are responsible for sourcing and acquiring real estate while we typically lease equipment required for our operations. Our asset-light business model generally entails low capital expenditures and fixed costs, and offers flexibility and scalability to meet our customers' needs, provide customized solutions and respond quickly to market conditions. We are able to operate with low working capital requirements as our EPC contracts are typically of short duration. We typically require an advance payment from customers for certain deliverables and our EPC contracts include shorter payment cycles from our customers compared to longer payment cycles from our suppliers.

Our total revenue from operations was ₹16,402.71 million, ₹68,717.08 million and ₹82,404.08 million in Fiscals 2017, 2018 and 2019, respectively. Our combined profit after tax was ₹314.32 million in Fiscal 2017 and our consolidated profit after tax was ₹4,505.35 million and ₹6,382.33 million in Fiscals 2018 and 2019, respectively. We believe our growth and financial performance has been facilitated by our focus on risk management and reliance on clearly defined internal processes to manage our business. We seek to limit our counterparty risk exposure by focusing on our project selection on solar power projects that achieve financial closure before we commence our operations. We follow this guideline for most of our operations outside India.

Significant Factors Affecting our Results of Operations

Market Demand for Solar EPC Services

Our revenue and profitability depend substantially on the demand for solar EPC services and solar energy as an alternative to traditional forms of energy. Demand for solar energy depends on various factors, such as the global macroeconomic environment, pricing, cost-effectiveness, performance and reliability of solar power in comparison to alternative forms of energy, and the impact of government regulations and policies. According to IHS Markit, renewable energy sources, such as solar energy, have become significant contributors to power capacity growth additions globally and the share of solar PV generation capacity in global power generation capacity has increased from 9.8% in 2012 to 25.3% in 2018, and could increase to 38.4% in 2022. By 2022, total cumulative installed solar PV generation capacity could reach nearly 1,090 GW_{DC} globally, compared to less than 100 GW_{DC} at the end of 2012. In addition, many regions in which we have operations are expected to see steep growth in solar power capacity additions over the next three years, according to IHS Markit, such as annual solar PV installation growth of 11.7% CAGR in India, 70.6% CAGR in South East Asia, 22.2% CAGR in the Middle East and North Africa, 42.0% CAGR in the rest of Africa, 30.0% CAGR in Europe, 17.4% CAGR in the United States, 5.4% CAGR in Latin America and 8.1% in Australia.

The anticipated growth in the solar power market is partly driven by the declining cost of using solar energy and, according to IHS Markit, the levelized cost of electricity for solar PV plants decreased sharply between 2012 and 2018 and is expected to continue to decrease until 2030. The declining cost of solar energy can be attributed to a decrease in the costs of solar PV systems. The average global cost of utility-scale PV systems decreased from $1.82/watt in 2012 to $0.89/watt (DC) in 2018 and is expected to further decrease to $0.70/watt (DC) by 2022, according to BloombergNEF. A key driver of this decline is the decline in prices of solar PV modules, with the average price of a solar PV module decreasing by 68.5% from 2012 to 2018. In contrast, other sources of energy, such as coal, have seen an increase in cost and pricing over the same period.

Our business is also affected by government policies and initiatives, particularly those that support clean energy and enhance the economic feasibility of developing clean energy projects. Many governments have recognized solar power as a viable alternative to conventional power as demonstrated by the establishment of the International Solar Alliance ("ISA") in 2016, with a membership of over 120 countries. Examples of government-sponsored financial incentives to promote solar power include capital cost rebates, such as the Global Energy Transfer Feed-in Tariff ("GET FiT") and solar scaling programme to support solar power initiatives in Africa, and feed-in-tariff initiatives in Vietnam, tax credits and other tax benefits, net metering and other benefits to end-users, distributors, system integrators and manufacturers of solar products.

For additional details regarding the solar power industry and factors affecting its growth, see “Industry Overview” on page 98 of this Prospectus.

Pricing Model for EPC Services

We are a pure-play end-to-end solar EPC solutions provider providing a full range of EPC solutions, for solar power projects globally, including turnkey EPC solutions and BoS solutions. Turnkey EPC solutions entail building solar power projects from concept design to commissioning. BoS solutions comprise all project design and execution services other than the procurement of modules and components, which is handled by the customer, and “package BoS” projects include additional civil, mechanical and electrical work solutions. Our profit margins vary depending on the mix of services contracted. We generally generate higher margins for full turnkey EPC services. Our pricing structure and model also vary by geography, with markets with conducive solar power policies generally yielding higher profit margins. See “—Geographic Mix of Projects” on page 402 below.

We generally enter into fixed price EPC contracts and recognize revenue over time as we progress with construction on a percentage of completion method basis. We bill our customers according to contractually agreed milestones that reflect key stages of execution, such as entering into supplier contracts, delivery of modules and construction equipment and materials, installation, and commissioning of the solar power project. We also typically receive an advance payment from our customers at the time we enter into the EPC contract and adjust the advance received against milestone payments.

Our profitability largely depends on our ability to manage costs relating to our EPC operations. Our most significant cost is the cost of construction materials, stores and spare parts including modules, inverters and trackers, purchase of traded goods, purchase of stock-in-trade, changes in inventories and direct project costs. We seek to manage the cost of these materials by entering into pre-bid pricing arrangements with our key suppliers at competitive rates for modules, inverters and trackers, which generally comprise a majority of our cost of construction materials. These pre-bid pricing arrangements are typically valid for six months. We then reflect these prices in the overall fixed-price for the EPC contract. See “Our Business – Suppliers” on page 130 of this Prospectus for more details on our arrangements with suppliers. Other costs includes subcontractor and employee expenses, and the cost of other materials, such as cement and solar wafers for which we do not engage in pre-bid pricing arrangements. We manage these costs through our global supply chain and “hub and spoke” business model, where we manage the complete supply chain for our operations from India, including the design and engineering functions and mobilize supplies, raw materials and third-party subcontractors locally in each of our markets, where there is a cost advantage and/or a regulatory requirement. For Fiscals 2017, 2018 and 2019, our cost of construction materials, stores and spare parts, purchase of traded goods, purchase of stock-in-trade, changes in inventories of stock-in-trade and direct project costs as a percentage of total income amounted to an aggregate of 86.49%, 88.88% and 85.86%, respectively.

Our profitability also depends on our ability to execute our EPC contracts on contractually agreed timelines, as we receive payments from our customers upon achieving execution milestones and generally required to pay liquidated damages or penalties if we do not meet the agreed timelines. Our EPC contracts contain quality and performance guarantees by us and typically require that we be responsible for the solar power project maintaining a target plant performance ratio for a specified time period after commissioning, usually ranging from 18 months to two years. We mitigate any delays in project execution by closely monitoring project timelines and related cost escalations through our pre-bid on-the-ground market diligence, advance planning and detailed market studies. We seek to mitigate potential losses arising as a result of defects in solar equipment by obtaining product and performance warranties, and related insurance from suppliers, for our customers and us, typically ranging from five to 10 years. See “Our Business – EPC contracts” on page 123 of this Prospectus for more details.

Our profitability is also affected by pricing trends in our industry and in the geographies in which we operate. EPC pricing has been falling globally, as the cost of global utility-scale PV systems has decreased from $1.82/watt in 2012 to $0.89/watt (DC) in 2018 and is expected to further decrease to $0.70/watt (DC) by 2022, according to BloombergNEF. A key driver of this decline is the decline in prices of solar PV modules, with the average price of a solar PV module decreasing by 68.5% from 2012 to 2018. We expect to manage these changes in pricing trends by expanding our O&M operations, especially to solar power projects constructed by third parties and developing our solar storage solutions business by leveraging SWPL’s solar storage capabilities. See “Our Business – Strategies – Focus on expanding O&M, rooftop solar EPC and solar storage solutions” on page 120 of this Prospectus.

Geographic Mix of Projects

We currently have a presence across 26 countries. Our profitability largely depends on the market in which we operate. We are generally able to command higher pricing and yield higher profit margins in emerging solar markets, as competition in these markets is generally low. The regulatory and tax regime and government policies of each country also affects our profit margins. We manage costs associated with entering new markets through a disciplined expansion strategy that we customize for each market with a view to enhancing our bidding abilities in these geographies. We make capital investments in markets that have continuous and large solar opportunities and leverage our regional presence to strategically access other local geographies as needed, without incurring the costs of making permanent capital investments. See “– Key Performance Indicators” on page 402 below for details on our revenue and gross margin split outside India and in India in Fiscals 2017, 2018 and 2019.

Our Ability to Win Bids

Our revenues are largely a product of our ability to identify potential opportunities and win bids for EPC contracts. The solar EPC market is highly competitive and our competitors include global and regional solar EPC providers. We also compete with developers’ in-house EPC providers. EPC players typically compete on the basis of technology, know-how, price, timeliness of project completion, quality of construction, market knowledge, reputation and other measures of competitive strength, according to CRISIL Research.

While, we operate in a highly competitive environment, we believe our geographic specific strategy helps us identify potential bids and prepare for bids quickly when such opportunities arise in the market. In addition, to strengthen our bidding abilities in certain geographies, we adopt expansion strategies best suited for that geography. We also benefit from the brand reputation, industry and stakeholder relationships, balance sheet position, global presence, project management expertise and robust project management processes, including bidding discipline, market studies, operational expertise and strong track record of the SP Group and S&W, which help us bid for and execute large-scale projects in short timelines. In connection with the Demerger, we have entered into an arrangement with the SP Group that allows us to benefit from the financial strength of the SP Group and its track record of project execution in bidding for large scale projects. After we win a bid, our global team executes the project with the support of our strong internal processes, global supply chain network, three-step quality management process comprising initial factory audit, production process audit and monitoring and pre-shipment inspection, risk management and field quality monitoring. Our operations are supported by our global supply chain, a majority of which is based in India, strong relationships with suppliers and a large design and project execution team in India, which we believe, gives us a cost advantage over our competitors, and helps us win bids and repeat orders.

As of March 31, 2019, we had 205 commissioned and ongoing solar power projects with an aggregate capacity of 6,870.12 MWp, that included 177 commissioned projects with an aggregate capacity of 5,271.34 MWp, and 28 projects under execution with an aggregate capacity of 1,598.78 MWp. As of March 31, 2019, we had an order book of ₹38,315.77 million and letters of intent of ₹39,081.60 (of which ₹21,959.31 million were converted into definitive EPC contracts since March 31, 2019). During Fiscals 2017, 2018 and 2019 our bid conversion ratios on the basis of capacity (MWp), calculated as the ratio of bids won to bids submitted, was 37.61%, 17.86% and 21.59% respectively.

Factors Affecting our O&M Services

We also provide O&M services, including for projects constructed by third parties. Our profitability depends on our ability to manage our costs for our services and maintain performance targets of solar power projects. We manage our costs and targets through thorough project diligence and depend on real-time analytics and data mining for determining plant performance. For example, we have installed CMS and are in the process of installing the CMMS that we have licensed from SWPL under the Framework Agreement, to improve our operational efficiency and real-time performance analytics. The pricing of O&M services and related profit margins also depend on the market in which we operate, the competition in the market, availability of local subcontractors and suppliers, availability of preventive and predictive maintenance technology and the complexity of the solar power project. As of March 31, 2019 we provided O&M services to solar power projects having an aggregate capacity of 5,557.89 MWp.

Key Performance Indicators

In evaluating our business, we consider and use certain key performance indicators that are presented below as supplemental measures to review and assess our operating performance. The presentation of these key performance indicators is not intended to be considered in isolation or as a substitute for the Restated Consolidated Summary Financial Information or the Carved Out Combined Financial Statements and other financial and operational information included in this Prospectus. We present these key performance indicators because they are used by our management to evaluate our operating performance. These key performance indicators have limitations as analytical tools and may differ from similar information used by other companies, including peer companies and hence their comparability may be limited. Therefore, these metrics should not be considered in isolation or construed as an alternative to our financial statements or as an indicator of our operating performance, liquidity, profitability or results of operation.

In evaluating our business, we consider and use non-GAAP financial measures such as gross profit and gross margin to review and assess our operating performance. Critical Accounting Policies

Certain of our accounting policies require the application of judgment by our management in selecting appropriate assumptions for calculating financial estimates, which inherently contain some degree of uncertainty. Our management bases its estimates on historical experience and various other assumptions that are believed to be reasonable under the circumstances, the results of which form the basis for making judgments about the reported carrying values of assets and liabilities and the reported amounts of revenues and expenses that may not be readily apparent from other sources. Actual results may differ from these estimates under different assumptions or conditions.

The following are what management believes to be the critical accounting policies and related judgments and estimates used in the preparation of the Restated Consolidated Summary Financial Information or the Carved Out Combined Financial Statements. For more information on each of these policies and for other significant accounting policies and judgments, estimates and assumptions, see “Annexure V to the Restated Consolidated Summary Financial Information” on page 211 of this Prospectus.

Revenue recognition

Revenue from contracts with customers

We recognize revenue from contracts with customers based on a five step model as set out below:

- Step 1: Identify the contracts with customers: A contract is defined as an agreement between two or more parties that creates enforceable rights and obligations and sets out the criteria for every contract that must be met.

- Step 2: Identify the performance obligations in the contract: A performance obligation is a promise in a contract with a customer to transfer a good or service to the customer.
- Step 3: Determine the transaction price: The transaction price is the amount of consideration to which we expect to be entitled in exchange for transferring promised goods or services to a customer, excluding amounts collected on behalf of third parties.
- Step 4: Allocate the transaction price to the performance obligations in the contract: For a contract that has more than one performance obligation, we will allocate the transaction price to each performance obligation in an amount that depicts the amount of consideration to which we expect to be entitled in exchange for satisfying each performance obligation.
- Step 5: Recognize revenue when (or as) the entity satisfies a performance obligation.

We satisfy a performance obligation and recognizes revenue over time, if one of the following criteria is met:

- The customer simultaneously receives and consumes the benefits provided by us; or
- Our performance creates or enhances an asset that the customer controls as the asset is created or enhanced; or
- Our performance does not create an asset with an alternative use to us and the customer has an enforceable right to payment for performance completed to date.

Revenue is measured at the fair value of the consideration received or receivable, taking into account contractually defined terms of payment and excluding taxes and duty. We assess our revenue arrangements against specific criteria to determine if we are acting as principal or agent. We have concluded that we are acting as a principal in all of our revenue arrangements.

Revenue from works contract

Revenue from works contracts, where the outcome can be estimated reliably, is recognized under the percentage of completion method by reference to the stage of completion of the contract activity. The stage of completion is measured by calculating the proportion that costs incurred to date bear to the estimated total costs of a contract. Determination of revenues under the percentage of completion method necessarily involves making estimates by the management.

When we satisfy a performance obligation by delivering the promised goods or services we create a contract asset based on the amount of consideration to be earned by the performance. Where the amount of consideration received from a customer exceeds the amount of revenue recognized this gives rise to a contract liability.

Any variations in contract work, claims, incentive payments are included in the transaction price if it is highly probable that a significant reversal of revenue will not occur once associated uncertainties are resolved.

Consideration is adjusted for the time value of money if the period between the transfer of goods or services and the receipt of payment exceeds twelve months and there is a significant financing benefit either to the customer or us.

Revenue from sale of goods

We recognize revenue from sale of goods once the customer takes possession of the goods. Revenue represents the invoice value of goods provided to third parties net of discounts and sales taxes/value added taxes/goods and service tax.

O&M income

We recognize revenue from O&M services using the time-elapsd measure of progress i.e. input method on a straight line basis.

Multiple deliverable arrangements

When two or more revenue generating activities or deliverables are provided under a single arrangement, each deliverable that is considered to be a separate unit of account is accounted for separately. The allocation of consideration from a revenue arrangement to its separate units of account is based on the relative fair value of each unit. If the fair value of the delivered item is not reliably measurable, then revenue is allocated based on the difference between the total arrangement consideration and the fair value of the undelivered item.

Foreign currency

Foreign currency transaction

- a) Initial Recognition: All transactions that are not denominated in our functional currency (INR) are foreign currency transactions. These transactions are initially recorded in the functional currency by applying the appropriate daily rate which best approximates the actual rate of the transaction. Exchange differences arising on foreign exchange transactions settled during the period are recognized in the consolidated statement of profit and loss.
- b) Measurement of foreign currency items at the reporting date: Monetary assets and liabilities denominated in foreign currencies are translated into the functional currency at the exchange rate at the reporting date. Non-monetary assets and liabilities that are measured at fair value in a foreign currency are translated into the functional currency at the exchange rate when the fair value was determined. Non-monetary assets and liabilities that are measured based on historical cost in a foreign currency are translated at the exchange rate at the date of the transaction. Exchange differences are recognized in the Statements of Profit and Loss, except exchange differences arising from the translation of the equity investments classified as fair value through other comprehensive income (“OCI”) (fair value through other comprehensive income) which is recognized in OCI.

Foreign operations

The assets and liabilities of foreign operations (subsidiaries and branches) including goodwill and fair value adjustments arising on acquisition, are translated into INR at the exchange rates at the reporting date. The income and expenses of foreign operations are translated into INR at the exchange rates at the dates of the transactions or an average rate if the average rate approximates the actual rate at the date of the transaction.

Exchange differences are recognized in OCI and accumulated in equity (as exchange differences on translating the financial statements of a foreign operation), except to the extent that the exchange differences are allocated to non-controlling interest.

When a foreign operation is disposed of in its entirety or partially such that control, significant influence or joint control is lost, the cumulative amount of exchange differences related to that foreign operation recognized in OCI is reclassified to the consolidated statement profit and loss as part of the gain or loss on disposal. If we dispose of part of its interest in a subsidiary but retains control, then the relevant proportion of the cumulative amount is re-allocated to non-controlling interest. When we dispose of only a part of our interest in a joint venture while retaining significant influence or joint control, the relevant proportion of the cumulative amount is reclassified to the Statements of Profit and Loss.

Employee benefits

Short-term employee benefits

Short-term employee benefit obligations are measured on an undiscounted basis and are expensed as the related service is provided. A liability is recognized for the amount expected to be paid e.g., under short-term cash bonus, if we have a present legal or constructive obligation to pay this amount as a result of past service provided by the employee, and the amount of obligation can be estimated reliably.

Post-employment benefits

- a) Defined contribution plans: A defined contribution plan is a plan for the post-employment benefit of an employee under which we pay fixed periodic contributions into Provident Fund and Employee State Insurance Corporations in accordance with Indian regulations. We have no further legal or constructive obligation to pay once contributions are made. Obligations for contributions to defined contribution plans are recognized as an employee benefit expense in the Statements of Profit and Loss in the periods during which the related services are rendered by employees. In respect of overseas entities, our contribution towards defined contribution benefit plan is accrued in compliance with the domestic laws of the country in which the consolidated foreign entities operate.

- b) Defined benefit plans: Our gratuity benefit scheme and terminal benefit scheme (in overseas jurisdictions) are a defined benefit plan. Our net obligation in respect of the gratuity benefit scheme is calculated by estimating the amount of future benefit that employees have earned in return for their service in the current and prior periods; that benefit is discounted to determine its present value.

The present value of the obligation under such defined benefit plan is determined based on actuarial valuation by an independent actuary using the Projected Unit Credit Method, which recognizes each period of service as giving rise to additional unit of employee benefit entitlement and measures each unit separately to build up the final obligation. The obligation is measured at the present value of the estimated future cash flows. The discount rates used for determining the present value of the obligation under defined benefit plan, are based on the market yields on Government securities as at the balance sheet date.

All re-measurement gains and losses arising from defined benefit plans are recognized in the Restated Consolidated Summary Statement of Other Comprehensive Income in the period in which they occur and not reclassified to the Statement of Profits and Loss in the subsequent period. We determine the net interest expense (income) on the net defined benefit liability (asset) for the period by applying the discount rate used to measure the defined benefit obligation at the beginning of the annual period to the then-net defined benefit liability (asset), taking into account any changes in the net defined benefit liability (asset) during the period as a result of contributions and benefit payments. Net interest expense and other expenses related to defined benefit plans are recognized in the Statements of Profit and Loss.

When the benefits of a plan are changed or when a plan is curtailed, the resulting change in benefit that relates to past service or the gain or loss on curtailment is recognized immediately in the Statements of Profit and Loss. We recognize gains and losses on the settlement of a defined benefit plan when the settlement occurs in the Statements of Profit and Loss.

In respect of the overseas subsidiaries, up to 31 March 2018, provisions were made for employees' terminal benefits on the basis prescribed under the labor laws of the respective countries in which the overseas subsidiaries operates and is determined based on arithmetic calculation. Subsequently, the present value of the obligation is determined based on actuarial valuation by an independent actuary using the Projected Unit Credit Method.

Other long-term employee benefits

Our net obligation in respect of long-term employment benefits, other than gratuity and terminal benefits, is the amount of future benefit that employees have earned in return for their service in the current and prior periods. The obligation is calculated at the balance sheet date on the basis of an actuarial valuation done by an independent actuary using the projected unit credit method and is discounted to its present value and the fair value of any related assets is deducted. Re-measurements gains or losses are recognized in the consolidated statement of profit and loss in the period in which they arise.

Compensated absences which are not expected to occur within twelve months after the end of the period in which the employee renders the related services are recognized as a liability at the present value of the defined benefit obligation at the balance sheet date. The discount rates used for determining the present value of the obligation under long term employment benefits, are based on the market yields on Government securities as at the balance sheet date.

Equity-settled share-based payments:

Employees of us receive remuneration in the form of share-based payments, whereby employees render services as consideration for equity instruments. The cost of equity-settled transactions is determined by the fair value at the date when the grant is made using an appropriate valuation model.

That cost is recognized, together with a corresponding increase in share-based payment reserves in equity, over the period in which the performance and/or service conditions are fulfilled. The cumulative expense recognized for equity-settled transactions at each reporting date until the vesting date reflects the extent to which the vesting period has expired and our best estimate of the number of equity instruments that will ultimately vest.

When the terms of an equity-settled award are modified, the minimum expense recognized is the expense had the terms had not been modified, if the original terms of the award are met. An additional expense is recognized for any modification that increases the total fair value of the share-based payment transaction, or is otherwise beneficial to the employee as measured at the date of modification. Where an award is cancelled by the entity or by the counterparty, any remaining element of the fair value of the award is expensed immediately through the Statements of Profit and Loss. The dilutive effect of outstanding options is reflected as additional share dilution in the computation of diluted earnings per share.

Provisions and contingencies

A provision is recognized if, as a result of a past event, we have a present legal or constructive obligation that can be estimated reliably, and it is probable that an outflow of economic benefits will be required to settle the obligation. Provisions are determined by discounting the expected future cash flows (representing the best estimate of the expenditure required to settle the present obligation at the balance sheet date) at a pre-tax rate that reflects current market assessments of the time value of money and the risks specific to the liability. The unwinding of the discount is recognized as finance cost. Expected future operating losses are not provided for.

A disclosure for a contingent liability is made when there is a possible obligation or a present obligation that may, but probably will not require an outflow of resources embodying economic benefits or the amount of such obligation cannot be measured reliably. When there is a possible obligation or a present obligation in respect of which likelihood of outflow of resources embodying economic benefits is remote, no provision or disclosure is made.

A contingent asset is disclosed where an inflow of economic benefits is probable.

Onerous contracts

A contract is considered to be onerous when the expected economic benefits to be derived by us from the contract are lower than the unavoidable cost of meeting its obligations under the contract. The provision for an onerous contract is measured at the present value of the lower of the expected cost of terminating the contract and the expected net cost of continuing with the contract. Before such a provision is made, we recognize any impairment loss on the assets associated with that contract.

Advances from customers, progress payments and retention

Advances received from customers in respect of contracts are treated as liabilities and adjusted against progress billing as per terms of the contract. Progress payments received are adjusted against amount receivable from customers in respect of the contract work performed. Amounts retained by the customers until the satisfactory completion of the contracts are recognized as receivables.

Principal Components of our Statements of Profit and Loss

The following description sets forth information on the key components of our Carved Out Combined Statement of Profit and Loss for Fiscal 2017, and of our Restated Consolidated Statement of Profit and Loss for Fiscals 2018 and 2019, included in the Restated Consolidated Summary Financial Information or the Carved Out Combined Financial Statements as per Ind AS (together, the “Statements of Profit and Loss”).

Revenue

Our revenue from operations primarily consists of revenue from the sale of EPC services under our EPC contracts, and from the sale of O&M services to solar power projects constructed by us and by third parties. We generally enter into fixed price EPC contracts and recognize revenue over time as we progress with construction on a percentage of completion method basis. We bill our customers according to contractually agreed milestones that reflect key stages of execution, such as, entering into supplier contracts, delivery of modules and construction equipment and materials, installation, and commissioning of the solar power project. We also typically receive an advance payment from our customers at the time we enter into the EPC contract and adjust the advance received against milestone payments. For our O&M business, we generally bill our customers on a quarterly basis in

Our total income increased by 22.74% to ₹84,499.33 million in Fiscal 2019 from ₹68,844.20 million in Fiscal 2018, primarily due to a significant increase in our EPC revenue from South East Asia, rest of Africa and United States of America and Latin America. We also recognized EPC revenue for the first time from Australia in Fiscal 2019. This increase in our total income was partially offset by a decrease in our EPC revenue from India.

Our revenue from EPC services from Middle East and North Africa marginally decreased by 1.53% to ₹39,187.97 million in Fiscal 2019 from ₹39,797.99 million in Fiscal 2018, as we recognized revenue only from the construction stages of the 1,177 MWp solar power project in Abu Dhabi in Fiscal 2019. In Fiscal 2018, we recognized revenue from the construction of the solar power project in Morocco in addition to revenue recognized from the construction of the 1,177 MWp solar power project in Abu Dhabi. This decrease was partially offset by an increase in the revenue recognized from five solar power projects in Egypt.

Our revenue from EPC services from rest of Africa increased by 888.44% from ₹666.97 million in Fiscal 2018 to ₹6,592.60 million in Fiscal 2019, primarily due to an increase in the number of solar power projects for which we provided EPC services in the region. In rest of Africa, we primarily recognized revenue from the 47.10 MWp solar power project in Namibia and the 47.50 MWp solar power project in Zambia. We also recognized revenue from the 9 MWp solar power project in Niger. In Fiscal, 2018, we entered into EPC contracts for these projects but started recognizing revenue in Fiscal 2019, when we progressed with the construction of the solar power projects.

Our revenue from EPC services from the United States and Latin America region increased from ₹65.33 million in Fiscal 2018 to ₹3,546.21 million in Fiscal 2019, primarily due to an increase in the number of solar power projects for which we provided EPC services in the region. We recognized revenue primarily from the 9.51 MWp solar power project in Argentina. In Fiscal 2018 we entered into EPC contract for this solar power project and started recognizing revenue in Fiscal 2019 when we progressed with the construction.

Our revenue from EPC services in South East Asia significantly increased from ₹4.05 million in Fiscal 2018 to ₹7,927.97 million in Fiscal 2019, primarily due to an increase in the revenue recognized from our solar power projects that were under-construction in Vietnam. In Fiscal 2018, we recognized revenue only from the completion stages of the solar power project in Philippines.

We recognized revenue from EPC services in Australia of ₹68.09 million for the first time in Fiscal 2019, as we started construction of a solar power project in the region.

Revenue recognized from EPC services in India decreased by 13.02% to ₹24,129.71 million in Fiscal 2019 from ₹27,741.74 million in Fiscal 2018, primarily due to an increase in number solar power projects we provided EPC services on the BoS basis in Fiscal 2019, compared to Fiscal 2018 where we primarily provided EPC services to solar power projects on a turnkey basis. Pricing for BoS solutions is typically lower compared to turnkey solutions, as it largely comprises of only project design and execution services and does not include procurement of modules and components. See “ – Pricing Model for EPC Services” for more information on our pricing model for EPC services. In Fiscal 2019, we recognized revenue primarily from three 39 MWp solar power project in Gujarat, one 48 MWp solar power project, 54 MWp solar power project and three 11 MWp solar power project in Tamil Nadu, four 145 MWp solar power project in Rajasthan and the 70 MWp solar power project in Andhra Pradesh.

Our revenue from O&M services increased by 113.89% to ₹935.76 million in Fiscal 2019 from ₹437.49 million in Fiscal 2018, primarily due to an increase in the number of O&M service contracts in Fiscal 2019. In Fiscal 2019, we provided O&M services to 79 solar power projects with aggregate capacity of 3,206.84 MWp, of which 26 solar power projects with an aggregate capacity of 947.68 MWp were constructed by third-parties. We also recognized O&M revenue for the first time from Middle East and North Africa regions, and our O&M revenue increased by 52.20% from ₹82.99 million in Fiscal 2019 from ₹126.31 million in the rest of Africa primarily due to price escalation under the relevant O&M contracts.

Expenses

Our total expenses increased by 19.96% to ₹75,983.07 million in Fiscal 2019 from ₹63,339.57 million in Fiscal 2018, primarily due to an increase in the cost of construction materials, stores and spare parts, direct project costs, employee benefit expenses and other expenses in Fiscal 2019.

Our cost of construction materials, stores and spare parts and changes in inventories of stock in trade increased by 4.18% to ₹56,103.60 million in Fiscal 2019 from ₹53,853.45 million in Fiscal 2018, primarily due to an increase in the volume of construction materials required for construction of the solar power projects in the United States and Latin America and South East Asia regions. Our construction costs also increased with an increase in the number of solar power projects under-construction in Middle East and North Africa, rest of Africa and India, and with the expansion of our EPC operations in Australia.

Our direct project costs increased by 124.23% to ₹16,450.41 million in Fiscal 2019 from ₹7,336.27 million in Fiscal 2018. Our direct project costs consist largely of subcontractor expenses, direct project overheads and employee benefit expenses attributable to projects. These costs increased by 154.52%, 45.43% and 71.95% in Fiscal 2019, respectively, primarily due to the construction of the 1,177 MW project in Abu Dhabi and an increase in the number of solar power projects under-construction in the Fiscal 2019. Our other direct project costs, such as legal and professional fees, stores and spare parts consumed, insurance costs, rent expenses for construction equipment taken on lease, travelling and conveyancing expenses increased in Fiscal 2019, as we expanded our EPC operations outside India, including in Australia and Europe.

Our employee benefit expenses for our administrative and corporate operations increased by 80.37% to ₹1,778.88 million in Fiscal 2019 from ₹986.24 million in the Fiscal 2018, primarily due to an increase in the number of employees involved in our administrative and corporate operations to support our growing business operations. Our employee benefit expenses also increased with the commencement of our operations in Australia and as a result of completing one full year of operations in the United States in Fiscal 2019 compared to only three months of operations in the United States in Fiscal 2018. As a result of this increase, our contributions to provident and welfare funds increased in Fiscal 2019 compared to Fiscal 2018.

Our other expenses increased by 41.82% to ₹1,650.18 million in Fiscal 2019 from ₹1,163.60 million in Fiscal 2018, primarily due to the expansion of our operations outside India, which led to an increase in expenses for legal and professional fees and travelling and conveyancing. We also provided a provision for bad and doubtful debts of ₹200.00 million in Fiscal 2019 compared to ₹13.50 million in Fiscal 2018, primarily for certain expected credit losses for delay in the recovery of trade receivables for our solar power projects.

Our finance costs increased by 354.69% to ₹846.51 million in Fiscal 2019 from ₹186.17 million in Fiscal 2018, primarily due to an increase in our interest expenses on unsecured working capital loans from banks.

Our tax expenses increased by 54.76% to ₹1,209.38 million in Fiscal 2019 from ₹781.43 million in Fiscal 2018, primarily as a result of an increase in our consolidated profit before tax by 43.60% to ₹7,591.71 million in Fiscal 2019 from ₹5,286.78 million in Fiscal 2018. This increase was partially offset by lower tax rates compared to India in a few geographies, such as the United Arab Emirates in Fiscal 2019.

Consolidated profit after tax

For the aforementioned reasons, our consolidated profit after tax was ₹6,382.33 million in Fiscal 2019 which increased by 41.66% from a consolidated profit after tax of ₹4,505.35 million in Fiscal 2018.

Fiscal 2018 compared to Fiscal 2017

Revenue

Our total income increased by 317.22% to ₹68,844.20 million in Fiscal 2018 from ₹16,500.65 million in Fiscal 2017, primarily due to a significant increase in our revenue from EPC services from Middle East and North Africa. We also recognized revenue from rest of Africa, United States and Latin America region, and South East Asia in Fiscal 2018. In Fiscal 2017, we recognized revenue only from the completion stages of the 50.94 MWp solar power project in South East Asia.

We recognized revenue from EPC services of ₹39,797.99 million in Fiscal 2018 for the first time in Middle East and North Africa, which is primarily attributable to the 1,177 MWp solar power project in Abu Dhabi and the 175 MWp solar power project in Morocco. We entered into EPC contracts for these projects in Fiscal 2017 and began recognizing revenue for these projects only in Fiscal 2018 when we started construction.

Similarly, we also recognized revenue from EPC services of ₹65.33 million in Fiscal 2018 for the first time in the United States and Latin America region, which is primarily attributable to revenue recognized from the initial stages of construction of the 90.30 MWp solar power plant in Argentina. We also recognized revenue from EPC services of ₹666.97 million from rest of Africa for the first time in Fiscal 2018, which is primarily attributable to the 9 MWp solar power plant in Niger and the 47.10 MWp solar power plant in Namibia.

However our revenue from EPC services from South East Asia decreased by 87.56% to ₹4.05 million in Fiscal 2018 from ₹32.55 million in Fiscal 2017, which we primarily recognized from the completion stages of the solar power projects in Philippines with an aggregate capacity of 50.90 MWp.

Revenue recognized from EPC services in India increased by 72.04% to ₹27,741.74 million in Fiscal 2018 from ₹16,124.76 million in Fiscal 2017, primarily due to an increase in the number of solar power projects from 16 in Fiscal 2017 to 18 in Fiscal 2018. In Fiscal 2018, we recognized revenue primarily from, the 100 MWp solar power project in Telangana, 65 MWp solar power project in Telangana, 81 MWp solar power project in Maharashtra, 54 MWp solar power project in Maharashtra and 60 MWp solar power project in Maharashtra. In Fiscal 2017 we primarily recognized revenue from the 50 MWp solar power project in Andhra Pradesh, 65 MWp solar power project in Minpur and 195 MWp solar power project in Andhra Pradesh.

Our revenue from O&M services also increased by 80.22% to ₹437.49 million in Fiscal 2018 from ₹242.76 million in Fiscal 2017, primarily due to an increase in the number of O&M service contracts in Fiscal 2018. In Fiscal 2018, we provided O&M services to 56 solar power projects with aggregate capacity of 1,327.77 MWp, of which 13 with an aggregate capacity of 725.30 MWp were constructed by third-parties. In Fiscal 2017 we provided O&M services to 44 solar power projects with an aggregate capacity of 548.28 MWp, of which 11, with an aggregate capacity of 192.30 MWp, were constructed by third-parties.

Expenses

Our total expenses increased by 299.52% to ₹63,339.57 million in Fiscal 2018 from ₹15,853.94 million in Fiscal 2017, primarily due to the expansion of our EPC operations outside India with the construction of two solar power projects in Abu Dhabi and Morocco.

Our cost of construction materials, stores and spare parts and changes in inventories of stock in trade increased by 363.04% to ₹53,853.45 million in Fiscal 2018 from ₹11,630.47 million in Fiscal 2017, primarily due to an increase in the volume of construction materials required for the Abu Dhabi and Morocco projects. The requirement for construction materials and costs also increased with an increase in the number of solar power projects under-construction in India. The cost also increased as the price of certain construction materials increased in Fiscal 2018 compared to Fiscal 2017.

Our direct project costs increased by 177.83% to ₹7,336.27 million in Fiscal 2018 from ₹2,640.57 million in Fiscal 2017. Our direct project costs consist largely of subcontractor expenses, direct project overheads and employee benefit expenses attributable to projects. These costs increased by 189.92%, 128.66% and 246.60% in Fiscal 2018, respectively, primarily due to the construction of the solar power projects in Abu Dhabi and Morocco. Our bank charges increased by 1082.15% in Fiscal 2018, primarily due to an increase in bank guarantees obtained by us, corresponding to the expansion of our EPC operations outside India and in India. Similarly, other direct project costs, such as travelling and conveyance expenses increased in Fiscal 2018, as we incurred additional expenses for our overseas travel for our operations and our rent also increased in Fiscal 2018 as we opened new offices outside India to support to our expanding operations.

Our employee benefit expenses for our administrative and corporate operations increased by 64.42% to ₹986.24 million in Fiscal 2018 from ₹599.84 million in Fiscal 2017, primarily due to an increase in the number of employees involved in our administrative and corporate operations to support our growing business operations. As a result, our contributions to provident and welfare funds also increased in Fiscal 2018 compared to Fiscal 2017.

Our other expenses increased by 18.36% to ₹1,163.60 million in Fiscal 2018 from ₹983.06 million in Fiscal 2017, primarily due to the expansion of our operations outside India, which led to an increase in expenses for stores and spare parts, legal and professional fees, rental costs and travelling and conveyance expenses for our administrative and corporate operations.

Our finance costs increased by 564.19% to ₹186.17 million in Fiscal 2018 from ₹28.03 million in Fiscal 2017, primarily due to an increase in our interest expenses as we availed a buyer's credit for projects in India and trust receipts against materials utilized for our project in Abu Dhabi in Fiscal 2018.

Our tax expenses increased by 170.85% to ₹781.43 million in Fiscal 2018 from ₹288.51 million in Fiscal 2017, primarily as a result of an increase in our consolidated profit before tax by 776.99% to ₹5,286.78 million in Fiscal 2018 from a combined profit before tax of ₹602.83 million in Fiscal 2017. This increase was partially offset by lower tax rates compared to India in a few geographies, such as the United Arab Emirates, in Fiscal 2018.

Financial Position

The following section provides a brief overview of our financial position from our summary balance sheet as of March 31, 2019.

Our non-current assets increased from ₹415.64 million as of March 31, 2018 to ₹672.31 million as of March 31, 2019 primarily due to an increase in our deferred tax assets. Our deferred tax assets increased from ₹110.23 million as of March 31, 2018 to ₹321.23 million as of March 31, 2019 primarily due to an increase in a provision for liquidated damages to ₹138.26 million as of March 31, 2019 for the solar power projects in Zambia and Argentina.

Our current assets increased from ₹48,788.17 million as of March 31, 2018 to ₹53,246.88 million as of March 31, 2019 primarily due to an increase in loans given to related parties of ₹19,354.63 million as of March 31, 2019 as a result of the demerger. This increase was offset by a decrease in other financial assets from ₹10,298.76 million as of March 31, 2018 to ₹2,416.78 million as of March 31, 2019, primarily due to a decrease in certain receivables from our related parties as a result of the demerger. See “Summary of the Offer Document - Summary of Related Party Transactions” on page 25 of this Prospectus for more information on these arrangements with our related parties.

Our total equity increased from ₹1,938.76 million as of March 31, 2018 to ₹8,375.21 million as of March 31, 2019 primarily due to an increase in our consolidated profits as of March 31, 2019, which led to an increase in our retained earnings from ₹3,671.95 million as of March 31, 2018 to ₹10,065.99 million as of March 31, 2019.

Our total non-current liabilities increased from ₹55.76 million as of March 31, 2018 to ₹86.13 million as of March 31, 2019 primarily due to an increase in terminal benefits paid to employees upon their termination/resignation, as a result of the demerger.

Our current liabilities decreased from ₹47,209.29 million as of March 31, 2018 to ₹45,457.85 million as of March 31, 2019, primarily due to a decrease in total outstanding dues of creditors other than micro enterprises and small enterprises from ₹37,397.94 million as of March 31, 2018 to ₹19,106.21 million as of March 31, 2019, and a decrease in other current liabilities from ₹7,025.59 million as of March 31, 2018 to ₹2,446.03 million as of March 31, 2019. This decrease was partially offset by an increase in current borrowings ₹1,841.35 million as of March 31, 2018 to ₹22,277.74 million as of March 31, 2019, primarily due to an increase in buyers credit, working capital loans from banks, commercial papers and trust receipts. Liquidity and Capital Resources

As of March 31, 2019, our cash and cash equivalents were ₹4,207.70 million on a consolidated basis. Historically, our sources of liquidity have principally been from cash flows from our operations, including advance payments from customers, and working capital loans from banks and related parties. Our cash requirements have mainly been for working capital. We expect that cash flow from operations will continue to be our principal source of cash in the long-term. We believe that our current cash and cash equivalents and cash flow from operations will be sufficient to meet our anticipated regular working capital requirements and our needs for capital expenditures, for the next 12 months. We may, however, require additional cash resources due to changing business conditions or other future developments, including any investments or acquisitions we may decide to pursue.

As of March 31, 2019, our current assets primarily comprised of trade receivables from customers under our EPC contracts; advance payments made to suppliers of modules, inverters, transformers, trackers and other equipment for our EPC operations; and receivables that are unbilled and will be billed in the next billing cycle to our customers. Our current liabilities primarily comprised of advance payments from customers under our EPC contracts and trade payables. We are able to operate with low working capital requirements as our EPC contracts are typically of short duration and we receive advance payments from our EPC customers under the EPC contracts. This increase was partially offset by a decrease in trade payables, other current liabilities and provisions of ₹850.87 million due to a decrease in the solar power plants constructed in Fiscal 2017 in South Africa and Philippines compared to Fiscal 2016, which consequently reduced the advances received from customers and payments made to suppliers.

Quantitative and Qualitative Analysis of Market Risks

Our activities expose it to a variety of financial risks, including market risk, credit risk and liquidity risk. Our overall risk management program focuses on identifying and analyzing the risks faced by us, to set appropriate risk limits and to monitor risks and adherence to limits. We review our risk management policies and procedures, and the adequacy of our risk management systems regularly.

Market Risk

We are exposed to market risk with respect to the loss of future earnings, fair values or future cash flows that may result from adverse changes in market rates and prices, such as interest rates, foreign currency exchange rates or in the price of market risk-sensitive instruments. We further segregate market risk as (i) currency risk and (ii) interest rate risk.

Currency risk

We face exchange rate risk because certain of our obligations are denominated in foreign currencies, while our functional currency is the Indian rupee. We maintain risk management systems such as a hedging program/policy for hedging foreign currency exposure in connection with our international operations. We use foreign currency forward contracts to hedge changes in future cash flows as a result of foreign currency and interest rate risks arising from the sale and purchase of goods and services and from the incurrence of debt. A 5% change in the value of foreign currencies with respect to the Indian rupee would result in an increase or decrease in profit or loss as shown in table below:

Interest rate risk

We are subject to interest rate risk, primarily because of interest rate changes to our security deposits, loans given and borrowings from financial institutions. As of March 31, 2019, 71.96% of our indebtedness consisted of floating rate indebtedness. Our fixed rate borrowing and fixed rate bank deposits are carried at amortized cost, they are therefore not subject to interest rate risks. A change of 100 basis points in the interest rate applicable to our borrowings would result in an increase or decrease in profit or loss which is shown in the table below:

Credit Risk

We are subject to credit risks if our customers or other counterparties fail to meet their contractual commitments to us. Our credit risk is primarily influenced by the geography in which we operate, the market conditions and the terms of the contract. We typically manage our credit risks through credit approvals, establishing credit limits and continuously monitoring the creditworthiness of our counterparties. We provide for allowances and doubtful debts and impairments that represent our estimates of trade receivables and trade payables.

Liquidity Risk

Our liquidity risk relates to our inability to meet our contractual obligations associated with our financial liabilities that are settled by delivering cash or another financial asset as they fall due. We manage the liquidity risk taking advances from our customers and by having sufficient liquidity to meet our liabilities when they become due, under both normal and stressed conditions, without incurring losses or risking damage to our reputation.

We are exposed to liquidity risk from our operating activities (primarily for trade and other receivables) and from our financing activities, including short-term deposits with banks, and other financial assets. We are exposed to liquidity risk from a limited customer group because of the specialized nature of our business. We manage our customer credit risk through our established policies, procedures and control relating to customer credit risk management. We have adopted a policy of dealing with credit worthy counterparties as a means of mitigating the risk of financial loss from defaults. We typically engage projects outside India that achieve financial closure before we begin our EPC operations. In addition, our EPC contracts are generally for a fixed amount and typically provide an advance payment at execution of the contract, with remaining payments to accompany the specified milestones, including supply of equipment at site.

SPCPL filed execution applications with the High Court and the District and Sessions Court, Alibaug (the “Alibaug Court”) for executing the HC Order. The matter is pending.

Meanwhile, the Anti-Corruption Bureau, Alibaug (“ACB”) had registered a criminal case against Nitish Thakur, brother of Nilesh Thakur (the “Accused”) for fraudulently transferring ancestral family land in his name and accumulating assets disproportionate to his income and filed a charge sheet with the Alibaug Court. While the investigation was ongoing, the ACB and the Enforcement Directorate, Mumbai (the “ED”) attached all the properties of the Accused and his family members (including properties of the Defendant) (the “Relevant Properties”). On the attachment of such Relevant Properties, SPCPL challenged such attachment of the Relevant Properties by the ED before the Adjudicating Authority constituted under the Prevention of Money Laundering Act, 2002 (the “Adjudicating Authority”). The Adjudicating Authority through its order confirmed the attachment. SPCPL filed an appeal against the order of the Adjudicating Authority before the Appellate Tribunal, New Delhi under the Prevention of Money Laundering Act, 2002 (the “Tribunal”). The Tribunal vide an order, allowed the appeal filed by SPCPL and directed the ED to release the fixed deposits aggregating to approximately ₹450 million in the name of Nilesh Thakur, in favour of SPCPL. The ED has filed an appeal with the High Court against the order of the Tribunal. SPCPL has filed an execution application with the Alibaug Court in relation to the order passed by the Tribunal. The matter is currently pending.

SPCPL has preferred an appeal under the Prohibition of Benami Property Transactions Act, 1988 which is currently pending before the Appellate Tribunal under the Prohibition of Benami Property Transactions Act, 1988. The matter is currently pending.

Phased implementation of UPI for Bids by Retail Individual Bidders as per the UPI Circular

SEBI has issued a circular bearing number SEBI/HO/CFD/DIL2/CIR/P/2018/138 dated November 1, 2018, circular no. SEBI/HO/CFD/DIL2/CIR/P/2019/50 dated April 3, 2019, circular no. SEBI/HO/CFD/DIL2/CIR/P/2019/76 dated June 28, 2019 and circular no. SEBI/HO/CFD/DIL2/CIR/P/2019/85 dated July 26, 2019 (collectively the “UPI Circular”) in relation to streamlining the process of public issue of equity shares and convertibles. Pursuant to the UPI Circular, UPI will be introduced in a phased manner as a payment mechanism (in addition to mechanism of blocking funds in the account maintained with SCSBs under the ASBA) for applications by RIBs through intermediaries with the objective to reduce the time duration from public issue closure to listing from six Working Days to up to three Working Days. Considering the time required for making necessary changes to the systems and to ensure complete and smooth transition to the UPI Mechanism, the UPI Circular proposes to introduce and implement the UPI Mechanism in three phases in the following manner:

- a) Phase I: This phase was applicable from January 1, 2019 and till June 30, 2019. Under this phase, a Retail Individual Bidder had the option to submit the Bid cum Application Form with any of the intermediaries and use his / her UPI ID for the purpose of blocking of funds. The time duration from public issue closure to listing would continue to be six Working Days.
- b) Phase II: This phase has become applicable from July 1, 2019 and will continue for a period of three months or floating of five main board public issues, whichever is later. Under this phase, physical submission of the Bid cum Application Form by a Retail Individual Bidder through Designated Intermediaries (other than SCSBs) to SCSBs for blocking of funds will be discontinued and will compulsorily be replaced by the UPI Mechanism. However, the time duration from public issue closure to listing would continue to be six Working Days during this phase.
- c) Phase III: Subsequently, under this phase, the time duration from public issue closure to listing would be reduced to be three Working Days.

All SCSBs offering facility of making application in public issues also provide facility to make application using the UPI Mechanism. The issuers are to appoint one of the SCSBs as a sponsor bank to act as a conduit between the Stock Exchanges and NPCI in order to facilitate collection of requests and / or payment instructions of the Retail Individual Bidders into the UPI Mechanism.

For further details, refer to the General Information Document available on the websites of the Stock Exchanges and the Lead Managers.

The Government of India proposes to update the consolidated circular on FDI Policy once every year and therefore, the FDI Policy will be valid until the DIPP issues an updated circular.
